ART EXHIBIT TO BE HERE SOON

Works of American Artists Will Be On Display Early in March

Fifty pictures by the pioneer artists of America will be brought to Iowa City sometime early in March under the auspices of the Iowa City Fine Arts association. These pictures will come directly from the Ehrlich galleries of New York and will be exhibited in the Commercial club rooms for about two weeks. The exhibit will be open to the public and lectures will be conducted by Prof. Charles H. Weller and Prof. Edwin D. Starbuck.

Benjamin West, earliest of the nineteenth century painters and the only American ever president of the Royal Academy in England, will have some pictures in the exhibit. Pictures by Copley, Ingham, Thomas, Cole, Meagle, and Wyant will be among those shown. Gilbert Stuart, famous for his picture of Washington which is now kept in the Boston museum, will have pictures in this collection.

"This is the first time it has been possible to see paintings of these pioneer artists without visiting the great eastern galleries", said Professor Weller when speaking of this exhibition, "and I regard it as the most interesting and valuable exhibit ever shown in Iowa City."

These pictures will be for sale. The most valuable one is worth $7500. Last year, pictures by Redfield were shown, and the year before some by Jonas Lie. Both of these men are recent modern painters.

HAWKEYE TO BE ON TIME

Representative Women to be Selected Tomorrow—Sales Next Week

Type for the first two hundred fifty pages of the 1922 Hawkeye has been set. A Carlton Ernstene A3 of Nebraska City, Neb., editor-in-chief of the Hawkeye said yesterday, "We are sending material to the printers every day, and the book will be out on time."

Selection of representative women will be finished tomorrow, according to Paul W. Penningroth A3 of Tipton, in charge of that department of the annual. "The names of a large number of girls have been submitted to us by prominent members of the faculty, and we are trying to be as fair as possible in our selections," Penningroth said last night. The names of the women chosen will not be announced until the book comes out on May 2.

The second sales campaign will open some time next week, according to Dwight G. Rider L1 of Waterloo, business manager of the Hawkeye. Subscriptions will be taken in the halls of liberal arts and natural science buildings, and a canvass made of all fraternity and sorority houses and of Currier hall and the Quadrangle, Rider said.

CLARENCE, DIOGENES OF ALLIGATORS, ENDS HIS BLEAK DAYS IN HIS GALVANIZED TUB

The students of the zoology museum laboratory are unusually quiet and diligent nowadays, because Clarence, the object on which they lavished their affections, is no more.

Clarence died alone with his god sometime Wednesday. His demise was discovered Thursday morning, February 3, at 7:45 o'clock by Fred Fitzpatrick, assistant in the department.

Clarence came from New Orleans to the University zoology museum laboratory about a year ago with six brother and sister alligators. At that time he was twelve months old. He escaped the scalpel of the laboratory students and since then he has served as a model for painting cast alligators at the museum.

COACH PRIMES MEN FOR ILLINI

Track Team Scheduled For Dual Meet at Urbana February 26

Track Coach George T. Bresnahan is priming his athletes for the first contest of the season, the indoor dual meet with Illinois, which will be held at Urbana, Ill., Saturday, February 26.

To aid workouts the training quarters in the basement of the gymnasium have been put in good condition, the track has been properly banked, and pits have been made for broad jumpers and pole vaulters.

In the sprints Seiling, Brandmill, McDowell, Hill, and Parker, all "I" men head the list. Other men working on the sprints are Holster, Beck, Grech, Lambert, Whitley, Kimpton, Hofer and Rows.

In the high hurdles Captain Belding leads. He placed either first or second in every meet last season. Holster and Crawford are also working in the high hurdles.

In the low hurdles Belding, Rich and Seiling are trying out.

Hoffman who broke the University record for the high jump last year when he cleared the bar at six feet one-half inch in the Coe meet is working on the jump again this year, with Rich who has had some experience.

Bailey is the only candidate in the pole vault, but more contestants are expected soon.

For the quarter mile Coach Bresnahan has Beck, Grech, Buchanan, Fimmen, Smitto, Parker and Myers. Parker took third place in the meet with Coe last spring.

Housen, Thomas, Blake, and Smith, are working in the half mile, while McIntire, Saper, Schafer, Curte and Ashton are working in the mile.

For the two mile event McIntire, Peterman, who took third place at the state meet last year, and Murray are contesting.

Broad jump material is Brandmill, Hill and Hoglan.

In the shootput Slater leads the field. Zell is the only other man working in this event at present.

REGISTRAR DUE FOR CROWDS OR QUARTERS; NOT HALF ENROLLED

Either the registrar's office will be stamped with late registration or will have to count a number of twenty-five cent pieces, judging from registration figures released last night by Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon 1137 students out of the 3,000 students in the liberal arts college had registered. Eighty-eight of these students were graduates.

Today is the last day that students can register without paying a fine of twenty-five cents.

During his life at the University, Clarence spent the greater part of his time sleeping in the big galvanized tank in the laboratory room with his buddy, the bull frog.

Iowa food has never appeared palatable to either the alligator or the frog; however some of the energetic students from time to time administered an English sparrow with a pair of forceps to the former.

Clarence's death is regretted in the department especially since he was scheduled to appear as a specimen in the zoology laboratory next week.

According to Homer R. Dill, director of the museum, Clarence's death has not been completely diagnosed; it is thought, however, that he might have suffered from over feeding.

Price of tickets will be 35 cents. She has been in Iowa City visiting the child welfare research station.

DEVINE NOT TO PLAY MONDAY

Iowa's Running Guard Will Be Absent in Game on Account of Sickness

Iowa's lineup in the game with Minnesota Monday night will be minus Aubrey Devine as that athlete will be unable to play on account of sickness.

Devine has had what is apparently a touch of influenza, according to medical authorities. He is not seriously sick but is weak and has a pulse of below fifty beats a minute. Last night he said that he was hardly sick enough to be confined to bed but did not feel strong enough to walk around. The low pulse is not serious, according to doctors. He has not been out for practice since the Chicago game.

Ty Smith has been practicing with the varsity all week and will take Devine's place at running guard Monday night. Should Devine be strong enough to play, which is very doubtful, he will not be permitted to play more than half of the game.

Practice last night was a ragged scrimmage with the freshman team in which neither team was able to score consecutively. The regular lineup, with the exception of Devine, was used, which is Lohman and Shimke at forwards, Frohwein at center and Smith and Captain Kaufmann at guards.

NOVEL TRACK CLASS OPENS

Officiating and Training for Meets Given by Bresnahan

Track Coach G. T. Bresnahan announced last night that arrangements had been made whereby a special track class for freshmen with previous track experience will be opened next week. The class will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 11 a. m. Men enrolling in this class will be excused from regular physical training.

The class will be a very thorough one considering track activities from all their angles. While the men are being trained in track and field events points relating to the proper preparation of a track, officiating at meets, training for meets, etc., will be discussed.

Coach Bresnahan also promises that there will be plenty of competition to liven up the regular work.

BOARD PLANS FEST TO RAISE RELIEF FUNDS

Athletes to Stage Local Carnival in Place of Des Moines Wrestling Match

DATE AND PLACE NOT SET

I Tickets Not Good for This Event—Proceeds to Go to Aid European Sufferers — Wrestling and Boxing May Be Features — Women to Assist in Entertainment

Tentative plans for an athletic carnival, the first of its kind to be held at the University of Iowa, were begun in a special meeting of the board in control of athletics yesterday afternoon. The date was not definitely decided upon but the event will take place in the near future.

The proceeds of the carnival will be distributed equally between the Hoover fund for European relief, and the Near East Armenian relief program. The carnival will be held in the men's gymnasium, and will not be a year book attraction. Instead, a separate ticket sale will be inaugurated.

This action by the athletic board comes partly as the result of the visit of W. Wright of the Des Moines Register's editorial staff, who visited the University Wednesday and asked the board to send the Iowa wrestling team to Des Moines on March 17 to take part in a carnival of similar plan to be held in the coliseum there.

The board considered the matter and after discussion finally rejected it, for the reason that the Big Ten conference rules do not permit such participation and secondly because the wrestling team's schedule was already filled. It was desired, however, to help these causes in some way, consequently Friday's meeting was called and the proposition of a local carnival was put up and accepted.

As yet no plans have been made as to what events will be included in the carnival, but in all probability boxing and wrestling will play the leading roles.

The women's athletic department will be asked to cooperate in the entertainments.

A committee composed of Athletic Director Howard H. Jones, chairman, President Walter A. Jessup, Prof. Byron J. Lambert of the college of applied science, Prof. H. Claude Horack of the college of law, Asst. Prof. Howard L. Beye of the college of medicine, Prof. Ralph A. Fenton of the college of dentistry, Asst. Prof. Rudolph A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy, and W. O. Coast, was appointed to take charge of the carnival.

MEN INVITED TO W. A. A. GAMES

O. I. C.s May Attend Opening Game in Body Thursday

Men may attend the interclass basketball games which are to be held in the women's gymnasium during the next few weeks, according to Miss Miriam W. Taylor, instructor in physical education for women. The price of admission is twenty-five cents for all except the members of W. A. A.

The first of these games is to be held Thursday, February 10, at 7:15 o'clock. At this time the freshman team will play the seniors, and the sophomores and juniors will compete.

O. I. C. is to be present in a body at all the games, and, according to Jean M. Spiers A3 of Rienbeck, president of W. A. A., efforts are to be made to get the band to play at the final game of the series.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate any size crowd that may come, according to Miss Spiers.

MR. STAGG TELLS THEM

A. A. Stagg, director of athletics at the University of Chicago, asserts in a letter to the Daily Maroon, the student publication at the Midway, that athletics at Chicago are not being controlled by the whims of student or alumni opinion. He has made the statement after the Daily Maroon had published letters from alumni and students in which his ability as a basketball coach was held up to scorn. The dissatisfaction seems to have come from three consecutive defeats in the conference after the Maroons had annexed three victories. Mr. Stagg explained the defeats were due in part to the physical condition of some of the players. He pointed out further that Chicago's normal expectancy in championship was one every ten years.

Students as a rule begin to carp whenever the Varsity teams are defeated. Generally, in their opinion, the setbacks are due to the coaches. Their sins of omission, coming through their failure to start this or that player, and their sins of commission, arising from plays that they have developed and which fail to work are discussed by the laymen in stirring terms. "Can the coach," is their favored line.

It is more pleasant to win than to lose, that is true, but students should remember that the art of being indulgent is a noble virtue. They should remember, too, that coaches are human and like all of us have their faults. In case of Chicago perhaps, it was simply a case of personal enmity.

If the letters from alumni and students against Mr. Stagg were lemons he handed bricks back to them. He told them that he was running athletics at Chicago and all their whining and muchraking would avail them nothing. It is almost to be regretted that Mr. Stagg did not use stronger language since cursing is more expressive to those who continually find fault.

SHOEMAKER'S WAX

Whoever said that genius is shoemaker's wax on the seat of the chair did something more than coin a novel definition. A Mme. Anie Mouroux, French medallist, has landed in America. She is the first woman medal artist to have won the Prix de Rome, a grand prize of Rome given to France's best students in the section of medal engraving every three years.

Competitions for the Prix de Rome were opened in 1666, and since that time a barrier of tradition has been built up against women "medailleurs". Mme. Mouroux broke the barrier. At the age of eighteen she determined to become a medallist and started a campaign of years of hard work. She was one of the six competitors allowed to enter the Loges (special studio for competitors) to spend ninety-six days on a piece of work to enter in the competition. Of these days Mme. Mouroux says in an interview in the New York Evening Post:

"I had a shudder of terror when I first entered my cell, unlocking the door with its big prison key. I saw that room with the walls covered with lime and its small red paving stones, having for all furniture a chair, a table, and a poor single iron bed.

...That great effort, sustained for ninety-six days, when alone in my cell, where no one else might enter except my models, while I kneaded my clay and shaped it to my dream, was one of the immemorial periods of my life."

Pages of history and of literature are of course filled with time-worn examples of the part that unattractive hard work and persistency play in the glittering results which are called success. Now that a break comes in the routine of class work and schedules there comes temptation to change, to try something perhaps easier or at least different, or to quit altogether. One reads in a current newspaper the story of a woman who broke a tradition which had stood since 1666, who started out with an idea and stuck to it.

Perhaps a change of pasture is an indispensable necessity for a healthy cow, but for the successful human, more records of success seem to be written for the men who had something and who stuck with it, whether "it" was a boat to cross the Atlantic, a machine to send messages, a battle of the wilderness, or a Prix de Rome.

NUTTING WRITES ON DARWIN Article in Scientific Monthly is an Answer to Burroughs

Prof. C. C. Nutting, head of the zoology department, has an article, "Is Darwin Shorn?" in the February issue of the Scientific Monthly.

The article explains that Darwin is not completely shorn of his natural selection doctrines. It was written in reply to John Burroughs' paper, "A Critical Glance into Darwin", which appeared in the August number of Atlantic Monthly. Mr. Burroughs said in the first paragraph, "It is with Darwin's theories that I am mainly concerned here. He has already been shorn of his selection doctrines as completely as Sampson was shorn of his locks."
