CHICAGO GAME WILL BE FRIDAY

Iowa Will Close Season in Final Game on Stagg Field

After a three days rest the baseball squad commenced work yesterday for the final game of season which will be played against the University of Chicago on Stagg field next Friday by taking a long batting practice and a few minutes work in the field. The players were dismissed shortly after 5 o'clock in order that they might attend the dinner and election at the city park.

Michaelson it appears will retain his position on first the remainder of the year. While he is not so fast as most first basemen in conference baseball he played a good game against Northwestern last Saturday, and has been the most consistent hitter on the team this year. Wilhelm will probably be used in right field in the game Friday. He did not hit up to expectations in the Northwestern game last week but by using him in the outfield and Michaelson on the initial sack, Coach Ashmore has the best offensive combination that he can get together.

Becker has established for himself the reputation of being the best pitcher on the squad and on the merits of recent performances he seems the logical selection for the pitching task in the closing game of the season. Anderson and Irish will play their last game for Iowa Friday. Both men will be missed when it comes time to select the 1922 team. Anderson has played in center field for the past two seasons while Irish has been used at short and third during the three years that he has participated in college baseball.

BIG TEN COACHES TO MEET IN CHICAGO TO DRAFT NEW SCHEDULES

Basketball coaches from all Universities in the Big Ten will gather at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago, Friday to draft schedules for the season of 1921-22. Iowa's representative, James N. Ashmore, will leave here Thursday night and will carry with him a tentative schedule which will include Michigan and possibly Wisconsin.

Arrangements for a game with Michigan to be played at Iowa City have already been agreed to, thus assuring Iowa fans of the chance to see a new rival in action. It is possible that Iowa will also meet Michigan at Ann Arbor as was the case this year.

The Iowa-Michigan game at Iowa City came as a result of an agreement providing that if Iowa played Michigan at Ann Arbor this year, Michigan would meet Iowa at Iowa City next year, and would also be willing to consider a return game with Iowa.

While no definite arrangements have been made with Wisconsin it is hoped that one or two games can be secured with this institution.

Prospects for Iowa's basketball activity in the Big Ten next year are bright, since Coach Ashmore will lose but one regular player from this year's team and should gain some good material from this year's freshman squad. Kaufman, Captain and guard during the past season, is the man who will not return next year. It is possible that his position will be filled by Voltmer, of this year's squad or some promising freshman. With this position filled Coach Ashmore will be able to devote his attention to improving his other positions. For center he will have Frohwein, for forwards Shimek, McGovney, and Lohman, and for the other guard, Devine, all of whom were on the regular team this year.

A. S. OF A. S. ELECTS

Cumberland Chosen as New President of Engineers

John C. Cumberland S3 of Cedar Point was elected president of the associated students of applied science at a meeting yesterday evening. Lloyd E. Anderson S2 of Madrid was elected vice president, Joseph M. Dean S3 of Sioux City, secretary, and Louis Baggs S3 of Des Moines, treasurer.

The Transit, formerly an annual publication of the college of applied science published in June, will become a monthly magazine next year, according to plans made at this meeting. Alan Rockwood S3 of Iowa City was chosen for the office of editor-in-chief and Vern C. Price S3 of Corydon for business manager.

CROWD ENJOYS MUSIC PROGRAM

Instruments Are Explained at Afternoon Program of Orchestra

In spite of the warm weather a fair-sized crowd gathered at the men's gymnasium yesterday afternoon to hear the Tri-City orchestra in its first concert in Iowa City. This orchestra is an Iowa product, and in the concert yesterday it proved that it is no longer necessary for us to go beyond the bounds of our own state to secure worth while music.

Before the musical part of the program began, Mr. Schmidt of Davenport, gave a brief explanation of the instruments after which they were demonstrated by their respective players. According to Mr. Schmidt there are three parts to every orchestra under which all of the instruments may be grouped. The stringed instruments make up the voice of the orchestra, the brass instruments give the flourish, and the woodwind instruments provide the tone color. Each group of instruments described was played in turn and the audience has an opportunity to contrast them with each other.

The program was well arranged, the longer numbers coming at the first and the short lively ones at the end of the program. "Old Folks at Home" which was played by the stringed instruments alone was particularly well received because it is so popularly known. It was interpreted unusually well, bringing out the pathos and feeling of the familiar folk song. "Florinto" by Burgmein was a lively selection with a catchy air which was played with a good show of enthusiasm and spirit. "Woodland Pictures" was one of the best numbers on the program. It seemed to contain the spirit of the outdoors and was played in such a manner as to make one feel the atmosphere of the garden and of the hayfields.

PROGRAM FOR GOVERNOR'S DAY ANNOUNCED THURSDAY

No definite announcement of the program for Governor's day will be made until the return of Lieut. Col. Morton C. Mumma, commandant, was the statement made yesterday by Major R. C. Hill, senior instructor in the military department. Lieut. Colonel Mumma will be in Des Moines until Thursday.

It is probable however, that the track and field events will be run off in the morning and the escort to the color, the parade and review will be held in the afternoon, starting about 3 o'clock. It is planned to send a military escort to the station Saturday morning to meet the train on which the Governor will arrive.

A luncheon will be held in the honor of Governor Kendall Saturday noon.

SURVEY CLOSES THURSDAY NIGHT

Committeemen Must Turn Cards in Even if Survey is Not Completed

With the first general survey of the student body to determine its attitude toward the Iowa Memorial Union drawing to a close, it is found that a certain number of committeemen have failed to make their report.

Director Grassfield, commenting on the laxity of some of the committeemen, was at a loss to know how he was going to get the final report all in this week.

"This is the last week of school," said the director, "and we do not feel like asking the students to do a thing next week. In fact we know that it is impossible for them to do anything. Even those who have not turned in their reports are going to be pretty busy and little work will be done."

Chairman C. C. Bowie A4 of San Benito, Texas, of the college of liberal arts is getting a line on every committee chairman, urging each chairman to go over his committeemen and request every individual to make his final report this week.

Thursday evening is the ending of the survey. It is the desire of the officers of the Union that every committeeman report and turn in his cards, whether or not he has completed his work.

It is yet too early to make a final report on the results of the survey, but Director Grassfield indicates that results have more than justified the effort expended.

IOWAN POSITIONS OPEN

Students May Submit Applications Today or Tomorrow

All who wish to write for the Daily Iowan next year should apply immediately for positions on the staff.

A large number of applications are in already as the time limit was announced as May 31, but applications submitted to Cloyce K. Huston A3 of Crawfordsville editor-elect, today and tomorrow at room 14 in the liberal arts building, will receive consideration.

Anyone is eligible, regardless of academic rank, to do work on the paper and appointments will be made on the basis of ability only. Competition is less keen for positions as associate editor, society editor and staff reporters than for the other positions.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES MEET

Hawkeyes Will Commence Practice on September 15

September 15 is the date announced for the beginning of fall football practice at the meeting of all the candidates for the 1921 team. About thirty five men attended the meeting that was held at the men's gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Coach Howard H. Jones gave short talk and pointed out the necessity of the men returning next fall in the best possible condition.

COMMERCE CLUB WILL HOLD ELECTION TONIGHT

Election of officers of the Commerce club will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Iowa City Commercial club rooms. There is also some special business to come up at this time. "Every member of the Commerce club is urged to be present," according to Charles F. Glasgow A4 of Shenandoah, president.

The retiring officers are: Charles F. Glasgow, president; Mart H. Saunderson A4 of Keosauqua, vice-president; Robert Paramore A4 of Hawarden, secretary; and Erling Larson A4 of Kanawha, treasurer.

SENIOR CUT DAY JUNE 3

Senior Women's Picnic Will be Held Friday Morning at 9:30

Senior cut day will be Friday, June 3. Because of the registrar's decision that credit would be deducted for all classes cut on Wednesday which met for the first time after Decoration day Friday has been set aside for cut day.

The senior women's picnic will be held at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning at the city park, instead of Wednesday as planned before. About seventy women have signed up for the picnic. The committee in charge is; chairman Ada M. Yoder of Iowa City, Rowena G. Bedell of Irvington, Mary T. Pazdera and Lillian M. Neff of Cedar Rapids.

Y. W. C. A. WILL MEET AT GENEVA

Girl's Conference Will Last From August 23 Until September 2

The Student Y. W. C. A. conference for University of Iowa women which will be held at the College Camp, Lake Geneva, Wis., will last ten days, from August 23 until Sept. 2.

The University women will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women, expects to attend the conference this year.

Two Chinese women from the University, Wen-ying Kwong u of Nan Chang, China, and De-Fong Chau will be guests of the conference.

Violet Blakely, social assistant to the dean of women, and Marjorie Proudfoot A2 of Des Moines, will spend the summer at the Lake.

Any University woman has the privilege of attending these conferences, and the approximate cost from Iowa City to College Camp, including railroad fare both ways and board and room while there is $50. Last year 23 women from the University attended the conference. The Geneva club has arranged a small loan fund from which students who wish to borrow in order to be at the Lake, may do so. The only specification is that the money must be returned without interest within two years after the borrower has left the University.

The women who are practically certain of being at the meeting this summer are; Mary L. McCord A3 of Des Moines, Florence V. Bierring A3 of Des Moines; Roberta Anderson A2 of Madrid, Gertrude Lynch A3 of Ottumwa, Margaret Avery A2 of Spencer, Jean M. Spiers A3 of Reinbeck, Vivian A. Gray A1 of Onawa, Esther E. Sharpe A3 of Hampton, Catherine Miles A2 of Clarion, Selma K. Millick A3 of Dubuque, and Melba Carpenter A1 of Iowa City.

All who wish to go should sign up with Miss Mary I. Bash, general secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., in order that registration fees may be paid as soon as possible.

Women from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, and Ohio attend the conference at College Camp.

Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. will act as executives at the conference.

Other speakers at the meeting will be Prof. Oscar M. Buck, of Drew Seminary, Madison, New Jersey; Thomas W. Graham of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio; Prof. Alexander Kelso, of James Millikan University at Decatur, Illinois; Prof. Alexander W. Purdy of Earlham college, Richmond, Indiana; Prof. A. M. Trawick of Kansas City, Missouri; Rev. Robert Seneca Smith of Smith College, North Hampton, Mass.; and Miss Laura Wilde of Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

CAPTAINS FOR COMING YEAR ARE ELECTED

Michaelson, Hoffman, and Shimek Elected to Lead Teams Next Year

THIRTY MEN GIVEN LETTERS

Ten Baseball Players and Twenty Track Men Were Awarded I's — Six I-2's Awarded — Judge Howell Presided at Banquet — 100 Athletes Attend Annual Election

Clarence Michaelson—baseball
Frank Shimek—basketball
Edgar Hoffman—track

Following the annual athletic banquet at the city park pavilion last night Clarence O. Michaelson A3 of Leland, Frank J. Shimek A3 of Iowa City, and Edgar P. Hoffman A4 of Ida Grove, were elected captains of next year's baseball, basketball, and track teams respectively. Michaelson has been one of the leading hitters and all around players on the baseball team for the last two years. Shimek has led the basketball team in scoring and has played on the baseball team as well, having won four letters so far. Hoffman has been a sensation in track circles for two years having consistently won his favorite event for both years. This year he broke the state record for the high jump and is looked upon as a sure point winner in the coming western conference meet. All three men are juniors in the college of liberal arts and are stars of their teams.

The following men were awarded their letters in baseball: Locke, Crary, Shimek, Irish, Hurlburt, Locke, Voltmer, Becker, Anderson, Draper, and Michaelson. I-2's were given to Frohwein who was kept out of most of the game by a broken leg, Dyke, and Wilhelm.

Track letters were awarded to: Belding, Crawford, Wilson, Hill, Friedlander, Selling, Groelck, Park, McIntire, Brandmill, Barnes, Noll, Conn, Hoffman, Devine, Bailey, Slater, Rich, and Smith. I-2's went to: Ashton, Marty, and Beck.

A new custom was inaugurated this year of having the freshman track and baseball squads elect a captain; Barret was elected baseball captain and Tjossem track captain.

Judge Howell presided at the banquet and in addition closed the evening with one of his excellent speeches, emphasizing the point "If Iowa is good enough to live in, its good enough to go to school in." President Walter A. Jessup was the first speaker on the program with the keynote of loyalty to ones school and to its athletic teams "We are getting a fine Iowa spirit," he said, "and these other universities will need the larger stadiums they are planning, to accommodate the people who will go to see Iowa beat them. He added that there was as much honor in being on the scrubs as on the varsity for it is all for one great goal, to place Iowa on top."

Short speeches were made by Dr. Prentiss, Major Hill, Coaches Bresnahan, Ashmore, and Jones who all made "Loyalty to Iowa, and stay by your team," the keynote of their talks. Major Hill, a newcomer in Iowa activities was especially emphatic in denouncing the fans who leave before the game is over.

Following the speeches the medals won at the state track meet this year were awarded to the winners. The banquet was attended by one hundred and fifty men who make up the varsity and freshman basketball and baseball and track squads.

THE EDITORIAL BLUES

There is only one nuisance worse than an editorial about the evils of jazz music and that is the evil itself. Granted that the world found itself harried, exhausted, and morally negligent at the end of the great war, does it follow that jazz music will alleviate any of those conditions? As a matter of fact psychologists and every one else knows that jazz music destroys the peace and serenity of the nervous system.

The orchestral leader, following the immemorial custom of passing the buck, claims that he plays the music that the people demand. In the mind of the orchestra leader, the theatrical manager, the moving picture producer, and all the rest of the active panders to physical sensuousness, there exists a mythical voice of the people which insistently calls for the lowest forms of expression.

Turn to the people who listen to jazz music. They claim with equal pitifulness that the only kind of music one can get is jazz music. It is true that many patrons of the lower arts know nothing of anything which contains an appeal to appreciation on a recognized high level. But there still exists a happy majority who know worthwhile music and would like to substitute it for the present current strumming.

If people realized the course of jazz music they might be less willing to subject themselves to its influence. The very best jazz music, (best in the sense of containing the most jazz,) is to be heard in the most notorious and vile bagnio. Jazz music is appreciated and enjoyed in exact proportion to the diminishing intelligence of the music patron.

OF MOURNFUL WORDS

Now is a time when our happy or disconsolate undergraduate humanity is squarely cut in two. It is cut in two on being happy or disconsolate. There are those who have worked and can look at the flint-eyed future with an easy smile, and soon will lie beneath a linden tree, or a hickory sapling more like, and sing "Up with me! up with me into the clouds!" And there are those who have been lying beneath the linden trees before, who now are behind, and wearily burn the midnight oil, and drone—"sink with me into the bog," and reflect on the terrible allegory of Maud Muller.

Well, another girl of fourteen has worried over her studies and drunk poison. A little ogre grows easily. Suppose that the worst should happen and then say, "What of it?" Perhaps Maud Muller was wrong about the last sad words of tongue or pen. Even the eleventh hour is an hour, and a lot can be done in that time. Maud, poor girl, let us rise to a point of correction, and claim with all respect, that the saddest and most foolish words of tongue, or pen, or typewriter, or linotype machine, are these—"It cannot be."

A Yale professor recently made the statement that few students die from overwork—Ah, what a relief that is.

STUDENT OF OPERA

Walter Leon, new professor of vocal training to begin work at the University next year, is a former pupil of Jean De Reszke of Paris and of Oscar Seagle. He was a member of the Moody-Manners opera company in England, and has made a study for operatic work with Sabatini and La Scala of Milan. He was certified by Sabatini to sing the principal tenor role for fifteen operas including Faust, "Rigoletto", "La Boheme," and a number of others.

CO-ED NUMBER OF THE JOURNAL OF BUSINESS TO BE OUT THURSDAY

The co-ed number of the Journal of Business will appear on the campus Thursday morning. This is the first edition of this magazine which is to take the place of The Organizer, the magazine published by the Commerce Club last year.

Since there are more than 1,000 students in the school of commerce the magazine should have a good sale. It is not planned for commerce people alone, however, for it includes articles which will be of interest to every one.

One story which will be of special interest is a series of articles entitled "How Do They Do It?" This includes brief stories of J. Reed Lane, head of the Federal Bakery which puts out sixty loaves of bread each day; John Taylor Adams, president of the Carr, Ryder and Adams Manufacturing Company which is the second largest sash and door factory in the world, and vice president of the Republican national committee; Fred Racine, who has established five cigar stores in Iowa City since 1916; and J. E. Stronks who is the manager of the Iowa City office of the Standard Publication company.

Some of the other articles are: "Industrial Courts", by Prof. R. W. Stone of the department of economics; "Why People Work," by Prof. Frederic B. Knight of the psychology department; "How Many Months in a Year?", by Prof. Charles H. Weller, University news editor; "The Business End of a Newspaper," by E. E. Johnson of the Iowa City Press-Citizen; "Commercial Training in a Retail House", by Mrs. Genevieve P. Reid, who is the educational director of the Marshall Field store in Chicago.

"Building Up an Interior Decorating Department," by A. C. Goode, manager of the interior decorating department in the Roshek Brothers department store in Dubuque; "Why a Business Education?" by Prof. Lee Galloway of New York University; "Commerce Athletic Stars", by Henry Prentiss.

A series of two articles on "Increasing Sales" has been contributed by R. H. Harned, president of the Harned and Von Maur department store in Davenport, and by Lawrence L. Davidson of the Davidson Brothers department in Sioux City.

The introductory article—"A Function of Journals of Commerce" was written by Prof. C. O. Ruggles, director of the school of commerce.

The sale of the magazine will begin early Thursday morning and will be in charge of Gamma Epsilon Pi, honorary commerce sorority.

CAMPUS CRITIC HAS CHANGED OLD ADAGE TO READ "SUNBURN IS ONLY SKIN DEEP"

Who was it that said "Vanity—thy name is Woman"? How the poor misguided man, for, of course, we know that only a man would be capable of such a statement,—how the poor man would stare it he could see the sunburned, freckled faces of our Iowa girls today! His definition of woman does not apply very well to the flat-heeled, middied, tanned Iowa girl, with the "I-don't-care-how-I-look-just-so-I-have-a-good-time" attitude, returning from a jaunt up the river.

We forgive the author of those ridiculous lines, however, when we remember that he lived back in those dim ages when the plebian signs of sunburn were little less than a crime and a freckle brought forth bitter tears of mortification.

But the old fashioned adage, "Beauty is only skin deep" must be altered in order to meet the transformed condition of the modern epidermis. If beauty means a fair and delicate complexion, suggesting peaches and cream, the modern girl must renounce all claims to the coveted quality.

"Sunburn is only skin deep" is the more modern version of this once legitimate saying.

"Sunburn is only skin deep" thinks the dotting young man, as he looks beneath a deceitful coat of tan to the soul of the girl he loves.

"Oh, well, 'Sunburn is only skin deep'," sighs the maiden, applying generous portions of cold cream to a peeled nose. "Anyway, I had a perfectly wonderful time."

NUTTING TO GO TO OXFORD

Rhodes Scholar Will Sail for England on October 4

Willis D. Nutting A4 of Iowa City son of Prof. and Mrs. Charles C. Nutting, the latter head of the zoology department won the Rhodes scholarship last September. Mr. Nutting sails for England on the Aquitania from New York City, October 4, and will take up his studies at Keble College, Oxford, England, October 17.

He is going to study theology there three years and now expects to return home in the summer of 1922 and probably not again until he has completed his entire course.

He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at the fall election 1920 at this University.

The next election to Rhodes scholarship will take place December 3, 1921, for which the applications must be filed by October 29. These elections will take place in thirty-two states this fall, a student may apply in the state of his residence or in the one where he has received two years of his education.

A Rhodes scholarship is awarded scholarships may be held for three not upon examination but upon a student's school and college record. The years and yield 350 pounds per year. There are no restrictions upon the studies a winner of one has to pursue.

An applicant must be a citizen of the United States, unmarried and between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five, and he must have completed at least his sophomore year in college.

Soldiers' graves were not the only things decorated Monday, judging from the number of fraternity pins on the campus that changed resting places. This column has a list of twenty new engagements but hesitates to publish them until the list is complete. The office will be open all day today for further contributions. It would be helpful if all those who received pins on that day would wear a red, white and blue decoration with them, so they might be interviewed by the enterprising Iowan reporters. Should anyone be sorry already, she should not return the pin until her name has been taken.

Boyd-Ashby

The wedding of Virginia Boyd A3 of Colfax to Jack Ashby of Fairmont, Nebraska, took place yesterday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Herrick. Reverend R. Reed officiated. Dorothy Elizabeth McArthur A3 of Storm Lake and Joe Herrick acted as bridesmaid and best man. Mrs. Ashby is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and a newly elected member of Staff and Circle. Mr. Ashby is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity and was a member of the Sphinx club. He is now attending Chicago University. Mr. and Mrs. Ashby left immediately for Cedar Rapids on their way to Chicago.

Graves-Rogers

Rev. and Mrs. James Wesley Graves of Clarksburg, W. Virginia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Thelma Blanche to Benjamin Charles Rogers on June twenty-first at Des Moines. The bride will be graduated from the college of liberal arts at this University this term and is one of the eight representative women in this year's Hawkeye. She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority, the Erodolphian literary society, the women's forensic council, the editorial staff of the Daily Iowan, of Phi Lambda Delta, of the University orchestra, and belonged to the freshman commission. Mr. Rogers was graduated from the college of pharmacy at this University in 1919 and took graduate work here last year. He belonged to Phi Delta Chi, pharmacy and chemistry fraternity.

Reverend Graves and Rev. George B. Rogers of Winterset, father of the groom, will perform the ceremony, which will take place at the Calvary Baptist church in Des Moines. Robert Rogers S2, brother of the groom, will be best man and Winifred Graves, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor.

The couple will be at home in Creston, Iowa, after August 1, where Mr. Rogers is connected with the Central Drug store.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA WINS NORTH END CHAMPIONSHIP

Alpha Tau Omega became champions of the north end in baseball last night by defeating Kappa Sigma by a 2 to 1 score. Kappa Sigma defeated Alpha Tau Omega last year and two years ago in championship games.

This is the fourth and last game for Alpha Tau Omega in the north end series. They will meet the winner of the south end series as soon as that series is finished. The south end still has two games to play.

COACH BRESNAHAN'S MEN MADE FAST TIME IN DUAL TRACK MEET AGAINST MINNESOTA

The Minnesota-Iowa dual track and field meet, held on Northrup field last Saturday, the last dual meet in which the Iowa team will participate this season, was featured by some very fast running and sprinting. Several Iowa and Minnesota men made the fastest time that they have made in their favorite events this season.

The Iowa team has been showing marked improvement in every meet in which they participated this season, but last Saturday was their banner day. Nearly every one of the runners made better time than they have made in any other meet of the season, while several of the field men who were pushed by Minnesota men exceeded their best marks of the season.

Eric Wilson, the Iowa sprinter was the star of the meet. He ran the 100 yard dash in 9 4-5 seconds, the same time made by the conference record holder. In the 220 yard dash Wilson made even better time, by comparison, than he did in the 100. His time was 21 2-5 seconds, exceeding the conference record time.

However, Wilson will not be given credit for holding a new conference record in the 220 yard dash, because the rules state that only the time made in the regular annual conference meet will be counted as a record. This should not worry Coach Bresnahan, for Wilson has two more years of intercollegiate competition in which he will be given a chance to do even better. He also has a chance to do something in the conference meet Saturday.

Anderson of Minnesota exceeded the conference record in both of the hurdle races. He ran the lows in :24 1-5 and the highs in :15 flat. The time in both of these events easily broke the University of Minnesota records.

Hill and Friedlander did some fast sprinting, finishing the 100 and the 220 close on Wilson's heels, taking second and third in both events. Noll another Iowa man, ran the half mile in 1:59 4-5, winning first place. Smith of Iowa threw the javelin 158 ft. 2 in. and Slater threw the discus 137 ft. 8 1-2 in.

Sweitzer of Minnesota, ran the mile in 4:28, breaking the Minnesota record. Parker won the 440 yard dash for Iowa with a sensational finish in 51 4-5.

Coach Bresnahan is now conditioning the men for the Conference meet, to be held in Chicago next Saturday.
