FACULTY PASSES RULE ON FINALS

Two-hour Examination Rule Passed in Close Vote—May Reconsider

The University will have a week of final examinations at the end of the next semester, unless the members of the faculty reconsider their previous decision. The motion to have such a system was passed by the University faculty by a majority of five.

Every class is to have two hours of examination. In this way examination week will start the Friday before the final week and end on Thursday. All the Monday eight o'clock classes will have two hour examinations at the same time, on Monday from 8 until 10 o'clock. In this way no two examinations will be on at the same time for anyone.

"I am rather dubious about this examination week," said Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, Dean of Women. "All the professors in the University who were here at the time that the old examination rule was in effect, whether they were here as students or as professors, are very much opposed to it. Perhaps the system we had in force then was not as good as the one used in other Universities and colleges, and this new system may work out better."

FRESHMEN WOMEN MAY HAVE MIDWEEK DATES BY PETITION

Freshmen women who have an average that would allow them to carry more than sixteen hours of work the second semester may petition the social committee to have one extra night of dating per week, according to Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, Dean of Women. In order to do this they must hand in a petition at the office of the Dean of Women requesting that their grades be examined and that they be allowed an extra night out.

According to Mrs. Aurner, those with an average of C plus will be allowed one extra night, those with straight B's two night and those with all A's may have all the privilege of the upper class women, by petitioning.

These privileges are not to come directly because of the advent of the new semester, according to Mrs. Aurner, but must be petitioned for, the same as permission to carry more than sixteen hours of work.

"I think that every woman who believes she has an average which will allow her to do this, should petition to find out, and consider it an honor if the privilege is granted her," said Mrs. Aurner.

MAY ADMIT FROSH TO DANCE

O'Connell's Crack Squad to Feature First Cadet Dance

Freshmen may be admitted to the first of a series of cadet hops which will be held at the women's gymnasium Monday night, February 21, according to Jordan L. Larson, A4 of Roland, who is in charge of the ticket sale. At first it was planned to limit the dance to the sophomores enrolled in the R. O. T. C., but freshmen may be allowed to purchase tickets after Friday noon.

The feature of the dance will be the work of a crack rookie squad under the direction of Commandant Carroll C. O'Connell, A3 of Boone. Programs will follow army style, and many surprises are promised by the committee in charge. Music will be furnished by Bohac's saxophone orchestra.

ANDY GUMP, BIG CARP, MODEL IN ZOOLOGY MUSEUM

The appearance of Andy Gump in the zoology museum laboratory yesterday morning caused quite a sensation among the instructors and students.

Andy Gump will remain in connection with the laboratory as an artist's model which he will undoubtedly enjoy as he is a regular lounge lizard, according to Fred Fitzpatrick, assistant in the department.

The pretty young women artists, who paint casts of various specimens were thrilled on the discovery and gathered around him soulfully murmuring, "Oh, isn't he beautiful!" "My dear, when did he arrive?"

His services as model will begin the latter part of the week. Except when engaged as a model, Andy Gump can be found at home in the big galvanized tank with the bullfrog in the laboratory.

Andy Gump is the name given to a two pound carp by the students in the museum laboratory. They say he simply arrived.

BEST SCHOLARS GIVEN AWARDS

Bulletin Issued Recently Lists Scholarships and Prizes For Students

With the idea of pointing out to the students the various scholarships, prizes, and honors which are awarded each year at University, a pamphlet has been issued carrying a complete list of such awards. Copies of the bulletin may be procured either through the office of William H. Bates, University secretary, of Charles H. Weller, University editor.

"Comparatively few students in the University have an idea of the number of scholarships, prizes and honors which are awarded to those showing the highest proficiency in their courses," Mr. Weller said yesterday. "These awards aggregate several thousand dollars each year and mean something of real value to deserving students."

The awards are given to students in the college of liberal arts, college of medicine, college of law, college of pharmacy, college of education, school of commerce, college of applied science, graduate college, and the department of military science.

"The following statement of scholarships, prizes, and honors in the University," says the preface to the bulletin, "is intended to serve two fairly obvious purposes: That it may encourage and influence students to achieve high scholarship for its own sake, and that it may lead the alumni and other friends of the University to offer similar incentives to the same worthy end."

JENKINS WILL TELL MAGAZINE DETAILS WEDNESDAY EVENING

MacGregor Jenkins, publisher of the Atlantic Monthly magazine, will lecture at the natural science auditorium on Wednesday, February 23, at 8 o'clock.

The subject of Mr. Jenkins' address will be "The Making of a Magazine." This lecture will be an intimate story of the inside of the editorial and publication offices of a magazine, the trials of the editor, the methods employed to secure editorial material, the relation of the editorial department with its authors, the work of the circulation department, and the relationship of the magazine to the public.

This lecture will be the sixth University lecture of the year and the first of the second semester.

FILIPINOS WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Benefit for Memorial Union to Be Held Tonight by Student Natives

The Filipino benefit program will be given tonight at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium by Filipino students, the proceeds of the entertainment to go to the Iowa Memorial Union.

The program which will be entertaining as well as educational is as follows: Campanerismo, composed by Mariano Bambalan A1 to be played by the Filipino orchestra; the Serenatas Filipinas, composed by David E. Ordenez G of Vallasis, P. I., and Bambalan, is of two parts; Capriccio and Serenata Romantica. This number is a portrayal of a Filipino way of serenading the village belles when the night is still and the moon is bright. Another romantic number is an interpretative dance by a Filipino girl who comes for the occasion. She will dance Carinosa, a folk dance of love and courtship. The quartet composed of Gregorio P. Ventura M1 of Loag, P. I., Lorenzo Samonte S4 of Lavag, P. I., Rufino Peralta G of Marviain, P. I., and Juanito Mina A1 of Dagudin, P. I., will sing Filipino folk songs. Musical selections will be given on the ukelele and cello.

Tickets are being sold by members of the Filipino club.

SCHROEDER REFEREEES AMES WRESTLING MEET

Mr. Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical training and education, left last night for Des Moines where he will take part in a conference on the Physical Education bill. This bill will provide that physical education be made compulsory in all public schools and high schools in Iowa.

This evening Mr. Schroeder will go from Des Moines to Ames where he will officiate as referee in the Ames-Oklahoma wrestling meet. Oklahoma took high honors last year in the mat game and they fully expect to spoil the thus far clear record of the Ames wrestlers.

Mr. Schroeder will return to Iowa City Saturday in time to make final arrangements for the Iowa-Illinois wrestling meet.

FOOD EXPENSIVE IN FRANCE SAYS MADAME RODGERS

"Living conditions are bad in France at the present time. Butter is $1.50 per pound, sugar is 60 cents, a pound and other things are high in proportion," said Madame Rodgers, who with her daughter, Amelia, of Paris, France, have been visiting the University the last few days. While in Iowa City they stayed with Mrs. E. H. Hain, 517 Iowa Ave. Lieut. Everett Hain, a son of Mrs. Hain, met Madame Rodgers while in Paris during the war and at that time invited them to visit the United States. Lieut. Hain was a student at Iowa in 1917. Madame Rodgers was very well impressed with the University and in her broken English she exclaimed that everything was "ver' good, ver' good."

Madame Rodgers and daughter are touring the United States in hopes of making a permanent location here. Madame Rodgers said that she was surprised to find Americans so thrifty that American girls even darned their own stockings.

DATES SET FOR BOXING MATCHES

March 14, 15, 16 Are Dates of Tournament — Entries Open March 1

March 14, 15 and 16 have been set as the dates for the boxing tournament. Entries for the tournament will open March 1. This tournament is open to all students in the University with the exception of professional boxers. Any man in the University may register in boxing classes if he wishes instruction in the game.

The rules governing the tournament will be the rules of the War department commission on training camp activities. These rules will be posted on the bulletin in the gymnasium, according to Ernest G. Schroeder, who is directing the plans for the tournament.

The preliminaries will be held on March 14 and 15. These preliminary bouts will consist of three one-minute bouts. In case of a draw two extra one-minute bouts will be held in order to decide the winner. Finals to be held on March 16 will consist of five one-minute bouts.

The weights that the tournament will consider are: the 115, the 125, the 135, the 145, the 160, the 170 and the heavyweights. This gives every man in the University a chance to compete. "Every man has the same chance for as yet the classes in boxing have turned out no men of unusual abilities," said Mr. Schroeder. "With the increased interest that has been shown in boxing this year we are expecting the tournament to draw many good men of the glove game." The winners will be decided by three judges who will award points, taking into consideration the following: attack and defense—14 points, generalship—4 points and aggressiveness—2 points. The maximum will total 20 points.

NO GRADES READY FOR AT LEAST THREE WEEKS

The registrar's office will not be able to give out any information concerning grades for at least three weeks, according to Mrs. Ada Butler, transcript clerk at that office.

The posting of grades of students in the college of liberal arts has been delayed by the failure of many departments to make complete reports. Posting of grades will start next week whether or not all reports are completed and it is expected that it will take at least three weeks to post all grades.

COACH CHANGES LINEUP OF TEAM

Basket Averages Show Shimek Scored 56 of Iowa's 98 Points

Coach Ashmore experimented with a second lineup in basketball practice last night which was Shimek and Kaufmann at guards, Tiede at center and Frohwein and Lohman at forwards. This combination was later changed to Devine at guard with Kaufmann and McGovney at forward with Lohman.

Both combinations worked fairly well against the freshmen, especially the second, with McGovney at forward. Probably last night's scrimmage was the last before the Purdue game Saturday night. Tonight will be spent at a light workout and basket shooting practice.

Scoring records so far this year in major games show that Iowa has scored 98 points to their opponents' 138, a greater part of the 40 point lead having been accomplished in the one game with the top heavy score, the Chicago game there. Aside from the Chicago game there, a five point lead was the greatest any team has had.

Individual scoring records show that Shimek has made 15 field baskets and 26 free throws for a total of 56 points. Lohman is second with 10 baskets for 20 points; and Frohwein is third with 6 baskets for 12 points.

Other records are Devine 4 points; Kaufmann, 4 points; and Ehresman 2 points.

LITERARY SOCIETIES HOLD MEETINGS AT CLOSE HALL TONIGHT

Anderson A2 of Ridgeway, "The Nation's Morale" by Carl W. Tucker S2 of Iowa City, and "Illiterate Suffrage vs. Expediency" by Byrl A. Whitney A2 of Cherokee.

The Zetagathian program tonight will be in the form of an open forum debate on the question of "Sportsmanship in Athletics" which will be led by William H. Meissner S2 of Reinbeck and Flinch I. Wagner A1 of Faulkner.

PROFESSOR LIDDELL TALKS ON PSYCHOLOGY AND POETRY

Prof. Mark H. Liddell, professor of English at Purdue University gave a lecture on the rhythm in Shakespeare in the liberal arts auditorium at 4:10 yesterday afternoon.

Doctor Liddell has been doing research work in the field of poetry although he states that this work is not popular as yet for people would rather consider poetry from the traditional standpoint.

He says that psychological methods should be employed in the analysis of poetic rhythm.

Doctor Liddell said that no one has ever suggested tinkering with the form of the Shakespearean sonnets for they are perfect. He then explained the meaning of and read the "Twenty-ninth Sonnet", "Thirtieth Sonnet", and "Thirty-first Sonnet", to illustrate the fact that a person can not understand the form of poetry unless he knows the meaning of the words. The more people know about language and particularly Elizabethan language the better they can understand Shakespeare.

ABOUT IOWA NEWSPAPERS

A Chicago newspaper boasts that only four Iowa newspapers have a greater circulation in this state than it has and to back up its claim prints figures showing how completely it covers an area far outside its logical territory. The accomplishment is one worthy of praise, showing enterprise on the part of its managers.

While the feat of that newspaper may be deserving of laudations, Iowa newspapers and Iowa newspaper men should look with fear upon this encroachment. The Chicago newspaper has attained its tremendous circulation in this state because of three things: First, it is a good newspaper; second, it is issued in the morning; and third, because Iowa cannot boast a single outstanding newspaper.

The newspaper in question prides itself on being the world's greatest and while that is a debatable subject few deny that it does not contain all the essentials that go to make up a high class daily journal. It takes a definite stand on all public matters; it has accurate and interesting news pages; its sporting department does not look for spice; its book reviewers know books; its dramatic critic is intimate with the stage; its column conductor can be witty, sarcastic, and serious; in fact, every department editor knows his stuff.

That it is delivered in the morning is a great point in its favor. "Today's news today," its subscription solicitors tell the rural and city folks of Iowa. This is fine psychology for the circulation department. The newspaper, that is the edition which is delivered in almost every section of Iowa, is printed between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening previous to the morning it is delivered. Not being exactly "today's news today."

The point is this. What are the newspapers of Iowa going to do about it? It is admitted that every Iowa newspaper can not be as good as its Chicago contemporary, but almost every Iowa newspaper could be made more attractive than it is now. When we said that Iowa did not have a single outstanding newspaper, we did not mean that the state does not possess some good newspapers for it does. It has perhaps ten or twelve good daily newspapers.

In Iowa, the Des Moines Register ranks supreme but it is not an outstanding newspaper from the national standpoint. It has all the potentialities of a great paper, including capital, but in many respects it has a taint of small town journalism about it. The Sioux City Journal was a great newspaper when George Perkins directed it but since his death a few years ago it has kept up in only a slight degree the glorious traditions which he left it.

Iowa newspapers, as a whole, have developed their advertising departments to the detriment of their news departments. Few in this state print stories that may offend the smallest of their advertisers. It is admitted that without advertising a newspaper cannot exist but the publishers have continued to look too long on the cash register. In their desire to beat their competitors in the advertising field they have overlooked one of the essentials of a newspaper—not simply today's news today, but rather today's news uncensored.

THE LISTENING POST

For a long time a good many of us, including the athletic board, have looked upon Ames as "small fry" in an athletic way, but just now it appears as though Iowa is the Fish.

The road to happiness does not always lead to the altar.

Had President Wilson read "The Essentials of Logic" by Mr. Sellars he would probably not have referred to one of his enemies as a man with "a bungalow mind—having no upper story," for in that book one finds, "Hence we must think of the mind as a living organism rather than as a building in which one story is added to another."

Just because a man is temperamental it is no sign that he is a genius.

The Daily Iowan attacks, editorially, the use of "You bet" by University students. We wonder if the phrase "Oh Kid," used exclusively by women, ever reached its ears. That was the high-sign for every co-ed at Morningside college, Sioux City, when we were attempting to be a student there during the S. A. T. C. period.

Hint to journalism students: Never show your products to professors of English.

We do not, as some people have accused us, keep a scrap book of the columns we write. That was never the way with great men. They have left the collecting to some unknown admirer and then purchased the collection at a fabulous price, say a mere million or so.

May this humble department be the medium through which a campaign can be started, the purpose of which shall be the awarding of Carnegie medals to Miss "Poddie" Orton and Miss Marguerite Flickinger?

All your compassion for the ice men seems to have been wasted emotion.

More personal stuff: If we acquire not a mite of knowledge during this semester we shall feel repaid for returning to the University. A good-looking girl, who did not deign to speak to us all last year, greeted us, more or less sweetly, the other day.

A student is one who reads past the assignment—sometimes.

Thanks to Mark Sullivan and David Lawrence, all the suspense will be missing when President Harding names his cabinet two weeks hence.

The conductor of this Post felt so independent yesterday he threw two contributions (the first two) into the waste basket. M. V. M.

Jazz music is out of vogue. Most anyone will tell you that the period of syncopation is passed, but most of us are curious to know why someone doesn't tell the orchestra leaders of the fact.

If one may judge by the number of gum chewing girls in our midst the University is going to graduate a fine spring crop of stenographers whether it graduates anything else or not.

KEEPING STEP

Are you like the Arcade lizard who boasted that he hadn't seen the inside of a classroom yet, and didn't expect to until his cuts were used up? Have you proudly made the assertion that you have not purchased any books yet because there is really no necessity if you apply the soft soap properly to the instructor, at just the right time and in just the right manner? There are students who have spread such braggadocio about, and we have found that these are nearly always the ones who do the most complaining when the work begins to pile up at the end of the year.

Many old lessons may be preached at the beginning of each new period of work but the need shouldn't exist after the recent grilling. Those who have had a fall semester to look back on can remember just how hard it is to make up reports and back work when they should be delving into the pages for a thorough review.

Students in whose memory the nightmare of such performances is still vivid will get the jump on the new subjects with the right foot. Everyone knows the effect of a marching column if the leader does not get off with the band. The confusion which follows requires a long period to straighten out again. A parallel case is the new semester before us.

Jump on the band wagon with the rest, because the band will not and can not wait.—The Daily Illini.

TWO MINUS SIX LEAVES—?

The first week of the new semester is passed. Many students with an in-born dread of attending classes are already contenting themselves with sinking back in their seats with the thought that four months lie ahead before the next battle with examinations.

We have repeatedly heard it said that for a month of so now it will be necessary only to lie back in class and doze, because real work never begins until the middle of the semester. We have heard these same students remark at examination time that the University is trying to eliminate all the good men and women for the sake of making it easier for the instructors by reducing the size of the classes.

Some of us take our notes in the class-rooms and other of us rely entirely on Bunt Kirk's.

We have heard of Senators speaking for twelve or fifteen hours at a single stretch and believed that no one could exceed that record; but now that there is a woman in the Senate we have retracted our belief.

That the University is sadly in need of a new library building is shown by the fact that the many books are now stored away in the attic of the natural science building because of the crowded conditions of the stack rooms. Once they are in the attic they are not available for general circulation. According to Miss Jessie L. Arms, head cataloger, many new sets of books are sent there before ever going to the shelves. New books that are steadily being added to the library further tax the already crowded stacks. Only by shifting old books and making use of every available space are the new books accommodated. V. NEW PALIMPSEST TELLS OF OLD MILITARY ROAD

The February number of the Palimpsest, the magazine published monthly by the State Historical Society of Iowa devoted to the dissemination of Iowa History, contains three articles on the old Military Road which extends from Iowa City to Dubuque.

The articles are written by John C. Parish, editor of the magazine, Marcus L. Hansen M. A. '17, who is now attending Harvard, and Prof. John E. Briggs, of the department of political science. Mr. Hansen and Professor Briggs hiked all the way from Dubuque to Iowa City on this road last summer, and their articles, "Phantoms on the Old Road" and "Along the Military Road", tell of their experiences on their hike.

An introductory article, "The Old Military Road", by the editor, tells something of the history of this road which was laid out over eighty years ago to connect the mining town on the river with the new territorial capital.

FORMER IOWA STUDENT HAS WRITTEN COMEDY

George G. Glick '14 has just completed a new comedy entitled "The Worm" which is a three act drama of college life, and was written especially for high school and college students. He is the author of "The Rift in the Clouds", "Comrade" and others.

WRESTLERS OF ILLINOIS PRIMING FOR IOWA MEET

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 17.—Final try-outs for the varsity wrestling team are scheduled to start this week when the aspirants in the various classes will struggle to see who will make the Iowa trip. The winning members of each class will represent the Varsity grapplers against Iowa on February 19.

Competition in all the sections is keen, especially the heavier weights. There is a possibility that some of the classes will have to be split in order to allow the best men to compete. This would be imperative to organizing a well balanced team.

On February 19 Illinois meets Iowa, one of the most highly touted squads in the conference. The Hawkeyes have had an early season, and they have won two of their meets by large scores. There are a number of experienced men working on their squad, and it will be up to the Orange and Blue to shatter their hopes.

The heavyweight class with Ems, veteran of last year, Vogel, Pike and Randall, have as fine a selection of big men as the Illini have ever boasted. The light heavyweight division will be minus the services of Hoffman, champion of last year, who was lost by graduation, but Carl Furness and George Meyer, sophomores, should be able to stand up against any man in the Big Ten.

GUEST HAS PRAISE FOR SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 15. "You have a wonderful university here, but where is your school of journalism?" asked Edgar A. Guest, of Detroit, poet, journalist, and philosopher in an interview following his lecture here recently in Wheeler auditorium. "Every university needs a good practical school of journalism."

A practical illustration of his theory was given when he told of a university in the east, where the regents have purchased the city paper in the college town and the students in the school of journalism edit the newspaper.

WRESTLERS TO MEET ILLINOIS

Visiting Team Will Have Men of Experience — Tryouts
This Afternoon

Iowa's wrestlers finished their last hard workout last night in preparation for the Illinois meet here Saturday at 3 p. m. This will be the first time in the history of the two schools that the Illinois grapplers have competed on the Iowa floor.

Although the Illinois squad has not yet been picked it is very probable that the whole team will be men of experience who helped Illinois to win the Conference meet last year. Final tryouts in the Illini mat team will be held today. It is possible that they will only bring six weights for the match with Iowa. The Hawkeye 115 pound men are in condition and were expecting to compete in the coming meet; but the latest reports are that Illinois decided to eliminate the bantamweight. "The Illinois team is conceded to be one of the strongest in the conference and if Iowa intends to prevent a duplication of last year's defeat they will have to fight for every point," said Ernest G. Schroeder. Howrey, Iowa's 158 pound man, was injured yesterday in practice and at the present time it is doubtful whether he will be able to wrestle Saturday. Scott would probably be chief contender for this position if Howrey can not appear.

The tryouts in the 125 pound class will be held this afternoon. Vana, Albers, Weber, Foley and Borts are scrapping for this position. All dope now tends to give Vana the edge over the other men of this class. Vana filled this position last year on the varsity team; but has been able to compete but little this year because of injuries. The 115 pounders will also probably hold tryouts in order to be ready for the Illini if they should finally decide to bring their bantamweight representative.

The remainder of the Iowa squad will be composed of the same men who have competed in the three former conference meets; Sweeney in the 135, Smith in the 145 pound, Captain White in the 175 pound and Hunter in the heavyweight class.

TWELVE STUDENTS ENTER
COURSE IN SOCIAL WORK

Twelve students are enrolled in the Training Course of Red Cross and Social Work. This course is given jointly by the central division of the American Red Cross and the University of Iowa to seniors and graduate students who are particularly interested in social work. Owing to the nature of the course, which calls for much individual instruction and field work, the enrollment is limited to twelve. It is divided into four divisions, child welfare, social hygiene, Red Cross organization and technique, and methods of social service. Methods of social service is taught by Grace E. Shaffee, executive secretary of the Social Service league of Iowa City and actual social work will be done by the class under her direction and supervision.

A training course for social workers was started at the University of Iowa the second semester of the year 1919-20. Last year thirteen young women were graduated from the course. According to Prof. Fred E. Haynes, resident director of the work, it is very probable that the University will take over the entire work and make it a permanent course to be given the second semester of every year. The course offers ten hours of college credit which may be applied on a major in sociology.

THOMPSON ELECTED PRESIDENT BY THE QUADRANGLE BOARD

Frank E. Thomson S2 of Davenport was elected president of the Quadrangle at the first regular meeting of the new General council, the governing body of the dormitory, Tuesday night. Other officers elected are: vice-president, Waldo A. Fimmen A2 of Burlington; secretary, Olen Higbee A2 of Bloomfield; treasurer, Clement F. Mullen L1 of Waterloo. These men will hold office for a year. The faculty board of the Quadrangle were guests at the meeting.

Thomson entered this University last fall, transferring his registration from Ames. He was recently appointed as a proctor at the Quadrangle to succeed George Woodward D2 of Charter Oak, who cancelled his registration. Ben W. Robinson G of Cedar Falls was the president whose term expired Tuesday night.

Robert E. Rienow, Dean of Men, and Edward H. Lauer, associate professor in the department of German, attended the meeting as guests. The third member of the faculty board of the Quadrangle, Prof. Byron J. Lambert of the College of Engineering, was unable to attend. Professor Lauer was obliged to leave early to superintend the presentation of the Hep-Zet play, "Seven Chances," but made a short speech of introduction to the new council members. Dean Rienow outlined the work expected of the Council and urged co-operation with the faculty board and the administration of the University.

Two committees were appointed by Thomson, one to investigate the poor telephone service at the Quadrangle, and the other to investigate the method of delivery of special delivery letters. Both committees will report at the next regular meeting of the General Council to be held Tuesday, March 1.

HIGH SCHOOL MEET, MAY 7

Iowa Track Men Meet Northwestern Same Day—Brewton Ineligible

May 7 has been set for the date of this year's high school invitation track meet. Iowa meets Northwestern in a dual meet here the same day, so that the events will be run off together. Preliminaries for prep events will be held at Iowa field on the morning of May 7. Last year thirty-nine high schools entered, and every effort will be made to increase this number. Medals and cups will be given for places in all events.

Another discouraging loss to the track team has been suffered. Due to scholastic deficiencies, Cecil H. Brewton A2 of Mason City, a promising sprinter from last year's freshman track squad, has been declared ineligible for competition this spring.

ELECT WINTRODE HEAD OF RAINBOW SOCIETY

John Wintrode A2 of Winterset, was elected president of the Old Gold chapter of the Rainbow Veterans society at a meeting at Hotel Jefferson, Wednesday night. Joseph Andrews Au of Iowa City, was named vice-president, and Sam Wilson S2 of Wapello secretary and treasurer. The men will serve during the remainder of this semester.

There are about thirty-five students in the University at this time who served in the famous Forty-Second division during the war. The purpose of the organization at the University is social.
