ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM WILL BE IMPRESSIVE

Tentative Plans Made By Committees Last Friday Night

WILL NOT PARADE

Frank F. Miles Will Be Principle Speaker of the Day

Nothing has been done to change the plans for the Armistice day program which were drawn up at the meeting of the committee of the various organizations Friday evening. Mr. Lou E. Clark, chairman of the American Legion said yesterday, "All plans for the Armistice day parade have been abandoned, the Legion thinking it best not to hold a parade, as it would be necessary to stage it early in the morning, and the military department of the University doesn't favor asking the cadets to take part in another parade now."

Program To Be Impressive

The armistice program at present consists of an impressive ceremony expressing the significance of the day, to be held in the natural science auditorium at 9:30. At the meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. club rooms, tentative plans for the program were decided upon. The program will probably begin with a prelude to be played by the University orchestra, and will be followed by the invocation by Rev. S. E. Ellis. Lieut. Col. Morton C. Muma will give an introductory speech and act as master of ceremonies. The committee of the student council will endeavor to have President Walter A. Jessup give a talk on the college man in the war and the Silver Star club is planning to have Prof. Steven A. Bush give a talk on the conditions he found in Europe. H. M. Clark of Audubon, Iowa, is to make an introductory speech preceding that of Frank F. Miles of Des Moines, who is the final and principle speaker of the day. Following the speeches the University Glee club will render several selections, closing with the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the University orchestra. This will be followed by the American Legion services.

Legion to Hold Services

The Legion services will consist of prayers, benediction, and taps. Rev. Joseph H. Odonnell, pastor of the Saint Peter and Saint Paul church of Cosgrove, and chaplain of the local post, will conduct the services.

The final meeting of the committees is to be held Wednesday, November 2, at the Y. M. C. A., club rooms. Definite program and arrangements will be decided upon at this meeting.

The services as planned will express the reverence and significance of this commemorable anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, November 11, 1918, which marked the end of hostilities in the world war.

TWO YEARS OF COLLEGE WORK NECESSARY FOR PHARMACY

Minneapolis, Minn., October 30;—Havoc is being created at the college of pharmacy by the new state law requiring a minimum of two years of college training as a prerequisite to taking the examination for registered pharmacists, according to Dean F. J. Wulling.

Previous to the enactment of this law one could work in a drug store several years and then take the examination for registered pharmacists. Now, however, one must take two years of college training in order to be allowed to take this examination. The result has been overcrowded conditions.

Building accommodations are no longer available for all those who wish to enter and according to Dean Wulling many have been turned away. He also says that there are one-third more students than the building was intended to accommodate.

COMPLETE PLANS TO MEET TEAM THIS AFTERNOON

Arrangements have been completed for meeting the Hawkeyes on their arrival from Purdue, this afternoon. A truck which will be decorated with the Iowa colors, has been secured to bring the team up town from the station. The team will probably take a ride about the city during the celebration.

Speeches will be made by several of the team who did not talk before they left for Lafayette. Captain Aubrey Devine will be called upon to say something and Duke Slater has promised to tell the crowd all about the game.

All campus organizations are asked to have a full membership out to meet the team on their arrival from the first game on foreign soil.

Everybody will meet at Whetstone's corner at 3 o'clock and go in a body to the station, according to Lloyd Burns S3 of Osceola, who is in charge. Burns says a large turnout is expected due to the fact that this is the first game away from home.

A poor turnout when the team left for Purdue should insure a good crowd when they return. Everybody is expected to be out rain or shine to meet at Whetstone's at 3 o'clock to welcome home the team.

FORD WILL LECTURE ON "THE MODERN TELEPHONE"

"The Modern Telephone" will be the subject of a public lecture by Prof. Arthur H. Ford, head of the department of electrical engineering, next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be held in the liberal arts auditorium.

This lecture by Professor Ford will be given under the auspices of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific organization of the University. Professor Ford was president of the local chapter last year, and this lecture will be the address of the retiring president which is given each year.

The subject is one which will be of general interest to a large number of people. Few realize the great advances that are being constantly made in the improvement of the telephone and in the economy of its construction. The invention of the multiplex telephone, which makes it possible to carry on more than one conversation on the same wire at the same time, without those talking having any knowledge of conversations other than their own, has meant a great saving in the construction of lines. Professor Ford will explain in his lecture how such a situation is possible and will also discuss the transference of conversations without any lines at all. He is also endeavoring to arrange to receive a wireless telephone message from Davenport or some other city, transmitted to the lecture hall and to have the receiver so adjusted that the audience will hear the message directly.

The apparatus is similar to that used by President Harding in addressing various audiences throughout the country while still remaining in the White House. It has also been used in Europe in transmitting opera music. A large audience in Sweden recently listened to an entire opera which was being given in Berlin in the same evening.

Everyone interested is invited to hear the lecture, according to the officers of Sigma Xi.

DR. LIVINGSTON FARRAND INAUGURATED AT CORNELL

Ithica, N. Y., October 30;—As the aftermath of the impressive exercises at which Dr. Livingston Farrand was inaugurated fourth president of Cornell, the formal inaugural dinner welcoming the new president and Mrs. Farrand to their new surroundings was given by the trustees and faculty of the university in the Old Armory last evening.

From 650 to 700 delegates, distinguished visitors, alumni, faculty members and their wives, were present at the dinner, without doubt one of the most brilliant social events ever held at the university. Coming after a day of strenuous academic ceremony, the banquet was a fitting conclusion to the festivities attending the inauguration of Cornell's fourth president.

IOWA STAR

AUBREY DEVINE

After pushing the ball within the Purdue ten yard line on two occasions, and failing to go over for a touchdown, Aubrey Devine, captain and quarterback of the Iowa team, made one of the most sensational runs ever seen on Stuart field when in the third quarter of the game he caught McKenzie's punt and ran thirty-three yards for a touchdown. Employing his twisting run known so well to Iowa football fans, Aubrey passed every man on the Purdue eleven, a fact which brought everyone in the stands to their feet in applause.

LACK OF COOPERATION BIGGEST FACTOR IN SLACK LABOR LAWS

Professor Ensign Traces History of Compulsory Education in New Book

The biggest factor retarding the progress of legislation against child labor and for compulsory education has been the lack of cooperation between the two forces, according to Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the college of education, in his book on "School Attendance and Child Labor", published recently.

In his book, which has been submitted toward attaining his degree of Doctor of Philosophy, he traces the history of the development of child labor laws and compulsory education laws in the states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. These states are not to be considered as typical of the progress in all the states, but they are used as the standard to which it is expected the more backward states will attain in a few years.

Labor Organizations Help

The organizations which have done the most to promote legislation against the exploitations of children by poor parents who need their children's wage and by selfish employers who considered child labor profitable because cheap, have been the labor organizations. These of course were more interested in restriction of child labor than in laws compelling children to go to school. Another important influence has been the attitude of the New England states toward the principle of government in their early history. Then it was not a feeling of sympathy which prompted legislation in behalf of education, but rather a feeling of state paternalism which made the state seek to stand in the place of delinquent parents.

Children Must Be Educated

Legislation compelling attendance at school has been resisted long through the belief that it was a restriction to the personal liberty of the parents, but Professor Ensign shows us that this belief has been almost entirely overcome. Now there are laws over most of the United States forbidding employment of children under fourteen years of age and compelling them to remain in school until they are sixteen if they are unemployed. It appears that in the future all children will have to complete eight years of school if they are normal before going to work, and continue in school part of the time for two or three years more.

Professor Ensign has received various and complimentary requests for his book from labor and education leaders, among them being Samuel Gompers, president of American Federation of Labor. Professor Ensign has been president of the state conference of social workers, and has been interested in the subject of his book for many years.

SOCIAL SERVICE ASKS FOR VOLUNTEERS TO ENTERTAIN INVALIDS

The social service department of the Y. W. C. A. at the University is calling for volunteers who can perform in any way for the people in the institutions under their scope, or who can spare an hour or so a week to teach or entertain the invalids at the University or Perkins hospitals, according to Gertrude Lynch A4 of Ottumwa, head of this department.

At least thirty volunteer teachers are still needed to teach one or two hours a week at the Perkins hospital for crippled children; one hundred to visit the sick in the University hospital at least one hour a week; and any number to take part in entertainments to be put on at Oakdale, the home for tuberculosis patients, at the Old Ladies Home, and at the Children's and University hospitals. "Don't be modest about offering your talents, because these people are not critical and appreciate anything you do", said Miss Lynch.

The social service department expects to include 200 workers when the positions are all assigned. The department is composed of six committees, with chairmen who are members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. These are Gladys Taggart A3 of Spencer, chairman of teaching at the Perkins hospital; Agnella Gunn A3 of Sioux City, chairman of entertainment at the Perkins hospital; Dorothy Middleton A4 of Eagle Grove, chairman of entertainment at the Old Ladies' Home; Ethel Loonan A4 of Hudson, chairman of entertainment at the University hospital; Marcia Norton A4 of Fremont, chairman of entertainment at Oakdale; and Viola Lake A2 of Iowa City, chairman of employment for University girls.

The committees on entertainment work with like committees of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment at the Perkins hospital is a new undertaking and consists of the putting on of one number between the movies at the hospital every Friday night, a program given every Sunday afternoon by University students, and of entertainments for special holidays during the year. Programs will be given at Oakdale every two weeks. The performers will go out on the 4:30 interurban and return at 7:30, and will be furnished their lunch and carfare both ways. Programs will be given at the Old Ladies' Home once a month. Twelve girls have been appointed chairmen of the different wards at the University hospital by Miss Loonan, and each ward chairman needs seven girls to visit her special ward an hour a week. The duties of these visitors will be to read to the patients, or write letters home for them, or just to talk to them.

Get-together meetings will be held by the department during the year. The first one, held last Wednesday afternoon at the Alpha Chi Omega house, consisted of reports and appeals from the committee chairman, and the enthusiastic response from the girls present, will probably mean a broader work carried on by this department than in any year previous. Girls who wish to help are urged to notify Miss Mary I. Bash, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., or the committee chairmen, according to Miss Lynch.

IOWA DEFEATS PURDUE 13-6 IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

REPORTS SHOW BALL IN PURDUE TERRITORY FOR THREE QUARTERS

First Quarter

Purdue won the toss and A. Devine kicked off with Purdue defending the south goal. Murphy received the ball on his 15 yard line and returned 15 yards. Meeder and Murphy hit the left side of the line for first down in three plays. Iowa's center held Wagner for no gain.

Iowa was penalized 5 yards for off side giving Purdue their first down in the middle of the field. The officials conferred and penalized Iowa more, placing the ball on Iowa's 45 yard line. Wagner made 5 outside Thompson. The ball was brought back 5 yards. The ball was moved to get it out of the way of a puddle of water in mid field. A pass from Rate to Miller was completed for a short gain.

The ball was carried back 5 yards more on account of the puddle. Rate punted to Iowa's 30 yard line. A. Devine made 5 yards inside right tackle, but the ball was called back. Locke failed to gain. A. Devine punted to Rate, who fumbled, and Belding recovered on Purdue's 37 yard line.

Locke Receives Injury

A. Devine made 7 yards off tackle, and Locke drove through the line for another 6 yards. A. Devine made 2 yards outside Iowa's left end, and one the next play he made 2 yards outside Slater. The Purdue line held Locke for a 2 yard gain. Locke was hurt on this play but returned to the game. A. Devine failed to make first down in a try around Belding, and Purdue took the ball on their own 14 yard line.

Rate punted low, and A. Devine recovered on Purdue's 43 yard line. A. Devine carried the ball 2 yards through Slater. Birk stopped A. Devine for no gain, but the play was called dead. A. Devine made 2 yards in a drive through Birk. On the third down, with 5 yards to go, A. Devine ran outside for first down on Purdue's 31 yard line.

A. Devine made 7 yards. On the next play the right side of Purdue's line held A. Devine to a 1 yard gain. Locke hit the line for 3 yards, and was injured. Locke was carried off the field by four Iowa men. Anderson was substituted for Locke. On the next play he went 2 yards through center. A. Devine's drop kick was blocked, and Purdue got the ball on their own 20 yard line. Heldt stopped Rate for a 1 yard gain. The center of Iowa's line held again. Rate punted to A. Devine, who returned 10 yards to Purdue's 43 yard line.

Pass Scores Touchdown

A. Devine made 1 yard, and Anderson 2 yards. A. Devine ran outside of Purdue's 43 yard line for first down. Claypool stopped Anderson for a 2 yard gain on the next play. The Hawkeyes took time out. The Boilermakers were penalized 15 yards because one of their coaches talked from the side lines. Devine made 2 yards. A pass, A. Devine to Kadesky, netted 8 yards. The first quarter ended with no score for either team.

Second Quarter

A pass from A. Devine was completed by Belding, who carried the ball over for Iowa's first touchdown. A. Devine kicked goal, making the score 7 to 0 in Iowa's favor. A. Devine kicked off to Wagner of Purdue, who fumbled, but recovered the ball and ran outside on his own 27 yard line. Iowa was penalized for holding, and Purdue got the ball on their own 40 yard line. Wagner made 2 yards through Slater and Belding, but Heldt made up for it by throwing Purdue for a 1 yard loss on the next play. Israel, of Purdue, was substituted for Geiger. Wagner ran outside of Slater for 2 yards.

Rate was unable to punt on account of a bad pass, and attempted to run, but was downed for a loss. Iowa then took the ball on Purdue's 44 yard line, and A. Devine made 2 yards on the next play.

MUDDY FIELD STOPS SHIFT FORMATIONS OF BOTH ELEEVENS

Iowa defeated Purdue yesterday thirteen to six, in one of the hardest fought games played on Stuart field. The Iowa line which has opened holes for the backs against every other team struck a line that would not move. Even "Duke" Slater was forced to extend himself to equal Birk of Purdue, who held Iowa's big tackle nearly even. The fighting powers of the Purdue line were best shown when on the three different occasions they held Iowa for four downs inside their own ten yard line. On defense Iowa's line held well except in the last quarter when Purdue, with the aid of one fifteen yard penalty and several first downs made their touchdown; and then the Iowa line held for three downs with the ball inside the two yard mark.

Field Covered With Water

With Locke injured in the first quarter and the field a swamp of mud and water, Iowa was laboring under heavy disadvantages. The loss of Locke was felt when the Iowa team had the ball close to Purdue's goal line and lacked some one with the punch to put it over. Moreover the Iowa attack which starts from a shift must have been slowed up by the muddy field.

Stuart field was a pool of water from the rains that started falling Thursday and continued until Saturday, although attempts were made yesterday to get enough water off the field to permit the two teams to play. Men with buckets started dipping the water out of a low place on the field near the South goal posts, while a drainage ditch dug from the center of the field to the East side took off part of the water. This ditch got in the way of the play on one occasion and the ball had to be moved away from it. The Purdue cheer-leaders in front of the West stands were wearing hip-boots. Time had to be taken out on one occasion to allow Referee Birch to wipe the mud out of his eyes.

A. Devine Stars

Standing out clearly above the rest of the men on the team, Aubrey Devine was easily the star of the day. His judgment of plays could not have been better as he outguessed the Purdue backs on at least three occasions with his kicks on first down that went over the heads of the Purdue backfield keeping them on the defensive throughout three quarters of the game. His punts have never been better placed as one of them went out on the three yard line and another on the five yard line. He was the only Iowa man who could gain consistently and his return of a Purdue punt for thirty-three yards and a touchdown was the greatest play of the day, even remembering Wagner's run of thirty yards around Belding. The first touchdown was a direct result of his well placed passes to Belding and Kadesky. He tried two dropkicks but one was blocked and the ball was two wet and heavy on the other occasion. His play yesterday marks him as one of the greatest quarterbacks in the West if not in the whole country.

Bad Pass Spoils Chance

A fumble and a bad pass spoiled one of Iowa's best chances to score. With the ball on Purdue's two yard line and one more down, Aubrey fumbled a bad pass and Iowa lost the ball on downs.

The big crowd that was expected did not show up on account of the rain and few spectators saw the contest.

Just before the game started the cross-country race between Chicago and Purdue which was run over a short course, finished in front of the stands with seven Purdue men coming in before a single Chicago runner appeared.

ONCE AGAIN

Iowa wins again! The Hawkeye team will soon convey the impression to other conference teams that Iowa has had some hint about a title that is passed around among conference teams and that has the peculiar habit of following the one that goes through a season without losing. Other teams indisputably expect to hang it on their walls to pass the coming winter and summer; they will begin to suspect Iowa of entertaining like intentions.

But, win or lose the title or share bids for it with other Big Ten teams, Iowa will do the one thing that her standards call upon her to do. She will fight to win, but she will win not to gloat over her victories or to flaunt chance titles; she will fight because that is a part of her make-up. No team is licensed at the present time to count the title as one of the chickens in this season's hatch. The season is not over. The thing that Iowa will do and the thing that she should do is to fight, to play her best game, and to carry her honor and sportsmanship all the way through the season.

GENTLEMEN AND STUDENTS

The McGill Daily concludes a very thoughtful comment on the matter of courtesy in college life especially as it is concerned with conduct in the library, by an unfortunate line that reads as follows: "College should make us gentlemen first, and after that, students."

This savors quite clearly of the general type of thing that people commonly are willing to accept as true; acceptable because little importance will be attached to it either way, true because its lack of importance will prompt none to question its truth. But it suggests another matter—and here is the beauty of the above quotation—one that we might otherwise not stumble onto but yet is significant, the fact that being a college student need not interfere with being a gentleman and one need not precede the other.

The politician is met with bribes, the lawyer is tempted by the juggling of words and details and intricacies, the tradesman is narrowed to trade, the professional to a profession, and the poor are separated from the rich. College might be construed to be a sort of fairyland where the easiest thing is to be gentlemen, democracy exists, social privileges are restricted to no certain faction, and there is no premium on courtesy or politeness or honor or fellowship, all this if—the students make it so.

The McGill Daily will probably not urge upon us the idea that it is the purpose of a college to make gentlemen of us first; we can not be gentlemen without being students and we can not be students without being, to some degree at least, gentlemen.

THEY'RE LOOSE AGAIN

This is the open season for initiations. Here and there through the stilly hours of the night may be seen lone figures wandering toward town, besmeared with molasses, bookbinders' glue, unspeakable eggs, plaster of paris, dye, lard, fly paper, and all manner of commodities not generally used as cosmetics.

Their muscles ache, and they reek of the odor of liniment. They have burning recollections of the thwack of paddles. But in their breasts is the glow of satisfaction. They've gone through it, and better days are ahead.

Every manner of man, from the Hottentots to plutocrats, has a weakness for joining things and getting initiated. Before it happens, he is curious to know what it's like. While it's happening, he wishes he hadn't been so curious. After it happens, he is a proud personage—he's stuck to his guns and taken his medicine.

College students are no exception to the rule. The one who can stand most, feels himself more self-confident. There is no point to this subjecting of initiates to personal inconvenience for a few hours except to try their souls. They are always the better for it.

Don't frown and think the younger generation is insane, older folks. Next thing you know, you'll be joining the Xantippe club or the society of Red Skulls and riding the goat yourselves. We're all alike.—Ohio State Lantern.

IOWA KEEPS BALL IN PURDUE'S TERRITORY

(Continued From Page One) for 3 yards. Claypool held A. Devine to a 2 yard gain. A. Devine then punted over Purdue's goal line. Rate failed to gain around Thompson and Kadesky. Wagner's attempt at Slater and Belding netted 1 yard. Eversman went in for Murphy of Purdue.

Wagner Makes Long Gain Rate punted short and Minick recovered the ball on Iowa's 68 yard line. A. Devine went 1 yard off right tackle, and on the next play made 2 yards more. A fumble cost Iowa 1 yard. A pass from Aubrey to Glen Devine was incomplete. A. Devine punted outside on Purdue's 5 yard line. Instead of punting Wagner ran outside Belding for 30 yards, taking the ball to Purdue's 33 yard line.

Iowa's line held on a line buck play. Thompson stopped Eversman for a 1 yard gain. Rate then punted to A. Devine on Iowa's 36 yard line who was downed in his tracks. A. Devine punted over the heads of the Purdue backs who were caught off their guard. The ball was downed with no return on Purdue's 17 yard line. Abrahamson was substituted for Rate.

Meeker failed to gain through the line. Eversman ran 3 yards around Thompson. Meeker hit the left side of the Iowa line for 3 yards, and a first down. Slater spilled Abrahamson for a 2 yard gain on the next play. Eversman made 3 yards more. The Purdue runners fell down in the mud and lost 3 more yards. Eversman slipped as he prepared to punt, and was downed by Duke Slater. Purdue lost the ball on downs and Iowa took it on the Purdue 17 yard line.

A. Devine lost a yard on an end run. Macrae was substituted for Shuttleworth. The left side of the Purdue line again stopped A. Devine. Iowa was penalized 5 yards. Meeker made 2 yards around Iowa's left end. A. Devine made 2 yards off right tackle. A. Devine then attempted to drop kick from the 30 yard line, but the ball, heavy with mud and water, sailed under the bar. Purdue held the ball on their 20 yard line.

Anderson broke through and tackled Eversman for a 1 yard loss, on a play around left end. Meeker lost a yard around Iowa's right end. G. Devine stopping him. Purdue was penalized 5 yards. Meeker made 4 yards through the line. First half ended with the score, Iowa 7; Purdue 0.

Third Quarter

McKinsey was substituted for Eversman. Geiger was substituted for Israel. Shuttleworth was put in. A. Devine received the kickoff. On the first play he punted over the heads of the Purdue backs. Purdue took the ball on their 15 yard line. McKinsey failed to gain on a play against Iowa's right tackle. Wagner made a yard gain outside Slater. Reported that Locke was not seriously injured.

McKinsey punted to A. Devine, who returned 10 yards to Purdue's 30 yard line. A. Devine made 3 yards over Slater, but the play was called back and Iowa was penalized 5 yards. Anderson made 5 yards through the line. A. Devine failed to gain outside Thompson. A. Devine ran around Purdue's left end for an 8 yard gain. On fourth down, with 2 yards to go, A. Devine made 3 yards. Ball was then on Purdue's 18 yard line. Ransdel substituted for Geiger.

Ball Lost on 1 Yard Line

Anderson hit the line for 3 yards. A. Devine was stopped by Wagner, after gaining 3 yards. A. Devine made 3 yards over Slater. Referee Birch took time out to wipe the mud from his eyes. A. Devine ran 5 yards around Purdue's left end, making first down on Purdue's 5 yard line. The left side of the Purdue line stopped A. Devine for a gain of a yard. A. Devine made 3 yards over Slater. Anderson failed to gain. Poor pass from the center resulted in a fumble, which was recovered by A. Devine, but Purdue took the ball on downs on their own 1 yard line.

McKenzie punted to Purdue's 35 yard line. Anderson made a yard through the line. A pass from A. Devine to Belding was incomplete. Another pass to Belding was incomplete. A. Devine then punted to the Purdue 3 yard line, where the ball went out of bounds, the punt being placed perfectly.

Iowa Again Held

On a fake punt, Purdue was stopped by Heldt for no gain. McKenzie punted to A. Devine, who returned 7 yards. The ball was then on Purdue's 24 yard line. A. Devine made 4 yards outside right tackle. Anderson hit the line for three yards. A. Devine skirted right end for 5 yards, making first down, with the ball on Purdue's 8 yard line.

Devine Makes Second Touchdown

A. Devine made 4 yards off Iowa left tackle. A. Devine fumbled on the next play, but the ball was recovered by an Iowa man only 2 yards from Purdue's goal. Anderson carried the ball to the 1 yard line, and on the next play A. Devine failed by only a few inches to carry the ball over on an end run around Iowa's left end. Murphy was substituted for Miller. McKenzie punted to A. Devine, who received the ball on the 33 yard line and returned it, wriggling through the whole Purdue team, for a touchdown. Kerr was substituted for Murphy. A. Devine failed to kick goal. The score was now Iowa 13, Purdue 0.

Spencer kicked off to Minick, who fell on the ball on Iowa's 37 yard line. A. Devine kicked over the Purdue backs to Wagner, who fumbled, but McKenzie recovered for Purdue. The third quarter ended with the ball on Purdue's 20 yard

THE DESIGN OF HIS CLOTHES BY COASTS'

An artistic arrangement of line can make an art composition of a suit of clothing as well as of a drawing. The design or "cut" of a suit as it is commonly called should have unity and balance.

Lines that are abrupt or that lead nowhere are irritating, but a smooth sweep of line is a satisfaction to the eye. When design is considered most men need to be treated as individuals rather than as a type or class. More can be learned about becoming lines from consulting a full length mirror than from studying a fashion plate.

The proportion of each figure should decide the fashion of the suit, regardless of whether it is strictly in accord with the latest mode.

The man with the extreme figure, thin or stout, short or tall, wants to adopt the cut of clothing which will not accentuate such characteristics or attract attention to his shortcomings.

Broad stripes, large plaids or conspicuous patterns accentuate the short stout figure and makes it look grotesque, while long unbroken lines and pin stripes are equally unbecoming to the man of unusual height and slenderness.

The eye follows the prevailing direction in the line of a suit and the principle therefore should be to carry the eye away from defective proportions of the figure. If you are "hard to fit" consult the experienced, careful clothier and rejoice in the result which your full length mirror records.

Know a Man by His Clothier.

LANDLORDS ARE NOT ONLY MEN WHO MAKE MONEY

Ann Arbor, Mich., October 30;—Butchers and President aren't the only ones making money in this world, if we are to judge by the incomes of several others who may not be so high in the social scale.

No one knows exactly how much Jack Dempsey has cleaned up in the two years that he has been walking around with the champ belt but one can gather an idea by totalling the following estimates:

Willard fight, $27,500; Miske fight, $55,000; Brennan fight, $100,000; Carpentier fight, $300,000; Moving pictures, $400,000; and Theatrical work, $75,000. Total, $957,500.

Divide that by two—that means about half a million dollars a year for Jack Bust 'em, in the two years he's been champ.

Harry Vardon and some of his associates are estimated to make between $50,000 and $75,000 a year. Babe Ruth socked close to $150,000 in 1920 and should do better this year. Willie Hoppe doesn't do anything but play billiards. Instead of filling the coffers of Huston Brothers he makes a neat little pile of something like $75,000 a year doing it. Frankie Robinson, the jockey who was killed while riding a few years ago, was only 21, yet he left an estate of about half a million.

Jess Willard annexed close to a million dollars while champion. For more than 10 years Cobb's earnings have been around $25,000 annually. Benny Leonard has made close to half a million. And most of them amassed these fortunes before they were 26!

Schuttinger, Cotilletti, Kummer, Penman, Butwell and a score of other jockeys made between $10,000 and $40,000 in the saddle for a season's work. Ted Sloan, the greatest jockey that ever straddled a horse, made well over $2,500,000.

So why train your boy to be a mere President? Let him go in athletics and he may be worth a fortune at 21—maybe.

NO ARRESTS MADE IN ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

No arrests have been made but several good clues are being followed, according to Prof. Glenn N. Merry of the department of speech, and it is possible that the man or men who attempted to burglarize the office of Professor Mabie after the production of "Mater" Thursday evening will be under arrest within a short time.

Evening Slippers are as Dainty as the Minuet Itself

The dance may vary with each new season, but the desire for daintiness remains unchanged in the feminine heart.

And, while the older generation looks with suspicion upon the mode of maidens of today, we secretly feel that there's a bit of envy because they did not have such delightfully dainty slippers to encourage shorter skirts, when they were young.
