REPLY MADE TO 'WHY I DON'TS'

Memorial Union Survey Gets String of Excuses From Financially Able

Union Director Ralph G. Grassfield unburdened himself yesterday of a few replies to the string of stock excuses for refusal to pledge to the Memorial Union, that are coming to the office of the organization daily. Everything from lack of funds to indictment of the Union organization is mentioned by those who do not come in. Here are some of the excuses, and Mr. Grassfield's remarks on them:

The student who is "On his own," working his way through the University, and who pledges a life membership in the Union, because he believes in the Union and its purpose, is strongly contrasted with the one who is financially able to make a pledge of $50 but who offers a long string of excuses, principally the one: "Can't afford it." This fact is brought out in an analysis of the "Alibis" appearing on the report cards as they are turned in to the Union office.

Union Center of Interest

"I don't see that the Union is a practical thing." This is another interesting point that has been brought out by the survey. "In the first place," said Director Grassfield, "The student, or faculty member who makes that statement, either does not read THE DAILY IOWAN or the publicity on the campus, or he is not open to reason. The Union is a practical expression of modern effort to broaden the experience of the student on the campus, through the creating of a club home that will be a pure democracy. If the student does not catch this spirit of service and cooperative effort toward broadening the lives of others, while he is in college, he is going to make a bad start when he gets out into the world."

"I'll have no use for the Union, for when I come back, I'll go to my 'frat,'" reads one report. It is not difficult to answer that, but it is not easy to be courteous in replying to such a statement. The life of the University does not center in one fraternity, or sorority, neither does it center in the fraternity life as a whole, but it will center in the Iowa Memorial Union, and when that student, who will then be an alumnus, comes back for a game or any other event, he will find the center of interest not his fraternity, but the Union.

Not to be Subsidized

"I never pledge anything that I can not pay at once." This is the reply of one who has had very little experience, and certainly has never studied economics. Fat chance Uncle Sam would have had with Germany if he had operated on such a financial principle. Mighty little business would be transacted in America under such a plan.

"No assurance that I will be able to meet this obligation when I get out of school," says one who evidently has little respect for his earning power, for the life membership is $50 to be paid in four years, or $12.50 a year.

"The Union will be the home for the extension division, not for the students," is the excuse one offers. Such use of the building would be impossible for it is not being built by the state, nor supported by the state. Therefore, it will not be subsidized by the state in any way. The Union will be owned and managed by the students, alumni and friends of the University.

Free from Prejudice

"I don't believe the Iowa Memorial Union is well enough organized to make a pledge." To make such a statement simply shows a lack of knowledge of the Union organization. The organization is complete, stable and

NEW PLANS FOR SELECTING STUDENT MEMBERS OF SOCIAL COMMITTEE WOULD BAR GENERAL ELECTION

Interest in Election Held Last Fall Was So Mild that Chairman of Committee Believes Appointment Would Be Better for All

The student members of the social committee may be appointed by the president of the University next year in the same way faculty members are now appointed, if a new plan now being considered by Dean Wilbur J. Teeters, chairman of the committee, is adopted by the senate board of the University.

The proposed change is an attempt to prevent a repetition of the confused conditions arising from the election last fall. The rule adopted two years ago, and now in force, provides that three juniors and three seniors shall be elected to the board by a vote open to all University students. Six were elected at the general election last fall, but that vote was declared unconstitutional by the committee and another was held on November 26. One college cast no votes and two others voted only for candidates from their own college. Only seventy-five ballots were turned in from the college of liberal arts in this election.

Since the vote was so light, and since there were only seven candidates in the field for the six positions, Dean Teeters feels that more just representation of the students could be secured next year by appointment by the president. He said,

"I believe in the principle of election by the students, but since they do not seem to be interested in the election, it seems to me that the student representatives should be appointed. The president could work out some plan to give each college fair representation, and I believe that a more unified spirit in the committee would result. Affairs last fall were certainly confused and the new plan is simply an attempt to avoid such confusion in the future."

Student representatives were admitted to the committee two years ago. The original plan was worked out by Keith Hammil of the college of law.

The present student members of the social committee are: juniors; Fred E. Egan L2 of Missouri Valley, Edwin A. Nixon S3 of Burlington, and Joseph M. Dean S3 of Sioux City, seniors; William G. Teegan D4 of Davenport, Robert Dethlefs S4 of Iowa City, and Clarence E. Hamilton L3 of Winterset.

BETA GAMMA SIGMA GIVES MEMBERSHIP HONORS TO TWENTY

Nine seniors, nine juniors, and two professors were initiated into Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity, at 5:30 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms last evening. A banquet was held following the initiation at the Pagoda tea shop. The professors initiated will be associate members.

The initiates are: seniors; Richard W. Nelson of Grundy Center, Lawrence J. Hertlein of Waverly, Edward B. Pfeffer of Corwith, Leland B. Irish of Whiting, Mart H. Saunderson of Keosauqua, Earling Larson of Kanawha, Joseph M. Friedlander of Clinton, Laurence N. Howles of Clinton, and Charles F. Glasgow of Shenandoah.

The juniors are: George Nagle of Red Oak, Elmer F. Lenthe of Waterloo, Andrew W. Hanson of Titonka, Leon F. Jensen of Clinton, Frank B. Howes of Clinton, Hubert L. Barnes of Rolfe, Raymond P. Marple of Pomeroy, Martin V. Van Oosterhout of Orange City and Phillip N. Peterson of Linn Grove.

The associates are: Prof. Clyde O. Ruggles, head of the school of commerce, and Prof. Chester A. Phillips, of the school of commerce.

The Iowa chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, was installed at the University in May, 1920, and six charter members are here this year. They are: Harold S. Case A4 of Abingdon, Ill.; Robert G. Paramore A4 of Griffith, Belvel

PHARMACY BOARD TO MEET

Examinations Will Be Given to Thirty-one Seniors in June

The State Board of Pharmacy Examiners will meet here June 8 and 9 to give the state board examinations for registered pharmacists. Thirty-one seniors and a few juniors in the college of pharmacy are eligible, and a few are expected to come here from other places for the examination.

The last examination was given in Des Moines in April. Four examinations a year are given, three in Des Moines and one here. The present members of the board who will be here are: W. W. Haire of Fort Dodge, Charles Falkenhainer of Dubuque, H. H. Eaton of Des Moines, and Floyd E. Farr of Humeston. It is expected that forty or fifty will take the examination.

STAFF AND CIRCLE ELECTIONS WILL BE ANNOUNCED MAY 19

Two hundred and thirty-five invitations were sent out by Dean Nellie S. Aurner, assisted by Staff and Circle, to a breakfast for the junior women of the University to be given at the Commercial Club rooms this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The purpose of this breakfast is to select the twelve representative senior women as candidates for Staff and Circle and this is done by each woman selecting twelve whom she thinks most representative. The twenty highest from these lists will be voted on Tuesday, May 17, in the liberal arts building from 9 until 4 o'clock.

Dean Aurner will speak at the breakfast on the purpose of Staff and Circle, and Dorothy Banks A4 of Burlington, president of Staff and Circle for this year, will give a short talk.

Announcement of the elections to Staff and Circle women met in front of Old Capitol and marched to the President's Point on North Clinton street, where the announcement was made. Staff and Circle was originated by Dean Anna Klingenhagen in 1912 as a group to assist the dean of women. Election to Staff and Circle has been recognized as one of the highest honors than can come to a senior woman because they are chosen not only on a basis of being the most representative but on leadership, scholarship, and womanliness. The scholarship requirements are that the candidate must have had a C average for her former three years of academic work.

The 1921 Staff and Circle women will be hostesses at this breakfast. They are Dorothy J. Banks of Burlington, Helen L. Peterson of Keokuk, Leona Barngrover of Adel, Claribel Wright of Houghton, Michigan, Marian E. Brierly of Independence, Marian C. Smith of Winterset, Alvaratta West of Iowa City, Margaret Doliver L1 of Fort Dodge, Margaret L. Mulroney of Fort Dodge, Helen T. Von Lackum of Dysart, Marian Dyer of Des Moines, Esther A. Macintosh of Iowa City.

TRACK ODDS FAVOR IOWA TODAY

Chicago Will Likely Break Even on Track and Possibly in the Weights, But Jumps and Pole Vault, Sans Miracle, Will Go to Hawkeyes

By M. F. Carpenter

In the meet at Chicago this afternoon, the odds are all in favor of Iowa. Chicago can win only if several of the Iowa men fail to come to form and if two or three of the Chicago men surpass all their previous work. Such things do happen in athletics, but they happen perhaps less frequently in track athletics than in any other sport. While it would not be right to say that Chicago has no chance to win, the work of the two teams last Saturday shows that it is at best a bare fighting chance.

ANDREWS AND NORRIS ARE NAMED BY FRIVOL BOARD TO HEAD STAFF

Frivol board of directors, in a meeting held last evening, elected Harold Andrews A3 of Des Moines and Tom Norris A3 of Manchester as editor-in-chief and business manager respectively, of next year's humorous publication. These men will assume their duties at the start of the next college year. They succeed Warren L. Bassett A4 of Des Moines and Charles B. Gould A3 of Des Moines in these positions.

They are the first editor and business manager to be regularly selected by a Frivol board of directors.

The Frivol directors were in session about an hour, in which time they elected their own officers—Prof. Charles H. Weller, chairman, and Lue Prentiss A3 of Iowa City, secretary. The petitions submitted by the applicants for the editorship and managing position were read and the board proceeded to the election.

The directors will meet next to approve the appointments by the new heads to the positions of circulation manager and humorous editor. These places on the Frivol staff are being held at present by Andrews and Raymond Peterson A2 of Council Bluffs.

CANOE RACE POSTPONED

Course Now is One Lap From Park to Avenue Bridge and Return

The annual canoe race which was planned for May 21, has been postponed until June 4, according to Cliff Shepherd, president of the Eeels club. The course has been shortened to one lap from Iowa avenue bridge to the park bridge and return.

The race will start at 2 o'clock, June 4, from the Iowa avenue bridge. Prizes in the form of medals will be given to men winning first, second, or third places. The race is open to any student in the University. Entries may be submitted to David A. Armbruster, before June 1.

Congregational Young People's Club Gives 'Miss Doulton Orchids'

Six students in the University, members of the Congregational Young People's club, presented the play, "Miss Doulton's Orchids", at the Welsh Congregational church last evening. The players were: Martin Mills A1 of Muscatine, Vernon G. Sorrell A2 of Glen Elder, Kans., Joseph Howe S1 of Cresco, Elsie Knapp A3 of Clear Lake, Marcia McKee A3 of Denmark, and Jocelyn Wallace A1 of Iowa Falls.

TO HOLD SPRING PICNIC

Lutheran Club Will Celebrate Annual Affair This Afternoon

The Lutheran club will hold its first annual spring picnic this afternoon at the city park immediately following a short business meeting which will be held at Close hall at 4:00 o'clock. The members are invited to bring other Lutheran students as guests. "We have provided for plenty of fun and eats," said Jasper M. Johnson A3 of Belmond, chairman of the committee.

Chicago will probably be somewhat stronger than it was against Wisconsin. In that meet Harris, the captain of the team and the strongest man in the 100, 220, and quarter on the Maroon squad, and Fouché, a weight man, were unable to compete. The present reports are that these two men will be in the meet today. Their presence materially strengthens their team but does not make it look like a winner.

Strong on Seconds and Thirds

Bartky, a veteran half-miler, and Bates, a comparatively inexperienced sprinter, injured themselves in the Wisconsin meet, and probably will not run this afternoon. Chicago will miss Bartky in the half-mile; he has made better time than any others in today's race. Bates' absence is not important. At best he could take but a couple of thirds. There is, however, no reason to believe that the presence of both men would make any essential difference in the final result.

While Chicago looks second best this afternoon, it has a better team than Northwestern and should make a showing, especially in the first places. It is quite possible that Chicago may take as many of these as Iowa does. But Iowa should be able to pile up enough seconds and thirds to snow the Maroons under even if the latter are so fortunate as to break even on the firsts.

Quarter to Chicago

Wilson should have his own way in the hundred and two-twenty. Harris, Hall, and Brickman may be able to take the second and thirds in these races, but that is the best that they can expect. On the whole, they can consider themselves lucky if they do as well as this. Iowa has at least an even chance for one other place besides the first in both dashes.

In the quarter, Chicago looks better. Harris is an experienced runner and stands a lot of grief. Brickman ran well at Drake and is regarded as a comer. The chances are that two of the three places in this event will go to the Maroons, perhaps the first two. Grelick has, however, speed enough to keep close to the leaders and may crowd past them. But the quarter looks like a Chicago race.

Maroons Strong in Distance

If Bartky were running, the half would look like the quarter. As it is, Noll can be counted on to win, barring a surprise. The second and third places are a toss-up. Unless Mr. Stagg has worked up someone in the past week, Chicago has no half-milers to speak of. The chances are that one or more of the milers will be sent back in this race to take a second or third. No one has any grounds on which to base a guess as to their ability to turn the trick.

The mile and the two-mile are toss-ups. On paper Krogh and Dooley look about as good as McIntire and Peterman. Iowa may win one or both races and so may Chicago. Chicago has perhaps a better balanced squad of distance men than Iowa and ought to get more points out of the second and third places than Iowa.

Iowa Superior in Jumps

Until the Wisconsin meet last week, the hurdles looked like a walk-over for Iowa. Hall, however, ran better against Wisconsin than Crawford and Belding did against Northwestern. Hall has, however, been an inconsistent performer and is hardly likely to

FISTS AND FEMINITY

Again the good old days are eclipsed. The cover page illustrators of the later nineties could not use the same dainty tints on "The Athletic Girl" of to-day.

Contrast with her the bat-swinging woman of to-day. Here are some headlines on news reports of Iowa's woman athletes

Women at Iowa are playing football (soccer), baseball, basketball, hockey, and volley ball, and are holding track meets, swimming meets and hikes and occasionally, for light entertainment, swing the clubs, or bat a handball, or take a turn on the gymnasium apparatus.

The world at large seems to be a bit heckled by an epidemic of flapperism, and serious minded persons of all ages and occupations have been proposing remedies.

Our woman athlete is never so dainty a cover design as the tennis girl of the nineties, but she can be dainty, and she is ultimately sensible, and to all appearances wholesomely feminine.

upon a firm basis. The Union has all the requisites of a modern organization of its type, including a definite program of development, operation and progress.

"The state should build the Union," believes another person, asked to pledge. This is one job the state cannot accomplish.

"I am spending enough of Dad's money now," report several conscientious students. It is not Dad's money that will build the Union.

FANS EXPECT LIVELY RACES IN FRATERNITY MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Athletic fans will be entertained this afternoon by approximately 300 fraternity track athletes who will participate in the first annual interfraternity track and field meet to be held on Iowa field beginning at 2 p. m.

Each of the twenty-eight fraternities that are members of the conference has entered a team. Each fraternity has the privilege of entering four men in each event and running two. Interest in the meet shows that competition should be keen in all of the events.

Three silver loving cups will be awarded to the fraternities whose terms win first, second and third places. Individual winners of first, second, third, fourth, and fifth places in each event will be presented with ribbons.

The competition will consist of fourteen track and field events besides a special fifty yard dash and the quarter mile and half mile relay races.

win both races. He might well lose both, but on paper he is good for one first and possibly two. Chicago has no men to take second and third.

In the jumps Chicago has nothing unless Fouche, who is entered in the broad jump as well as in the weights, can do something. Chicago will be fortunate to get a single point in the pole vault and the high jump.

Even Break in Weights Possible In the four weight events, counting the javelin as a weight event, Chicago should score better than in the jumps.

Even if Fouche does run wild in the weights, and it is not often that any man runs wild in his first college meet, he can hardly swing enough points to win the meet for his team.

To sum it all up, Iowa seems to be at least equal to Chicago on the track and in the weights, perhaps a little better, and overwhelmingly superior in the jumps.

BOARD URGES EXAMINATIONS

Provisional Teachers' Certificates
Not Issued Until August 15

No provisional certificates will be issued to teachers before August 15 according to announcement received at the University yesterday from the State Board of Educational Examiners. Heretofore undergraduates have been able to secure provisional certificates without examination.

The aim of the State board is to encourage the undergraduate candidates for teaching positions to take the examination for county uniform certificates and to give those who have certificates an opportunity to secure positions, since some boards are not willing to enter into a contract unless the teacher is already in possession of the proper credentials.

The bureau of appointments offers the following suggestions:

1. Graduates of the University who have completed six hours in psychology and the required fourteen hours in education will receive a first grade state certificate without examination.
2. Graduates of the University who have not completed the psychology and education will be able to secure a five year third grade state certificate, not subject to renewal.
3. Undergraduates may pursue either of the following courses: either (1) take the regular examinations in June or July for the county uniform certificate—the examinations are not difficult and by making proper preparation, any high school graduate should be able to pass them; the first examination will be held on June 22, 23, 24, and can be taken in any county in the state; or (2) apply for a provisional certificate, keeping in mind that no credentials of this class will be issued by the state department until after August 15.
