A Life Membership will be Presented on May 23

"A Successful Calamity" by Laura Linwood, is the main feature of the senior class as the annual pageant, May 22. This play is being held Friday night and Saturday evening. The cast will include all of the senior class, except a few who are unable to attend.

"A Successful Calamity," by Claire Tone, will be featured on the junior class program for May 22, at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium. This play will be held on Friday evening and afternoon.

"A Successful Calamity" is a comical play, which tells the story of a family who are trying to find a way to save the world. The family is made up of Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson and their five children. They spend the entire play trying to come up with a plan to save the world, but they never seem to get anywhere.

"A Successful Calamity" is a fun and light-hearted play, which is sure to please all of the audience. It is directed by Mr. Jacobson, who is also the father of the main character in the play. The play is a great way to end the senior class year and is sure to be a hit with all of the students.
FALSE ECONOMY

"There is such a thing as paying too much for your education," said Mr. Lynch, president of the department of education at the University of Iowa, in an interview granted to a reporter on the student newspaper recently. "The cost of the college education by not purchasing textbooks is too much for your economy by not purchasing the book, it would naturally be he would have to spend if he bought the book."

Thelma Luola

"If a student would have a self-study library book to save the money that he would have to spend if he bought the book, it would naturally be supposed that he saved to some extent, in his abstracting of time, that he would have to spend if he bought the book."

"Your figure is a book as often thirty times as a word will often depend upon the library and will want books in obtaining and returning a book not counting the time lost in trying to get it only to find out that is in the library."

"Even if a student's time was valued at the minimum, he could advantageously buy two or more books with the amount of time that he saves in the library. Literature is proper enough in those three lost and not a thing as an afterthought to themselves, as a text. If it is used as a book as often thirty times as a word, the true economy would be buy one.

See the wonderful display of gorgeous gowns in the Style Show. A fortune in them.

A wonderful picture, unequalled in prodlgicity of beauty, richness and variety, based on Edward Knoblock's internationally famous stage play, "My Lady's Dress." A story that will interest all women, and es-specially wives and their husbands. A story that will help husbands and wives cut the high cost of living.

A story that reaches great emotional heights—sorrow, joy, tragedy.

A tale that touches every household—and and will help every household.

A drama of interest to the whole world—and especially to women.

You will have the pleasure of seeing a picture that is so different from the ordinary run of pictures. The three leading stars will appear in four different roles, each entirely different from one another.

ANNUAL CONCERT COMING APRIL 27
Women's Glee Club Near Completion of Program Preparation

The annual concert of the women's glee club will be given Wednesday, April 27, at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. Tickets for the concert are on sale at the office of the school of music and by the members of the glee club. The price of the tickets is fifty cents.

"The club is practicing every day and the program is practically ready for production except to put on the finishing touches," says Prof. William L. Haye, the music department.

Some members of the entire club, quartette, and some trios, will see a special number which will be kept a secret. This will add interest to the program because it will be an unusual feature in a concert of this kind, according to Prof. Haye.

Some week-end this spring the glee club will go to Roilet Pleasant in giving a concert. The people of Mount Pleasant who heard the concert the men's glee club gave them last winter were so much pleased that they have assured the glee club that they will give them a concert for any weekend they wish to have them, according to Prof. Haye. Probably only about twenty members of the club for this trip, but those who go will have not been chosen yet.
