IOWA TO ENTER IN 6 EVENTS AT DRAKE RELAYS

Hawkeye Runners Will Compete in Four Relays and Two Special Events

WILSON AND CRAWFORD GOOD

Chances Look Better in Special Events—Paddock, Famous Californian, Probably Not Coming. But There Are Still Runners of Reputation in the Two Dashes

By M. F. Carpenter

At Des Moines, Saturday, Iowa will have entries in both of the special events and in the four university relays. In all of these the men will meet keen competition and in none can they fairly be considered the favorites for first place. It is, however, worth much to Iowa to have so many runners competing, both for the experience that the men get and for the evidence given to the world at large that Iowa is ready to fight for whatever it may get whether the odds in its favor are large or small.

Iowa's chances look brightest in the special events. Both Wilson and Crawford are runners of ability, and both have shown clearly that they are in good early season form. The time made by these men in the relay meet was excellent considering the weather and the date. The bad conditions which have hampered their work since then have been present at all the other universities and colleges that have men entered.

Big Change for Paddock

Admitting the ability of both Wilson and Crawford, Iowa students must also remember that there is strong opposition in both the dash and the hurdles. While it is impossible for both Wilson and Crawford to place in their events and even for one or both of them to win, there is no reason for disappointment or loss of faith in the ability of these runners if they fail to show. The competition that they will meet Saturday is nearly, if not quite, as strong as that in the conference meet itself, and a man may be a mighty good runner and still fail to win a conference race.

It seems evident that Paddock, the Southern California sprinter, will not compete at Drake Saturday. In this he is wise. By coming to Drake, he would change from mid-summer to raw spring weather. He would stand a chance of pulling a tendon and almost no chance of running his best. He might well be beaten by poorer runners and thereby cast an unfair doubt on his past achievements.

Good Hurdlers Enter

Without Paddock, there are several runners of reputation in Saturday's 100 yard dash. Hayes of Notre Dame, who was ineligible for intercollegiate competition last spring, won the 100 and the 220 in the Conference in 1919. Paulu of Grinnell won both dashes in the state meet last year and the 300 yard dash at the Illinois indoor games. Knollin of Wisconsin placed third in the indoor Conference dash this winter, though his best race is the high hurdles. Hamilton of Missouri won the all-round championship at Illinois this winter and is a sprinter of ability, though probably not in the class of Hayes and Paulu. Deering of Nebraska ran well in the dual meets last year, but the absence of Nebraska from the Missouri meet prevented his getting a fair chance to show his ability. Cleworth of Yankton was very highly talked of last spring but did not compete in any of the larger meets. None of the other entries have at present any more than a local reputation.

In the high hurdles, the entry list, as given in yesterday's Des Moines paper, is much smaller than in the 100. It contains, however, fully as many men of known ability as does

DATE POSTPONED Plays to Have Been Given Tonight to be Presented Later

Scenery, costumes, and equipment did not arrive for the three one-act plays which were to have been presented tonight in the natural science auditorium so that the plays have been postponed indefinitely, according to Robert L. Block A3 of Davenport, president of the University Players.

Several members of the casts are also in the cast for "The Passing of the Third Floor Back", which is to be presented by the University Players at the Englert theater Tuesday, April 26, and were not able to practice for the three one-act plays.

PLANS FORMED FOR IOWIGGLE

Evans' Orchestra of Davenport is Secured to Play for Iowa Dance

Evans' orchestra of Davenport, former musicians of the S. S. "Capital", has been secured to play at Iowiggle, the dance to be held at the men's gymnasium May 6 in connection with Iowa, according to Agnella Gunn, A3 of Sioux City, chairman of the dance committee.

It is the plan of the committee to have the orchestra costumed because of the spirit of the dance. Several novelty stunts have been promised by the players and if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the saxophone sextette of the engineers' show, will play several selections during the evening.

The price of admission to the dance floor has been fixed at $1.50 per couple. Spectators will be admitted to the gallery to watch the presentation of the parade prizes, for 25 cents. Arrangements have been made to have cornmeal sprinkled on the floor of the gymnasium, which will be swept between dances in order that it will not become slippery.

An appeal is being made to all owners of 1 blankets to allow them to be used for decorating the gymnasium. All blankets will be marked with the owners name and their return guaranteed, according to Douglas F. Boynton A3 of Cedar Rapids, chairman of Iowaw. A

PHILO-OCTAVE STUNT IS GIVEN FIRST PLACE IN ALL FOOLS' JUBILEE

"Limericks On Various Types of People at Iowa", the Philo-Octave stunt, won the $25 prize in the annual All Fools' Jubilee held in the natural science auditorium last evening for the benefit of the Iowa Memorial Union. The second prize of $15 was awarded to the Hep-Zet stunt "Professor Bush's Trip Through the Orient", and Irving-Ero won the third prize of $10 with "A Takeoff on the 1922 Hawkeye."

Philo-Octave received 160 votes from the audience, Hep-Zet 130, and Irving-Ero 96. R. H. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Miss Mary Bash, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., acted as judges of the vote.

The attendance was quite large considering the weather, and about $100 will be realized by the Union as the result of the performance.

The following stunts were given by the following organization: "Limericks on Various Types of People at Iowa" Philo-Octave; "The Tragedy of Cicero" by Hamlin Garland, "Professor Bush's Trip Through the Orient" by Hep-Zet, Stunt by Whitby literary society, "Defects in Our English Language" by the Classical club, "An Old Fashioned Garden" by Athena, and "Takeoff on the 1922 Hawkeye" by Irving-Ero.

CONFERENCE OF Y. W. C. A. COMING

Cabinet Training Conference Will Be Held Here This Week

The program for the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Training Conference for Coe College, Grinnell and the University to be held here tomorrow and Saturday, has been completed.

Friday evening there will be a mixer in the liberal arts drawing room in order that the cabinets of the different organizations may become acquainted.

The session Saturday morning will begin at 8 o'clock. Margaret Dolliver L1 of Fort Dodge will preside at this meeting. Following is the morning program:

Morning meditation, Dorothy J. Banks, University of Iowa; Opening address, Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the department of education: The Dean's Point of View, Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women, group technical discussions under the following groups and leaders; presidents, Miss Winifred Wygal of the field office; vice presidents, Miss Frances Perry of the field office; secretaries, Miss Mary I. Bash of the University of Iowa; undergraduate field representatives, Miss Filament Alway of the University of Minnesota; Membership, Dorothy J. Banks, University of Iowa; Religious work, Hazel Brazelton, Coe; Finance and treasurers, Catherine Hamilton, University of Iowa; Publicity, Lue Prentiss, University of Iowa; World Fellowship, Mabelle Eddy, Cornell; Social, Lillian M. Neff, University of Iowa; and Social Service, Thelma Spicer of Coe. Forum, Committee technique, Miss Wygal.

At 11:45 a luncheon will be served at the Pagoda tea shop for all members of the cabinet who are interested in the Geneva Conferences.

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30. Mary L. McCord A3 of Des Moines, president of the University Y. W. C. A. will preside at this meeting, which will consist of the following numbers: Afternoon meditation, Harriet Wadsworth of Grinnell; solo, Alice Eddy, Cornell; The Association Purpose, Miss Perry; The National Y. W. C. A., Ruth Martin of Coe and Jean M. Spiers, University of Iowa; The Student Movement, Miss Alway; The 1922 Convention, Miss Wygal; Closing Intercession, Mary McCord, University of Iowa.

The following new members have been appointed to the full cabinet of the Y. W. C. A.; Religious committees, Meetings, Helen Langworthy A3 of Messina; discussion groups, Marlon V. Chase A1 of Clinton; religious education, Lois L. Drennen A3 of Osceola, and social service employment committee, Pearl Sandvig A2 of Iowa City.

FEATURES OF FIRST WOMEN'S SWIMMING MEET ARE ANNOUNCED

The inter-collegiate and inter-high school swimming meet will take place tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. There will be no tickets, but the admission will be 50 cents. Coach David A. Armbruster, Herbert Pillars of Iowa City, and Iliff Shepherd S3 of Mount Pleasant, president of Seals club, will be the officials and judges of the meet.

Events of the meet will be: side yards, a 20 yard dash and a distance swim of 100 yards, a plunge for distance, swimming under water 20 yards, plain and fancy diving. The high school events will be the same except that in place of the 100 yard dash there will be a relay race. The high school and college events will alternate.

The two silver cups and the silver and bronze medals to be awarded will be on display in Hands jewelry store on East Washington street.

MOON ECLIPSE TONIGHT

Mathematics Instructor Says Eclipse May Be Seen From Here

The eclipse of the moon which occurs tonight will be entirely visible from Iowa City, according to R. E. Gleason, instructor in mathematics at the University.

The following are the computations of the eclipse which were made by Professor Gleason: 10:57 p. m., moon will enter the outer shadow of the earth known as the penumbra; 12:03 a. m., moon will enter the inner shadow of the earth known as umbra; 1:23 a. m. total eclipse begins; 1:44 a. m., middle of eclipse; 2:05 a. m., total eclipse ends; 3:21 a. m. moon leaves inner shadow of earth; and at 4:32 the eclipse ends.

HOOVER TO MEET WITH BIOLOGISTS

Prof. Stromsten to Represent University at Fairport Fishery Conference

A conference for the conservation of the resources of the interior waters will be held at the fisheries biological station at Fairport, June 8 to 10 under the supervision of the Hon. Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.

The committee arranging the program for the conference is made up of the following men: A. E. Coker, in charge of scientific investigation, bureau of fisheries; V. E. Shelford, professor of zoology and biologist in charge of the research laboratories at the University of Illinois; A. S. Pierce professor of zoology, University of Wisconsin; Frank A. Stromsten, associate professor of zoology and representing the Lakeside laboratory of the University of Iowa; J. E. Krouse of Davenport, representing the pearl button industry; R. L. Barney, director of the fisheries biological station at Fairport.

The discussions at the conference will concentrate attention upon the depletion of fish and shellfish, its causes and possible remedies; the preservation, value, and appropriate utilization of swamp and shore areas; and the organization of effort to secure an early beginning upon a constructive program of betterment. The discussions will be informal and free, and considered from the standpoint of the sportsman, the commercial fisherman, the dealer or manufacturer, the biologist, the fish culturist, and the sanitary engineer. Several men from the University have been asked to take part in these discussions.

Throughout the conference meals will be served at a small charge in the dining room of the biological station. Lodging without charge will be available in the laboratory, or in tents and other temporary quarters.

All persons expecting to attend may make reservations with R. L. Barney of Fairport, or with J. E. Krouse, Davenport, chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO CONTRIBUTE TO PUBLICATIONS

College students all over the United States are invited to submit short stories or poems for "The Best College Short Stories" or "The Poets of the Future," two annual collections of college writing which are printed by the Stratford Company, of Boston.

Prof. Edwin F. Piper of the department of English has just received word from Mr. H. T. Schnittkind who is in charge of the publications that all manuscripts must be submitted before May 15. Manuscripts are to be sent to Dr. H. T. Schnittkind, care of the Stratford Company, 12 Pearl Street, Boston, Mass.

This is the fifth year the volume of poetry has appeared and the second year for the book of short stories.

IOWA TEAM TO START BIG TEN GAMES TODAY

Opening Game to be Played on Northwestern Diamond at Evanston

TO ARRIVE THIS MORNING

Northwestern's Records Indicate Long End of Score for Iowa — Hurler to be Chosen by Ashmore Just Before Game — Voltmer is Probable Choice for Position

Twelve players accompanied by Coach James N. Ashmore, compose the aggregation that will oppose the Purple at Evanston this afternoon in the opening of the Big Ten race for Iowa. The list includes: Locke, Cray, Hurlburt, Shimek, Irish, Frohwein, Draper, Anderson, Wilhelm, Michaelson Becker and Voltmer.

The squad left last night over the Rock Island and is scheduled to arrive in Chicago this morning. The team will leave Evanston tonight for Cedar Rapids, arriving tomorrow morning.

Coach Ashmore will wait until just before the game to select a hurler, but indications favor Voltmer as the choice. This depends on his showing in the preliminary practice. The lineup when the game starts will probably find Locke, catcher; Voltmer, pitcher; Cray, first; Shimek, second; Irish, short; Frohwein, third; and Draper, Anderson and Wilhelm in the outfield.

Northwestern made rather a poor showing in its one game with Illinois, being shut out without a hit or a run, but as this is its first year of baseball for many years too much should not be expected from its team this season. This should indicate that Iowa will bring home the long end of the score for its first start in the Conference race.

MEMORIAL PROJECT STARTED IN 1919 AT COMMENCEMENT

Commencement time of 1919 marked the first active step toward acquiring an enduring memorial for the University of Iowa's soldiers. The University of Iowa association at that time elected a board of trustees from among its members, and from this first step has branched the superstructure of activities which will lead to the Iowa Memorial Union.

The members of this board which is the foundation of the campaign are: Rush C. Butler, chairman, of Chicago; W. H. Bremner of Minneapolis; W. O. Finkbine, Des Moines; John M. Grimm of Cedar Rapids; Carl F. Kuehne of Denison; Joe R. Lane of Davenport; D. D. Mprphy of Elkader; James B. Weaver of Des Moines; Mrs. J. L. Sheurman of Des Moines; Charles M. Dutcher of Iowa City; Forest C. Ensign, of Iowa City, secretary. This group has appointed as the administrative officer of the campaign, R. G. Grassfield as director and Prof. Charles H. Weller as counselor.

CHEMISTRY INSTRUCTORS TO SPEAK AT MEETING TONIGHT

The Chemistry club will have an open meeting in the lecture room of the chemistry building at 7:30 this evening. Four faculty members will give talks telling of the advantages of their own branches of chemistry. All students interested in chemistry are invited by the club to attend this meeting.

The men who will speak are: Prof. Hubert L. Olin, Prof. Elbert W. Rockwood and Prof. Perry A. Bond, all of the department of chemistry.

THREE CENTS

A trifle more than the war tax on malted milks and about the same as the tax on a "movie" ticket is the amount which each student would have to save each day for four years in order to make the Memorial Union a success.

Perhaps the most convenient arrangement for taking out a life membership is to pay the $50 in yearly instalments of $12.50, the first payment to be made within a year after the pledge is assumed.

Students at some universities are required to pay as much as $300 or $400 a year in tuition. At Iowa most of us pay only $40 and with the money we save by going to Iowa for only a year we could more than afford to buy three or four life memberships.

Ralph G. Grassfield, director of the Union, said that the students do not realize their own great power to make the Union an immediate success.

Mr. Grasfield has stated that life memberships taken out by the entire student body would assure that work would be started on the Union within a year, provided that business conditions were such as to warrant the letting of a contract.

"MILESTONES"

By Critic

"Milestones", presented at the Englert theater Tuesday night by the Iowa City center of the Drama League of America as its second annual community play, was an artistic triumph.

The acting was especially good. Members of the faculty, students, and townspeople combined to produce as good a non-professional attraction as has ever been seen here.

The play, by Arnold Bennett and Edward Knobloch, tells the story of three generations of two or three English families and shows how each generation as it gets to the marrying age tends to break with its elders.

more like Middle Westerners than in the cultured accents of the English peerage and that some of the comedy bits bordered a little on buffoonery.

Mr. Sueppel showed perhaps more real talent than anyone else and was especially good in the first and last acts. Miss Latchem and Mrs. Bristol both did exceptionally good work.

Professor Lauer, Mr. Holcombe, and Mrs. Marrow won a lot of laughs. Miss Blattner, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Mr. Smith, and Miss Churchill did well in important parts.

MANY RARE VOLUMES RECEIVED WITH THE 12,000 CATALOGUED

Over 12,000 books were catalogued by the cataloguing department of the University library from April 1, 1920, to April 1, 1921, many of which were published several hundred years ago.

The last several months the library has been fortunate to obtain a large number of rare and valuable books from England, France and Germany, and other European countries.

Among the most valuable and most rare of these old books are "Trials—His Majesties Messages to the Commons in Parliament", published in 1690, and four volumes of Alexander Pope's works published in 1741.

The past week the library received a box of books containing seventy-five volumes from Germany. These books deal with Greek and Roman classics and many of them were published in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

The new books shelf this week is filled with many of the old books as well as a great variety of new ones. The following are a few to be found there this week: "Toward Democracy" by Edward Carpenter; "A Dictionary of Ecclesiastical Terms" by John S. Dunlop.

MEDALS OFFERED FOR BOXING CHAMPIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY

The gold and silver medals to be awarded to the winners and runners-up in the recent University boxing tournament have been delayed in arriving from the factory, but will be given out in the near future, according to E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men. The final bouts were staged at the mixer of the medical clinic held at the armory last week and the champions of the were chosen by the judges of the battles.

In the 115 pound-class, H. H. Murray D2 of Buffalo Center shaded Walter J. Dehner A2 of Iowa City. Paul J. Murphy won the 125-pound honors over Cecil A. Plato L1 of Anthon. In the lightweight class Henry J. Prentiss A3 of Iowa City won from Clarence Jentoft D1 of Duluth, Minn. The welterweight title was earned by Leon M. Penquite A2 of Colfax, who got a decision over Herbert O. Pillars G of Iowa City. In the 175-pound class, Robert G. Harding S2 of New London won from H. Moldenhauer. The heavyweight honors went to Leroy E. Kinney S1 of Yankton, S. D., in an interesting bout with C. H. Anderson A1 of West Branch. The match in the 160-pound class between Laurence Kilbourne D2 of Iowa City and William E. Walsh A2 of Hawkeye was not decided, owing to Kilbourne's illness. This bout will be held when both men are in good shape.

the dash. Wright of Nebraska won the high hurdles at the Conference last year, while Wynn of Notre Dame won the seventy-five yard high hurdles at Illinois this winter. Anderson of Minnesota placed second in this event there. He was, however, sick at the time of the indoor Conference and was reported as unfit for further competition. If he is again in shape, he must be included among the possibilities. Gallagher of Kansas is a strong low hurdler. He won that race in the last two Conference meets and the seventy-five yard low hurdles at Illinois this winter. The high hurdles is not his best race, though he took second to Wright in the Missouri Valley meet last spring. None of the other men whose names were published in yesterday's Des Moines paper has any wide reputation as a college hurdler. The name of Knollin of Wisconsin was not included in the list, though he was entered in the 100. It is hard to believe that the omission from the list of those in the high hurdles is an oversight, as he is one of the best performers in the West in both hurdle races.

Illinois Superior in Mile

The hardest of the relays to guess is the half-mile. This race, one of the prettiest there is, does not appear on many programs outside of the Missouri Valley Conference and the state of Iowa. None of the teams, therefore, has had any chance to show in competition what they have. Notre Dame and Illinois looks the best on paper, but this is probably due to the wider advertisement their sprinters have received. Almost any team that is entered might win without arousing any great surprise.

In the mile relay, Illinois looks distinctly better than any other team. If Michigan were competing, there would be every prospect of a splendid race. Illinois having won at the indoor Conference and Michigan at the Illinois games. Notre Dame has the men to have a strong team. Wisconsin took fourth at the indoor Conference with a team that developed rather more slowly than the others. Minnesota had a good team last year and has at least one strong runner left. Ames and Nebraska ran well in the last Missouri Valley Conference and stands a chance. There seems to be some doubt about Chicago, which was not included in the entries published in the Des Moines papers yesterday morning but which was described as picking a team in one Chicago paper. It took third at the indoor Conference without the services of Bartky, a star half-miler. If its team is to compete Saturday, it stands as good a chance as any of beating Illinois, which is a slim one at best. In this race it is Illinois against the field.

Fight in Four Mile

In the two-mile relay, the race is between Illinois and Ames. Ames with much the same team that it has now, won the race last year in wonderful time. Illinois finished ahead of Ames last year at the Pennsylvania relay games. This winter Ames won at the relay games at Kansas City but lost to Illinois at the Illinois meet. Ames is reported to be stronger than it was indoors.

In the four-mile relay, the race should be between Ames and Illinois with Purdue, Kansas State, and Wisconsin standing outside chances. Illinois won at the Illinois games fairly easily. Ames has a strong, well-balanced team, and so has Wisconsin, which started its work rather later in the season. Purdue and Kansas State in Furnes and Watson have each an individual star of remarkable ability on whom they probably count to pull their teams to the front at the end. If things break right, the last leg of this race should give the most exciting competition of the meet.

OHIO SCIENTISTS TO STOP AT LAKESIDE LABORATORY

Sixteen scientists from Ohio, who will travel by auto to the Pacific coast this summer have made arrangements to spend a week at the Iowa Lakeside laboratory where they will study bird life of that region, according to information received from the botany department. They have been attracted by the students carried out on the laboratory which have shown it to be one of the most interesting places of this kind in the northern states.
