PURDUE MAN TO GIVE LECTURES ON POEMS HERE

Prof. Mark H. Liddell Scheduled For Two Addresses on Thursday, Feb. 17

A STUDENT OF SHAKESPEARE

Afternoon Subject Will Be "English Poetry as a Fine Art," While Evening Topic is "Rhythm in Shakespeare"—Invited to Iowa City by Dean Seashore

Prof. Mark H. Liddell of the department of English at Purdue university will lecture here twice on Thursday, February 17, in the liberal arts assembly hall. His subject at 4 p. m. will be "English Poetry as a Fine Art" and at 8 p. m., "Rhythm in Shakespeare."

Professor Liddell is coming to the University under special invitation of the English department and Dean Carl E. Seashore, of the graduate college. He is a well-known student of the psychology of poetry, as well as a Chaucer and a Shakespeare student of international reputation. His lecture will be interesting to students of philosophy and psychology as well as to students of literature, according to Prof. Hardin Craig, head of the English department.

Professor Liddell is one of the editors of the Globe edition of Chaucer and has written a number of books, two of the best known being "Introduction to the Study of Poetry" and "A Brief Abstract of a New English Prosody." He was professor of English at the University of Texas and Butler University at Indianapolis respectively before taking his present position at Purdue.

LABOR BUREAU IS DISCUSSED

Commerce Club Sorts Grades for Selecting Members

The Commerce club held a meeting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, discussed the needs and plans for organizing an employment bureau at the University.

Plans are also being made for giving a luncheon on February 23. An after dinner speech will be given at this luncheon by some prominent business man of the state.

It was also decided to check up on the students who became eligible for membership in the club last semester. The requirement is a grade of C plus.

LAKESIDE LABORATORY GIVEN NEW LAUNCH

The Macbride Lakeside laboratory on Lake Okoboji, in northwestern Iowa, was recently presented with a launch, the "Therese", and the tools to go with it, by Mr. Felix Hirschel of Davenport, Iowa.

This launch will replace the "Old Gold," the laboratory launch, which has been out of commission for some time. According to a letter just received by Prof. Robert B. Wylie, director of the laboratory and head of the department of botany. Mr. Hirschel has paid the storage for the launch a year in advance at the boat livery in Arnolds park.

Mr. Hirschel has for many years spent his summers on Lake Okoboji where he has a summer home and has observed the growth of the laboratory.

PELZER GIVES LECTURE ON SOLDIERS OF IOWA HISTORY

Associate-professor Louis Pelzer of the department of history spoke before the Marshall county historical society at Marshalltown last night. The subject of his address was "The Soldier in Early Iowa History."

COACH GIVES OUT PLANS FOR YEAR

Bresnahan Plans An Annual Relay Festival And Hawkeye Run

Several new innovations which are planned as the beginning of annual affairs at Iowa are embodied in Coach George T. Bresnahan's plans for track. An annual Hawkeye run and an annual Hawkeye relay festival are planned to be affairs which will arouse not only athletic but also social interest among the students. In addition to these, inter-class and inter-college meets are also planned, together with a national intercollegiate mass athletic meet and tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, national athletic fraternity.

The annual Hawkeye relay festival, which is being planned, is to be an indoor affair which will be held sometime during the lull in activities which follows the close of the indoor season and precedes the opening of the outdoor season. The annual Hawkeye run is to be an event which will be held on the Monday or Tuesday just preceding Thanksgiving. The distance of this run is to be either a mile and a half or two miles. All "I" and "tIt" and "clc" men will be barred from this run. The prizes for this run will be: first, live oposum or coon; second, live turkey; third, live goose; fourth, live duck; fifth, live rooster; sixth, live hen; and last, turkey tail feathers. Events something like this have become annual affairs which excite a great deal of interest at some universities.

In addition to the inter-college and inter-class meets the regular plans for track, as tentatively arranged, call for an inter-company meet, a meet between the freshmen and the sophomores, a meet between the freshmen and varsity, and an inter-fraternity meet. Telegraphic meets for the freshman track team will be held with Northwestern, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. One-half mile, one mile, two mile, and four mile inter-college relays have also been planned and inter-college and inter-class cross country meets have been planned for both next spring and next fall.

ILLINOIS U. LEADS IN GIFTS TO HOOVER FUND

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 11—With contribution of $17,000, the University of Illinois leads all American universities in the amount of money collected for European relief through Hoover dinners. The Teachers' college of Columbia university in New York City is second with a total of $8,000 given for this relief work. The Princeton Theological seminary has contributed almost $4 per capita.

Shortridge high school of Indianapolis up to January 1 sent in more money than any other one Indiana school. Reports at that time showed that the Indianapolis school's donation totaled $1,900 while DePauw university was next in line with $600.13. Other institutions ranked in the following order: Technical high school, Earlham college, Wabash college and Purdue university.

A Message For Today From Abraham Lincoln

"Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher to his posterity, swear by the blood of the Revolution never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of '76 did to support the constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property and sacred honor. Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty.

"Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in the schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in the legislative halls and enforced in the courts of justice.

"In short, let it become the political religion of the nation; and let the old and the young, the rich and the poor, the grave and the gay, of all sexes and tongues and colors and conditions, sacrifice unceasingly upon its altars."

SPANISH CLUB WILL GIVE DRAMATIZATION OF NOVELS BY VALDES

A Spanish play, the dramatization of Valdes' "Jose", will be given sometime in April by the recently organized Spanish dramatic club, according to Ross Clarke A2 of Des Moines, a member of that club. Tryouts for places in the cast will be held Wednesday, February 17.

The play was dramatized from the novel by the second year Spanish classes. The cast of characters will be chosen at the next club meeting. All will be expected to have had some dramatic experience. Miss Edith L. Kelley, associate professor of Romance language department will probably act as director.

This club was organized by the class in Spanish literature for the purpose of promoting interest in Spanish dramatics. Students in the following sections in second and third year Spanish are eligible to membership; fifty-eight; fifty-six; fifty-four A; fifty-four B; and fifty-four C. Attendance at a meeting counts as one class preparation. Sarah Hamilton A4 of Fort Madison is president, Reginald J. Tompkins A3 of Garrison is secretary and treasurer of the club. The first meeting was held last night at which the play was read.

The faculty advisors are the members of the Spanish department. The members expect to make the club a permanent organization. Last year's Spanish club, similar to this, presented the play "Los Intereses Creados."

WINNER OF PLAY CONTEST TO BE NAMED IN 10 DAYS

The winner of the one-act play writing contest will be chosen from the twenty-three plays handed in, within the next ten days, according to Prof. Percival Hunt, of the play reading committee. The committee is composed of Professor Hunt, of the department of English, Prof. Edward H. Lauer of the department of German, and Prof. Edward C. Mabie of the department of public speaking.

FROSH FINISH PARTY PLANS

Tickets Are on Sale This Morning at Whetstone's—Barker Acts as Chairman

Tickets for the annual Freshman party, which will be given the evening of February 25 at the armory, will go on sale this morning at Whetstone's, it is anticipated by Robert A. Barker A1 of Cherokee, who is acting chairman of the committee in the absence of Clinton M. Sims A1 of River Junction. The tickets for this party will be $2.50. The party will be informal.

Wrixon's Coliseum jazz orchestra of Davenport has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion.

Paul X. Smith A3 of Cherokee has charge of the decorations, and, according to Smith, the decorating scheme will be that of large arches with lattice work and palms. There will be three or four of these large arches on either side of the armory with solid lattice work in between and small openings in the form of gateways. At the entrance there will be one large arch and painted screen effects in each of the three corners. The lighting arrangement will consist of twelve or fourteen fancy lights.

The feature dance is to be a solo dance given by little Thelma Green of Iowa City.

The chairman of the various sub-committees are: Robert A. Barker A1 of Cherokee in charge of the music; Virginia Whipple A1 of Vinton, entertainment; Everett Kelloway A1 of Anita, programs; Irene Wallace A1 of Council Bluffs, decorations; Oreen V. Chantry A1 of Des Moines, and James A. Reany A1 of Sheldon in charge of the advertising; Jack Judy A1 of Fort Madison and George Lemen A1 of Council Bluffs, help and management.

KLINGAMAN RETURNS FROM MEETING IN DES MOINES

Prof. O. E. Klingaman and Mrs. Julia B. Mayer returned Wednesday from a committee meeting in Des Moines of the Iowa Conference of Social Work which was organized by the various state social organizations. Professor Klingaman is secretary of the legislative committee. At this meeting of the committee it was decided to keep a representative in Des Moines during this session of the legislature.

The following bills have been endorsed by the committee: senate file 276, 279, 319; house file 288, 289, and 378 relating to the appropriations under the state board of control; senate file 307 providing treatment for babies eyes; 377 in regard to the teaching of foreign languages; 378 permitting the testing of cattle whose milk is sold for human consumption; house file 322 providing for registration of charitable agencies soliciting funds; and 361 permitting cities to inspect milk.

TANK STARS OF AMES TO MEET IOWA TONIGHT

Hawks to be Weakened in Pool Thru Loss of Bob Brown and Wilbert Bond

WOMEN FEATURE PROGRAM

Co-eds to Swim for Championship of University in 40-yard Dash — "I" Tickets Not to Be Accepted at Meet Because of Limited Capacity of Gallery, Says Coach

Primed through constant practice since its disastrous meet with Minnesota two weeks ago, Iowa's swimming team will plunge against the tank stars of Ames tonight at the men's gymnasium in the first home inter-scholastic meet of the season. The first event will start at 7:30 o'clock. "I" tickets will not be accepted for admittance.

Iowa will be weakened tonight through the loss of Bob Brown and Wilbert Bond, both of whom were lost to the team because of scholastic troubles. Ames boasts a strong team and will come here determined to cop the honors, which in this case virtually amount to the state swimming championship.

Three additional features have been added to the regular swimming events. Five women will swim a 40-yard dash for the championship of the University. The women who have entered this event are; Helen Starbuck, Amy Littig, Catherine Wright, Dorothy O'Donoghue, and Julia Barrow. There will be a basketball game between Freshman and Varsity teams and a relay between the ineligible and Freshmen.

A great amount of interest has been shown in swimming this year on the campus and the number of men who have treid out for places on the team is nearly double the number which tried out last year. Swimming is a major sport in a number of conference schools and it seems to be only a question of time until it is promoted to that position here.

Coach David Armbruster has his team in good condition and good time should be made in all events tonight. Boynton and Clark will swim the 40 and 100 yard dashes and will also swim with the relay team. Everett Rademacher and Iliff Shepherd will be the other two members of the relay team.

The order of events announced by Coach Armbruster last night are:

- 160 yard relay; Rademacher, Shepherd, Boynton, and Clark.
- Fancy diving; Shepherd and Weidlein.
- 40 yard dash; Boynton and Clark.
- 200 yard breast stroke; Vedova and Mills.
- Women's 40 yard dash; Starbuck, Littig, Wright, O'Donoghue, and Barrow.
- 220 yard swim; Shepherd and Goodell.
- Plunge for distance; Forney, Halbach, and Short.
- 50 yard breast stroke; L. Smith, Weber, Mills.
- 160 yard relay; Brown, Bond, Colby, Ward, Stover, Goltman, Patrick, Volk.
- 100 yard swim; Boynton, Clark, and Shepherd.

STOUT CALLED HOME BY DEATH OF HIS FATHER

LINCOLN ON THE CAMPUS

Commentators of history have pictured Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday anniversary is being observed throughout the land today, as an ungainly man, clothed in the simplest of frocks and schooled in none of the beau brummel habits of the day.

For sake of discussion, let us reincarnate Lincoln, as it were, and transplant him to the campus as a student of the University. Let us take him at that time when he was not yet a member of the state legislature of Illinois; when he was still a young man yet unknown in national affairs.

As a student at Iowa today, Lincoln could probably come up with those who aspire to the coveted honors of Phi Beta Kappa. Dean Rienow would never find it necessary to summon Lincoln to his office to explain the cutting of classes or the failure to make his grades.

So much for the scholastic side. What about Lincoln as a social lion? Would his baggy pants fit in with the carefully pressed trousers of the men of today? At the dance, would his ungainly figure lure the pretty co-eds who were "just dying" to dance with that tall man?

We fear for Lincoln in the social whirl of Iowa today. In that gay, hilarious circle he would be a non-entity. On the dance floor he would be a "sight" in the eyes of most of the students of the University.

Which leads to the conclusion that clothes in Lincoln's case did not count, if they do in any one's case. They do provide a nice veneer, allowing looks to parade at times where brains may fear to tread.

THE KING'S ENGLISH AGAIN

The remarks of an English professor deploring the battered and inadequate mediums of expression which undergraduates employ in recitations and especially in themes recalls a lecture which was given at the University last year by J. M. Daly before the associated students of applied science.

Mr. Daly, district manager of one of the largest construction corporations in the United States, had come to Iowa looking for men suitable for his company in its several lines. He was invited to speak before the engineers, and a large number of men from the engineering classes attended the lecture with the idea that he would speak on some interesting phase of engineering.

They were distinctly surprised. Mr. Daly, who is a Yale man and broadly cultured, said nothing about engineering but confined his lecture to an insistence that engineers perfect their conversational powers and that they make serious attempts to speak the English language properly on all occasions.

For several days men in the engineering college were discussing sentences like this from the distinguished engineers, "If the students of engineering today develop a degree of perfection and writing and speaking the English language, freely, and with ease, their time and money will be well spent."

He went on further to point out that this statement was directed to men in other colleges as well as in the college of engineering and ended his acid remarks with, "Learn to talk! If you go to a banquet be able to be intelligent on the topics of the day; and develop the art of conversation to that degree of perfection where you can speak when there is hardly anything to be said."

One's interest is not so much taken up by the conversational powers of the undergraduate as in the quality of his English. It is unfortunate that campus conversations and cafe tete-a-tetes do anything but reflect the culture of the college student. A man is known by the words he speaks. There is something monstrous in hearing a senior or freshman, for that matter, glibly using double negatives and barber shop slang.

PAYING UP

It is a difficult and somewhat discouraging job to try making persons pay their debts; particularly those which cannot be cancelled by a sum of money or a hazy "thank you".

In the first place in the case of moral obligations, the matter of payment becomes so relative, that the irresponsible person contents himself with ignoring the slight urge he may feel.

All of which leads up to the matter of patronizing the athletic carnival Monday night for the benefit of the two charitable organizations. Even in case one doesn't appreciate to any understandable extent the necessity for sending money to Europe and the Near East, the fact that the matter has been so recognized as important by the administration should carry with it weight enough to move any reluctant hand towards the pocket-book.

A great many persons are going to contribute three or four hours next Monday to make the thing a success. Surely then it is within reason to expect the student body to turn out practically en masse for the evening's entertainment.

Everything is being done to make the affair worth every cent of the money laid down. But in case the carnival doesn't take you off of your feet, remember that the merchandise that you are purchasing is of another character. You are paid in full because you have been allowed to become a party to a worthy undertaking.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

AN OBJECTION

Mr. Ingham voiced the opinion of many superficial thinkers when he stated that the United States has two and a half million trained soldiers who will be available for ten years more. This statement apparently breaks down when closely scrutinized.

What amount of valuable training will remain in the systems of two and a half million former soldiers after ten disintegrating years? Methods of fighting and of warfare are constantly being rendered obsolete and are discarded. Our returned soldiers are marrying, rearing families, becoming essential cogs in our national activities. Mr. Ingham's speech at Convocation seems to justify putting the burden of continuing obligation on the ex-soldier who has already given much in the service of his country.

THE COLLEGE PRESS

THE VALUE OF RESOLUTIONS

Unless a student is endowed with an exceptionally large amount of carelessness and shiftlessness the opening of a new semester means to him a time for beginning anew his academic routine, and for beginning it with high resolves for self-improvement in his work over that of the previous semester just closed.

It is human to constantly entertain good intentions, and human to fail in part or altogether to put them into effect. It is natural to fall short of high aims. Unforeseen obstacles present themselves, or the will-power wobbles; in either case the result is a set back. In the end the objectives are not wholly realized.

But making resolutions and having good intentions are not to be discounted. They gain much even though they do not entirely fulfill their promises. Aspiring to go three times as far as on a previous trip may not mean that the aspirant will go three times as far. But it may mean that he will go twice as far.

Yes, resolutions were smashed last semester as in every semester that has preceded it. But a fractured resolution will benefit. It remains to be at least partly followed. Don't hesitate to make new resolutions today and tomorrow. It's an exercise that can't hurt you.—Daily Iliin.

ENGINEERS OF TEXAS TO WEAR A CLASS REGALIA

Austin, Tex., Feb. 11—At a meeting of the senior class of the college of engineering of the University of Texas, Monday afternoon a class regalia was adopted to be worn henceforth by all members of the class. According to present plans, the seniors will don their distinctive apparel for the first time for the occasion of the annual engineers' banquet which will take place on February 21.

HAWKEYE PRICE RISES IN MARCH

Last Sales Campaign to Be Tuesday—All Colleges Will Be Canvassed

The price of the 1922 Hawkeye will be raised to $5.50 on all subscriptions taken after March 15, according to an announcement made last night by Dwight G. Rider L1 of Waterloo, business manager of the annual.

"This is an increase in price of fifty cents per copy," said Rider, "and has been made necessary because of the tardiness in subscribing for the Hawkeye on the part of a large number of students". Each year it has been found that a great many students wanting Hawkeyes have put off ordering them and have waited until the annual has come out in the spring to get an extra copy.

It is the plan of Rider this year not to order additional copies of the Hawkeye, and annuals will be printed only for those who have subscribed for them. Printing and engraving prices have made this the only possible course. The increase in price, it is hoped, will encourage everyone wanting a Hawkeye to subscribe for the annual during the second sales campaign which starts Tuesday, February 15.

That tables will be run in liberal arts and natural science in the sales campaign, and all the professional colleges and campus organizations will be canvassed, is the plan of Rider. 1,111 subscriptions have been set as the mark in this campaign, and it is hoped that with an energetic drive at the beginning this mark will be reached in a short time.

Work on the 1922 Hawkeye is rapidly nearly completed, according to A. Carlton Ernestine A3 of Nebraska City, Neb., editor-in-chief of the annual. About fifty percent of the engraving has already been received from the engravers, and seventy-five per cent of the type has been set. The Bureau of Engraving of Minneapolis is doing the engraving for the book and the Economy advertising company of Iowa City is doing the printing and binding.
