IOWA DEFEATS ILLINOIS TEAM; SCORE 30 TO 12

White, Sweeney, and Hunter Get Falls — Vana Wins Decision for Iowa

ILLINOIS FAILS TO WIN FALL

Bob Smith Suffers First Defeat of Season — Hunter Gets First Fall in Two Minutes — Vana's First Bout Since Northwestern Match — Illinois Team All Veterans

Iowa's wrestling squad stacked up their third conference victory yesterday by lowering the hopes of the Illini to the tune of 30 to 12. The results of the first three matches gave indications of a very one-sided score for the Hawkeyes; but the remainder of the meet was on more even terms with the advantage with the Illinois squad. This was the first meet of the invading team and although they were represented by four veterans they showed at no time any material that looked like conference champions.

Captain White, Sweeney and Hunter each counted eight points for the Iowa score by getting a fall over their men and Vana of the 125 lb. class counted six more with a decision. The losers won their 12 points by two decisions over Smith and Scott. The Illinois team did not succeed in getting a fall over any of the Iowa team. They secured their 12 points by getting decisions over "Bob" Smith and Scott.

Iowan Throws Jap

The afternoon's program began with Sweeney and Chou of the 135 pound class. Chou is a veteran on the Illinois team and proved himself to be the best man that has met the 135 pounder of the Iowa ranks. However, he could not keep the pace with Sweeney. He conceded the first bout on a decision and the second in 4 minutes and 3 seconds when the Iowa man flopped him with a head and arm lock.

The next bout found Captain White and Meyer of the 175 pound class on the mat. White won the first period by a decision. The second period also went to the Hawkeye captain when he threw Meyer in 5 minutes and 18 seconds with a body scissors and an arm lock. Captain White was on the offensive nearly all of the time and had his opponent in many dangerous positions.

Vana Adds Six Points

Vana of the 125 pound division added six more points to the Iowa score by receiving two well-earned decisions over Flostrom, the Illini light-weight. This was Vana's first bout since the Northwestern meet.

The tables turned when Scott, who replaced Howrey at the 158 pound class, conceded a decision to Esslinger. The first bout of the match resulted in a decision for the Illinois man. The remaining two bouts were draws. This gave the Illini their first 6 points.

"Bob" Smith and Captain Jessen finished their match with the same results as the one just before. The Illinois captain won the bout by receiving a decision in the first seven minute period. The remainder of the time was a rather slow match with neither man taking the advantage. This is the first defeat of the season for Smith.

The final match of the meet resulted in a victory for Hunter over Furness. Hunter won the first bout by getting a fall in 2 minutes with decision was given on the next two a body chancery and head lock. No periods, giving the match and 8 points to the Iowa heavyweight.

LIBRARY GETS SEVERAL NEW BOOKS FROM LONDON

A collection of books dealing with early English life and customs has just been received at the library from London, England. Among the books are the Pell records of the revenues of King Edward III, a book giving the history of mayors and sheriffs of London from the year 1259 to 1343; a collection of ordinances and regulations of the government from the reign of King Edward to the reign of King William and Queen Mary; and many books describing the social customs of England during the medieval period. The Pell records also give the business transactions between the king and Geoffrey Chaucer.

"The library is very fortunate to get such a valuable collection of books," said Miss Jane E. Roberts, University librarian. "They are especially valuable for students of early London and English history."

W. A. A. TO GIVE "STUNT SHOW"

Zouave Drill, Gold Dust Twins, and "Margie" to Be Special Features of Vaudeville

W. A. A. vaudeville to be given at the Englert theater, Thursday, February 24, will include everything from a little bit of history to a little bit of ultra-modern dancing, according to Dolly Henderson A4 of Hawkeye, general manager of the vaudeville.

The Zouave drill, to be given by sixteen girls, will be an education in military tactics. "Calpurnia's crying in the Julius Caesar" act would melt the heart of a stone, and the "Gold Dust Twins" will look and act like the originals and will do some original tumbling," said a member of the committee in charge. Next will come "Margie" and her chorus with the dark secret.

The members of the clown dance were chosen from a troupe of W. A. A. members majoring in circus tactics. The one-act play, "The Revolt," is the story of the efforts of a militant suffragette to ruin Grandma Gregg's training school for old fashioned wives.

Pavlowa's troupe will put on a dancing act which comes next. This act includes Pierot and Pierrette, a dance by eight gypsies from Bohemia, and finally the "Simultaneous Steppers," one having stepped from Denver, Colo., and the other from Hawkeye. The last act will be a little bit of everything in which all the actresses will appear.

The Howling 300 and members of W. A. A. will have charge of the sale of tickets which will start tomorrow on the campus and in the halls of the liberal arts building. Frances Hungerford A3 of Iowa City will be in charge of the ushers of the show. Members of W. A. A. will usher.

Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY HERE TO INTERVIEW STUDENTS

Miss Agnes Lyall, industrial secretary in the personnel department of the National board of the Y. W. C. A. in New York, was in Iowa City for a few hours yesterday interviewing students who are interested in going into Y. W. C. A. secretaryship work.

From Iowa City, Miss Lyall left for Mount Vernon, where she will continue her work.

LIBRARY OPEN TUESDAY

The University library will be open on Washington's birthday, Tuesday, February 22 from 8 till 12, according to Jane E. Roberts, University librarian.

LABOR BUREAU IS ORGANIZED

Commerce Club Directs Plan To Aid Students And Employers

"Commerce Employment Bureau" is the name of the employment bureau recently organized under the direction of the Commerce club. The need of a labor bureau of this nature has long been felt by the professors and students in the school of commerce, according to Professor Clarence W. Wassam of the school of commerce. The plan of having the bureau was first discussed at a meeting of the Commerce club held February 9.

Robert G. Paramore A4 of Hawarden will head the bureau, and have general charge of the work. Erling Larson A4 of Kanawha has been appointed business manager. Paul W. Penningroth A3 of Tipton is secretary and treasurer.

It is the plan of the bureau to charge each student who wishes to benefit from the services offered, a nominal sum to cover a few minor items of expense. A complete record of each man will be kept. An office has been secured in room 316 liberal arts building. Office hours will be from 2 to 4 p. m., beginning next Monday.

The purpose of the bureau is to get in touch with prospective employers of college men, to learn what line of training and ability they desire in their employees, and, as nearly as possible, to put the graduates of the school of commerce in touch with the field of service for which they are best fitted.

The nature of the bureau, its services to the students and to the employer is on the basis of a mutual association, so designed that no effort will be spared on the part of the faculty and students in placing the man in the field for which he is best fitted with the least possible loss of time and with a minimum of expense to both the employer and employee.

"It will eventually do away with a student graduating from the school of commerce, and then going to business men attempting to sell his services, and probably not getting the job for which he has fitted himself while in college," said a member of the bureau.

RELIEF WORKER TO RELATE CONDITIONS IN THE NEAR EAST

Dr. Blanche Norton, Near East Relief worker, of Eldon, will speak on "The Conditions in the Near East" this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. Special music for the program will be furnished by the Iowa City Commercial Club quartet, composed of Prof. William E. Hays, A. C. Robinson, Dale E. Carrell and Mayor Ingalls Swisher.

Doctor Norton has been lecturing in Iowa City under the auspices of the Near East relief society of Johnson County. She has spoken at the Friday afternoon University tea in the University club rooms and also at the high school.

In speaking of the conditions in the Near East, Doctor Norton said, "In America people have no idea of how many thousands of orphans there are in the Near East. There never in all the history of the world has been such a tragedy as walks the land of Asia Minor today." Doctor Norton spent six months in relief work in the vicinity of Constantinople, Trebizond and Karizund. She distinguished herself by her services among Greek children, particularly those afflicted with the dread disease, trachoma, and for her work in combating this disease she was decorated by King Alexander of Greece with the order of King George I. She is the only woman who has received this honor.

ENGINEERS TO HAVE SPECIAL SCENERY FOR ANNUAL SHOW

Arrangements are being made by the engineers to secure special scenery from Des Moines or Davenport for the engineers' show, "The Love Broker," to be presented during Mecca week. It is planned to make this one of the best productions on the campus this year, to show what the engineers can do to keep up their previous reputation of producing one of the best shows of the year.

A special Mecca edition of some of the music which will be given during the show is also to be published. The music is one of the features of this year's show, something that has not been attempted before. One of the selections is an original Iowa song, which will be given for the first time at the show.

INDIANA HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Tomorrow's Visitors Captained By Dean, One of Best Scorers in Big Ten

Tomorrow night, for the first time this season, Iowa will meet Indiana, a five which has been vying with Illinois for first place. The teams which Indiana have played, however, have not been the exceptionally strong and their good standing is partly due to this fact.

The Hoosiers do not have a veteran team this year, but the new material seems to be of unusual strength. Captain Dean at center is playing his third year and is one of the best pivot men in the conference. He stands fifth place among the Big Ten scorers.

Dobbins at guard was a reserve man last season and is only an average performer at present. He seldom breaks into the scoring column. Thomas at running guard is playing his first year of conference ball, but has scored at least once in every game.

The forwards are new men, but according to reports one is a star. That is Marxon, who is a little man but very fast. He will take a lot of watching by the Iowa defense. His team mate, Dehority, has scored consistently in every game, but is not as good as Marxon. Iowa will have to stop Dean and Marxon if they hope to win tomorrow night.

The game with Iowa will be the second one of the trip for Indiana, as they met Northwestern at Evanston Saturday night. However there are no odds there, as Iowa also played Saturday night, but Indiana has the disadvantage of travelling, after the Northwestern game. Iowa won from Indiana last year by a score of 28 to 20.

TICKET SALE FOR CADET HOP TO START TOMORROW

Tickets for the cadet hop which will be given by the members of the R. O. T. C. Monday evening at the women's gymnasium were placed on sale at Whetstone's drug store yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The price of the tickets is $1.25 and will be sold to freshmen and sophomores and men who are taking advanced courses in military training.

The programs will follow the military effect by being designed in the form of a shell. Music for the evening will be furnished by Bohac's saxophone orchestra. It is not the plan of the committee that the men, with the exception of the staff officers, should appear in uniform although that privilege is granted to those who wish it.

"If the dance Monday evening is a success financially, and the R. O. T. C. Members show sufficient interest, a series of these dances will be conducted during the remainder of the academic year," said Jordan L. Larson, A4 of Roland, who is in charge of the arrangements for the dance.

Hawkeyes Sweep Purdue off Feet in Second Period to Win, 20 to 15

FIRST HALF TO BOILERMAKERS

Lambert's Men Set 8 to 2 Pace During Opening Part of Great Battle—Old Gold Offense Shows Real Worth After Ashmore's Players Get Lead —McGovney Looks Good

Iowa stiffened her offense at the beginning of the last fifteen minutes of play in the basketball game with Purdue at the men's gymnasium last night, after Purdue has led 8 to 2 at the end of the first period, and won the second conference contest of the season by a score of 20 to 15.

Purdue rallied after Iowa began making baskets but managed to score but once before Frank Shimek started his rapid fire of five baskets in succession from long range and difficult angles. The first half was characterized by comparatively few shots and only three field baskets. Iowa scored its two points on free throws in this period.

Teamwork was fast throughout on the part of both teams. Iowa had the edge on the defense, and frequently forced the Boiler-makers to resort to long shots. Probably the number of shots was equal for both teams. Iowa missed several good opportunities for scoring in the first period. Luck seemed to be against the Hawkeyes from the start. Purdue's three baskets were made at intervals of five minutes.

Purdue First to Score

Purdue started the scoring in both periods and up to the time of Iowa's spurt looked like easy winners. Purdue played a system of having one man back on the defensive and one back on the offensive at all times, while Iowa played the usual five man defensive and short pass method.

Fighting Dick McGovney made his initial appearance in Iowa basketball last night and started the scoring for Iowa in its rally. McGovney played a good game and looks like a running mate for Shimek. Shimek starred at shooting with five baskets and four fouls for a total of 14 points.

White and Coffing were the backbone of Purdue's teamwork, although White was able to score but one field basket and made but three fouls out of ten tries. Masters and Eversman, Purdue forwards, scored but one basket each.

Kaufmann Iowa's Bulwark

Captain Kaufmann was the center of Iowa's defense and played an important cog in teamwork. Lohman and Frohwein scored one basket each besides a good game of floorwork.

The Lineup:
Iowa (20) Purdue (15)
Shimek, rf. Miller, lg.
Lohman, lf. White, rg. (capt)
Frohwein, c. Coffing, c.
Devine, rg. Masters, rf.
Kaufmann, (capt) lg. Eversman, rf.

Substitutes: McGovney for Devine, Holwerda for Eversman, Leverenz for Masters. Baskets: Shimek, 5; Coffing, 3; White, Eversman, Lohman, McGovney, Frohwein. Fouls: Shimek 4 out of 4 tries; White, 3 out of 10. Fouls: Personal; Shimek, Eversman, Kaufmann, 2; McGovney, Devine, Frohwein, Miller, Masters, 1. Technical; Frohwein, 1; Crowd, 2.

Referee: Hedges of Dartmouth. Umpire, Carrithers of Illinois.

FRATERNITY HORSE PLAY

"It's time these fool frats' got a little common sense into their methods of initiating their members. Just as a warning, I will fine you $10, and if I were in your place I'd make the fraternity pay the fine." Thus spoke a magistrate in Pittsburgh, recently, to a young man brought before him on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The youth, a student in Carnegie Institute of Technology, had been arrested at 2 a. m. in a graveyard as he was copying names of persons buried in the cemetery from the tombstones. At the time he was wearing a palm beach suit, straw hat, low shoes, and carrying a lantern.

It has long been the custom of fraternities to make their pledges go thru various public places during probationary week previous to their initiation into the secret organizations, and it is doubtful if a fine such as was assessed against the student in Pittsburgh will change the traditions. The practice is kept up, in a good many cases, because the members who were freshmen during the previous year want to get even for the displeasures they were forced to suffer when they were the victims.

For most of the fraternities at Iowa at least, it can be said to their credit that they have acquired a good deal of common sense during the past few years. There remain evidences of horse play on the campus but its form is so slight in the majority of cases that it is scarcely noticed.

Fraternity men, as a group, are pretty level headed and realize the ridicule their own organizations face when their pledges are seen going through absurd antics on prominent street corners. Few people see a freshman prowling in a graveyard at 2 o'clock in the morning but even that form of "torture" is being abandoned.

In the instance of the Pittsburgh student the judge, an irascible gentleman perhaps, was not entirely justified in arraigning all college brotherly organizations as "fool frats." The judge was thinking, no doubt, of the customs of fraternities in his days and when he found one still making its pledges search for tombstones he became exasperated and told them all to get some common sense.

They are getting common sense in their initiatory methods, but they will never eliminate horse play. That will continue as long as there are boards from which paddles can be made.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED

Last fall the athletic board waged a campaign, as it does every year, the purpose of which was to sell yearly athletic tickets to students. The books were priced at $10 and good for 25 athletic events, being an average of forty cents for each contest.

Some students refused to buy the books because the athletic board had felt obliged to increase the price from $8 to $10. Recently, the board found it necessary to limit admission to basketball games to those holding "I" tickets, leaving the single admission fans out in the cold.

Just now those students without "I" tickets are finding it difficult to invent means of seeing the games. One zealous fan inserted a want ad in the Daily Iowan yesterday in his quest for the now coveted pasteboards. It is rather deplorable that every one can't see the contests but it seems that the non-ticket holders have only themselves to blame. They should have "got in on the thing" when the stock was at par.

THE LISTENING POST

Another campaign is about to be instituted by this department. It will seek to bar all persons from reading its paragraphs who take delight in pointing out split infinitives and other grammatical errors in its composition.

"Mr. Hinds repeats the two jokes about Mr. Chesterson's stupendous person, believing, perhaps, in Mr. Chesterton's adaption of Charles Lamb's formula that if one says a good thing once it becomes twice as good as if one says it twice," writes Percy Hammond in his Saturday book review. A splendid idea which we shall try just as soon as we write something worthwhile.

College men who sing on street corners after midnight rate the same insignia as do those who paste paper college pennants on their luggage bags.

The Perfect Day around this University will be that one when no student attempts to sell you a ticket for something or other.

"Madame Rodgers," reports the Daily Iowan, "said that she was surprised to find Americans so thrifty that American girls even darned their own stockings." the lace-faced kind, too?

When we told a co-ed that we would rather be a James Gibbons Huneker than a B. L. T. she merely murmured, "Huh." Indicating that the seven arts never interfered with her weekend dances.

Hint to prospective city editors in the classes of journalism: Unless you care to halt the Underwoods in your newsrooms never show stories concerning women's fashions to girl reporters.

One of our ambitions is to gain as many readers for this column as the society editor can boast for hers.

Now that the naturalists have found a way to kill weeds without killing the grass a lot of cigar manufacturers may have to go out of business.

"ONCE TO EVERY WOMAN"

A Super-Feature with the Greatest Theme on Earth
Mother Love

WHAT COMES ONCE TO EVERY WOMAN?
 Is It Love? Is It Temptation? Is It Self Sacrifice?
 Is Once Enough?

She Walked with Kings and Lost the Common touch. Then Came a Time When Her Mother's Vine-Clad Cottage was a Citadel of Love.
