

ELECT BOSSEN AS PRESIDENT OF IOWA BAND

An Executive Committee of Four Members Is Elected

SECOND BAND PRACTICES First Time University Band Has Had Definite Organization

The University band is now an organized body, as they recently elected a president, and an executive committee of four members, to function for the band. This is the first time that the University of Iowa band has had a definite form of organization, with student officers at its head.

Andrew Bossen of Battle Creek was elected president, and the executive council members named were E. G. Hammerschmidt of Harrison, Ark.; J. A. Rotten of Essex; C. F. Leese of Clinton; Glen Thompson of Belmont.

Have Control of Band
These officers have complete control of the affairs of the band as an organization. When any important matters are to be discussed the president may call a meeting of the executive council, or he may refer the matter to the whole band. It is now arranged so that the members of the band, through the medium of the president and the council, may decide whether or not they will play at any special time.

The band has turned the matter of raising the money to defray their expenses to the Minnesota game over to the Howlers 300. What course the Howlers will take to put the matter across has not yet been determined.

Members Selected

The completed list of band men selected to comprise the University band for the coming year is: J. R. Allebach of Iowa City, Andrew Bossen of Battle Creek, Edward Bohac of Cedar Rapids, B. B. Bailey of Pierre, So. Dak., H. L. Bolender of Northwood, C. A. Butler of Lake Preston, So. Dak., W. C. Bolender of Northwood, G. F. Croy of Marshalltown, E. C. Claus of Tripoli, R. A. Culbertson of Chariton, H. A. Coffeen of Decorah.

R. W. Forshay of Anita, F. L. Fitzpatrick of Iowa City, W. K. Grebbie of Clarinda, H. K. Grauel of Avoca, H. C. Gernand of Wadena, E. G. Hammerschmidt of Harrison, Ark., T. A. Hunter of Iowa City, Kenneth Jacobson of Perry, H. P. Jones of Richland, L. H. Koch of St. Ansgar, E. H. Kromer of Tripoli, C. E. Leese of Clinton, C. Loving of Perry, R. V. Morse of Belmont, P. J. McKay of Iowa City, C. L. Moler of Mapleton, J. B. Potter of Harland.

H. E. Pratt of Waukon, V. C. Price of Corydon, Geo. Parks of Marcelene, Mo., J. A. Rotten of Essex, W. I. Rotten of Essex, P. L. Rainer of Logan, J. B. Stoll of State Center, K. O. Shager of Dows, Walter V. Searight of Odebolt, Chas. Sullivan of Belle Plain, Fred Shore of Eldon, J. R. Stanton of Newton, R. L. Swenson of Ottumwa, R. W. Tenney of St. Louis, Mo., Glenn Thompson of Belmont, L. C. Welle of Pella, R. D. Watland of New Sharon, F. W. Witte of Sac City, F. L. Waley of St. Louis, Mo., E. R. Zacher of Clinton, Joe Bengel of Winterset.

Second Band Working

The second band now has a membership of thirty. Any one besides these who are interested in band work may report to Prof. Orie E. VanDoren for instruction with the second band.

UNIVERSITY MEN HOPE TO ELIMINATE BETTING

Columbus, O., October 28—A representative body of students at the Ohio State University recently took a definite stand against betting on intercollegiate athletic contests and pledged themselves to aid in making Western Conference sports clean.

Dr. J. W. Wilce, Varsity football coach, and C. E. Myers, football captain, both declared themselves greatly in favor of the movement now under way here to eliminate betting on the campus.

PURDUE IS CONFIDENT THAT THEY CAN STOP HAWKEYE BACKFIELD

Coach Dietz of Purdue University Refuses to Give Out Lineup for Today's Game.

The following article was written by S. F. Daily, sports editor of The Purdue Exponent:

Hoping for a comeback, the Purdue football eleven is ready for Saturday's game with the powerful Hawkeye aggregation. After a disappointing start against Wabash, the Boilermakers performed in such a credible manner in their game with Chicago that Purdue supporters were led to believe that the Lafayette team would play an important role in deciding the 1921 conference champions. But a week later the team put up such weak opposition against Notre Dame as to spread gloom over the entire campus and the outlook for the remaining games was anything but bright.

Squad Is Reorganized

Following the Irish contest the squad was entirely reorganized and at the present time letter men of previous years are on the sidelines. Two weeks of long workouts on Stuart field have worked wonders with Dietz's men, and the outcome of the Iowa game is a source of conjecture among the student body. It is realized that the Iowa team is one of the strongest in the country and that the odds are heavily against the Boilermakers, yet Purdue followers are not willing to concede the game to the Hawkeyes.

A feature of the contest today will be the fight between the giant Slater of Iowa, and Colonel Birk of Purdue. Many prominent sport critics of the west have intimated that Birk would make all-American on a winning team, and the struggle between these two men is the talk of the campus.

Developing New Defense

The past week has been devoted to developing a defense to stop Locke and Devine. Dietz's men stopped the offense of the Maroon eleven which proved so successful against Princeton last Saturday, and feel confident that they can stop the two Iowa stars. Coach Loan's freshmen varsity, using Iowa plays has failed to penetrate the Boilermaker forward wall, while on the offensive the varsity has shown more power than at any time this season.

Just who will take the field against the Hawkeyes is still in doubt. Coach Dietz has refused to give out even a probable lineup, and has announced that he will not pick his team until nearly time for the contest. Captain Carman and Miller, basketball fame, at ends, Birk and Claypool at tackles, and Swank and Spencer at guards, are doped as fairly certain to start the game, with the rest of the team uncertain. Walther, Weber, and Jones, are fighting it out for the center position.

Twelve Backs Out

With twelve good backfield men out, competition is keen. Williams, Watson, Rate, Macklin, Field, Meeker, Wagner, Geiger, Harris, Eversman, Murphy, and Kepple, are all expected to get into the fray, with Williams, Watson, Wagner, and Murphy, doped as probable starters.

Advance ticket sales forecast one of the largest crowds of the year and Boilermaker fans are pulling for a comeback. The slogan, "Beat Iowa", has been adopted and a great battle is expected when the two teams clash.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES IN OREGON HAVE HOMECOMING

A banquet of Iowa alumni was held in Portland, Oregon, October 15, at which sixty graduates who could not get back to Iowa City, celebrated Homecoming, according to a letter received here today. News of Iowa's victory over Illinois was received at 6 p. m. and that put lots of pep and fight into those who were there.

These western alumni are already making plans, in conjunction with the California alumni, to have Iowa's football team play out there during the Christmas vacation. They promise that all records for attendance at football games will be broken if the team is sent to the coast.

SEALS ELECT NEW MEMBERS

Eight Women Chosen From Thirteen Who Were In Tryouts

Eight women were voted into Seal's club, honorary organization for women swimmers, at a meeting of that organization last evening. The new members are; Edna Grimm A3 of Clear Lake, Genevieve Hansen A3 of Clear Lake, Katherine Farthing A2 of Creston, Alice Sherwood A2 of Creston, Charlotte Fiske A2 of Iowa City, Louise Benner A2 of Keokuk, Dorothy Harman A2 of Clear Lake, and Anne Boillin, instructor of physical education for women. The basis for membership was ability in diving, long distance swimming, and speed swimming. Thirteen tried out, of which eight were chosen.

Founded in 1919

The Seal's club was founded in 1919, after the women swimmers were defeated by the men in a meet. It was for the purpose of promoting better swimming, not only in the University, but also in the colleges and high schools in the state. Last year they promoted the high school meet for women swimmers, which was held here, in which the Burlington high school won.

The inter collegiate meet for women in which the State Teachers college at Cedar Falls was successful, was led by the Seal's club.

Officers

The officers of the organization are: Helen M. Hayes A4 of Iowa City, president; Mary Freeman A4 of Nocatee, Florida, treasurer; Gladys Taggart A3 of Spencer, secretary. A very successful year is expected for the Seal's club, according to Helen M. Hayes.

FOOTBALL FANS WILL MEET THE TEAM WHEN THEY RETURN SUNDAY

Arrangements are being made to meet the team on its return from Purdue. All plans have not yet been completed, but they will be completed by Sunday. A truck may be used to meet the team if it can be secured. Lloyd Burns S3 of Osceola is in charge of the preparations in the absence of John J. Dondore A4 of Iowa City, who went with the team.

Burns says, "A large crowd is expected Sunday to meet the team. It is probable that the team will be given a ride about the city, accompanied by the band and a crowd of loyal boosters."

The absentees, members of the team who were not present to make a speech, when they departed Thursday for Purdue, will probably be called on to make their speech. Duke Slater will be called on to "tell us all about it," which he promised to do when he got back.

The crowd will meet at Whetstone's corner at 3 o'clock and march to the station. The train will arrive at 3:41 o'clock.

All campus organizations are going to get all their members out to meet the team. A movement has already been started at the quadrangle, to have every member of that organization at the station. Currier hall and every fraternity and sorority will see to it that their little pledges are out.

Plans are only partially completed now, according to Burns, but more details will be announced in tomorrow's Iowan.

PURDUE PLAYERS IN POOR CONDITION FOR BATTLE WITH IOWA

Iowa's football team arrived in Lafayette shortly after 1 p. m. Friday. They ran through a light signal practice, in preparation for the game with Purdue this afternoon. Reports from Purdue are that a large crowd is expected.

Purdue has a last chance fight to make and all her efforts have been directed towards developing a team that will hold Iowa to a lower score than Chicago made. Several of their best linemen are said to be in poor condition, particularly Rufus Swank, left guard, and Birk, center and star of the team.

NURSES MEET HERE TUESDAY

Program Complete for the Three Days of the Convention

The Iowa State Nurses' Association will meet in Iowa City for its eighteenth annual convention next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, November 1, 2, and 3. One hundred and fifty or more nurses will attend, in addition to the Iowa City nurses, representing a total membership of 1,000 registered nurses.

In spite of this large membership, an increase of 250 over last year's roll, Miss Mary C. Harper, president of the association, and supervisor of nurses' training school of the University hospital, says "The demand for nurses has increased so tremendously that we cannot keep pace with it." This problem of training student nurses will draw important consideration before the convention.

Meetings of the convention will be held in the Methodist church. The Tuesday and Wednesday evening sessions are to be open to the public.

Tuesday Program

The program for Tuesday will include discussions of private duty nursing, in which Miss Francis Ott, director of the national association of nurses, and herself a private duty nurse, will take a prominent part. An automobile ride and a tour of the Children's and Psychopathic hospitals will conclude the afternoon's program. Philip G. Clapp, of the department of music will arrange a musical program, and Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger, of the history department, will contribute a lecture for the evening's session.

Wednesday's Program

Wednesday's special features will be a clinic at the surgical amphitheatre of the University hospital by Dr. Arthur Steindler, of the children's hospital, and demonstrations by the nurses: care of a newborn baby, by the St. Luke hospital nurses of Cedar Rapids; isolation technique or care of patients of contagious diseases, by the University of Iowa nurses; bed-making, by the Iowa probationers. Dr. Don M. Griswold will give the evening address.

Thursday's Program

Numbers of special interest in Thursday's program will be a lecture by Dr. Samuel T. Orton, director of the Psychopathic hospital, and a talk by Miss Aja B. McCleery, president of the state nurses' association of Illinois.

Frequent social functions, teas, luncheons, and an informal dance at the nurses' home on Iowa avenue, will be a part of the convention's schedule.

The local committee in charge of the convention includes: Miss Lola G. Yerkes, of the University extension division; Miss Helen R. Stewart, director of the school of public health nursing; Miss Blanche C. McGurk, Miss Stella Benard, Miss Lena Fremml, of Mercy hospital; and Mrs. Frank T. Breene.

Rooms have been reserved for the guest nurses at the Jefferson and Burkley hotels and more will be taken in at private homes.

Red Cross Convenes

On Monday preceding the opening session of the nurses' association, the American Red Cross nurses of Iowa will convene here under the direction of Miss Minnie Ahrens, director of nursing for the central division of the Red Cross. About sixty-five representatives of public health work, county and school nurses will take part in the co-operative instruction on public health topics. A banquet will be served at the close of the afternoon session and the evening meeting will consist of a demonstration "The health fairy."

TURN IN 'MATER' MONEY

All students who have been selling season tickets for the University theatre will please turn in all unsold tickets and cash returns from sales at once.

Students who have been selling single admission tickets for Mater will please report to Gregory Foley immediately.

Prof. Edward C. Mable.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS OF EVERY PLAY SENT FROM PURDUE GAME

Ball Moved on a Miniature Field As The Reports Come In From Game

Telegraphic reports of the Purdue game will be received in the men's gymnasium this afternoon. Arrangements have been made so that play by play reports of the game will be read before the audience in the gymnasium within a few seconds of the time the plays were actually made upon the field at Lafayette, Indiana. The reports will start about 2 o'clock.

Harold Chamberlin, University news editor, will dictate the accounts of plays, as they happen on the field, to a Western Union telegraph operator, who will flash the news to Iowa City by direct wire. The men's gymnasium has been connected by wire with the local office.

The report of each move of the two teams will be read before the Iowa fans and, to aid them in visualizing just what is happening, a large chart of a football field has been prepared. A miniature ball will be moved about on the field and every loss or gain of the two teams will be shown.

Prof. John J. Lambert and Prof. Edward H. Lauer will move the ball and read the detailed accounts of the plays.

All holders of "I" tickets will be entitled to attend the telegraphic report of the game. Those not having "I" tickets may gain admission by paying fifty cents at the door of the gymnasium. There will be no advance sale of these tickets.

Preparations have been made by the department of athletics for the accommodation of a crowd of 4,000. In addition to the chairs on the main floor, benches similar to those used at the basketball games will be set up around the sides of the room. The balcony of the gymnasium will be arranged to accommodate many more.

BURGLARY FAILS TO NET CRIMINALS THEATER CASH

Burglary, thought to be an attempted theft aimed at the cash receipts from the ticket sale for the production of "Mater" by University Players Thursday evening, failed to net any of the "Mater" proceeds to the unknown burglar or burglars since the money box had been removed from the scene of the attempt.

The money was in charge of Prof. Edward C. Mable, director of the University theatre, but he removed it from his office in the natural science building before leaving for his home. The burglary was discovered Friday morning when Professor Mable went to his office and found it generally disarranged, his desk damaged, and papers scattered. Persons responsible for the crime have not been apprehended.

The members of the sophomore commission have been entertaining the freshman women during the past week, for the purpose of enabling the freshman women to become acquainted, and also to select candidates for the freshmen commission.

The election of the new freshmen commission will be different from previous elections. Formerly the Y. W. C. A. cabinet elected eleven women from the freshmen class and these in turn elected nine freshmen women. This year each member of the sophomore commission is entertaining a group of twenty freshmen women, and each group selects two candidates for the freshmen commission.

The names of the candidates are submitted to the executive council of the Y. W. C. A. and the executive council elects twenty of the candidates to serve on the freshmen commission. The purpose of this new method of election is to provide for an impartial election and to promote class spirit.

HARRIERS TO TRY OUT FOR TEAM TODAY

Six Men Will Be Picked to Compete At Minnesota Next Saturday

TWENTY-ONE ON SQUAD

Gophers Have One of the Best Teams in Big Ten Conference

Cross-country tryouts for the team that will represent Iowa against Minnesota on November 5 at Minneapolis will be run at 4:15 o'clock p. m. today over the five mile course. Six men will be picked to make up the team but only the first five to finish will be counted in the scoring.

The cross-country team will leave with the football team for Minneapolis next Thursday night and will arrive there on Friday morning. Coach George T. Bresnahan and the team will be taken around the course in the morning, and in the afternoon the team will take a light workout. The run will start about noon Saturday, giving both teams a chance to see the entire Iowa-Minnesota game.

Men Lack Experience

Iowa's varsity cross-country squad numbers only about twenty-one men which is far too few to produce a conference champion. Moreover, the men all need to run in more meets as none of them have ever run in a conference meet, and but two or three of them have had any cross-country experience previous to the Cornell meet. The entire team needs seasoning as none of the men are as yet good judges of pace, nor have they shown any great amount of the race tactics that Coach Bresnahan has been trying to teach them. The past week ends the hardest period of cross-country training, as all efforts will now be bent on putting keener edges on the rough spots in preparation for the conference meet at Bloomington, Indiana.

Team of Veterans

Minnesota's cross-country team is composed of four veterans, all of whom have had at least two year's previous experience. Three of them were on the team that beat Iowa so badly last year, when Iowa had one man finish first and then waited while six Minnesota men trotted in before another Iowa man appeared.

Sweitzer probably is Minnesota's best runner. He has had two years' previous experience in cross country won the mile run at the conference meet last year, and is captain-elect of the track team.

Close behind Sweitzer comes Haverstad, captain of this year's cross-country team, who is running his third year on Minnesota's team. Moon is another three year man who was sick last year, but who is running in fine style this year. Two years ago he beat Sweazey in the mile run during the Iowa-Minnesota track meet.

Winters, the last of the four veterans, is a four year man as he ran cross-country as a freshman during the S. A. T. C. He is also a very good half-mile runner as Noll of Iowa barely beat him last year at Minneapolis in a race that was run in less than two minutes.

Much Interest Shown

With four such men Minnesota is bound to have one of the best cross-country teams in the conference as the other two men need not be as high grade. Minnesota teams have been trained to run bunched together and have won meets on that account as the team total is kept lower than it would be if the men scattered out. At Iowa last year four Minnesota men came in together with the other two a short distance behind.

Most of the schools in the conference are represented by strong cross-country teams and much interest is being shown all over the conference in the many meets that are taking place. Before the Iowa-Purdue game this afternoon there will be a cross-country meet between teams from Chicago and Purdue. Next Sat-

A SIGN POST

The success of a new University enterprise was assured Thursday evening when University Players presented "Mater" and introduced the University theater to the student body. It was more than a creditable bit of acting and more than an opportunity to gaze at a new stage curtain. It was a demonstration of the possibilities of student co-operation.

A few people who have been on the campus for many years say that it was an epoch-making event in the history of the University and that it was one of the greatest things that has happened on the campus. Such statements are doomed to meet with skepticism and those who make them will be casting about uncertainly when asked for an explanation. The answer is that united effort was in evidence throughout the entire evening. A union of all play producing organizations on the campus into a single great enterprise with the project of a scheduled production of all the major productions under a consolidated management and in a single theater, to sell seats for the entire program of eight plays for the academic year to any successful degree, and to gain the interest and patronage of the student body, seemed little less than a fevered dreaming of fantastic schemes to many who heard of its contemplation last spring. It has recently proved to be a reality. It was deserving of commendation in its beginnings; it is now deserving of congratulations in its success.

The meaning of it all is that University Players and the literary societies have combined efforts to promote better dramatics; a University theater orchestra has been introduced; and an audience that filled the theater was an assurance of undergraduate and of faculty interest in the enterprise. The passive and indifferent ones who attended will indulge in thoughtless criticism, wondering pityingly why anyone sees fit to attach anything of importance to the event. But the ones who marked it as the beginning of a new era in dramatics and student co-operation were probably the ones who had the greater foresight and vision as to what goes into the make-up of progress in the University.

Judging from the accustomed mode of travel that college men adopt when they "follow the team", Iowa City barbers will probably be mixing cold dust and massage cream next week.

MANUFACTURED PEP

Organized cheering, the thing that is urged by all students interested in the efficient generation of pep, has been attacked in an editorial in the Des Moines Register. After reading about the ordering of the segregation of men and women students at athletic contests at Northwestern University by the women's league, the Register concludes a rather extended comment in disparagement of organized as against spontaneous cheering as follows:

"But after all, why are college yells, and are the college cheer leaders keeping in mind the real purpose of college rooting?"

Northwestern's move was prompted by the fear that organized cheering was weakened, when men students were accompanied by women, because they were too much engrossed in one another to give the desired attention to either the game or the cheering. This, in itself, points out a lack of the right sort of spirit in the matter of pep and enthusiasm at Northwestern and one that is probably prevalent to some extent in other Universities. The comment of the Register, too, hints that it may not be in intimate relation with student affairs and customs and that it has selected the wrong point of attack on Northwestern and Harvard and other such institutions that have become concerned over organized cheering.

Organization is in a fit position to resent belittlement. Students are proud to work with one another intelligently and consistently in backing their teams; they want to do something and they find it more effective by teamwork; there is more grandeur and dignity and bigness about it. Political machines do not trust the chance ballot and the conquering army does not depend upon individual attacks. Organization protests its place in progressive ranks.

The man who called off his date last night at six o'clock while it was raining is to be treated with suspicion. Taxi fares are still threatening to clog the taximeter.

DEAN OF WOMEN SAYS FORENSIC WORK FOR WOMEN IS BENEFICIAL

"The forensic work afforded to girls through the literary societies is invaluable," Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, acting dean of women, stated yesterday in an interview. "The literary societies, while affording social and intellectual opportunities, is fundamentally forensic in function. Girls should have training along this line—they will have to do it in their business, club, and social work after they graduate, and the literary societies give a chance for practice."

All of the societies are taking up the study of dramatics for this year's program. Plays are put on at intervals during the year, and programs are given every two weeks. Each member is expected to appear in the programs when requested. This alone, Mrs. Burge says, justifies the literary societies. Each member is made to feel the responsibility of taking the part assigned and making the most of it.

Although women are barred from varsity debate, they have plenty of chance to try out their powers of argumentation in the inter-society debates. Mrs. Burge believes that every girl should be interested in debating to the extent of joining a literary society at the first opportunity.

MANY TICKETS HAVE BEEN SOLD FOR Y. W. BANQUET NOVEMBER 2

The sale of tickets for the Y. W. C. A. banquet, to be held at the Burklely hotel November 2, has been very successful, according to Melba Carpenter, chairman of the banquet committee. Already over a third of the tickets have been sold. No tickets will be sold after 5:30 Tuesday afternoon, and there will be no chance to buy tickets at the door. Any one who is going must have her ticket by 5:30 on Tuesday afternoon.

The decorations will be carried out in blue and the room will be lighted with candles. University songs and summer conference songs will be sung.

The toast program includes as speakers: Roberta Anderson A3 of Madrid, toast-mistress; Mary McCord A4 of Des Moines, president of Y. W. C. A.; Lydia Walker A1 of Des Moines; Biddy Prentiss A4 of Iowa City, president of the Women's student government association.

Miss Leslie Blanchard of New York City, who is the assistant executive secretary of the students' department of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., will be the principle speaker of the evening.

QUADRANGLE PHONES IN BY THANKSGIVING

Work on the installation of telephones in the Quadrangle will probably begin in about three weeks, according to Carl Cone, local manager of the telephone system, who will superintend the work. The switchboard to be put in the local exchange is now being made, and as soon as the first shipment of cable, which should be here in about three weeks, arrives, work will be started. The telephones should be in by Thanksgiving, if all plans work out well, said the manager. The contract which was signed last year specified no deadline, but asked that the telephones be installed as soon as possible, preferably during the summer months.

A telephone will be placed in each room at the dormitory, according to plans drawn up by Secretary W. H. Bates. Wall phones will be installed, and each will be directly connected with the local exchange. The Quadrangle is the first large dormitory of any of the western universities to undertake to put a telephone in each room.

MANY MEN OUT FOR THE GYMNASIUM WORK

"University men do not realize that the gymnasium team is as much a form of athletics as football or basketball," said H. E. Briceland, coach of the team. "The scholastic requirements for eligibility apply just as much to the gymnasium team as to other forms of athletics, and letters are awarded at the recommendation of Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men," he said. Twenty-eight hours' credit, is the requirement for eligibility on the team. "T-G" is the letter that is awarded.

Many Freshmen Out

"Freshmen candidates who go out for the gym team are excused from the regular gymnasium classes," said Coach Briceland. The candidates work out from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock each afternoon on the floor above the locker room. Thirteen new men have reported and are working out under Coach Briceland. They are: J. C. Hollister, B. M. McCagg, Arthur Riner, M. L. Mills, H. H. White, Ralph Bowman, O. D. Hulse, W. E. Adams, David Shaw, Jas. M. Stewart, V. L. Barta, O. G. Schirm and H. A. Wyllie. R. Plato will be out as soon as the track season closes.

Veterans Out

Treynor, Leimer, Kohrs, last year's men, are getting into form rapidly. Working with them are Baily, Reimers, Sindelar, Nicoll, last year's freshmen. "The gymnasium team will participate in the conference meet to be held at Wisconsin in March and dual meets will probably be scheduled," said Coach Briceland.

SOCIETY

Hoover-Starbuck

A wedding of recent interest is that of Mrs. Letty Hoover to Arthur D. Starbuck, son of Prof. and Mrs. Edwin D. Starbuck, which took place October 21 in Sacramento, Calif. The bride's mother was the only attendant of the young people.

Starbuck was graduated from the University high school and attended the University of Iowa for one year, after which he enlisted in aviation. During the war Starbuck was in the school of aviation at Kelly Field, Texas, and has the honor of receiving the highest grade ever given to anyone at that school. He was commissioned a lieutenant and was waiting to go overseas when the war closed.

Since he has been in California he has been testing out planes and has been consulted as an expert in his line. Mr. and Mrs. Starbuck are now located in Oakland, California where he is continuing his work in aviation.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Delta Theta fraternity entertained at a Hallowe'en dancing party at the chapter house last night. Mr. and Mrs. J. Sprout and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Paddock were the chaperons. Cahill's orchestra furnished the music.

Kappa Omega

A dance was given at the Kappa Omega house last night. Pumpkins and cornstalks added a Hallowe'en touch to the decorations. Rich's orchestra of Iowa City furnished the music. The chaperons were Miss Catherine Mullin and Mr. and Mrs. Hornell Hart.

Sigma Nu

A Hallowe'en dance was given at the City park last night by the Sigma Nu fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aurner were the chaperons. The pavillion was prettily decorated in Hallowe'en colors. Music was furnished by Johnnie Wrights' Hawkeye Five.

Psi Omega

The Psi Omega fraternity entertained at a dancing party at the chapter house last night. Sultzter's orchestra of Iowa City furnished the music. Pumpkins and gold and black crepe paper gave the natural Hallowe'en effect to the decorations. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore were the chaperons.

Lillian Filean will entertain the active alumnae members and pledges of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority at a Hallowe'en costume party, Tuesday evening, November 1, at the Mad Hatter's tea room. Decorations will be in black and yellow against a background of ferns and chrysanthemums. A three course luncheon will be served at ten o'clock. Out of town guests will be the Misses Dorothy Donohue of Storm Lake, and Marian Davis of Scranton. There will be forty guests present.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will dance at the Majestic Saturday evening. Professor and Mrs. Klingman, Professor and Mrs. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Armbruster will chaperon.

"HER WINNING WAY"

belief in the educational value of foreign travel. Professor Bush says that such a trip forms a splendid supplement to a University training, and under the proper circumstances may be worth as much as a university education.

Professor Bush's party numbered seventeen besides himself. Mrs. Bush and her daughter Millicent, Lela Trager, Reba Kelly, Harold Townsend, Sara Cox, Mrs. Larimer, Mrs. Julia McKibbin, Emma Wesely, and Margaret Young are members of the party now in Iowa City. They made a three months' trip, seeing much of the Orient and Europe, as they visited Palestine, Egypt, Syria, and then, traveling through Greece, Italy and France, came back through England. With this arrangement of the trip, they were given a picture of the whole history of mankind in one great sweep, from the Bible times to the results of the recent world war. Several of the students in the party received University credit quite deservedly, says Professor Bush.

Trip Cost $1525 Each

The party found that steamship rates are much higher, but railway transportation, meals, and other expenses are lower than in America, due to the high exchange value of American money. This is most apparent in England and in Italy, where prices are very low. In Oriental travel a party saves much expense, as the individual tourist would be overcharged at every opportunity. The entire trip for each member of his party, Professor Bush said, was $1,525. The party took the Temple tour, that of a company located in Boston, which sent out 800 tourists this last summer.

The temptation to buy in both the Orient and Europe is very great, as tourists may obtain many rare things at far lower prices than in America. In one instance, for example, Professor Bush said that fine Venetian lace cost about one-tenth what it would in America.

When asked what he thought about the cost of traveling in another year, and other conditions in the near future, Professor Bush said that he thought steamship rates would increase but that other expenses could not.

Big Party, Big Tips

In the Orient, Professor Bush's party joined another group, making forty-nine in all. This, he says, is the most practical plan, as a large crowd gets much the best service in Oriental travel. In large numbers tourists command the respect of the natives and obtain the best service in hotels, trains, and steamships. In fact, the party was able to hold up ships and trains several times, and was deferred to in many ways. In Oriental travel the party is always accompanied by a dragoman to take charge of all details of travel.

Finds Conditions Better

"The Turk's hand is off in the Orient, declared Bush, "with a consequent improvement in travel conditions, lower taxes, more food, and less misery in general." Professor Bush did not find many noticeable changes in Europe except in the region where fighting actually took place. Of course this region is of great interest to the tourist. All over Europe the middle classes have been hard hit but the condition of the working-man has been much improved. Hence, fewer beggars are found. As Professor Bush was in Europe just before the war and in 1918-19, he has had a good opportunity to compare conditions.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG "CHARGE IT!"

Dedicated to All Women Who Don't Realize the Value of Money

"CHARGE IT" is pulsating, absorbing, throbbing, fascinating. It holds the mirror up to life. It is smart, colorful, lavishly produced. It brings forth the greatest acting of Clara Kimball Young's long career; this splendid photo drama in which she portrays four distinct characters,—the modest housewife—the nurse—the woman of wealth and the bedraggled broken down dishwasher in the cheap restaurant. It is dedicated to millions of women who don't realize the value of money. It is a beautiful story, beautifully told. DON'T MISS IT. It is one of the ultra smart pictures of many seasons.
