SENIORS CUT CLASSES TO FROLIC AT PARK

Cut day has come and gone once more. The seniors know how it feels to lie in bed and think of the poor underclassmen sitting in class, listening to lecturers.

The senior women celebrated their holiday Friday by having a picnic at the park. They fried bacon and eggs and had rolls and oranges and other picnic "eats".

Teams were chosen and a ball game played, but no report as to the results has been turned in.

Automobiles brought the women back from the park.

KENDALL REVIEWS UNIVERSITY R. O. T. C. UNIT 11 MEN AWARDED COMMISSIONS BY GOVERNOR FLIERS UNHURT WHEN PLANE FALLS TO GROUND

STUDENT IN BAD WRECK Casey and Smith's Plane Badly Smashed In Crash

Fragments of Casey and Smith's aeroplane are scattered about all over Iowa City this morning. Souvenir-hunters carried them across the river yesterday afternoon following the wreck of the plane which occurred about 2:30 in the afternoon as the result of an abrupt landing which was necessitated by engine trouble.

Howard T. Gordon S2 of Vinton and A. B. Johnson, a former army pilot who is now in the employ of the aerial mail service, were in the plane when the wreck occurred. Neither was injured seriously but they were badly shaken up and Johnson was bruised about the body when his belt gave way and he was thrown against the side of the plane.

The two men were sent to the University clinic immediately after the accident for examination, but were able to return to the aeroplane field about 3 o'clock.

The plane was flying low over Iowa field when the engine stopped. Johnson, who was piloting the machine, decided to land in the small field along the river bank to the north, and would have succeeded, had it not been for the failure of the control to operate one of the wings. The left wing struck the ground first and was broken off. The men had time to lower their heads and prepare for the jolt, and were lucky that no part of the wreckage struck them.

The machine is almost a total wreck. It is not known just how much of it can be used, but Mr. Casey intends to remove the engine and whatever other parts can be used, and then junk the remainder of the plane. It is about two years old and was in a wreck last fall, when a wing was broken in an attempt to start from Iowa field. The damage in yesterday's wreck was covered by insurance.

The crowd which attended the military review and most of the R. O. T. C. men flocked over the interurban bridge to the scene of the accident. R. O. T. C. officers arrived a little later and policed the wreck, keeping back the souvenir-hunting crowd, but not until much varnished linen and many broken struts had been carried off.

"A man could crash into a mountain with that Standard plane, though, and not be in much danger, as it is a very slow machine. It will not go over thirty-five miles an hour."

The wrecked machine is the one ordinarily piloted by Karl Fischer S2 of Burlington, but he was out of town yesterday. He was planning to use it in a flying circus this summer.

SPECIAL CARS TO BE RUN ON INTERURBAN THIS WEEK

Special cars will be run on the Interurban next weekend to accommodate the students who must go to Cedar Rapids to catch their trains, according to the local manager, although no definite plans have been made. All cars will be run with trailers Friday and Saturday. The first special will probably leave Iowa City about 3:30 o'clock.

A limited car is now on the schedule although not listed on the time tables. This car leaves Iowa City at 5 o'clock and arrives at Cedar Rapids at 6 o'clock, making no stops between the two stations.

Cadet Captain Jahnke of Company B Engineers Wins Pistol

Commissions as second lieutenants in the reserve corps of the regular army were awarded to eleven graduates of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the University by Governor Nathan E. Kendall just before the presentation of prizes to the winners of the second annual competitive drill and track and field meet yesterday afternoon. Cadet Captain Lowell S. Jahnke, Company B, engineers, was awarded first place, with Company A engineers and Company B infantry second and third, respectively in the meet.

Julius L. Goeppinger A4 of Boone, Ralph E. Kennon A4 of Corning, Verne M. Myers L3 of Fort Dodge, Lowell S. Newcomb A4 of Iowa City, and Edwin V. Zahroik L2 of Iowa City, were awarded commissions in the infantry; Oral Dold S4 of Rome, was awarded a commission in the engineer corps; and Arthur I. Schump S4 of Iowa City, Leland C. White L1 of Harlan, and Lester S. Wright were given commissions in the quartermaster corps, motor transport section. Certificates of eligibility were given to Alan C. Rockwood S4 of Iowa City in the coast artillery, and to Robert H. Luscombe S4 of Iowa City in the quartermaster corps, motor transport section. These certificates, issued because of the graduate being less than twenty-one years old, may be exchanged for commissions when the applicant has reached his majority.

The automatic pistol with the belt and holster was awarded to Lowell S. Jahnke of B company, engineers, which won the most number of points in the meet. B company will be color company for 1921-22. James C. Wason A company, engineers, won the Coast sword for second place, and Jordon L. Larson won the H. J. Weinecke gold medal for third place.

Cadet Lieut. James F. Phillips A company, engineers, won the Colonel Burdett medal for the best rifle shot and B company, engineers, commanded by Cadet Captain Jahnke, won the R. T. Phinney cup for rifle competition.

Peter A. Stover, B company, engineers won the Suplee gold medal for best drilled freshman, William E. Carpenter, B company, infantry, won the C. Yetter gold medal No. 1 for the best drilled sophomore, and Lieutenant Ray Leichti, B company, engineers, won the C. Yetter gold medal No. 2 for the best drilled junior.

Summary of the points won:
Company B, engineer unit .....30
Company A, engineer unit .....25
Company B, infantry unit .....24
Company H, infantry unit .....17
Motor transport unit .....11
Companies A and F, infantry .... 6
Companies E, and G, infantry .... 5
Company C, infantry unit ..... 4

VISITORS ARE PLEASSED Governor and His Staff Are Guests at Luncheon At Noon

By George H. Seigle

With the entire R. O. T. C. regiment standing at present arms as the trumpets played "To the Color", Governor Nathan E. Kendall and his military staff witnessed the beginning of the 1921 Governor's day review on Iowa field yesterday afternoon at 1:30.

The afternoon program opened with the escort to the color, and was immediately followed by the parade and review led by the University band, with Governor Kendall, Adjutant-General Kouis G. Lasher, Col. C. J. Wilson, Lieut.-Col. George B. Ball, Lieut.-Col. Frank E. Lyman, Lieut.-Col. Hanford McNider, Col. Ralph P. Howell, President Walter A. Jessup, Deans Kay, Raymond, McGovney and Teeters, besides Lieut.-Col. Morton C. Mumma, Cadet Lieut.-Col. Lowell S. Newcomb and Cadet Staff in the reviewing stand.

Governor Kendall and his entire staff expressed their surprise at the efficient manner in which the parade and review was carried out, and said, "I am well satisfied with what I saw of this regiment. It is very efficient, and does the work well." President Jessup also expressed his appreciation of the way the whole program was carried out.

Promptly at noon, Governor Kendall was entertained at luncheon at the Pagoda tea shop, which was attended by President Jessup, Dean Kay, Dean McGovney, Dean Teeters and Dean Raymond, besides the officers and non-commissioned officers and cadet officers of the military department.

Governor Kendall was introduced by President Jessup who recalled, in making the introduction, a brief outline of the military policy and history of the University. He said in part, "The first military unit was organized here in 1872. This was the first military organization at any university in the United States, which was not a land grant institution. This organization did not have any contract of any kind with the government, but was organized entirely upon the initiative of the University faculty."

Governor Kendall discussed the value of military training in regard to the fulfillment of the obligations of citizenship, and brought out the benefits derived from an association of this kind. He mentioned that whether it was war or progress, that Iowa was always among the first, and was pleased to see that the University was preparing to keep Iowa among the leaders.

According to Lieut.-Col. Morton C. Mumma, commandant, the review today was satisfactory in every respect, and showed a marked improvement over the review of last year. "I consider this to be the best review held at the University since my connection with the University. Competition was keen, and the men did better work during the whole day. Never before were the cadet officers so efficient in the handling of their men.

During the morning, the finals in most of the events were held, Governor Kendall and party arriving in time to see the last of the competitive drills.

The Governor and his staff returned yesterday afternoon to Des Moines.

REGISTRAR GIVES OUT PRELIMINARY PLANS OF THE METHODS OF REGISTRATION FOR NEXT FALL

Plans have been made for registering all of the students who will enter or re-enter the University next fall, within the three days, September 21-23. Students who defer their registration beyond this period will probably be required to pay a late registration fee of $5.00 and no student will be permitted to attend any class until he has properly registered, with all fees, including the late registration fee, paid.

Therefore let all the students come back early and register promptly. Arrangements will be made to care for all students in the college of liberal arts and the graduate college and for the new students in each of the other colleges of the University in men's gymnasium at the rate of 200 each hour, eight hours each day. Students in the professional colleges will be registered in the offices of their respective deans.

"Blind registration" is not to be tried again for the students in the college of liberal arts. Each student having been admitted will proceed (1) to his adviser; (2) to the section committee; (3) to the checker's room; (4) to the fee assessor's tables; and finally to the fee paying station.

Owing to unexpected delay in the printing of the study list coupons spring registration for the first semester next autumn can not be undertaken this spring; but it is expected that a large number of students, both old and new, will complete their registration between July 1 and September 1, by mail. Any student desiring to register by mail within the two months noted is invited to write to the Registrar for instructions and materials.

H. C. Dorcas, Registrar.

NOTED MEN TO LECTURE HERE DURING SUMMER

Registration For Summer Session Is Set For June 13 and 14

LARGE ENROLLMENT EXPECTED

Nearly All Regular Courses Will Be Offered in Addition to Special Branches for Teachers—More Than 150 Instructors Will Teach During Summer

Registration for the summer session will take place Monday, June 13 and classes will open Tuesday, June 14, at 2 p. m. The complete session will last eleven weeks during August. The period will be divided into two terms, the first ending July 23.

Attendance at the session cannot be accurately predicted yet, according to Prof. Charles H. Weller, director, but the applications to the registrar have been greater than ever before, and a very large attendance is expected if the weather continues cool.

Courses to be offered represent nearly all lines of study in the University included in the regular academic year and special branches which are appropriate for teachers who make up the greater portion of the summer enrollments.

Instruction will be given by more than 150 teachers who are mainly from the regular staff of instruction. In addition, the University has secured seventeen lecturers from the various educational institutions who are recognized as experts in their respective subjects.

The department of English will have Prof. Charles H. Ward, instructor in English at Taft school, Watertown, Conn. Frederick E. Pierce, professor of English at Yale University as lecturer. The department of history will have John Spencer Bassett, professor of history at Smith college.

Philip W. L. Cox, principal of Washington School, New York City; Julius Boras, professor of education at St. Olaf's College; James William Harris, professor of education, College of the Pacific; George Ellis Jones, professor of education, University of Pittsburgh, will all lecture in connection with the courses offered in the college of education.

Professor Bernard Fay a distinguished young French professor will conduct courses in modern French literature in the department of romance languages.

Professor Fay is at present a lecturer in Columbia University. He was formerly sent to Harvard by the French government as a holder of the Chapman Fellowship. He is now engaged in an interesting piece of research work of the early intellectual relations between France and America.

"It will be very valuable to Iowa students", was the statement made by Prof. Stephen H. Bush, head of the department of Romance languages, "to have the experience of instruction from a man trained in French university methods, different from our own, but still very effective."

The department of psychology will have Christian A. Ruckmick, associate professor of psychology at the University of Illinois, as lecturer.

Other lecturers who have been engaged for the summer session are: Frank E. Goodell, instructor in physics at West Des Moines high school, in the department of physics; Elizabeth Parker Hunt, assistant professor of reading, Wellesley college, in the department of public speaking; Ray V. Leffler, assistant professor of economics, Dartmouth College, and Howard H. Preston, associate professor of economics, University of Washington, in the department of economics; Admah C. Newell, professor of manual arts, Illinois State Normal University in work in manual arts; and Margaret Hayes B. A. instructor in the Cumming School of Art at Des Moines for the past year, in the department of graphic and plastic arts.

Miss Pauline B. Camp, director of the department of the correction of speech disorders in the public schools of Grand Rapids, Mich., will have charge of work in corrective speech and Miss Mable L. Eichhorn, supervisor of physical education in the public schools, Ypsilanti, Mich., will be an instructor in the department of physical education for women.

DES MOINES PAPER OPENS CONTEST FOR STORY WRITERS

Des Moines, Ia.—Prizes amounting to $200 are offered by the Des Moines Sunday Register in a short story contest closing August 1. Competition in short story writing is open to any person in the state. The contest this year has two divisions, professional, for those who have sold original work to a publication of any nature, and an amateur division for those who have received no money for writing.

Last year of the twelve best entries in this contest, six were written by college students. Prizes in both sections are: first $100; second, $50; third, $25; and fourth, $10.

Further rules follow:
1. Any person in Iowa, except an employe of The Register and Tribune, is eligible to the contest, the only provision being that he state clearly whether he is competing in the amateur or professional division.

2. Stories must be limited to 3000 words.

3. They must be typewritten.

4. Write on one side of the paper only and number the pages clearly and consecutively.

5. At the top of each page write the name of the story and a pen name.

6. Send four typewritten copies of the story.

7. Accompanying them, send a sealed envelope containing your real name, your pen name, your age (if a minor) and your address. Enclose the four copies of the story and the sealed envelope together in one big envelope and mail, flat or folded, to Short Story Editor, The Sunday Register, Des Moines, Iowa. State clearly on the envelope whether you are competing in the amateur or professional divisions.

8. No manuscript will be returned.

9. All manuscripts must be in the office not later than midnight of August 1.

10. Judges will be Trumbull White, Virginia Roderick and Herbert Quick.

SEEKS BENCH POSITION

Oscar M. Torrison, Law '82, is Candidate in Chicago

Chicago, Ill.—Oscar M. Torrison, a graduate of the University of Iowa college of law in 1892, is one of the forty-two candidates for twenty positions as circuit court judge for Cook County in the election of Monday June 6. Mr. Torrison is said to have tried more workmen's compensation cases than any other judge in the state of Illinois.

He received a B. A. degree from Luther college, Decorah, Iowa. Eight years after his graduation from the college of law of the University of Iowa, he began legal practice in Chicago, where he was elected judge of the municipal court in 1906, and left that position in 1914 with a record of having left no case undisposed of, or under advisement at the end of his term. In June, 1920, he was elected by his associates as chief justice of the court and chairman of their executive committees.

THE R. O. T. C.

Spectators at Iowa Field yesterday must have gone away thoroughly impressed with the fact that the men of the University R. O. T. C. regiment which appeared in review and field demonstrations before Governor Kendall, are doing some serious and consistent military work.

Almost everyone concurs with the sentiment of "It must not be again," the recent remark of President Harding regarding the loss of life in war, but no possible objection could be made to the sound preparation for civil protection that these men are making. Primitive instincts readily bob to the surface. The race riots at Tulsa, Oklahoma, during the last few days with their attendant destruction of life and property, are striking reminders of the necessity of an organized protective force, and there have been times, and will doubtless be times again when nations will be called upon to fight.

Beyond that however, the R. O. T. C. has an essentially educational function. Soldiering demands control of self and to her men. Without weighing the inter-action theories of philosophical dualists, for all practical purposes the mind and body have to get along together. Military drill develops a coordination that makes for a maximum of harmony between them. Furthermore military discipline demands a measure of mental control, a power of will over impulse, that has a most wholesome and strengthening effect.

However much the men may grumble when weather is bad or the temper is sensitive, they may be congratulated in this opportunity to equip themselves to some extent for service to the state and nation, and to improve their individual characters.

LOVE, HONOR, AND OBEY

Common sense talk No. 1, would have been an appropriate caption over the speech uttered by Secretary Denby of the navy department in presenting commissions to the graduates of the naval academy at Annapolis on Thursday. Secretary Denby attained his experience through channels quite unlike those of the average Annapolis man so he was able to talk to them as a man with a different viewpoint in many respects.

"You must so conduct yourselves that your superior in rank will respect you, your equals love you, and those under your command obey you with a smile," the secretary is quoted as having said. "You must be officers, but no snobs. Your commissions are ill-bestowed unless you are free from a foolish vanity of rank."

One frequently hears a complaint against Annapolis and West Point to the effect that many of the graduates of those national academies are filled with a tremendous over-estimation of their worth. Only a few of these men are snobs; and it was against this minority that Secretary Denby was directing his common sense remarks. And credit him further with stating them in a manner that was gracious and generous.

Secretary Denby can be called a self-made sailor. He enlisted in the American navy as a sailor in the Spanish-American war and during the World War served as private, sergeant, and commissioned officer in the marine corps, so when he went on and told the new ensigns and lieutenants what he knew about the attitude of the private and the officer they must have listened to him with deep appreciation.

"No one knows better than I with what great respect the enlisted man looks on an officer who is 'every inch a man,'" he said. "No one knows better than I with what contempt the enlisted man views the officer who is unduly burdened with the weight of his own importance. The enlisted man will quickly size you up. He wants to respect you. He quite properly feels that he is too much a man himself to want to be commanded by one lacking any essential element of manhood."

A DOLLAR'S WORTH

The University of Iowa Association offers to extend the old subscription price of the Iowa Alumnus, University Alumni Magazine, at $1 to members of the present graduating class. It is a ridiculously low price, so low in fact that there is real danger that the Alumnus, and all that it can mean to a graduate of the University, may be overlooked.

Whoever has spent even so much as a year of his life in a place has a persistent and pleasurable memory of it, granting, of course, that it was a pleasurable spot at all. Men who were a year or two or more in the army, cursing it some of them all of the time, will travel for miles to exchange reminiscences with former associates, and there's never so remote an old home town, that its native does not long for news of it.

It is all very intimate now — the University, the campus, the friendships here, and it is easy to miss the fact that between today and yesterday is a constantly widening gulf. They are worth keeping, those memories and relationships, and the Iowa Alumnus is especially designed to keep them alive. A dollar is but a shame-faced evidence of Iowa loyalty.

THE PRESS IN PUBLIC LIFE

The newspaper of the present has been the target of a number of attacks from various outsiders. Some of these have been entirely honest and justified; others, of a more disgruntled sort, have been grossly unfair in their implications. There are newspapers, good and bad, and the best make occasional blunders, and the blunders are printed in black and white and published far and wide. In all of the criticism, kind and unkind, laid on the newspaper office's doorstep, one of the finest statements of newspaper ideals and the place of the newspaper in public life, comes from the late James Cardinal Gibbons. Cardinal Gibbons said:

"A vigilant and fearless press that will reflect and create a healthy public opinion, guided by the laws of justice and the spirit of American institutions, is the organ and the reflection of national thought, the outer bulwark of the rights and liberties of a citizen against the usurpations of authority and the injustice of parties, the speediest and most direct castigator of vice and dishonesty. It is the duty of the citizens of a free country not only to encourage the press but to cooperate with it."

BELLS

The American Committee for Devastated France is raising a fund to be known as the Angelus Church Bell fund, to supply church bells throughout the devastated areas of France. At first thought this seems foolish. At second thought it seems infinitely wise.

What is a church bell? In the life of the homely folk of the French villages it was everything. It called them to worship, to marriages, to festivals, and to the burial ceremonies of their dead. During the war most of those in the devastated villages were melted down. There could be nothing more prudent than their replacement. Nothing at a single stroke could better restore the life of a village than to return to it the voice of its bell.

There is a universality in the voice of a bell. Human kind is human whether in a rambling French village or in a university campus. It is a fair enough hope that eventually, perhaps through the agency of some who are going out now, the University will have its bell, one that will chime the hours, call its students to classes and convocations, sing them to sleep at nights, enter and live in the unnoticed corners of their consciousness, and hold them together with the unity of a single emotional experience.

Five Games Here for Basketball Team on Schedule Made at Chicago

Chicago, Ill., June 4 (Special to The Daily Iowan):—A twelve game basketball schedule beginning January 7 and running to March 6 was arranged for the University of Iowa for the season of 1922 at a meeting of athletic directors and basketball coaches held at the Auditorium hotel last night. The Iowa schedule includes five Big Ten games on the home floor. Director Howard H. Jones and Basketball Coach James N. Ashmore represented Iowa at the meeting.

Other Conference universities have schedules of corresponding size except Purdue which was able to arrange only nine games for the season.

THE SCHEDULE

- Jan. 7, Wisconsin at Iowa
- Jan. 14, Iowa at Minnesota
- Jan. 21, Purdue at Iowa
- Jan. 28, Iowa at Purdue
- Jan. 30, Iowa at Indiana
- Feb. 11, Iowa at Chicago
- Feb. 13, Iowa at Wisconsin
- Feb. 18, Ohio at Iowa
- Feb. 21, Minnesota at Iowa
- Feb. 27, Michigan at Iowa
- March 4, Iowa at Michigan
- March 6, Iowa at Ohio.

FANS LOOKING FOR GOOD TEAM

Seven "I" Men and Three "I-2" Men to Form Nucleus of 1922 Nine

By Vance McIlree

With the baseball season at an end, Iowa fans of the diamond sport are turning their attention to the possibilities of a winning team for next year, and it cannot be said that the outlook is not bright. Seven I men are left, Captain Michaelson, Locke, Becker, Voltmer, Shimek, Hurlburt, and Draper; three I-2 men, Frohwein, Wilhelm, and Dyke; and three men are lost by graduation and the three year rule,—Crary, Anderson, and Irish. The above ten men, left as a nucleus for next year, all have the advantage of at least one year's actual competition and barring accidents, such as kept Frohwein out, and ineligibility they will present a strong front sufficiently formidable to make the newcoming freshmen work to land positions.

The three positions left open by Irish, Anderson, and Crary, are short first, and center field, all of which have been well filled by the three veterans. From the freshman squad Eli Lewin looks the best fit to break in on the shortstop job. He is a youngster that knows the game and is full of life all the time. At first Paul Barton will fill Crary's shoes in a classy fashion for he is a fine biter and of the range type best qualified for the initial corner. In Anderson's place in centerfield there will likely be a three cornered fight between Wilhelm, Meder, and Canada. Wilhelm will have the advantage of varsity experience but Meder and Canada look to be sure fielders but a bit weak with the stick, a factor that is important in filling positions.

These three freshmen do not include others who will make bids for positions now held by varsity men. Barrett, the freshman captain, is the possessor of as good a throwing arm as could be desired and he can also hit. He will give Locke a lively race for the backstop station next season. Poepsel at second is not in Shimek's class as a fielder but his stick work makes him look like a comer, however Shimek's experience makes it difficult for a new man to break in. Wayland Hicks is also a good infield prospect but lacks experience. Hitting is his chief asset and it may land him a job next year. Other freshmen who are sure to be heard from are: Crawford, at short; Scanlon, first; Anderson, first, and Terry, outfield.

The Varsity is fortunate to have their pitching staff intact for next year. Becker and Voltmer, the leading pitchers this year are both sophomores as are Dyke and Wells. With one year's experience they should do much better next year. On the freshman team no brilliant lights have glittered in the pitching department. Cramblet has shown up the best but is very inexperienced. Dent, Hoeg, and Fabricius, the last a south-paw, are all excellent prospects. With the four varsity men and four from the yearling squad Coach Ashmore will have a busy time selecting the best bets for pitching assignments next year.

Taken all in all next year should bring better results than the team enjoyed this season. At the beginning of the year there was not a two year man on the squad, all being one-year men or newcomers. This may or may not have been the reason for some of the lost games but it is certain that the games lost at first were blamed on the inexperience of the pitchers but in the closing games it was the pitching that was the big factor in the playing. The big trouble was in their hitting, the men fell short of their ability and they were not consistent.

This number in small type in the upper right hand corner of the front page indicates that every subscriber of the Daily Iowan has received 198 papers for the school year. The staff has endeavored to give you a better paper, whether we have succeeded or not is a matter for you to decide. The Iowan should improve every year and personally I am convinced that the paper next year will be better in many respects than it has been this year, at least it should be. What I really want to say is this: Make up your mind now to subscribe to the Daily Iowan next year. Whether you return to the campus or not, subscribe. The universal patronage and support of the student body assure a successful student newspaper. Subscribe!

To those students who are leaving Iowa City permanently or for the summer, THE QUALITY CAFE and COFFEE ROOM wishes you the best luck. We hope to see many of you back again next year—

SENIOR BREAKFAST TO BE FIRST EVENT OF COMMENCEMENT

The first big event of commencement exercises will be the senior class breakfast which will be held at the Park next Saturday at 12 o'clock. Committees will have charge of the ticket sale in all the colleges this week. The price of the tickets will be seventy-five cents. Seniors can bring their guests to the picnic in case they wish to purchase extra tickets.

Immediately after the class breakfast the senior frolic will be held. This event is open to anyone who chooses to attend regardless of whether they are in the University or not. The committees in charge of the frolic will not make any announcement concerning the nature of the frolic before it takes place. This part of the commencement exercises was dropped during the war but it was held last year.

At eight o'clock Saturday evening an informal reception will be held for seniors at the home of President and Mrs. Jessup. On Monday June 13 the class day exercises will be held on the campus. Clyde H. Doolittle L3 of Delhi, class orator, will speak and music will be furnished by members of the senior class.

Tuesday morning at 9:30 the graduating exercises will be held. The address will be given by Reverend Mr. Joseph F. Newton of the Church of Divine Fraternity, New York City.

The complete schedule as announced yesterday is as follows:

- Friday, June 10
- 8:00 p. m.—Annual Graduating Recital, School of Music (Auditorium).
  - Saturday, June 11
  - 12:00—Senior class breakfast.

NEW YORK MAN SPEAKS JUNE 12

Reverend Doctor Jefferson Will Give Baccalaureate Sermon Next Sunday

The baccalaureate address this year will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Jefferson of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York City, in the natural science auditorium Sunday afternoon, June 12, at 4 o'clock. The Broadway Tabernacle is one of the largest Congregational churches in the United States.

The main part of the auditorium will be reserved for the graduates, but other persons may attend.

Doctor Jefferson is one of the leading speakers in the country today, and the University is very fortunate in securing so noted a person to speak at the baccalaureate services, according to Prof. George T. W. Patrick, chairman of the vesper committee, which has charge of the selection of the baccalaureate speaker. It was necessary to make arrangements for Reverend Doctor Jefferson a year ago in order to secure him for this address, as he is in great demand among the Universities of the East.

Prof. Gilbert G. Benjamin of the department of history, has heard Doctor Jefferson speak several times in the Tabernacle in New York, and several times as a vesper speaker at Yale University. "He is considered one of the finest speakers in the United States, being a very impressive lecturer, both intellectually and spiritually," said Professor Benjamin.

Doctor Jefferson was the first minister, not a graduate of Yale to be elected to the Board of Trustees of thrt institution.

Special music is being arranged by Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the department of music. A double quarter will sing two anthems and the congregation will sing several songs. The Rev. Dr. Jefferson was born at Cambridge, Ohio, in 1886. He has received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Oberlin College, Union College, and Yale. Ohio Wesleyan University granted him the degree of L. L. D. in 1905.

Doctor Jefferson has written many books among which are "Faith and Life," "Doctrine and Deed," "The Character of Jesus," "Why We Believe In Life After Death," and "What The War Has Taught Us."

GRADUATE STUDENT RECEIVES POSITION IN MUSICAL SCHOOL

Hazel M. Stanton, who will receive her Ph. D. degree at the June convocation, has been appointed as psychologist of musical talent at the new Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester, N. Y. The method of testing musical talent in an entirely new field, has never before been used in connection with a University.

This analysis and rating of musical talent at Rochester comes as a result of the suggestion given by Prof. Carl E. Seashore, dean of the graduate college, to President Rush Rhees of Rochester University. Professor Seashore was called to Rochester a few weeks ago to suggest to the board of control some scientific method to discover and classify talent. The board acted upon his suggestion and Miss Stanton was appointed to carry out his plans of discovering talent.

The Eastman School of Music was endowed last year with $4,500,000 by Mr. Eastman of the Eastman Kodak company. The school will open next fall. Several famous musicians will be members of the faculty. Provision has been made for free instruction of unusually talented children, who have no means of obtaining a musical education. It is the purpose of Miss Stanton to discover such talent in the city of Rochester, through an organized search in schools and homes. She will also aid in selecting and encouraging material for several bands, orchestras, and musical organizations of the city.

For the past year Miss Stanton has been an instructor in the department of psychology. She received her B. A. degree from the University of Nebraska in 1912 and her M. A. from the University in 1918. Miss Stanton has studied voice for seven years. She is a member of the honorary societies of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi

FINAL GAME OF BASEBALL SEASON BRINGS VICTORY FOR CHICAGO OVER IOWA

Iowa lost the closing baseball game of the season to the University of Chicago Friday by a score of 7 to 4. Becker started on the mound for Iowa but the Maroons hit his offerings hard in the fourth and drove in three runs. Voltmer took his place but the Chicago batters could not be stopped and three more runs were scored in the sixth.

Irish playing his last game for Iowa came through with one of the best games of his career at the short stop position. He played errorless ball and made one hit. Anderson in center field also finished, playing his final game for the Hawkeyes, and made two of the four runs in addition to making one hit.

Wilhelm and Locke got a pair of hits, one of the former's being a triple. Captain elect Michaelson also got a three base hit.

Chenick pitched a good game for Chicago and managed to keep his team out of serious trouble with the exception of the first inning.

Batteries: Iowa—Becker, Voltmer, and Locke. Chicago—Chenick and Yardley.

MCKAY AND JAHNKE ARE WINNERS OF THIRD CANOE RACE

Paul J. McKay S3 of Iowa City and Lovell Jahnke S3 of Muscatine won the third annual canoe race yesterday afternoon.

Fred Skinner A2 of Algona and R. M. Harris A2 of Sioux City placed second in the race, followed by D. Patterson S3 of Des Moines and A. B. Schump S3 of Iowa City who took third honors.

The eight canoes in the race were widely separated at the finish. A number of people witnessed the race from the two bridges and from the river bank.

The winners of first place were awarded gold medals by the Eels club. The men who place second and third were given silver and bronze medals, respectively.

Next year it is planned to make the race a part of a water carnival. Canoe races for women and men as well as swimming events will make up the program.

We Thank You

For a double reason we take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation to

for their patronage during the year now drawing to a close!

FIRST — Frankly, we're in business for the sake of business. We appreciate your trade.

SECOND — It unmistakably substantiates our theory that UNIVERSITY MEN appreciate a straight forward merchandizing practice based on the lowest possible REGULAR price consistent with QUALITY, rather than continuous SALES and SPECIALS with an almost daily fluctuation of prices.

Our practice has been, and will continue to be:

Best possible values.

Few or no SALES.

Same prices to all.

Reductions QUIETLY passed on to customers whenever received from wholesale houses.
