HAWKES MEET GOPHERS TODAY

Old Gold Chances to Win Are Good. Football Squad Out of Race

Iowa track team will go into action against the Gophers on Northwestern and at Minnesota this afternoon since one of its fastest and most reliable men, Harry C. Grick, was called home Monday because of a serious accident in his house which severely injured his brother, Robert, on Sunday morning. Grick was considered the foremost of the Hawkeyes in the 400-yard hurdles, a specialty of his, and it is feared his injury will incapacitate him for several days, at least.

Iowa will have all its parents in the stands for today’s meet, which is to be held at 2:30 p.m.

The Gophers have a record of 4-2 this season.

Gophers will be expected to take part in the preliminaries in the running events. The Majors will be out to hold their own in the track meets.

The Gophers will have a chance to show their appreciation for those who have been a constant and steady support of the track teams.

The meet will be held at the athletic field and will conclude at 4 p.m.

MOUNTAIN MAKING

The time is ripe to dig into print the old adage of the molehill and the mountain. Here we have the core of the old adage of the molehill and the mountain, then, the molehill, then, the mountain. It is not the whole truth but it is sometimes serious business. Three similar attempts by school girls to make more money.

Moral: There is no virtue in making a molehill out of a molehill and a mountain.

The molehill gets a direct attention of over 40,000 students every day, except Monday morning.

It is fortunate to have a musical organization in our university. Practically one-third of the students are members of the Iowa Band and Orchestra.
