PROSPECTS FOR WHITE COLLAR JOBS APPEAR BLEAK FOR STUDENTS

University of Iowa students who work during the summer vacation to pay their way at school, either for salaries or for what it can develop of them, are finding that it is a harder and harder task to get jobs this summer than in any other year.

Many of these students have to do odd jobs, working as janitors or in the laundry departments, or as assistants in offices, or in local stores.

These students are finding that this development means more surely in the schools.

While the old slogan and the new are beginning to be heard, the old is in a way being replaced by the new.

Alumnus, Now in the East, Says Old Fight Idea Would Put Punch in Memorial Survey

R. C. Kable, Interne in Baltimore, writes that he finds Alumt of Eastern University Free Press with Edverständ

"Iowa Fights" is the slogan that should put the Iowa Memorial Union 100 per cent ahead of the students. It has been in use for many years and it is a sure winner.

The slogan, "Iowa Fights," certainly ran through the minds of the Iowa students as they were discussing the thick of the fray of the world war. It was a wonderful slogan and why should it be used by those who wish to give the Alumni a boost in the campaign?

It was used by that unique spirit of Iowa, the student body.
