ORATORS WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Winner of Jessup Prize Will Represent Iowa in N. O. L. Contest

The University Oratorical contest, for the selection of Iowa's representative in the Northern Oratorical League contest, and to determine the winner of the Jessup prize of $5, will be held in the natural science auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

The six men who will compete were selected from fourteen who tried out in the preliminaries last Friday. All of the orations are original and about 2000 words in length. The men and their orations are: Charles H. Devaul, "A League of Nations"; Max A. Conrad L2 of Burlington, "A Plea for World Disarmament"; Frederick O. Paulson A3 of Clear Lake, "Our Problem of Assimilation"; Abram M. Devaul L1 of Albert City, "A Plea for America"; Ella F. Schmock A4 of Lamont, "A Challenge to Undergraduates"; and Glen J. McLaughlin A3 of Anamosa, "Marshall Ferdinand Foch."

The judges for the contest were selected yesterday. They are: Prof. Rollin M. Perkins of the college of law, Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts, and Prof. Herbert F. Goodrich of the college of law.

Earl W. Wells L2 of Sigourney won the University Oratorical last year but was not able to enter this contest. Conrad and Schmock were in the finals last year.

SEMIFINALS FORCE WINNERS TO EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY

In a dozen exciting bouts, the rest of the finalists in the boxing tournament were selected yesterday afternoon at the armory. The 145 and 160 pound classes finished their elimination matches, while the 175 pounders were represented by only one entrant, and the heavies by two. These are Leroy Kinney of Yankton, S. D., and Albert E. Anderson A1 of Kellogg. The winners in the welter class are Herbert O. Pillars G of Iowa City and Leon M. Penquite A1 of Colfax. The middleweights who will meet in the finals next week are Laurence Kilbourne D2 of Iowa City and William E. Walsh A2 of Hawkeye.

Pillars' bout with Paul J. McKay S3 of Iowa City was the most exciting bout of the tournament so far. McKay had won two gruelling bouts and Pillars had been extended to the limit to shade Fred Steiner. The two lads battled fiercely for two rounds, McKay in great distress from weariness, but passing away ceaselessly at his opponent's face. Pillars, bloody and pretty weary himself, relentlessly chugged in, straightening McKay

SHAMROCK, GREEN RIBBON, AND MINATURE IRISH FLAGS ANNOUNCE ST. PATRICK'S DAY TO CAMPUS

A bit of shamrock or green ribbon, or a minature Irish flag will greet you today from the coat lapels of the surging mass of humanity on the campus. The freshmen's caps have been unearched, the shop windows are gayly decorated, and even the grass is greener this morning.

The Blarney Stone, snakes, Irish flags, pots of shamrock, clay pipes tied with green ribbon bows, and green lights, flowers and color schemes will predominate at dinner this evening and at the parties.

St. Patrick was born about the year 373 in southern England, and when only sixteen years old he was carried off by pirates, who sold him into slavery in Ireland; where his master employed him as a swineherd on the mountain of Sleanish. Seven

PHILOS ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE SPRING TERM

At the last meeting of the Philomathean literary society the following officers were elected: Thomas Thomsen A4 of Mitchell, S. D., president; Fritjhof T. Gilbert A2 of Estherville, vice-president; William E. Carpenter A2 of Iowa City, recording secretary; G. O. Hurley A2 of Madrid, corresponding secretary; Raymond P. Marple A3 of Pomeroy, treasurer; Marion G. Kellam A3 of Indianola and Charles C. Bowie A4 of San Benito, Tex., sergeants-at-arms; Norman V. Sherwin A4 of Clear Lake, critic; August J. Lukes A4 of Protivin, hall committeeman; Delmar A. Olson A2 of Humbolt, executive committeeman.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL MECCA BANQUET WILL TAKE PLACE TONIGHT

The nineteenth annual Engineers banquet will be held at the commercial club rooms tonight at 6 o'clock. This will be the second event of Mecca week, which began with the engineers' show Tuesday evening.

Following the banquet a program of toasts will be given by prominent students of the college of applied science and members of the faculty. The toastmaster will be Guido Wyland S4 of Iowa City, president of the associated students of applied science.

Elbert H. Geissinger S4 of Des Moines will speak on "Encyclopedia Engineerica". Prof. Floyd A. Nagler of the mechanic and hydraulic department, will speak on "The Fourth Dimension of an Engineer". "The Engineer" will be the subject of a speech by Prof. G. W. Stewart, head of the department of physics. President Walter A. Jessup will speak on "Coordination" and William G. Raymond, dean of the college of applied science will speak on "Commencement." Prof. Glenn K. Pierce of the electrical engineering department will speak on the "Charge of Meccasacius."

The committee in charge of the banquet is composed of Edwin L. Paintin S3 of Coralville, Martin L. Banks S4 of Donnellson, John S. Holbrook S2 of Onawa and Harold Gerard S1 of Brooks.

HOSPITAL CHILDREN TO HOLD BAZAAR FRIDAY

The Perkins hospital children's bazaar will be given Friday, March 18, instead of Saturday as was announced in Wednesday's Iowan. The articles on sale, bright colored mats and baskets of reed, gay stenciling and dainty crocheting, have all been made by the crippled children, some with hands and arms in casts, some who limp about on crutches and others who have never walked.

The sale will be held at the Iowa City Light and Power company where a window display of the children's work will be made Thursday, the day before the sale. Home made candy, doughnuts and coffee will also be on sale. The proceeds of this bazaar will be used in buying more materials for the children's craft work.

ELEVEN MEMBERS OF FACULTY TO ADDRESS TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Eleven faculty members from this University will speak at the several section meetings of the Iowa State Teachers' Association to be held this month in six Iowa cities, and many others will attend the meetings.

President Walter A. Jessup, Dean William F. Russell, head of the department of education, and Prof. Ernest Horn, of the department of education will be the principal speakers at the Fort Dodge meeting, March 17, 18, and 19, and will also participate in several of the section conferences, discussing certain phases of practical educational research now being conducted in the observation schools in the college of education. Professor Hardin Craig, head of the department of English, will give the principal address before the group of English teachers, his topic being "The Minimum Essentials in English Composition."

President Jessup and Dean Russell will also be prominent in the conference at Sioux City, to be held on the same dates. Prof. Thomas J. Kirby of the department of education will speak before the department of city superintendents, high school principals, and grammar grades, and Prof. Berthold L. Ullman, head of the department of Latin, will speak before the Latin teachers' conference and will have charge of the general discussion.

Simultaneous meetings will be held March 24, 25, and 26 at Council Bluffs, Shenandoah, Des Moines, Waterloo, and Davenport. Professor Horn will speak at Council Bluffs, and Shenandoah, giving four addresses at the latter place. Professor Earle L. Waterman of the extension division will give an address on the "Schol Health System in Iowa" at Davenport. Mr. Harold Y. Moffit of the department of English will discuss the "Minimum Essentials in English Composition", and Miss Bessie Pierce of the department of history will speak on "The Social Reaction in History". Dean Russell will speak before the General Assembly at Des Moines the evening of March 24 on "Equality of Opportunity in Education," and he will also appear before several conference round tables. Prof. Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men, will speak on "What Are the Colleges Doing for Men in Physical Education?"

Dean George F. Kay, head of the department of geology, will occupy an important place in the college section at the Waterloo meeting, addressing that section on the relation of freshman work in college to work in the same subjects in high schools. Miss Marie Miller of the University high school will discuss "The Minimum Essentials in Science" before the conference of science teachers there.

BOTANY CLASSES TO SEE FILMS AT GARDEN TODAY

Classes in general and elementary botany will have the opportunity of seeing films which present the details connected with the spread and infection of plant diseases at the Garden theatre this afternoon. These pictures are being shown through the courtesy of the United States Department of Agriculture and the management of the Garden theatre.

The pictures are of interest both from the standpoint of photomicrography, of which they represent the latest achievement, and from that of botanical significance.

The films will be shown during each of the four class periods this morning. Students in pharmaceutical botany and in the general courses in liberal arts are required to attend, but other persons who wish to see the films will be given admission cards by applying to members of the instructional staff of the department of botany.

EXTENSION DIVISION TO GIVE CHILDREN HEALTH LECTURES

Earle L. Waterman of the extension division is giving a series of health lectures illustrated by moving pictures for children under the age of fifteen, at the Unitarian church. There are three lectures in the series, the first was given last Friday and the second will be given on Friday evening, March 25.

These children's movies are being put on by a community service fund and conducted by Donald A. Laird of the child welfare research station of the University. One half of the program consists of educational films and the other half of a comedy or picture play. Mr. Laird lectures during the educational films in order to explain the picture.

WIRELESS REPORTS ON TOURNAMENT TO BE SENT BY IOWAN

Wireless reports of the high school basketball tournament which begins here today will be sent out over the state during the three days of the meet, according to present plans of The Daily Iowan.

Radiograms will be sent from the University radio station in the physics building today and tomorrow at 12:30 p. m., 5:00 p. m., and 10:00 p. m. by Carl Menzer S4 of Lone Tree, who is in charge of the station. They will contain the scores of the games and a brief summary of the standing of the various teams as the meet progresses. The hours for sending the reports Saturday have not yet been arranged.

The following notice was sent out over the state last night: General call to the amateurs interested in reports of the high school basketball tournament to be played at the University of Iowa Thursday, Friday and Saturday:—Reports of the high school basketball tournament will be broadcasted by this station in cooperation with the Daily Iowan at 12:30 p. m. 5:00 p. m., and 10:00 p. m. Thursday and Friday of this week. Please forward these reports to your local newspaper.

Iowa City will be the center of the high school athletic stage as seventy-five teams meet here to contend for state honors and the Daily Iowan hopes in this way to give the basketball enthusiasts and the press of the different towns represented direct and authentic reports of the games.

Communication is practically assured with the following towns: Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Fort Dodge, Davenport, Fort Madison, Lone Tree, Marengo, Muscatine, and Shenandoah. It is thought that many of the towns who have not yet been able to send communications to Iowa City will be able to "listen-in" and get the reports.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS TO BE MET BY HOWLING 300

Plans for meeting the high school teams were made at a meeting of the Howling 300 held Tuesday night in the natural science auditorium.

Coach Howard H. Jones gave a short talk to the members of the Howling 300. A reception committee was appointed to take care of the high school basketball teams as they arrived in Iowa City. Plans were made to meet every train and take the teams to the Jefferson hotel. Two of the army trucks have been secured for this purpose. Every train will be met on Wednesday and Thursday.

RULES HOLD FOR VACATION

The regular weekend rules will be observed during vacation, beginning next Thursday, March 24, and ending Tuesday, March 29, according to the announcement given out yesterday by Mrs. Nellie S. Arner, dean of women. Students who remain here during vacation will be subject to these regulations.

SCHOOL TEAMS ARE HERE FOR STATE CONTEST

Several Teams Work Out On Floor of the Mens' Gymnasium

NO TEAM CANCELS ENTRY

First Game at 8 This Morning — Teams Entertained by Friends — A. F. I. Gives Folder to Each Member of Teams — Men Are Lodged at Fraternities and Hotels

Met by welcoming committees of "I" men and members of the Howling 300, eighty high school basketball teams arrived in Iowa City yesterday and were escorted to hotels, fraternity houses, the Quadrangle, and miscellaneous places, many of them for their first experience at a basketball tournament or in a university town. No team that registered has cancelled its entry.

Several teams worked out on the men's gymnasium floor yesterday afternoon in preparation for the opening whistle at 8 o'clock this morning when Indianola and Center Point start elimination proceedings at the men's gymnasium and Harland and Hartwick at the women's gymnasium. Games at the Iowa City high school gymnasium commence with Grundy Center and Estherville at 1:30 p. m.

Aside from the few teams that practiced yesterday afternoon the majority of the guests spent the day being entertained by friends at fraternity and rooming houses, or by looking over the University.

Folders, with a welcome to the University and information as to the interesting places to visit were given to each high school guest by A. F. I., senior men's honorary organization.

In lodging the eighty teams the athletic department has placed 175 men at fraternities, 140 at the Quadrangle, 100 at the armory for tonight, 40 at local hotels while the remainder are being entertained by friends at private rooming houses and other miscellaneous places.

Indianola is at the Delta Chi house, Mason City at the Kappa Beta Xi, Burlington at Kappa Sigma, Sioux City at Phi Kappa Psi, Battle Creek at Psi Omega, Fairfield at Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Keokuk at Sigma Chi, Grinnell at Sigma Phi Epsilon, Spirit Lake at Theta Xi, Davenport at Phi Delta Theta, Dennison at Sigma Pi, Charles City at Delta Tau Delta, Grundy Center at Sigma Nu, Nevada at Delta Kappa Gamma, and Shenandoah at the Phi Kappa Sigma house.

Officials of the tournament will be Birch of Earlham, Hedges of Dartmouth, Coach Harris of West high school, and Coach Dubridge of East high.

PARCAUT POSTS FORFEIT TO MEET MEYERS FOR TITLE

Chicago, March 16: J. A. Heng, of Spencer, manager of Ralph Parcaut, claimant of the middleweight wrestling championship of the world has posted $1,000 with Frank Smith, sporting editor of the Chicago Daily Tribune, to bind a match with Johnny Meyers for the middleweight title.

Heng insists that Meyers make 158 pounds and if he agrees to this proposition he can dictate the terms of the split of gate receipts. It is said that there are several Iowa and Nebraska promoters anxious to bid for the match.

Articles of agreement signed by Manager Heng are in the hands of Frank Smith, and if Ed White, Meyers' manager, cares to sign he can do so by placing his forfeit and signing the papers.

SHOPS AND TEXTBOOKS

Under the title, "Connecting the College and the World," the Kansas City Star comments on an experiment in college training to begin in Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio, this fall.

The Antioch plan is the idea of Arthur E. Morgan, an engineer who was made trustee of the college, a comparatively obscure little institution, a few months ago. He expects to move a number of manufacturing plants, shops, and business establishments to the college and make them a part of the equipment. These plants will be run entirely by students, working in shifts, and giving as much time to the work as to classroom attendance. It is planned to extend the course to six years.

It seems a plausible scheme, and, in the case of Antioch, it will probably pull a remote little college into the educational limelight. Only one or two little questions might be considered in connection with the plan. It might result in an overdose of the so-called practical. Sometimes nothing appears to be so practical as the theoretical. It seems believable that many men make more money, have better gardens, healthier homes, and happier lives because of contact with the "detached" stuff—literary study, philosophical speculation, languages, etc.—offered in courses in the arts.

EXIT BOB KAUFMANN

With participation in the basketball game with Northwestern Monday night, Robert J. Kaufmann of Davenport closed his career as a University athlete.

For two years Kaufmann has played a guard position on the football team, and for three years a guard position on the basketball team. He has won all-state positions in both sports. He was captain of the basketball team during the past season, and the Chicago Tribune's choice for a guard on the second all-Conference team.

Frank Birch, a well-known official, favored Kaufmann for a first team position in the Conference, saying that several coaches stood for him, but the in and out season of the Iowa five kept him from this position. Clarence Vollmer Chicago basketball man, said of him, "Kaufmann is the best man I have ever played against."

Kaufmann played a steady sort of athletics throughout his career; he is of the kind who does little of talking, and a great amount of doing; he has always been eligible. He is a type of consistent clean-cut athlete that is an envied asset to any team and the institution it represents.

ENGINEERS' SHOW

By Bruce Gould

No one will ever be able to convince me that any sane person should be a bright and inveterate seeker of truth. This reflection only occurred to the writer after incurring the expressed displeasure, in regard to their recent Jubilee, of some few of the more choleric Laws.

Now comes the matter of the Engineer's show. It would be a pity if anything which appears here should interfere with the activities of the circulation manager of the Daily Iowan. Still two tickets, back somewhere in the hot, fetid balcony, were wished on me.

If a man were to invite one to take a drink, (presupposing the existence of a drinking person for a moment,) and the drink turned out to be home brew of doubtful excellence, instead of the finest aged-in-the-wood beverage, has one a right to turn carping critic? The Engineers' show is free; no one is compelled to go to the theater, and once there, no one is compelled to remain.

It's the best Engineers' show I've seen. In fact it is the only one I've seen. Many people said this year's production was much better than last year's.

The Engineers' have a tremendous amount of energy which they often put to helping out the University. When they get up a stunt, it is usually quite snappy. The orchestra, the banjos, and the band were unusually good for amateurs. The Meccanola stunt was pulled off in first class shape. The six saxophone boys offered some melody which was vastly superior to anything in the musical line attempted around these parts. The Engineers pull off some good stunts.

There were some other things on the program but this is as far as I go.

HOSPITAL EXHIBIT IS EXPRESSIVE OF CHEERFUL KIDDIES

You will go to the Perkins Hospital exhibit at the Iowa City Light and Power Company building Friday and you will admire the work and buy what you like, but will you look behind that work for a minute?

You will see two long white wards, one for boys and one for girls, on the hill across the river. These children, most of them in casts, some strapped to their beds in extension, are not mere pitiful spectrums of a far-away place. They are lively, flesh and blood boys and girls, and there is no better place to find patience, courage, and everlasting optimism than in these wards.

Once a day, in the afternoon, student teachers have brought them their work and, under the supervision first of Miss Paisley, now of Miss Allen have taught them for two hours to weave baskets and lamp stands, make hammocks and flowers out of yarn, make toys, and the other things on exhibition. The children who are up, do hand work mornings in the office.

To these kiddies this work has been their means of self-expression and of interest in the world outside of operations and endless hours of monotony. You will not laugh at the color combinations in a doll hammock when you know that some little colored boy chose them because he thought they were beautiful.

You will see a little of the stuff of which heroes are made in the slow, painful motions of little crippled hands weaving; in white faces, on some of which freckles stand out grotesquely, bent eagerly over work to try and finish it before it is taken up; in teeth grit and eyes shut when the needle is punched into arms to take the blood test, in order not to be a despised "cry-baby", and then the grim return with a stiff arm.

The Perkins kiddies are good scouts. When one of their number can go home they are all happy with him. The boys are real boys, always bantering, boasting, and looking for excitement. The unspoken rule seems to be "don't admit it hurts" and this rule is lived up to even by the smallest.

When you buy at the exhibition, remember that there is a personality behind each article and a story as interesting as any you have ever read. And above all, remember that by your purchase you are helping other personalities to develop and more stories to come to a happy conclusion.

up with hard lefts, and then whipping vicious rights to the solar plexus. The climax came in the last few seconds of the match when a terrific blow to the pit of the stomach laid McKay away.

Penquite had his hardest bout in the preliminaries, with Cecil H. Brewton A2 of Mason City. Brewton put up a lighting attack, jabbing his right to Penquite's jaw, and ducking most of the returns for the first two rounds. His lead seemed sufficient for a decision but Penquite came back like a champion in the final minute and punched out a victory for himself.

The 160 pounders didn't show the same class as the welterweights did, but Walsh packs a terrifically discouraging right. Kilbourne is a husky fellow, however, and with a week's training will force Walsh to extend himself.

Kinney ought to easily win in the heavyweight division. He sparred an exhibition bout with Anderson while the boys were drawing for their opponents, and playfully took all Anderson could push at his face. Anderson seemed to be trying to swat flies and lost his wind early in the unequal contest.

Society Brand Clothes

An Event of Importance

*Friday,
March 18,
from noon until 5 O'clock*

*Saturday,
March 19,
All Day*

Unique in the merchandising of clothing in Cedar Rapids will be this store's clothing exhibit next Friday and Saturday.

On those days, two young men from Chicago will depict in our windows the new styles in men's clothing. They will wear Society Brand Clothes. We say this exhibit will be unique because in no other way can the men of Cedar Rapids learn as quickly and as readily what is correct in men's attire.

This exhibit will cost us a great deal of money but we feel that the information that our friends will secure from it will repay us. We want our customers to know what is being worn by correctly garbed men throughout the nation.

The showing of these accepted clothes in our windows next Friday and Saturday will take little of your time. After you see it you will have a keener appreciation of the quality standards of our store.
