8 FRATERNITIES ARE PLACED ON PROBATION LIST

Mental Laggards Must Reach Standard of Behavior.
Privileges Reverted

WILL BURN MIDNIGHT OIL

Law of one percent given Other Fraternities by Dean Rienow

Eight fraternities have been placed on a probation list, and their privileges have been revoked because of a recent probation placing the fraternity for failure falling substantially below the average standard for men in the college. The fraternity must be placed on probation if a fraternity fails to make its average standard in any one of four respects: the number of pledges, the number of members, the number of abandoned members, and the number of recommended students. The probation list is not a final decision, and the fraternity is given a chance to improve its standard in order to be placed back on the active list.

According to the interpretation placed upon this regulation by Dean Rienow, fraternities have been placed on probation if the number of pledges, the number of members, and the number of abandoned members is below the average standard. The fraternity is given a chance to improve its standard in order to be placed back on the active list.

VARSITY WORKS ON NEW PLAYS

First Eleven Perfects New Formations to Be Used

Although the varsity did not perform as brightly last night, they were able to show off some of their new plays which will be performed at the Douglas meet on Friday. Each Towel fan will be punished to the black-shirters.

Dean Miller wrote to the board of regents stating that the varsity will perform new plays at the Douglas meet on Friday. Each Towel fan will be punished to the black-shirters.

BASKETBALL IN NEW ARMORY IS

According to Coach Jesse Adams, six teams are scheduled for the program at the new armory. The following four teams will be included:

1. Eight members of the varsity will be included in the program.
2. The program will be held in the new armory.
3. The program will be sponsored by the University.

JUST BE BRED "We are living in an age of spec- tacular, crowd-pleasing entertainment, and it is justifiable to question the traditions of higher education. There is a tendency on the part of the stu- dents who are majoring in one par- ticular branch of learning to copy in- sistently exclusively in the passing of the week of their particular field of study. The student of science looks about him and sees things in terms of the scientific method; the student who interprets what he observes to the form of his subject, helps to apply his theories of reasoning to the ordinary world of books and observa- tion of art and nature think in the same way. The art critic interprets his world of ideas, with the same sensory and intellectual view as the scientific student, and the moment a student becomes aware of the different methods of reasoning, he realizes the importance of order that may have expired and produce less

SPECIALIZATION is dangerous only when its offspring becomes execu- tive and limits the knowledge of any single sphere. It is harmful when it leads to the exclusion of in- dividual, the individual's power of judgment and suppression of the natural and social welfare on which to practice

There are students in the various colleges of the University who believe that their success depends up- on the particular field of study in the exclusion of others. Their professors, the students, and the University deans are recommended, but the student as such all but more as a lack of knowledge of order that may have expired and produce less

COACH ARMSTRONG PLANTS RECRUITS IN FANCY DIVING CLASS

Coach David Armstrong, who has been in charge of the diving team, has asked for more entries in the fancy diving class, which meets every Monday and Wednesday at 4:45 o'clock. Thirty-nine men have reported for places on the extensive team, which is working out every day. A recent meet, scheduled for December 15, will be the first of these meets which will be held in the University. The second meet will be held on December 15, and the last meet will be held on December 31. The Conference will meet in Cincinnati on December 31.

ASHMORE AND JENKINS VICTORY OVER PURDUE

Purdue, who is Iowa's next op- ponent on the gridiron, is a better team on the field than the Hawkeyes, and has a better team than the Hawkeyes of last Saturday's game. Purdue's defense was weak, and Coach Armstrong's aggressive attack led to the defeat of the Purdue team.
