CHOIR TO SING EASTER MUSIC

The "Crucifixion" Will Be Presented at Vesper Service Tomorrow

The program for the Easter cantata which will be presented at the University Vespers tomorrow will be entirely musical in nature. The oratorio, "Crucifixion", by John Stainer will be given by the University chorus assisted by the vesper choir. The vespers will begin at 4 p. m., the regular time for University Vespers, and anyone who wishes to come will be welcome.

The invocation, prayer, and benediction at the service will be given by Rev. Paul B. James. Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the department of music, will conduct the oratorio. Besides several choruses, chorales, recitatives, and duets, there will be the following solos: "King Ever Glorious," "Could He Not Watch with Me", and "Fling Wide the Gates". The soloists are: Alice H. Ingham A2 of Iowa City, soprano; Mrs. Mildred B. Paddock, instructor in voice, alto; Prof. William E. Hays of the department of music, tenor; and Mayor Ingalls Swisher, baritone. Verness M. Fraser G of Chicago, Ill., will be the piano accompanist. The soloists for this cantata are the same ones who sang in the cantata presented at the Christmas Vesper service and their reappearance will undoubtedly be looked forward to with pleasure, according to Professor Clapp.

This oratorio has for its theme the story of the events of the passion up to and including the crucifixion. The composer, John Stainer, was a well known British composer of sacred music during the nineteenth century. This is one of the better known oratorios and it has been presented several times, but it has never been given here, says Professor Clapp.

SHOELL SAYS GOTHIC ART REACHED CLIMAX IN RHEIMS CATHEDRAL

"The Cathedral of Rheims" was the subject of an illustrated lecture by Dr. Frank L. Schoell of the University of France at natural science auditorium last evening.

"France is the mother of cathedrals and Rheims is the finest," declared Doctor Schoell. "Gothic art was born in the valley of the Seine and reaches its truest and most beautiful example in the cathedral at Rheims. The builders and the sculptors of Rheims seem to have been surer of themselves than those of any other of the great Gothic cathedrals."

With numerous pictures, Doctor Schoell sketched the history of the famous building, the salient points of its architecture, the symbolism of its sculptural groups, and of the stained glass windows which he declared to be an "encyclopaedia of mediaeval art and life." The terrible damage wrought by the German shells during the four years the cathedral stood within the firing zone, was also pictured.

Doctor Schoell, who for the past two years has been a visiting professor representing the University of France at Chicago University, is now on a speaking tour in behalf of the Alliance Francaise, and will speak before many of the leading art institutes of the country. He served with the French army during the war and was decorated for gallantry. During his stay in Iowa City, Doctor Schoell was the guest of Prof. Stephen H. Bush.

ERROR IN IOWAN CIRCULATION

Through error some of yesterday's copies of the Mecca edition carried two section Ones instead of sections One and Two. Any persons receiving such papers can obtain a copy of section Two at 115 South Clinton or room 14 liberal arts.

LARGEST BAND IN UNIVERSITY'S HISTORY WILL LEAD MECCA PARADE THIS NOON

The largest band that the University has ever sent out on the streets or in concert, led by Drum Major Joseph Bengel, will head the Engineers' Mecca parade this afternoon. The band, composed of ninety pieces, will contain the united strength of the first and second band units. This will be the first time that these two units have ever appeared together in public.

They have both been under the instruction of Prof. O. E. Van Doren during the past six months. This is the first year that a second band has ever been organized in the University, according to Dr. VanDorn.

ENGINEERS TO PARADE TODAY

Music, Knights, and Floats to Precede Annual Inspection Day

Annual engineers parade will start up Washington street from the engineering building at 1 o'clock instead of 1:30 as was previously announced, according to Dicken Schneck S4 of Iowa City, chairman of the parade committee.

This year's parade will consist of three parts. There will be approximately thirty floats and about sixty different stunts. The first section of the parade will be headed by Lieut. Colonel Morton C. Mumma who will lead the knights of Mevvasacius. The second section will be led by Sergeant Maier, and the third part of the parade is to be kept secret. "It will consist of stunts suggested by friends of the students of Associated Students of Applied Science," said Schneck. The University band with ninety pieces, and the engineer's circus band will furnish the music for the parade.

Immediately following the parade the engineering building and shops and laboratories located in the physics building and in Close hall will be opened to the public for inspection. Special exhibitions have been prepared in all of these places and guides will be on hand to show people around and explain things.

An especially interesting exhibit has been prepared in the materials laboratory in the engineering building. This exhibit consists of a complete miniature power development project which furnishes power to run a miniature electric train and pumping station.

In the shops, the various work of the forge, the foundry, and the wood-working shop will be on exhibit. A complete one and one half horse power engine, which is the product of the shops, will also be on exhibit. The exhibit in the physics building will be of the electrical work. It will consist of wireless music, cooking on ice, Mercury Arc lamp, and many other interesting phenomena.

The chemistry exhibit in Close hall will consist chiefly of the demonstration of the manufacture of commercial chemical products, such as sugar, alcoholic compounds, and starches. An exhibit of chemical curiosities such as chemical garden, Pharaoh's serpent, and artificial lemonade, will also be displayed at Close hall.

SENIOR PROGRAMS ARE HERE

Selections Are to Be Made in a Week For Graduation Books

Senior graduation programs will be on display for ordering at the University book store starting today, and continuing for one week. The programs will be of two different kinds, one of nut brown leather with gold cord, and another of white cardboard with gold cord. The price of the leather programs will be 50 cents and the cardboard 26 cents. Cash must accompany all orders.

This is being done in order to avoid confusion at the end of the school year, and will also make it possible to distribute the programs quicker after they arrive the last week in May, according to Edward Szama, chairman of the senior committee.

BASEBALL FANS AWAIT SEASON

First Games to Be April 11—Fourteen Home Games Are Scheduled

The baseball season for the Iowa team will start with five practice games with the Moline Three-I league club on the Iowa grounds April 11-15. Following that there will be three with the Cedar Rapids team of the same league. Last year the Iowa team lost, won and tied in three games with the Moline team, but lost all of their games with Cedar Rapids, so Moline is coming with a spirit of revenge in the coming series.

On April 21, Iowa will invade Northwestern for their opening game. Baseball has just been added to Northwestern as a major sport and this game will open the Big Ten season for the two teams and give the fans a line on Northwestern's strength. The usual trip to Purdue and Illinois will be April 29 and 30. On May 4 Cornell will play at Iowa Field followed by Notre Dame two days later. This will be the only game with Notre Dame this year whereas two have been played before. May 13 Iowa plays the Michigan Aggies for the first time, instead of the Notre Dame team, and on the following day cross bats with Michigan, both games on a foreign field. Illinois plays a return game at Iowa City on May 16. Indiana will play the accustomed two game series at Iowa this year on the 20 and 21 of May, followed by Michigan on May 23. On May 28 the last home game of the Big Ten schedule will be with Northwestern and the last game at Stagg field with Chicago.

The schedule is practically the same as previously planned with the exception of Northwestern and the Michigan Aggies being added to the schedule. Several of the games come in close succession and will mean that Coach Ashmore will need more pitchers than the usual two that have been adequate with former schedules.

Following is the schedule:
April 11-15 Moline, here
April 18-19-23 Cedar Rapids, here
April 21 Northwestern, there
April 29, Purdue, there
April 30 Illinois, there
May 4 Cornell, here
May 6 Notre Dame, here
May 13 Michigan Aggies, there
May 14 Michigan, there
May 16 Illinois, here
May 20-21 Indiana, here
May 23 Michigan, here
May 28 Northwestern, here
June 3 Chicago, there.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN CONFER WITH STUDENTS

William P. Powell, manager of the Cedar Rapids agency of the Aetna Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., interviewed twelve men Wednesday in regard to positions with that company. The Commerce Employment bureau arranged the interviews.

Several representatives of business firms in Iowa and Illinois will be here next week to interview men on file with the Commerce Employment bureau.

A large number of letters have been sent out to business men through the state and large firms outside the state and the response from them is encouraging. A growing need is evident for the college graduate in business.

ANAMOSA AND DAVENPORT TO BATTLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Last Night's Games Make Davenport Champions of Division "A" and Anamosa of Division "B"—Grinnell Unable to Find Basket—Van Dosen is Star Basket Shooter

Davenport and Anamosa battled their ways to the finals of the tournament at the men's gymnasium last night by beating Grinnell and Nevada respectively. Davenport, winning from Grinnell by a score of 18 to 12, and Anamosa from Nevada by a score of 19 to 17.

These results make Davenport champion of division "A" the open class, and Anamosa champions of division "B", the class reserved for winners of sectional tournaments, and entitles each team to a permanent trophy of a loving cup. The final game, to decide tournament champions, will be held at the men's gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight.

Grinnell was unable to find the basket against Davenport although they had the greater number of shots in spite of Davenport's defense. Grinnell was slightly outclassed in every point of the game except team work where they had a slight advantage.

Schick of Davenport starred with five field baskets and six fouls out of eight for a total of sixteen out of Davenport's total of eighteen. G. Lamb starred for Grinnell at forward and Saunders played a clever back guard game.

Krauski, Davenport center, suffered an injury to his forehead which obliged him to leave the game and will necessitate several stitches. He will probably be able to play in the final game tonight.

The whistle may have saved Anamosa as a rally by Nevada late in the game brought the score from 19 to 11 upto 19 to 17 when Capt. McCord began to shoot baskets from mid-floor.

Van Dosen was Anamosa's star with five baskets from long range and is one of the leading forwards of the tournament in scoring. Boller shot seven out of eight fouls for Nevada.

Davenport and Grinnell were greeted by one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the tournament, the other game to be given the attention of the fans being the Davenport and Iowa City game yesterday afternoon.

The two teams in the finals tonight appear to be evenly matched. Krauski's absence will be felt if he is unable to play; if so his place will be taken by Goodell, an unusually small but fast man.

Lineups:

DIVISION A, ROUND 4

Davenport 15; Indianola 9.

Davenport had little trouble with Indianola and its coach was able to make his usual substitutions toward the finish. Fisher of Indianola was high scorer of the game with seven points.

Lineups: Davenport: Schick and

Harlan 9; Columbus Jet. 5.

Considerable interest was shown by university students in the Harlan victory over Columbus Junction. The Boysen brothers of Harlan played clever games. Overholt and Woodruff were the stars for Columbus Junction. Harlan has an unusually clever system of defense of the five man type which Columbus Junction was unable to pierce for effective shots, although that team has attracted a great deal of attention for the players' for long range baskets.

Lineups: Harlan: Gilmore and H. Boysen, fs; Lava, c; Woods and A. Boysen, gs. Columbus Junction: Overholt and Woodruff, fs; Hanft, c; Alsip and McWilliams, gs. Baskets: H. Boysen, 3; Overholt, 2; Lava, 1. Fouls: H. Boysen, 4 out of 5; Woodruff, 1 out of 3.

Iowa City 12; Burlington 11.

Iowa City and Burlington gave the best exhibition of basketball of the morning. Neither team had a decisive lead throughout the game. Figg and McGuire starred for Iowa City.

Grinnell 14; Muscatine 11.

Grinnell's ability to hit the basket when points were needed caused the defeat of Muscatine high at the women's gym yesterday morning. R. Lamb for Grinnell starred with five baskets to his credit, while Diercks and Gottbrecht played the best game for Muscatine.

Lineup: Grinnell: G. Lamb and R. Lamb, fs; L. Lamb, c; Saunders and Carter, gs. Muscatine: Stevens and Diercks, fs; Hoefflin, c; Gottbrecht and Pearlman, gs. Substitutes: Muscatine: O'Leary for Diercks. Baskets: Grinnell: R. Lamb, 5; G. Lamb, 3; Muscatine, Diercks, 2; Hoefflin, Stevens, Gottbrecht, 1. Fouls: Gottbrecht, 1 out of 3.

DIVISION B, ROUND 2

Teachers High 20; Springville 17.

Springville, last year's runnerups, were defeated by Teachers High in a close game in which Raff, Keathley, and Orr were the stars.

Lineups: Teachers High: Cole and Hollis, fs; Starbuck, c; Orr and Davis, gs. Springville: Raff and Miller, fs; Keathley, c; Bunre and Crew, gs. Baskets: Keathley, Orr, 4; Raff, Hollis, 2; Buner, 1. Fouls: Hollis, 8 out of 10. Buner, 2 out of 2 and Raff, 3 out of 5.

IN WAITING

Again a remark of the genial colymnist, F. P. A., becomes significant. Mr. Adams says that in the general forecast of a college man's success in the world, the safest wagers are on the Phi Beta Kappa's. A recent report seems to confirm his attitude.

Prof. Raymond Walters of Lehigh university has made a study of the alumni of seventy-five American technical schools and considered, in that connection, the careers of 392 men who have the rating of "distinguished." Of this number, nearly half stood in the first fifth of their classes and another group of 109 stood in the second fifth. Less than four per cent were in each of the two lowest fifths.

Of course, there are remarkably good students, other reports and common observation show, who fail to attain any phenomenal distinction after graduation day but, on the whole, it is the good ones who succeed. Estimates in general run about as this one of Professor Walters'. And why not? A man is a man, and can, or can not display his capabilities at one time as well as another. There is the occasional misfortune of a square plug in a round hole but, in general, the man who keeps the world waiting to show it how good he is, seems to keep it waiting indefinitely.

FAME'S LITTLE DAY

We thought we were famous. We had never been up the river; we had never read "Main Street"; we had not seen the inimitable comedian in "The Kid"; we had not, mon Dieu, been to Varsity or ever chafed our neck on a hard-boiled collar at a formal party; we had never played a ukelele; moreover we had never had a desire to play a ukelele, or to serenade a sorority house; we had never worn woolen socks—except the old-fashioned red sort—and furthermore had never toddled; and we thought we were naive; we thought we were unsophisticated; we thought we were famous.

And yesterday we picked up a Kansas City newspaper and glanced at the headlines. "Well, they acquitted her," we said.

"Acquitted whom?" said a young lady acquaintance of ours who is soon to receive a degree and who has been a teacher and a newspaper editor.

"Why, Clara Simth Hamon," we said, and she opened her eyes in genuine wonder and asked,

"Who is Clara Simth Hamon?"

And we thought we were famous.

ALL EXPECTING HIGHER DEGREES MUST APPLY AT ONCE SAYS DORCAS

Candidates for higher degrees to be given at the June convocation should make their formal application for the degrees immediately in order to assure recommendations in time for graduation, according to a notice given out yesterday by Herbert C. Dorcas, registrar. The following announcement was made:

"It is very important for every student in the graduate college expecting to receive a higher degree at the Convocation to be held June 14, 1921, in case she or he has not already done so earlier in the year, to file immediately at the registrar's office on a blank card provided for the purpose, formal application for the particular degree, expected; spelling the name exactly as it is to be printed on the diploma.

"If any possible candidate for a higher degree next June fails at this time to make this application it is not at all unlikely that a student who may otherwise fulfill requirements will fail to be recommended in time to be graduated in June."

Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems). We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something to-day!

Please enclose return postage with your communications.

On the Up Grade

No stronger proof that the country is rapidly getting back to normal can be offered than recent Federal Reserve figures.

Rediscounts (frozen credits, largely) among Federal Reserve Banks amounted last October to $247,000,000. By Feb. 25th this total had been reduced to less than $14,000,000, only ONE-EIGHTEENTH of what the debt was last fall.

This country has never witnessed a more wonderful ability to pay debts than it has the last four months. This has been largely due to the operation of the Federal Reserve System, of which this institution is a member.
