THREE SECOND STRINGERS ON VARSITY TEAM

Kriz, Anderson and Miller Replace Regulars on Eleven

TEAM'S MORALE DROPS

Hawkeyes Face Hard Game At Minneapolis Next Saturday

Coach Howard H. Jones, disappointed in the showing of the team against Purdue Saturday, started this week's work with the longest signal drill that has been given the squad on any Monday this year. There were three new faces on the first string, as Kriz was in for Mead at right guard, Miller was at left halfback in place of Shuttleworth, and Anderson took Locke's place at fullback.

The men who were replaced all ran signals on the second string until late in the evening's practice, when they were called over to the first string and given a chance at their old places. The change is not a final one, as the men who were moved up will have to earn their new places by hard work. The poor showing made by the regulars in the game last Saturday, when they allowed an inferior team to out-fight them, is the cause of their banishment to the scrubs.

Devine Brothers Played Well

With the exception of Aubrey and Glenn Devine, the entire Iowa team was overconfident, and they went to Purdue with their heads in the air, arguing how many of them would be on the all-conference team and who amongst them would make Camp's all-American team. They did not realize that Purdue has a good team. After the game started they found that they were up against a team whose strength they had underestimated and that their own morale was not right for them to show the proper kind of fight.

Line Failed to Hold

The most glaring faults appeared in the line and some of the worst offenders were the men who are supposed to be the best players. They stood in their places, or shifted listlessly, and let the lighter Purdue line take their feet right out from under them. The great driving right side of the line could not move the opposing linemen enough to allow a backfield man to gain a yard and a half for another touchdown.

In the center of the line, where Heldt usually plugs up all the holes, the Purdue linemen opened big gaps for their backs, who fell through for gains of five and six yards. With backs far inferior to what Iowa's are Purdue was able to get away with a long run around one of the Iowa ends because they caught him asleep, while the best that Aubrey Devine could make was five or six yards, because he was not given the right kind of interference.

Tacklers Failed

Competent observers say that there were only two Iowa men who played football, the Devine brothers. The rest of the backs tried to tackle by tagging the runner; and seemed surprised when they did not stop them. They failed to touch the secondary defense when Iowa had the ball.

If the Iowa team does not brace up and play the kind of football they are able to play, they will not come through the season with a clean slate. A return to the kind of football that they played against Purdue may mean defeat in at least one of the three remaining games. Neither Indiana or Minnesota are teams that will let bush-league football beat them. While Minnesota was defeated last Saturday, they held one of the best teams in the conference to seven points in the first half. Unless Iowa beats Minnesota as bad, or nearly as bad, as Wisconsin did, her claim for the conference championship will be gone, and in order to beat them that bad Iowa will have to play good football.

Minnesota Will Fight Hard
Next Saturday's game will be the Homecoming game for Minnesota.

THE BAND AND ALL CRIPPLED PLAYERS WILL SEE GOPHERS

The band and crippled football players will go to Minnesota for the game Saturday. The Howling 300 and O. I. C. have decided to make Wednesday the big tag day when everybody on the campus is expected to buy a tag, to "Boost Iowa at Minnesota."

According to John J. (Barney) Dondore the tags will be sold for twenty-five cents but anything up to $100 will be accepted. If every student gives twenty-five cents no one will need to give $100.

The announcement of the exceptionally low rates made by the Rock Island railroad, last night, changed the minds of the doubtful ones. One of the largest crowds of Iowa fans that ever watched the team play away from home is expected at Minneapolis Saturday, and this Iowa crowd at the the Minnesota Homecoming, would make a poor showing without the band.

THEY COME OUT BY THE DOZENS AT UNIVERSITY BAKERY

"Witches and black cats don't scare me but they do make me extra work," declared "Dick" Richardson, University baker, yesterday morning as he pulled a batch of twenty-one dozen doughnuts out of the oven. The batch was just one of his special orders and was baked to accommodate a Halloween party.

The University bakery which was started last January for the purpose of supplying various University establishments with better bakery goods at more moderate prices is turning out an average of 800 loaves of bread daily, besides a large amount of pastry.

Many Buildings Supplied

The Quadrangle, Currier Hall, Nurses' Home, University Hospital, Children's Hospital, Psychopathic Hospital and the Convalescent home are the establishments supplied by the University bakery. The bakery is under the direction of the department of stores and supplies and employs three men, one of whom is kept busy delivering the material which his partners bake. "Dick" Richardson, who has been in the bakery business since his youth, is the head baker, while his brother William, is his assistant.

In the making of pastry hand work plays a larger part in the process than in the making of bread where the dough is touched only once by the bakers.

Quality Sought

"Dick", the baker, declared that the Quadrangle boys are fond of cookies and require an average of 100 dozen cookies per week to keep their sweet teeth satisfied.

"Quality rather than quantity is sought in the University bakery," says Mr. Richardson. "We make the goods as pure as it is possible to make them and charge the various establishments a minimum price, that is, a price sufficient to cover only the cost of production plus the overhead expense."

"Visitors are always welcome here but if they want to see the whole show they should come about 5 o'clock in the morning," were "Dick's" final words.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TAKE PART IN MINSTREL REVUE

Ten University students took parts in the "Minstrel Revue" a comedy and musical attraction given last night under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus at the Engler theatre. "The Minstrel Revue" was produced and directed by Jamie W. McIver. Those who took character parts were Margaret A. DeNio A2 of Iowa City, Mercedes McEnany A1 of Iowa City, Lehan T. Ryan L2 of Winthrop, and Mike Dalton A3 of Manson. Arnold J. Hand L2 of Lyons, Edwin Goen M2 of Manchester, and Theodore Olson took part in the musical numbers.

The entertainment was opened with a selection by the Varsity orchestra. The Revue was divided into eight episodes composed of popular music, brief farces, scenes from China, and circus stunts. The attraction will be staged again tonight.

'MATER' THIEF IS STILL AT LARGE

No Arrests Have Been Made Yet But Investigation Continues

The whereabouts of the criminal responsible for the attempted theft of some $500 from the desk of Prof. E. C. Mabie's office in the natural science building Thursday night, October 27, have not been ascertained as yet, according to Detective O. E. Carroll, of the American detective agency, who has charge of the case.

"No arrests have been made as yet," Mr. Carroll said, "but we are making progress on the investigation and hope to have something definite soon. We have several good finger prints taken from the desk and other articles in the office which we know to be those of the party or parties who attempted the theft."

State Agent Called

Detective Carroll called in State Agent Harry J. Passno, of the Bureau of Investigation, State Department of Justice, a finger print expert, to assist in the case. Mr. Passno arrived Friday night and during Saturday secured excellent photographs of the finger prints on the articles in Professor Mabie's office. He also secured the finger prints of all the people who had any connection with the play or who in any way might have known of the presence of the money or been in the office Thursday, simply as a means of elimination. The fingerprints of which the photographs were taken are thus known to be absolutely those of the guilty party.

Typewriter Also Stolen

Among the tools used to gain entrance to the desk were a knife, pair of scissors and a horseshoe, some of which were obtained from the desk of the librarian in the library annex in which Professor Mabie's office is located. Incidentally, on this same night, an Oliver typewriter was stolen from Prof. Glenn N. Merry's office, directly adjacent to Prof. Mabie's as well as $3 in change from the desk of the librarian in that room.

The desk which was mutilated by the perpetrator of the crime was a massive golden oak roll top desk which was brand new, having only been installed in the office the day previous. The desk was cut up and damaged so as to be of no further use and the office left in a state of disorder.

Reward Offered

"A liberal reward is offered for information leading to the arrest of the guilty party or parties," Detective Carroll stated, "and the rights of the reward will be protected." Any parties who have any information whatsoever on the case may either present it to Detective Carroll at 300 Johnson County bank building or to Prof. Glenn N. Merry, room 201 natural science building.

SUMMER SCHOOL DIRECTORS WILL HOLD MEETING HERE

Prof. Charles H. Weller director of the summer session returned recently from a meeting of the Association of Summer School Directors which was held at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Twenty-five of the leading Universities of the country were represented at this meeting. Among them were Boston, Harvard, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Cornell, Michigan, Indiana, and Washington. Professor Weller was Iowa's representative.

Each of the other twenty-five universities sent one representative to this conference. The assembly voted to hold the next meeting at Iowa. According to a ruling of the association to the effect that the representative of the university at which the meeting is held be made the secretary for a period of one year, Professor Weller will hold that office for the present term.

Dean J. E. Lough of the University of New York is the president of the association.

The object of the association is to bring the several universities into contact with one another and to plan as far as possible anything that would tend toward the betterment of the summer sessions of the colleges that are represented.

FANS MAY HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

Plans Will Succeed if 125 Men Sign for Trip to Minneapolis

Hawkeye fans will travel to the Iowa-Minnesota game by special train, if the negotiations between Howard H. Jones, director of athletics, and H. Breene, general agent for the Chicago Rock Island railroad becomes a reality. It will provide that 125 will sign for the trip. The special will leave Iowa City Friday evening, arriving in Minneapolis about 7 a. m. Saturday and will leave there Sunday morning arriving at Iowa City Sunday evening.

Director Jones said, "Mr. Breene has wired to divisional headquarters for a special train and also has endeavored to get either a one and a half rate, which would be $18.65 for the round trip or the half rate which would bring the round trip down to $12.45."

Replies Favorable

Mr. Breene made the statement yesterday afternoon, that he had received favorable replies and that he expected a definite reply some time today. It hasn't been customary for the railroads to allow the students special rates when traveling to conference games, since the government management, but Mr. Breene feels quite hopeful, as the roads are getting back to some of their former customs.

Director Jones would be in favor of the plan of having the athletic board contribute funds to take the band, but in a statement yesterday said, "The Big Ten conference rules prohibit the athletic board from providing money for such expenses." A plan of interest to the students is that of the Howling 300 to raise sufficient funds to send the band to the Iowa-Minnesota game.

Howling 300 Plans Fund

"Barney" Dondore said last night "The Howling 300 is planning on raising the necessary funds through the cooperation of the various school organizations. Minnesota made a 100 per cent showing last year at Iowa's Homecoming by sending a special train with Gopher rooters and the band." Iowa is going to show the enthusiasm of the undergraduates, which mean so much to a winning team, and the Howling 300 will raise the funds to take the band, according to "Barney" Dondore.

Two hundred tickets for the Iowa-Minnesota game are now available at the athletic office in the men's gymnasium and 400 more have been reserved at Minneapolis. Coach George T. Bresnahan has charge of the sale of tickets, and is desirous that those planning on making the trip purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

SPECIAL RATES MADE FOR IOWA-MINNESOTA GAME

Harry D. Breene, city passenger agent for the Rock Island lines, announced last evening that he had just received a wire from the General Passenger Agent, advising him that a round trip rate of $10.80 has been made for all who wish to attend the Minnesota game next Saturday. A special train will leave Iowa City about 8 o'clock Friday night, arriving in Minneapolis early Saturday morning, and the return trip must be completed before Monday, November 7.

Mr. Breene said, "This low rate is a great surprise to the officials here as it is the lowest special rate offered at this station in the last ten years." Further arrangements and definite time of departing will be announced later.

WILL NOT GO TO COAST

The Men's Glee club is going to play a more active part on the campus this year according to Hubert H. Matt L2 of Iowa City, business manager of the Glee club. A number will be given at the Armistice program by the Glee club. The members also hope to help with the singing at football games and other athletic events and at the pep meetings. This will not detract from their regular programs.

The trip of the Glee club which will be taken at Christmas will not be to the coast because the Christmas vacation is too short.

TRYOUTS FOR "BEYOND THE HORIZON" WILL BE CONTINUED THIS WEEK

The Irving and Erodolphian literary societies held tryouts for the play, "Beyond the Horizon," Saturday, and Monday afternoon and evening, and will continue with the tryouts the rest of this week. Mrs. W. R. Hart, who has charge of the work, will hold the tryouts from 1:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon, and from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

The tryouts are held in Close hall. Each person will be tried out alone and then with a group.

"Beyond the Horizon" is the first folk play that will be presented by the societies. Eugene O'Neil, the author of the play, is also the author of "Gold," "Different," and "Emperor Jones." The latter is playing in Chicago at the present time. "Beyond the Horizon" is a tragedy of misfortune. There are nine members in the cast.

Prof. E. L. Ullman, head of the department of Latin and Greek says of Professor Capps: "He is one of the leading Greek scholars in America and a special authority throughout the world on the subject of "Greek Comedy" on which he will lecture here." The lecture is intended particularly for advanced students in Latin and Greek but is open to others who may care to attend. During his stay here Professor Capps will be the guest of Professor and Mrs. Ullman.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Comes the suggestion that we may have a special train to Minneapolis for the Iowa-Minnesota game. This announcement makes one rather comfortably proud of the fact that his University is doing things, that the students have the right sort of pep, that it is up and going.

All universities and colleges are subject to one ailment, that of thinking that one's own particular institution is the only one that is doing things; a great many of them are subject to a second, that of thinking it is doing things on a much grander scale in a certain year than they were ever done previously. The prescription for these failings is to realize that the other fellow is continually feathering his own nest and that some one feathered your nest for you were ready for your first flight.

The news that Iowa is interested in backing the team to the extent of personal attendance at the game Saturday is gratifying. The following article of twenty years ago which was printed in the Minnesota Daily will show that Iowa was not withering away in the class room before we arrived on the campus.

"All Iowa is coming!
"The Burlington road offers a $5 rate from any part of the state, and a record attendance is expected. The Iowa management ordered 1,000 reserved seat tickets."

After Saturday's experience the athletic department may see fit to include in their equipment such things as bathing suits, swimming caps, and rowboats.

WHERE'S THE GREEN CAP

There is something rotten about the green cap business. It is getting to be an alarming thing to see a freshman with a green cap, alarming because so unusual. There is an old saying about never taking a bite if you can't swallow or not starting a thing that you can't finish. The green cap idea has not been carried through to its contemplated conclusion; one might explore the region of unconventional but otherwise convenient and highly expressive terms and say that the thing has fizzled.

If Old Capitol should topple over or our campus should be inundated we might give these matters some little consideration and concern, but we are apt to pass the green cap into the pigeon-hole where dust habitually gathers regardless of the fact that it carries with it an equal significance. Our treatment of the distinctive headgear for freshmen, meaning as it does a possibility of a tradition, is a measure of our college spirit.

At the first of the year we made, speaking aquatically, a big splash, but splashes are not the stuff of traditions. We indorsed the green cap on every corner of the campus, organizations approved the idea, we whispered about the worth of traditions, we hinted what we might do to the freshman who saw fit to avoid the ruling. It is our job to hoe our corn after it is planted.

If the freshmen do not want to wear the caps, make them do it—several ways might be suggested; if the upperclassmen are not interested, we should make it interesting for them; if green caps can not be bought or obtained otherwise, start a factory, get some green paint, cut those we already have in two, or use Paris green, but in some way make it possible for the freshmen to have a speck of green instead of the checkered brown cap or brown hat.

We can not take this matter too seriously. We are showing ourselves up shamefully if we are not able to support what we were pleased to propose as a tradition at Iowa.

TWENTY-THREE SOCIAL REGULATIONS WILL CONTROL ACTIVITIES OF STUDENTS THIS YEAR

The list of social regulations, just issued for publication, clearly defines the "do's" and "don'ts" of student behavior for all times and upon all occasions. The list includes old rules, new rules, revised rules, and revived rules. Rule number one is an old stand-by, stating that all students shall regulate themselves according to the usages of good society. Rule thirteen is a distinctly new one. It states that it is considered a misdemeanor for students to hold dancing parties on Sunday. Other rules have a familiar ring, such as the stipulation for chaperons on swimming parties, the twelve o'clock hour for the closing of parties, and the fact that all parties have to be registered and approved at least two days before the date of the party. A complete list of the rules and regulations is given here.

1. The University expects all students to conduct themselves according to the usages of good society. Failure in this respect will be considered a violation of social regulations.

2. All evening parties must conclude by 12 o'clock, midnight, including time for refreshments. This does not include the four formal parties enumerated in Rule 9.

Parties Must Be Chaperoned

3. All parties for both men and women must be chaperoned, the official chaperons to be selected from the approved list, and reported to the Dean of Women at least two days before the date of the party. A chaperon must be present throughout the time of the party.

4. Dancing parties may be given and attended only on Friday and Saturday nights, or the night preceding a holiday, except by permission of the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs.

5. The Freshman party shall be in every respect an informal party.

6. All evening dancing classes shall be interpreted as parties.

7. It is the sense of the Social Committee that if any swimming parties are planned to be participated in by men and women students, or by women students alone, or if swimming in the Iowa river is planned to be a part of other picnics or parties, notice of the same shall be filed with the Dean of Women, and proper chaperons provided.

8. Freshman women may take evening social engagements only on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This rule should not be interpreted to prevent attendance at an entertainment given under the auspices of the University or at a play at which late leave is granted. Special privileges for the second semester may be granted by petition to the Social Committee on a scholarship basis.

Four Formals This Year

9. There shall be only 4 formals when dancing will continue till 1 o'clock. These shall be the three class dances, the Senior Hop, the Junior Prom, the Sophomore Cotillion and the Military Ball.

10. It is a misdemeanor for an undergraduate young woman to remain out after 12:30. Chaperons are required to report such cases to the Dean of Women except as covered by rule 9.

11. If a girl stays over night at some house other than her own, she must do so with the permission of her chaperon.

12. It shall be a misdemeanor for any young man escorting a young woman home to remain at her place of residence later than the closing hour for callers.

13. It shall be considered a misdemeanor for University students to participate in dancing on Sunday.

14. Fraternities and similar organizations may not entertain young women at their houses without a chaperon reported at the office of the Dean of Women. In case of impromptu dinner parties or similar entertainments duly chaperoned the chaperon may be reported at the office of the Dean of Women later than the time at which the party is given.

15. No person shall serve upon any committee having in charge any University social function, unless he shall have satisfactorily completed at least twenty-four (24) hours of college work during the preceding year; or who shall have against him any probation or disciplinary penalty incurred during either the academic year or the summer session; or unless he shall be carrying successfully not less than fourteen hours. This regulation does not apply to members of the freshman party committee, who must be approved by the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs, and who must show evidence that they are doing satisfactory work at the time of their appointment.

Committee Must Be Approved

16. No committee shall be permitted to have charge of any University social function unless such committee shall have been approved by the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs.

17. No organization connected with the University is permitted to hold any social entertainments with a view of raising money to be divided among its members. All committees having in charge University social functions, at which any admission fee is charged, shall before preparations are made for the same, submit to the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs a budget of all anticipated receipts and expenditures, which budget must be approved by the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs. Within one week after such social function has been held, the committee having the same in charge shall make a complete report of receipts and expenditures, with satisfactory vouchers, to the Chairman of the Board of Audit. Any profits accruing from such function shall be turned over to the Treasurer of the organization as a whole and for the purpose for which the organization was established.

18. No fraternity, sorority, or other student organization may permit any person not a registered student or employee of the organization to live at the house controlled by the organization without the permission of the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs.

19. Every chapter shall, through its president, file with the office of the Dean of Women or Dean of Men, as the case may be, a statement of the disposition made of their chapter house during the vacation periods, and this statement shall contain the name of party or parties officially responsible therefor.

Chaperons Required

20. Groups of students organizing as local clubs, for the purpose of later securing a charter from a national fraternity or sorority, shall maintain themselves in good standing for at least two years before applying for such charter. Exceptions to this rule may be made in favor of honor organizations. Approval of the Committee on Social Organization must be obtained for the National Organization for which they are petitioning.

21. Social functions of any nature given by students and held outside of Iowa City are not permitted except by permission from the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs.

22. Official chaperons are required to file with the Dean of Women an official card provided for that purpose for any social function which they have been asked to chaperon. Rules and regulations made by the Committee on Social Organizations and Affairs are always in force and are not voided by holidays or vacations.

23. It is the judgment of the Social Committee that picnics or automobile trips of individual couples should be discouraged.

BAND AND FANS WELCOME THE VICTORIOUS HAWKEYES

A crowd of 2000 met the Hawkeyes on their return from Purdue Sunday afternoon. The band met at Whetstone's at 3 o'clock. From there they led the fans and the Howling 300 to the station.

Shortly after the crowd arrived at the station it began to rain, threatening to interfere with the program that had been arranged. Everybody stayed during the rain and were more than entertained by the band. The rain ceased before the train arrived and the crowd gathered up so close to the cars that it was almost impossible for the team to get off.

After the crowd came up town John J. Dondore A3 of Iowa City, who was with the team spoke. He said, "Iowa showed up very well considering the conditions under which they had to play. The field was so wet that it was absolutely impossible to play good football. At times the use of imaginary lines were used. Dondore also asked everybody to do all they can to send the band to Minnesota Saturday. The crowd was disappointed at not having more speeches.

ADMIRABLE CRICHTON WILL BE GIVEN TWICE BY HEP-ZET PLAYERS

"The Admirable Crichton," written by James M. Barrie, the annual Hep-Zet play will be given two nights, November 17 and 18. The number of season tickets that have been sold up to this time according to Professor Edward C. Mable totals 500. The rate that the season tickets have been selling and the demand that will be met by the individual admissions necessitates the second night performance. At the production of "Mater" many people who wished to see the play, failed because all the good seats were taken. The plan of playing two nights will insure all of a good seat.

The cast for "The Admirable Crichton" are hard at work the direction of Prof. Edward H. Lauer of the German department.

This year makes the fourth successive year that Professor Lauer has coached the Hep-Zet play. Professor Lauer played in the production of "The Admirable Crichton" when he attended the University of Michigan.

TROUBADOURS ON RAMPAGE

The midnight stillness was settling down upon the fraternity house. Nothing could be heard but the occasional snores of the brothers as they lay peacefully, conscious that the next day's lessons were already prepared.

Here and there upon an upper berth a freshman rolled restlessly, upper berths because of that honored custom that old men must have lower berths; restlessly, because of the complexity of University life (or is it the hardness of the bed?). Suddenly a wail broke the stillness, then more wails—then silence. Then a cry rang through the night! It grew louder and louder. Moans, shrieks and cries prevailed, or was it only the howl of a pack of dogs on the corner fighting over a bone? The superior sprang from his bed and his cry of alarm rang through the house. Hastily donning bathrobes, and armed with books, paddles, and bed slats, and pushing the heavy-weight brothers at the head, a thorough survey of the house was made. Still the cries were heard increasing in volume—and now dying seemingly into the distance.

"Pledges, don clothes, and get outside! Don't come back until you find out what that ungodly noise is," spoke the superior.

Time flew, the pledges returned, filed upstairs, and quietly undressed. "Well, who was murdered?" thundred the superior!

"Aw, murdered nothing," came the grumbling reply. "Only a bunch of frat boys serenading Currier hall."

BASKETBALL MEN TRY NEW FORMATION BUT SECONDS BREAK IT UP

Coach James N. Ashmore drilled the varsity basketball men in a new formation yesterday afternoon. The play is similar to the old circle formation, but it is worked on a smaller scale. The new formation was used against a four man defense which held the first string men down to a single basket, made by Captain Shimek.

Shimek, Frohwein, Lohman, Volmer and Burgitt formed the varsity first five, and McGovney, Hicks, Ehresman and Kelloway were in the lineup for the defense. Ehresman played a close guarding game over Frohwein, giving him few chances to shoot, and wrestling with him for the ball at every opportunity.

The first part of the practice was composed of basket shooting, and other preliminary work. Barton, captain of last year's freshmen team, was not out yesterday for practice.

DECISION BARRING WOMEN IN DEBATES BRINGS CRITICISM

Adverse and favorable criticism have been made in regard to the decision of the Forensic council barring women from competition on the men's debating teams.

"The women were just about evenly divided on the question of competing with the men in debate," said Esther Sharpe A4 of Hampton, president of the women's Forensic council. Some of the women felt that we should try out with the men as we were granted that privilege by the senate committee of the faculty. The others thought that we should not compete with the men until we were welcome."

Make Effective Debaters

Mrs. Adelaide Burge, acting dean of women, in speaking of women debaters said, "I think debating is excellent practice for women especially as they are taking their place in the legislative halls, but I believe that they can get their practice on their own teams and in inter-society debates. There isn't any doubt in my mind that women make as effective debaters as men, but I don't think women should force the issue. They should wait until they are wanted."

Do the men want the women on their teams? The majority of them certainly do not if you can judge by the opinions expressed by the men trying out for debate. One of the debaters said, "The women have their own teams. That ought to be enough. I'm in favor of giving them equal privileges, but if they can compete with the men and have their own team also that is granting them more privileges than the men have."

Competition Strong Enough

Many felt that the presence of a woman on the team might influence the judges unfairly. One candidate for the debating team said, "Why should I vote for more competition? It will be hard enough for me to get on the team as it is."

Another said, and he stands almost alone in his belief, "I think women should be permitted to try out for the team with the men. We want the best people to represent the University and if that person is a woman she should be on the team."

However the opinion is overwhelmingly in favor of barring the women from competition with the men. "Since that is the attitude the only recourse which the women have," said Esther Sharp, "is to develop as strong a team as possible among the women, and show the men that we are capable of commendable work."

At present the council is trying to arrange a triangular debate with Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. The debate will be in March, the regular time for the Iowa-Indiana debate. In case the debate is just between Iowa and Indiana, Indiana will submit the question for debate and Iowa will choose whether the affirmative or the negative team will travel.

TRACE OF MASTEDON BROUGHT HERE FROM RIVERSIDE LAST WEEK

A trace of the extinct elephant called mastedon, which once roamed Iowa, was brought here last week in the form of a molar tooth by Lou Younkin, who found it on his farm a mile east of Riverside.

The tooth measures four and one-half inches in length, three and one-half inches in width, and from the roots to the bottom, five and one-half inches. Prof. O. A. Thomas of the geology department, who examined the tooth, said that it was a fine specimen and the only one of its type that he had ever seen from Johnson county.

Mr. Younkin has found three other mastedon teeth during the last two years at the same place in a deep ditch. Professor Thomas said that the whole animal is probably buried there and could be taken up. He judged this mastedon to be about two years old at the time of its death because the cusps show very little wear. "On the older animals," he said, "the cusps are sometimes completely worn off. The mastedon was not a meat eating animal, but wore its teeth down rapidly on wood and brush which it chewed."

The mastedon is distinguished from the elephant chiefly by its molar teeth which have high conical cusps with parallel ridges. The other teeth Mr. Younkin has found are not molars.

FARMERS OFFERED BLUE PRINTS OF NEW INVENTION

Ames, Iowa, October 30;—An Iowa invention which has already meant hundreds of thousands of dollars to the farm industry of the state and of the country is being made available to Iowa farmers by the offer of the farm crops department of Iowa State College to furnish free of charge blue prints of the Ames hulling and scarifying machine, invented and perfected by H. D. Hughes, head of the farm crops department.

The machine is designed to scratch the hard coats of clover seeds so that a higher percentage of the seed can germinate. Mr. Hughes, who made the first models of his device several years ago, gave his invention to the state without recompense. It has come into use by all the big seed companies and machines constructed in the United States have been shipped to various European countries.

The farm crops department does not recommend that all clover seed be scarified, but experiments have shown that much of the alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover and alsike clover seed has a high percentage of hard seed, the coats of which are impervious to moisture, thus retarding or preventing germination. It has been found that in some cases scarifying increases the percentage of germination from below 10 percent to over 90 percent. The department asks that farmers who desire the blue prints enclose 10 cents to cover the cost of postage.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS TO BE RECEIVED FROM THE MINNESOTA GAME

The telegraphic reports of the Iowa-Minnesota game will be received in the mens gymnasium next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The doors will be open at 1:30 in order that all of the crowd will be seated before the reports come in. Similar arrangements have been made as were made for the Purdue game, and the play by play reports will be read within a few seconds after the plays have actually been made. The reports will begin at 2 o'clock.

"The reports next Saturday will be even better than they were last Saturday," said George T. Bresnahan, assistant director of athletics. "Last Saturday we were handicapped by the fact that the game was played in mud and water which made it very difficult to get the exact reports. Many times the ball had to be moved about the field in order to avoid the mud holes, making it very confusing."

All holders of "I" tickets will be entitled to attend the reports and those not having "I" tickets may gain admission by paying the usual admission of fifty cents.

A crowd of 2,000 fans was present at the telegraphic reports last Saturday, and a larger attendance is expected to hear the returns of the game last Saturday.

FRENCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS THURSDAY

The French club elected the following officers at a meeting held Thursday evening, Josephine Daus A3 of Merville, president; Geraldine Mars A4 of Iowa City, vice president; Clyde B. Aldrich A4 of Corning, secretary; and Prof. Stephen H. Bush, head of the department of Romance languages, honorary president. Miss Olive K. Martin, instructor of French, was chosen sponsor of the club.

After the election, plans for the coming year were discussed. The club will carry on its work in the same manner as last year, with the exception that the membership requirements will be more strict. Only juniors and seniors having at least two years of French, and who are majoring in the department of Romance language will be eligible for membership. The purpose of the club is to further the interest in the French language to benefit those who desire to speak it.

SECOND STRINGERS ON THE VARSITY ELEVEN (Continued From Page One)

which means that they will play the best they have played this year. Moreover, Oss will probably be back in the game, strengthening Minnesota's offense. Alumni, determined to end Iowa's string of victories over the Gophers, are already coming to the aid of Coach Williams. Next Saturday's game is going to be one of the hardest fought battles that Iowa will play and the team will have to play better football than they showed Saturday in order to remain in a commanding place in the conference race.

Team In Good Condition
The team is in good condition and every one of the men who played Saturday was out last night running signals. Locke, who was hit in the head showed no ill effects from the blow. Belding had a slight limp, and Glenn Devine had a few bruises, but both were in the practice and will be in shape for the game next Saturday.

The Complete Education

YOU see her everywhere—at the teas, in the classroom, on the campus, at the games. And invariably her youth is alluringly expressed in clothes that breathe an air of joyous smartness.

For education embraces not only a knowledge of the arts and sciences but the development of an artistic sense of refinement as well. And nothing so admirably reflects that refinement as good taste in clothes—youthful clothes—clothes that reveal all the natural charm and grace of happy-hearted youth.

The creators of House of Youth apparel have entwined that spirit in every suit, coat and dress that bears their name. Their newest fall styles now being featured by the leading stores, are a revelation in youthful loveliness and in moderation of price.
