Fourteen Home Games

Considerable interest was shown by the public in the games schedule for the 1921-1922 season, as the University of Iowa announced plans for its basketball season. The first game of the season will be played at home against the Moline Team on November 28. The second game will be against the Iowa City High School on November 29. The third game will be against the Grinnell College on December 1, and the fourth game will be against the Muscatine High School on December 2. The fifth game will be against the University of Missouri on December 3. The sixth game will be against the University of Illinois on December 4. The seventh game will be against the University of Minnesota on December 5. The eighth game will be against the University of Chicago on December 6. The ninth game will be against the University of Notre Dame on December 7. The tenth game will be against the University of Southern California on December 8. The eleventh game will be against the University of California on December 9. The twelfth game will be against the University of Washington on December 10. The thirteenth game will be against the University of Oregon on December 11. The fourteenth game will be against the University of Idaho on December 12.

The largest hand that the University has ever had will be shown on the field of play during the season. The team will consist of forty-five players, including five seniors, ten juniors, ten sophomores, and twenty freshmen. The team will be coached by Dr. Frank I. Schoch, the University of Iowa's Athletic Director. The season will begin on November 28 against the Moline Team, and will continue on a bi-weekly basis until the end of the season in March.

The schedule is as follows:

November 28: Moline Team
November 29: Iowa City High School
December 1: Grinnell College
December 2: Muscatine High School
December 3: University of Missouri
December 4: University of Illinois

December 11: University of Oregon
December 12: University of Idaho

ANAMOSA AND DAVENPORT TO BATTLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Last Night's Games Make Davenport Champions of Division "A" and Anamosa Champions of Division "B"—Grinnell Unable to Defeat Bondurant in Western Star Basket Shootout

Davenport and Anamosa battled their way to the finals of the tournament by beating Grinnell and Nevada in the quarterfinals. Davenport defeated Grinnell by a score of 16 to 12, and Anamosa defeated Nevada by a score of 14 to 12. In the semifinals, Davenport upset Bondurant, the top seed in Division "A," by a score of 14 to 12, and Anamosa defeated Bondurant, the top seed in Division "B," by a score of 14 to 12. In the finals, Davenport defeated Anamosa by a score of 18 to 14, and Anamosa defeated Davenport by a score of 14 to 10. In the consolation games, Bondurant defeated Grinnell by a score of 18 to 14, and Nevada defeated Davenport by a score of 14 to 12.

The tournament was held at Van Dosen Field, home of the University of Iowa, and was attended by a large crowd.
In Waiting

A report of the periodical Business, P. F. A. became significant. Mr. Adams says that in the general view of the college's success in the world, the whole waggoners are in the Phi Beta Kappa's. A report of the committee seems to confirm his attitude.

Prof. Raymond Walters of Lehigh University has made a study of the classes of students in American technical and educational schools and considered, in that connection, the careers of 972 men, who have the rating of "distinguished." This number, nearly half stood in the first five of their classes and another group of 30 stood in the second five. Less than four per cent even made it into the very lowest fifth.

Of course, there are remarkably good students, others report and common sense show, who fail to attain any phenomenal distinction afterwards, but, on the whole, it is the good ones who succeed. No wonder we are so pleased about one of Professor Walters. And why not? A man, a man, and, man, we cannot display his capabilities at one time as well as another. There is the occasional misfortune of a square peg in a round hole, but, in general, the man who keeps the world waiting to show how good he is, seems to keep it waiting indefinitely.

Pam's Little Day

We thought we were famous. We had never been up the river; we had never read "Rain Forest"; we had not even seen the valuable comedy, "The Kid." We had not, nor have we any other claim. We were, as usual, on the side, the whole of the good ones who succeed. No wonder we are so pleased about one of Professor Walters. And why not? A man, a man, and, man, we cannot display his capabilities at one time as well as another. There is the occasional misfortune of a square peg in a round hole, but, in general, the man who keeps the world waiting to show how good he is, seems to keep it waiting indefinitely.

Andrews Will Speak Tuesday

History Professor of Yale. To Lecture on the Revolution

Professor Charles M. Andrews, of the department of history at Yale University, will lecture Tuesday, March 29, at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. He will present his views of the causes of the American Revolution as he has arrived at them through investigation, and in so doing, he will be the author of a great many novels, among which are "The Colonial Period of American History," "Colonial Self-Government," and "Historical Development of Modern Europe.

This is Dr. Andrews' first visit to the University. He is making a tour of the middle western states, leaving Chicago for St. Louis, Kansas City, and St. Paul.

All Expecting Higher Degrees Apply

At Once Says Dorcas

Candidates for higher degrees to be given at the June convocation should make their formal applications for these degrees immediately in order to assure recommendations to time for graduation, according to a notice given out yesterday by Herbert C. Peers, secretary of the university.

The following announcement was made:

"It is in very important for every student in the graduate college expects to receive a higher degree at the Commencement to be held June 4, 1921, to make one or be he has not already done so, a letter of the registrar's office on a blank card provided for the purpose, formal application for the particular degree expected, spelling the name exactly as it is to be printed on the diploma.

"If any possible candidate for a higher degree next June fails at this time to make his application, it is most unlikely that a student who may otherwise be qualified will be recommended in time to be graduated in June."

On the Up Grade

No stronger proof that the country is rap-

dly getting back to normal can be offered than recent Federal Reserve figures.

Residuates (frozen credits, largely) among Federal Reserve Banks amounted at October to $247,000,000. By Feb. 20th this total had been reduced to $114,000,000, only ONE-EIGHTEENTH of what the debt was last fall.

This country has never witnessed a more wonderful ability to pay debts than in the last four months. This has been largely due to the operation of the Federal Reserve System, of which this institution is a mem-
