American Indians have been the whole, Boulder, and Sun dancers, and despite the fact that at Pendant, and the moment has not passed, it does not seem appropriate to any of the show except drunk. It is not a road which has served for so long time and served well, and such terms as "sympathetic conservation movements" are neatly avoided to take it place.

PRINTER'S INK

Selection of an editor and business manager of The Daily Iowan for the current year will be made soon.

Naturalists will be limited to participants with experience in college newspaper work. They should be good borrowers. There is a financial renumeration, and opportunity for experience that bids fair to be good equipment for them who expect to enter to save a similar line of work. The thing is not easy to start. The newspaper business is worth considering. The college newspaper, in spite of its daily place and its deserving position, is a growing institution, locally and nationally. Now is a good time for some undergraduates to begin planning for their careers.

In the city room of the Des Moines Register about five o'clock we ran across Miss Madeleine Phillips, a Parisian beauty at home at her desk. Being at her desk (she was waiting for a call) she had time to listen to our nebulous tale. We told her of the calamity and she fell into one of our acquaintance's with David Patrick, and she answered us on it, promptly. She advanced no argument to gain her point in her favor of this argument. She asked us what we thought of some pictures and by her statement that she had no affection.
