FORMER IOWA MAN SPEAKS HERE MONDAY

John C. Merriam To Speak On "The Antiquity of Man in California"

FORMER DEAN AT CALIFORNIA

Is President of Carnegie Institution—Was President of Geology Society of America—Has Studied Fossil Remains on Pacific Coast for Twenty Years

"The Antiquity of Man in California" will be the subject of the University lecture which will be given by Prof. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., at the natural science auditorium Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Professor Merriam was born in Iowa but now resides in Berkeley, California. For over twenty years he has been engaged in the study of the record of past life on the Pacific coast. This region furnishes one of the most complete collections of the higher and more recent types of animal life. Professor Merriam has studied the fossils of ancient horses, hogs, camels, and tigers, which once ranged over this region in great abundance. In connection with this study Professor Merriam has come into contact with fossil remains of man which are seldom found in the western hemisphere. Professor Merriam hopes to accompany an expedition to Far East within the next few years for the purpose of investigating the fossil remains of man and the higher animals.

Previous to his appointment as president of the Carnegie Institution, Professor Merriam was a professor of geology and dean of faculties at the University of California. He has served as president of the Geology Society of America and has acted as chairman of the National Research Council of Washington, D. C.

He is also a member of the National Academy of Science and the American Philosophical Society.

STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE TO APRIL NUMBER OF HUMOROUS MAGAZINE

Something different in Frivols will be presented in the April number, out Wednesday, April 6th, according to Raymond Peterson, circulation manager. The new number will be composed largely of contributions from the student body as a result of the recent campaign for material for this issue. Secrecy as to the winners of this contest will be preserved until the day the magazine comes out.

Part of the proceeds from the sale of this issue will be turned over to Tau Pi Kappa fraternity, which will handle the sale of the magazine. This (Continued on page 3)

CABBAGES AND KINGS HOLD CARNIVAL AT ANNUAL APRIL FOLLIES IN DECORATED MIRROR ROOM

"The time has come, the walrus said—'What's that old poem? Well, fairyland ain't all in the picture books, or I've been takin' something stronger than tea." The janitor took another look beyond the orange-hung lamp in one of the doorways of the mirror room of the women's gymnasium. We both looked.

Streamers in a thousand tints, banners, pendants, shaded, scalloped, done in designs of gold and cardinal, made a fantastic tapestry overhead. The music started.

"Look at 'em," the janitor said. We looked. A grim faced mephistopheles came tripping past, dancing happily with a crazy quilt. Over there a spangled treader was dancing with a daffodil; two sailors in white duck whirled

TEACHERS' CONFERENCE TO MEET HERE APRIL 22, 23

The college of education and the departments of English and public speaking will cooperate in a Conference of Secondary school teachers of English and Public Speaking to be held Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 23, in the liberal arts assembly hall.

The program will include talks by President Walter A. Jessup, and by Prof. James F. Hosis, president of the National Council of Teachers of English.

ASSOCIATION TO ELECT OFFICERS

Women's Association Will Elect New Officers April 12, 13

At a meeting of the women's council held Wednesday evening at the Pagoda tea shop, new officers for the women's association were nominated. The election will take place on April 12 and 13 in the liberal arts hall. Every woman in school is a member of this association through her registration in the University and has the privilege of voting for the new officers.

The women to be voted upon at the coming election are; president, Lue Prentiss A3 of Iowa City, and Margaret A. Brady A3 of Fort Dodge; vice-president, Roberta E. Anderson A2 of Madrid, and Mildred Freeburg; secretary, Madeline M. Donnelly A1 of Mason City, and Clara M. Mather A3 of Somers; treasurer, Dorothy E. Hockaday A3 of Manchester, and Dorothy E. McArthur A3 of Storm Lake; chairman of sponsor committee, Lucille L. Bennison A3 of Des Moines, and Myrtle Madsen A3 of Newell; chairman of point system, Carrie M. Hurley A2 of Madrid, and Julia H.

DRAMATIC CLASS CHANGES PROGRAM OF THEIR PLAYS

The program for the studies in one-act plays to be given by the educational dramatics class in the Little Theater Monday night has been changed since the announcement in Friday morning's Iowan, according to Margaret S. Sherman, instructor of the class.

"Joint Owners in Spain", "The Twelve Pound Look" and "The Maker of Dreams" will be given Monday night and "The Land of Heart's Desire" will be given at a later date. The cast for "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Downs, is as follows: Pierrot, Maragaret C. Elliott A2 of Eldora; Pierrette, Bernice M. Brimm A2 of Blairstown; the Maker of Dreams, Marcia McKee A3 of Denmark.

These plays will be given at 8 o'clock Monday night and admission is free to all those interested in dramatic work.

SCULPTURE HIS HOBBY

Louis Graveure Who Will Sing Here Wednesday, April 13, Had an Early Ambition for Modelling and Architecture

FAMOUS SINGER HAS STUDIED ARCHITECTURE AT OXFORD UNIVERSITY

Louis Graveure, baritone, claims Belgium, the land of Verhaeren and Maeterlinck for his own. "I was brought to England as a small boy," says Mr. Graveure, "spent my youth among English people, attended Oxford University, majoring in architecture, before going to Paris to study sculpturing, which was once my ambition and is still my hobby."

"It has been the boast of this artist," says Mrs. Philip G. Clapp, "that he is a mere man first, and a singer by accident. Fresh from a strenuous afternoon of golf, he appears more a sturdy English country gentleman than a Belgium singer troubled with the 'artistic temperament'."

Mr. Graveure is particularly famed as a concert singer but he has also won considerable distinction as an oratorio singer. He has appeared in concerts in most of the largest cities of the entire country during his tours of the past six years. Mrs. Clapp has heard him several times in New York and other places of the east. "Whenever he appears in recital in New York the hall is filled to capacity and the applause begins as soon as he appears on the stage," says Mrs. Clapp.

On Wednesday evening, April 13, Mr. Graveure will appear in concert at the natural science auditorium. Tickets for this concert will go on sale Thursday, April 7, at the book and music stores and Whetstone's.

200 TICKETS HAVE BEEN SOLD FOR THE ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM

Two hundred tickets have been sold for the Junior Prom which will be held Friday evening April 8. The prom is the last University formal of the year. The music will be furnished by Engleman's orchestra of Cedar Rapids and Tony and Evan's orchestra of Davenport.

One of the features of the evening which the novelty committee has announced is an Egyptian feature dance. There will be twenty dances on the program and the dancing will be without intermission.

The programs may be obtained at Whetstone's next Wednesday. They will be of white ivory with the University seal on the cover. Only 250 tickets have been placed on sale at Whetstone's because of the limited floor space.

The decorations will be carried out to give the effect of spring, pink and green colors will predominate. The ceiling will be covered with a canopy of pink and green. The lighting effects will be made by one huge center light and twelve festooned lights along the edges of the canopy. Lattice work intertwined with wisteria, roses, and vines will decorate the walls and from an arched entrance way.

MARY I. BASH WILL SPEAK WEDNESDAY ON CLUB WORK

Miss Mary I. Bash, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will speak on "Club Work Among Younger Girls" in the liberal arts drawing room Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She will treat club work from two standpoints—summer club work as a part of community service work, and teachers as club leaders.

Special invitations to attend the meeting are being sent to all University women who expect to teach next year.

BISHOP DRUMM SPEAKS TODAY

Missionary and Lecturer To Speak at Vespers At 4 O'Clock

The complete program for the vesper services which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium will be as follows: Hymn—"O Day of Rest and Gladness," Wordsworth.

Invocation and Scripture Reading—Very Reverend William P. Shannahan.

Anthem—"He Is My Salvation," Vesper Choir.

Address—"An Old Fashioned Sermon," Very Reverend Thomas W. Drumm, Bishop of Des Moines.

Benediction.

Bishop Drumm arrived in the city yesterday from Des Moines, and is the guest of the Very Reverend William P. Shannahan, pastor of St. Patrick's church. He will remain in Iowa City until Monday afternoon.

Bishop Drumm was pastor of St. Patrick's church in Cedar Rapids until 1919 when he was consecrated Bishop of the diocese of Des Moines. He is very well known in Iowa City, as he has spoken here at various times.

CIRCUS STUNTS WILL BE PART OF IOWA PARADE

Any features of the ordinary circus parade will be allowed at the Iowa parade to be held at the new armory May 6 at 7 o'clock, according to Fred A. Steiner L1 of Corydon, manager of the parade. Clown bands, animals alone, in cages, or in groups, cow-boys, and calliopes, and many more such as these may be a part of the parade. All campus fraternities are asked to participate. A loving cup will be awarded to the fraternity having the best stunt.

The high school teams who will take part in the inter-scholastic track meet will be entertained at Iowa and will be admitted free to all booths on the carnival grounds. There will be twenty booths in all including refreshments, action, and exhibition.

Iowawa is a festival managed by the members of the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A. and will make its second annual appearance this year. A. F. I., honorary senior men's fraternity, is responsible for the parade part of the festival.

RUINS OF FRIDAY NIGHT'S FIRE WHICH BURNED 56 ANIMALS IS POINT OF INTEREST TODAY

A set of charred ruins on Clinton street south of the Rock Island station promises to be a leading point of interest for today's strollers and drivers. All days yesterday the ashes of the sales pavillion of the Johnson County Livestock Breeders Association, burned to the ground in a fire discovered Friday night a little before twelve o'clock, were trampled by curious visitors who came to the spot in motor cars and on foot from early in the morning until dark.

The ruins contain the burned bodies of fifty-six head of pure bred Aberdeen Angus cattle, still locked to blackened remains of stalls. Two Bel-

Six Men Get "I's" in Basketball—Six Secondary Letters Are Given

SWIMMING INSIGNIA DEFERRED

Six Freshmen Wrestlers Get Numerals—Fourteen Numerals Awarded Basketball Men—Board Decides To Call Baseball Games at 4:10 on School Days

Five members of Iowa's wrestling team have been awarded the full "I" by the board in control of athletics. The men are: Captain Leland C. White L1 of Harlan, Robert L. Hunter A3 of Mapleton, Robert T. Smith M2 of Granger, Charles B. Sweeney A3 of Sutherland, and Edward Vana D2 of Mountour. The "Iw" has been given to Ben G. Howrey A2 of Waterloo.

Six men from the varsity basketball squad were granted the "I". These are: Captain Robert J. Kaufmann A4 of Davenport, Frank J. Shimek A3 of Iowa City, George H. Frohwein A3 of Iowa City, Richard B. McGovney A2 of Iowa City, Aubrey A. Devine A3 of Des Moines, and Carl J. Lohman A3 of Burlington.

"I2's" were granted the following basketball players: Henry J. Prentiss A3 of Iowa City, George W. Lee S4 of Iowa City, Henry Anderson A4 of Iowa City, Joseph W. Tiede A4 of Parkston, S. D., Lloyd H. Hurlburt A2 of Calmar, and Edward F. Voltmer A2 of Sigourney.

On recommendation of Coaches Ashmore and Jenkins and by a vote of the Board the following freshmen were granted the basketball numeral, with the usual scholarship proviso: Captain Paul M. Barton D1 of Fort Dodge, Howard W. Gordon A1 of Oskaloosa, Marshall C. Watson A1 of Irvington, Harold L. Moody A1 of Perry, Wayland Hicks S1 of Brooklyn, Edward C. Saggau A1 of Denison, Willis M. Dent A1 of Marshalltown, Frederick H. Butler A1 of Springville, William R. Johnstone A1 of Boone, Paul D. Henry A1 of Strawberry Point, Gerald F. Finley A1 of Faribault, Minn., John D. Morrison A1 of Davenport, Wesley L. Fry A1 of Hartley, and Emmett R. Scanlon A1 of Rock Valley.

The six following men constituting the freshman wrestling team were granted numerals: Paul S. Summer A1 of Rock Island, Ill.; Red J. Pfeffer A1 of Corwith, Ernest Jacobson S1 of Perry, Charles E. Boydston A1 of Knoxville, Francis A. White A2 of Rolfe, and David W. James D1 of Colfax.

The awarding of swimming insignia was deferred to a later meeting of the Board. It was decided at their last meeting this week to call baseball games at 4:10 on school days and earlier on Saturdays, this time being left to the Director of Athletics Jones and Coach Ashmore. It was also decided to charge an admission of fifty cents for all preliminary games, and seventy-five cents for the Conference games.

The total loss is estimated at $100,000. David Leeney and Sons, owner of the herd, were the heaviest losers, and say that their insurance will probably not cover more than one-third of the loss. Two men sleeping in the building were warned barely in time to make an escape and by the time the first spectators arrived the whole pavillion was flaming. Women in party dresses groups in automobiles, and sleepy-eyed persons in hastily assembled attire watched the threatening blaze until the firemen had it under control. The association expects to rebuild within a year.

HOLD YOUR HORSES

No one, at least no one on record, sees all of a three ring circus. One pays for his ticket, takes a turn through the animal tent, perhaps indulges in a cursory bit of extravagance for the profit of the animated skeleton or the gentleman with an appetite for reptiles, sits on the blue painted boards, hears the trombone and the whip, and, if he is a novice, tires his eyes and his jaws in an effort to take it all in, including the circus day confectionery and tinted lemonade.

Your old circus-goer is wiser. He budgets his resources, and centers his attention on a few good attractions. He wil bar indulgence in the tentful of human anomalies and spend the burden of his afternoon in studying the elephants. Or, he will hurry through the fetid animal tent, ward off the caravan of peanut vendors, and circumspectly watch the pantomime and antics of the clowns, and go home that night with still a bit of starch in his collar, and something to jot in his diary besides a disgusted reminence of heat and fatigue, and the smell of straw and canvas.

Put your wise old circus-goer in college. Give him a course of study, an allowance, a banner to hang in his room, a blushing young lady with whom to hold long, pattering, telephone conversations, and to take to this and that event that appears on the calendar. Bring him down to the last two months and a half of the academic year, and show him what is ahead—a profusion of theatricals, musical concerts, social affairs, and athletic events—then watch your wise old circus-goer. See him pick out this or that and discard the other, select the good thing, the possible thing, the advisable thing, and let the other go, and see him come through the season with a retrospect of pleasant occasions, profitable additions to his fund of knowledge and experience, financial integrity, and a healthy comfortable showing in his course of study.

THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

A casual survey of the campus shows that students contemplating summer work express a preference for two occupations—selling books and farming.

Book selling has proved itself good summer work. It is a type of job that can claim a degree of calm consideration. One may take a careful inventory of his personal qualifications. He can expect a good remuneration, a fair style of independence, and the valuable schooling of meeting and talking with various types of the human family. He may expect, too, hard tramping, hot sunlight, dusty roads, poor accomodations, and occasional humiliation. If he can bear up under these he will probably be a better man at the end of the season.

Those men who turn to the farm will be doing their bit to add to the grist from the country's agricultural mill. It will be a satisfaction to know that one is helping in this. It will be healthy, wholesome, and more or less profitable labor.

The thing is to do something. It is not a summer to sit mooning under a tree at some quiet lake for a span of three months. The world is hungry and in trouble. It needs food and the guiding influence of educated men. The thinking fellow will study if he can or work to the end of making further study possible, or will do his little turn at swelling the world's supply of food.

The Listening Post

A reader, we are always blaming something on "a reader," tells us that Wednesday's column was flat. The construction was stupid and so forth, he informed us, frankly. Until we learned that he had sandwiched the Post with two chapters of George Meredith we were inclined to be a bit depressed.

The correct way to take the Post is with your roll and coffee. The stiffness of its phrasing, you see, should about offset the sogginess of the bun.

While we know little about intoxicating liquors, we are quite sure that one wouldn't—if one could—mix beer with whiskey. That common sense injunction should be aplicable to one's reading.

And then too, it is all a matter of taste. One day we have one professor telling his classes how great Charley Chaplin is in his latest release, "The Kid", and the next day we hear another faculty member berating the antics of the well known screen star.

Bringing the subject closer to the campus, we doubt if a man, seeking inspiration for a senior thesis, would "date" a co-ed who is frivolous; nor would a man, in quest of light pleasure, call upon a lady who looked upon life as a highbrow.

Continuing this into one more paragraph let us remind you that you never heard grand opera at a vaudeville show. It would sound dull, you know, with the singing, dancing, and pattering acts.

The only difference between "A Line

O' Type or Two" of Anon and "The Line" of B. L. T. is that you don't turn to its first.

The Elwell case is to be reopened. You forget the Elwell case, you say. Proving that the general public doesn't retain for any great time the sordid stuff it reads in the newspapers.

"Use of Canoes To Be Shown." Turn on the spotlight!

REFUSE HAVANA TRIP

Harvard Basketball Team Will Not Meet Cuban Athletic Club

Cambridge, Mass.: At a meeting of the Athletic Committee of Harvard University Monday night, it was voted to decline the invitaton extended by the Cuban Athletic Club for the University basketball team to play a series of games at Havana during the Christmas vacation next year.

It was also voted to approve the baseball game with Northwestern college, which will be played on Soldiers Feild on April 2, and to allow the second baseball team to play Lowell Textile at Lowell on Friday, May 20, instead of on Soldiers Field as originally scheduled.

Besides this, it was decided to permit the fencing team to enter the Intercollegiate which will be held at New York on April 8 and 9; to increase the appropriation for the golf team from one hundred to three hundred dollars; not to start any training tables before the spring vacation; and to refer the matter of the Minor Sports Council to the Student Council for further consideration; and to refer the matter of awarding letters to the basketball team, and numerals to the winning class basketball team to the Student Council.

fraternity was recently formed to further campus activities and the proceeds received by the organization for the sale of Frivol is to be turned over to the Armenian Relief.

Frivol is starting another drive for student contributors who are interested in this sort of work, according to Harold Andrews, humorous editor. "Although well pleased with the results of the first campaign for contributors, we believe more students should take an active interest in writing material for the University humorous magazine," said Andrews. "There will be several vacancies in the staff of Frivol after commencement this year and students who have handed in acceptable material will stand the better chance of filling these places."

A four color cover in Spring colors has been prepared for this issue which is the next to the last number this year. One more issue is planned for the first week of May.

We will pay $5 apiece for the four best drawings or sketches depicting various things about our stores that we may use for cuts in our advertisements. For example; a man drinking at our fountain, another one shooting pool, or smoking a cigar, phoning from one of our booths or something like that. Make them simple; on paper 6x8 Don't write on the side with the drawing. Send as many as you like, you may win one or all four of the prizes. We will pay $1.00 for drawings submitted that we can use other than the prize winners.

Contest Closes First of May

That's the Secret of the Success of Lundberg Dresses

We cannot keep you informed about them all, because at the time this is written, we don't know what they'll be—they come and go so fast.

The Lundberg plan of buying which assures you that all our garments are picked one by one so that they will be the individual and distinctive, means also that they come to us a few at a time. Scarcely a train from the east but brings us new frocks. Not a day but those frocks are sold from the shop. That's why we'd like to describe some of them, but can't. They might not be here when you come to inquire. However, we can tell you that we have always afternoon dresses and dinner frocks of lace, taffeta and combinations. Dresses of Canton crepe and soft silks in all the new grays and popular colors. Price range
