VARSITY RIPS FROSH BEFORE GOPHER GAME

Locke Hurts Knee, But May Play Usual Plugging Game Tomorrow

SHUTTLEWORTH A SCRUB

Places Are Undetermined, and Miller May Not Start

The varsity took the freshmen on last night in a fairly long scrimmage during which the freshmen were allowed to keep the ball and work Minnesota plays. Coach Howard H. Jones placed the greatest stress on the line playing the right game, and showed the varsity line-men how to work against the famous Minnesota shift. Part of the practice was also devoted to defensive formations against the forward pass as Minnesota is expected to play much the same game against Iowa that she did against Indiana, when the winning score was made on a pass.

Jones Peps Kriz

Against the line plays of the freshmen, the varsity line looked fairly good, stopping most of the plunges for no gain. Kriz, at right guard, got a lot of Jones' attention and seemed to get better after each dose of talk. Once Coach Jones shook him up, and on the next play he busted through and spilled the freshman back for a big loss. Slater played his regular game, stopping every play that was sent against him. Belding and Kadesky stopped freshman end runs for losses on several occasions. The whole left side of the line was air tight, and the freshmen soon stopped trying line plays.

Frosh Passes Go For Gains

With the forward pass, however, the freshmen were more successful, getting away several aerial tries, one of which would have been good for a touchdown if played out. On another occasion a freshman end dropped a pass behind the varsity goal line with no one near him. The Iowa backfield did not seem able to get together to stop the freshman passes, a weakness that has been displayed all through the season. Minnesota is liable to bother the Iowa team with a shower of forward passes, and Indiana, the next opponent after Minnesota, is sure to use a lot of passes, since the greater part of their game is devoted to the air game.

Gopher Ends Are Replaced

Gilstad of Minnesota is one of the best passers in the conference, and there are several good receivers on the team, especially Martineau, who received the forty-yard pass that gave Minnesota first down on the Indiana four yard line and enabled Minnesota to win. Minnesota also showed a very strong defense against Indiana, stopping them under the Minnesota goal on two or three occasions. Although beaten badly last Saturday, it was not because of poor line play, but because of the weakness of their ends, who allowed the Wisconsin backs to return punts for from thirty to seventy yards. Both of these ends have lost their places and new men are playing the wing positions who are expected to be able to prevent any Iowa gains. Brown, playing quarterback, is a heavy back who does much of the Minnesota line plunging, being the man who made the touchdown against Indiana.

Locke Hurts Leg

After the freshmen had shown most of their plays last night, the varsity took the ball and tore through the freshman line for long gains. Gordon Locke smashed and tore through, getting loose once for a touchdown by skillful dodging of the freshman backfield. Unfortunately, Locke was slightly injured later on but the bruise he got did not seem to bother him much as he had just as much pep in the signal practice that followed the scrimmage as he ever shows.

Seconds Strike Snag

Miller was at left half back, after a night's layoff, and went fairly well. He seems to have recovered from the leg bruises that were

STUDENTS MEET ARMISTICE DAY

Council Has Co-operated In Securing a Good Program At Auditorium

Plans for the University's Armistice day program are almost complete. As classes on November 11 will not be held, the whole student body will be able to attend the get-together in the natural science auditorium at 9:30 o'clock on that Friday morning.

President Jessup has been asked to address the audience, but may be unable to on account of his trip this week to New Orleans to a convention of university presidents. Prof. Stephen H. Bush will speak, with his subject tending towards Iowa's wounded soldiers in the war.

The final speaker on the program will be Frank H. Miller, editor of the "Iowa Igonaire", who is being brought to Iowa City by the local post of the American Legion.

Music by the University Glee club and orchestra will be given, and an interesting ritualistic ceremony by the Legion will conclude the morning program. Colonel Morton C. Mumma will act as presiding officer.

The Armistice day ceremonies are in charge of the Student Council, aided by the American Legion, the Silver Star club, and the ministerial union of Iowa City.

STUDENT BODY MAKES EXODUS

Special Trains, Autos, and Bums Leave to See Us Trim Gophers

Conservative estimates now place the crowd of Iowa boosters who expect to attend the Iowa-Minnesota game tomorrow at 1,500, a third of whom will leave tonight on the special train being run by the Rock Island lines. The sale of tickets at the athletic office had passed the 250 mark early yesterday afternoon and was expected to be around 300 before night. On the strength of this sale the University ordered 200 more tickets reserved for Iowa rooters. The original University reservation was 600. Yesterday's order brings the amount up to 800.

Order More Pullmans

Meanwhile pullman reservations are flooding into the railroad office. City passenger agent Harry D. Breene, was yesterday forced to order two more pullmans than he had originally counted on, thus bringing the number of sleeping cars up to seven. "The reservations are above our expectations," Mr. Breene said yesterday afternoon.

Besides the pullman cars the train will carry five day coaches and it is expected that every seat in them will be sold long before the train pulls out tonight. According to Mr. Breene, the number who will take the special will be not less than four hundred and it is probable that the number will reach 500.

Train Leaves at 8:30 P. M.

The time of leaving Iowa City has been definitely set as 8:30 p. m. The train will reach Minneapolis at 7:00 a. m. Leaving the Wright street station the train will go to West Liberty where it will detour north through Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Albert Lea, Manley Junction and Minneapolis.

On the train will be a representative of the Rock Island who will determine if the students desire a special train for the return trip. If not, the tickets purchased for the special train will be good on any returning train up until 8:30 a. m. Monday.

Auto Trips Popular

A number of students will make the journey by automobile. Seven cars have been rented for the trip. The "Rent a Ford" company has disposed of five cars and the White-Lewis company has rented two. It is expected that at least 500 graduates of the University will join the students at the game Saturday.

Frats Send Enthusiasts

Practically all of two fraternities and at least six or eight from each one of the rest will attend. Only three sorority houses will be represented.

TEAM LEAVES TODAY, BUT NOT BECAUSE OF THE SIX-DAY RULING

The reason for the late departure of the Hawkeye team on its invasion into the Gopher territory this week is not as many thought, due to the conference rule by which a player is not allowed to miss more than six days of school. Coach Jones states that the team has made only one trip this year, and therefore has a lot to go on.

Coach Jones gives the real cause as that the trip on Thursday would mean staying in Minneapolis an extra day, which is absolutely unnecessary. Besides, Coach Jones says that the team would take sleeping cars if they went on Thursday, which would not give the players the proper rest. By going on Friday they will take sleepers, but the effect of their loss of sleep will not take effect until Saturday evening or possibly Sunday, at which time the game will be over.

Last Practice At Home Best

The extra day the team would spend in Minneapolis would be of no advantage on a short trip as that to Minnesota. When the team goes on a trip like the one last Saturday it is an advantage to go on Thursday, as the team has a chance to practice on the opponent's field.

On a short trip as to Minnesota it is an advantage to have the last practice at home.

Players Can Miss Six Days

The question of missing classes is not as important in football as in basketball, where there are more trips made. In any case six days are allowed in each branch of sports and not just six days in all sports. The question of Aubrey Devine using all his six days in football will not keep him from entering any other sport.

Saturday, according to the conference ruling, is counted as only a half day, which gives the players an advantage in the disposal of their time allotment.

DELTS AND BETAS TIE

Fred Colby and Lytell Score Touchdowns; Score is 6 All

The first pan-Hellenic football game between Delta Tau Delta and Beta Theta Pi ended in a tie, the score being 6 to 6. The game was played on a muddy field at the city park with only seven-minute quarters.

The Deltas won the toss and chose to receive, defending the south goal. The ball was fumbled on the kick-off, and the Betas recovered. On the first play F. Colby smashed through center for a touchdown. The ball was in the middle of the field until the third quarter, when Lytell passed to Lowder, who made a sensational catch, putting the ball on the Beta's two-yard line. The quarter ended, and on the first play of the last quarter Yerkes made a quarterback smash for one yard. Lytell smashed through Tinley for a touchdown, carrying the ball several yards over the line.

A long pass from Lytell to Scripture put the ball on the Betas one-yard line when the game ended. Yerkes and Scripture started for the Deltas, while De Silva and Anderson were the outstanding players for the Betas.

BOB YOUR HAIR IF YOU HAVEN'T A FOOL MAN IS ADVICE OF STAFF AND CIRCLE HEAD

Will Iowa women with bobbed hair let it grow to please Iowa men? Forty-three out of 100 women passing out of the liberal arts building yesterday afternoon had their hair bobbed.

Not one of the ten University men picked at random on the campus yesterday afternoon and asked concerning his opinion of bobbed hair, upheld it. One reluctantly admitted that it was not as unbecoming to some women as to others. Three said they disliked it because it looked "mussy". Another said, "I always think there is something the matter with a woman's hair if she cuts it off." The other five talked radically and at great length in condemnation of clipped locks. However each man softened his voice if a victim of his wrath happened to

MARY BASH IS CALLED AWAY

Y. W. C. A. Will Carry On In Spite of Absence of Secretary

Efforts are being made today to obtain a substitute for Miss Mary I. Bash, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who has been called home by the illness of her mother. The office of the association will be kept open during her absence, which may be extended over the remainder of the year.

At a special meeting of the executive council of the Y. W. C. A. the plans for the year which have been made so far were discussed and the officers will be able to carry on the work of the Y. W. C. A. according to the present schedule until a new field secretary can be obtained.

Council Will Carry on

The executive council of the Y. W. C. A. includes Mary McCord A4 of Des Moines, president; Margaret Z. Young A4 of Mason City, vice-president; Persis Carney A2 of Greene, secretary; Charlotte Fisk A2 of Iowa City, treasurer; Florence Bierring A4 of Des Moines, undergraduate field representative. The department executives are: membership, Roberta Anderson A3 of Madrid; finance, Catherine Hamilton A3 of Pasadena, Cal.; religious work, Helen Langworthy A4 of Massena; social, Inez Pillars A3 of Iowa City; social service, Gertrude Lynch A4 of Ottumwa; world fellowship, Mildred Freburg A4 of Pomeroy; and publicity, Eleanor Williams A4 of Clear Lake. Frances Williams A2 of Burlington, secretary to Miss Bash, will also assist in managing the office.

FEW STUDENTS IN HOSPITAL; DEANS REPORT HEALTHY YEAR

According to reports from the offices of the dean of women and the dean of men, there have been fewer cases of illness this year than usual among University students. Robert E. Rienow, dean of men, when interviewed on the subject of illness among men students, said that they have been pretty free from cases of illness this year; in fact, he said there have been fewer than in any year previous in his experience. Only one man was sent to the hospital Wednesday. Dean Rienow especially remarked the loneliness of the students when in the hospital and their appreciation of papers and magazines to read; he said that they are particularly glad to have the Daily Iowan to read. Only one man has been in the isolation hospital this year. Students in this hospital are often intensely lonely and glad to have reading matter which must later be burned.

Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, acting dean of women, said that she thought there had been little illness among University women, when one considers the large number on the campus. There are some severe colds but few hospital cases.

According to the University records, there are only six students in the hospital at present. These are: Chris Zein A1 of Wall Lake, Frank Shaffer A1 of Jefferson, Grace Gerken A3 of Wheatland, Tom Brookins A1 of Colfax, and Ralph Bowen M2 of Muscatine.

Freshmen Are Permitting Green Cap Tradition To Die

The freshmen are not wearing their green caps. This fact becomes evident at every turn. Frosh are seen about the campus at all times without their green headgear and the mere sight of the emerald top piece is sufficient to attract attention. Opinions as to the cause of this laxity seem to vary.

'GO PHER MINNESOTA! SAYS ENGINEERS' LATEST SIGN

GO "PHER" MINNESOTA say the engineers in their latest sign on the engineering building that appeared yesterday afternoon. Last year the sign for the Minnesota game read "OH MIN" and was changed immediately after the game to MINNEHAHA after the defeat of the Gophers by the score of 28-7. The sign will remain until after the game at Minneapolis Saturday and will be changed early next week for the one for the Indiana game one week from tomorrow.

FOOLISH STUDENTS WALK ON BRIDGE RAILING; RISK DEATH OF IMPALEMENT

After seeing a couple of University students endangering their lives last Saturday night by walking on the railing of the Iowa avenue bridge over the river, a University professor called The Daily Iowan's attention to the fact that a fall would not result merely in a cold bath, but in the impaling of the foolhardy "tightrope walker".

When the bridge was built in 1916, the forms for the concrete arches were held up by long telephone poles driven into the river bottom to serve as piles. After the concrete had hardened and the forms were removed, the piles were not pulled out of the muddy river bed, but were merely sawed off just under the surface of the water. When the river is low, the jagged ends of these piles show above the surface. If anybody should dive from the bridge, he would be almost sure to strike one of these hidden posts, which of course would mean his death.

Eventually some venturesome persons will probably go in swimming at the Iowa avenue bridge, or repeat the foolish balancing act of Saturday night, and the undertakers will have to be called in. The Burlington street bridge has similarly concealed piles beneath and up stream from it.

286 NURSES HERE

New Record for Attendance is Set During the Convention Just Closed

At the closing session of the Iowa State Nurses' Association Thursday morning, Miss Amy Beers of Fairfield was elected president for the coming year, by sixty-seven votes. Other candidates were Miss Anna Drake, of Des Moines, who received forty votes and Miss Nanna Colby, of Waterloo, who received fourteen.

Other officers elected were: first vice president, Miss Wilhelmina Giseman of Dubuque, second vice president, Miss Augusta Heffner, of Sioux City, secretary, Miss Lola Yerkes of Iowa City, and treasurer, Miss Ada Hershey of Des Moines. The total registration for the convention reached 286. This number far exceeds the record of any convention for many years. Last year's meeting in Creston drew only 167 guests, and the convention of the year before in Des Moines registered only 221 members. Iowa City's greatest attraction for the visiting nurses was the children's hospital.

Sioux City nurses will entertain the next convention of the association in the fall of 1922. Miss Gyda Bates, of Cedar Rapids, was appointed to represent Iowa at the convention of the national association of nurses in Seattle next June.

WEATHER REPORT

Weather for Iowa—Fair and warmer. Cloudiness in the eastern part of the state.

Dean Rienow in a former statement expressed the same view now taken by most of the University authorities and the faculty. He believes that the whole matter is up to the students themselves and that if the tradition is to live the upperclassmen should see to enforcing it.

Frosh Prex Passes Buck

Roscoe Holmes, president of the freshman class, frankly admitted the laxity of the freshmen in regard to wearing the green caps. He said, "The fraternities are not making their men wear their caps. The 'dents' brought the matter up last night and most of their freshmen are wearing caps now. The officers of the freshman class are to have a meeting next week and the situation will be brought up then."

Clyde B. Charlton L2 of Rolfe, when asked about the matter said, "The freshmen are not to blame. The fraternities do not watch their men closely enough. I caught one of our freshmen without his cap, and now they are all wearing them."

Deplorable, Says Huston

Cloyce K. Huston A4 of Crawfordville said, "The situation is deplorable, but I do not think that any one organization is to blame, but the Howling 30 should do something."

Jean Spiers A4 of Reinbeck, president of Staff and Circle, attributed the laxity on the part of the freshmen to lack of interest on the part of the upperclassmen. "At Ames the green caps are worn simply because the student body sees to it," she remarked. "After all it is up to the men. Probably part of the trouble is due to the newness of the tradition here. The students are not warmed up to it yet."

The original plans, according to Barney Dondore A3 of Iowa City, were to have the freshmen wear the caps until the end of the football season. At present, unless some steps are taken, this plan will not be carried out by the freshmen. The class of 1925 apparently disapproves of the tradition.

BAND MEN AND TEAM APPRECIATE STUDENTS' TAG DAY DONATIONS

That the band is thought to be a factor in the expected victory over Minnesota is shown by the way that the students are backing the team in their response in buying tags. The team feels the spirit of the campus and will fight harder because of that spirit, according to some of the players.

Gordon C. Locke A3 of Denison said, "The band helps a team because it shows that the University is backing the team. The player does not think of the band during the game, but he fights harder when he knows he is backed on the sidelines."

Band Is Grateful

The band men feel that they should have the opportunity more frequently of helping support our teams when on visiting trips.

"If Illinois can send a band of eighty-six pieces on a trip to Iowa, we should send a band of fifty pieces on several trips," declared Andrew W. Bossen A4 of Battle Creek, president of the band. "The response of the students in sending the band to Minnesota shows a mighty good spirit."

"The sending of the band with the team Saturday means a big advertisement of our University," declared Jay A. Rotton D3 of Essex. "It shows that we are alive and backing the team. Trips of this kind will impress other Universities that Iowa does things."

BOARD SENDS BIG SQUAD

The board in control of athletics is sending the largest squad in years to the Minnesota game. Thirty-five players and coaches make up the big party of invaders. Scrubs are being rewarded by the trip to Minneapolis.

AT MINNESOTA

Iowa goes to Minnesota tonight. It does not mean very much, perhaps, and will soon all be forgotten. The Saturday night Minneapolis theater will be lost in a week, classes will be resumed Monday morning, and the special train will go about its business next week of carrying bankers, salesmen, politicians, and paper-hangers. The score will be entered in athletic records and the game will be remembered and talked about in sporting circles.

One thing, alone, will probably be more lasting than any other one thing. That is the representation that Iowa students will make of Iowa. Little more may be said on this matter without copying the lessons we used to hear about going to Sunday school and washing our faces every few days and being good little boys and girls when we have company. But this advice, after all, may be so greatly out of place.

Iowa has a big job for tomorrow. Of course, she must incidentally win the game, but she must in addition show a proper spirit and enthusiasm, maintain sportsmanlike conduct, and observe the thousand other little warnings that ordinarily come when the lid is fitted on the dinner pail. Individuals who go to Saturday's game will remember that they are not representing their home towns to Minneapolis but are representing Iowa students to Minnesota students.

UNDERGRADUATE ATTITUDE

The average student of the University who goes to classes and drinks malted milks and wears his pajamas to breakfast experiences something of chagrin, mingled with mortification and disgust, when the progress of an otherwise satisfactory argument is halted by someone interposing the "undergraduate attitude" as the root of all college evils. No more can be said. It answers all questions, meets all arguments, and dooms the student irretrievably to eternal incompetency. It has probably never been defined, and, if defined, would mean less than it is allowed to mean now.

Professors, of course, are unfairly prone to the greatest possible exploitation of the term, but this is fortunate since it keeps them from resorting to more telling terminologies. It is harmless as they use it, but in the actual significance of this characteristic attitude is something that tends to discomfort.

The "undergraduate attitude" might be defined as the thing that allows students to forget, to disregard, and to be careless; it is the thing that permits lax committee reports, that promotes tardiness at meetings, and that swells the bad check list at the bank; it is the thing that means irresponsibility, inaccuracy, and loose ends; it is the thing that prompts the taxpayer to take alarm, that moves the legislatures to a questioning about appropriations, and that persuades father that he should keep his son on the farm; and it is the thing that makes a picture of the college student of the rah-rah rather than of the studious type, that forces business men to talk of pounding a bit of common sense into the college man before he is any good, and that keeps the college and the university from filling the places that they rightly deserve.

The "undergraduate attitude" is the sore spot of the college student. It is a thing that can not be legislated against, it can not be ridiculed away, and it can not be kept covered. It is the undergraduate.

NO MORE FOOLING

Iowa's football team will start on the home stretch of the football season when it leaves for Minnesota tonight. The spirit of a few hundred Hawkeye followers will be shown when the team runs on to Northrop field tomorrow, but we wonder if the student body will be out to a man to give the squad a send-off tonight and to welcome them on their return Sunday.

The spirit of the men and women here at Iowa has been a subject of much criticism from those who have spent a number of years on the campus. A small crowd came out to see the team start for Purdue and it was not a large one that greeted the victors on their return.

Everyone knows that the team this year has a better chance to win the Conference championship than any Old Gold eleven has had for several seasons. It is also conceded that there are few equals of the Hawkeyes in the Middle West when they show the spirit that carried them to victory over Illinois and Notre Dame.

Campus critics are not willing to heap similar praises on the attitude of the students, but they may speak of the excellent spirit shown here a few years ago when Iowa teams were forced to accept the small end of the score.

Some Universities have failed to produce a team this year that measures up to the usual high standards. The followers of the defeated eleven have not lost faith and the alumni are returning to the Homecoming games in numbers equal to those of former years.

An improvement in the attendance at pep meetings is not too much to expect of the student body. We can show it tonight when Iowa leaves for the Gopher camp.

HERE'S THE SCHEDULE!

Minneapolis Special Leaves at 7:15 Tonight

Students desiring to attend the Iowa-Minnesota game Saturday may make the following connections with the Rock Island railway. West Liberty train 18, a night train, will leave Iowa City at 7:55 tonight and will arrive at Minneapolis Saturday morning at 8:05 a. m. Students may also go via interurbap at 7:30 this morning and make connections with the 8:55 a. m. Rock Island train at Cedar Rapids, which arrives at Minneapolis at 7:15 p. m. Round trip tickets for the day trip may be purchased at the Rock Island ticket office in Iowa City. The interurban is $1.04 extra and the interurban tickets should be purchased in the usual way.

The round-trip tickets, which were sold at reduced rates, will be good on any train from Minneapolis until 8:30 a. m. November 7. Information regarding the departure of the special train from Iowa City and its arrival at Minneapolis, the railroad fare for the round trip, and pullman fare, will be posted on the bulletins at Whetstone's and Racine's. Sleeping car reservations must be made in advance, for both special and regular trains. Pullman tickets must be paid for when engaged.

RED BALL ROUTE IS GOOD FOR PILGRIMS TO NORTHLAND

The Red Ball route to Minneapolis is in good condition according to the report of Robert N. Carson, president of the route, and will be so for those who wish to drive to the game unless it rains before Saturday.

The distance from Iowa City to St. Paul is 301 miles and it is ten miles from St. Paul to Minneapolis over College avenue. The trip from Iowa City can be made in one day with an early start or else the first day's drive can be made to Austin, Minnesota, which is 210 miles from Iowa City and the balance of the drive can be made the next half day.

Folders for this route can be had at the Jefferson hotel, oil filling stations, or at suite nine of the Paul-Helen building.

DRAW SEATS BY LOTTERY

Reservations For Indiana-Iowa Game Must Be Made Before 10 O'clock Saturday

Holders of "I" tickets must make application for reserved seats to the Iowa-Indiana football game before 10 o'clock Saturday, November 5, according to George T. Bresnahan, assistant director of athletics. The box containing the applications will be opened Sunday and tickets for seats drawn by lottery.

About 200 applications for tickets by mail from various parts of Iowa have been received by the athletic department.

CHOP SUEY TO BE HAD

Chinese Students Will Give Benefit Supper Soon

The Chinese Students' club will give a "Chinese Homelike Dinner" Thursday, November 10, in the Methodist church parlor from 4 to 9 p. m. This dinner is given for the purpose of sending a Chinese delegate from this University to the disarmament conference at Washington, November 11. The Chinese Student Alliance of America will run a daily paper there during the session to be sent to the different colleges which have a Chinese student organization, and the local club will be called upon to help pay for its publishing.

The menu for the dinner is distinctly Chinese: chicken chop suey, chow mein or mid noodles, extra fine chop suey, kaim not or preserved oranges and tea. Chinese lace, embroidery and evening dresses will be on exhibit and some of them will be offered for sale.

PLAY TRYOUTS CONTINUE

Cast for "Beyond the Horizon" Will Be Announced Monday According to Mrs. Will Hart

Individual tryouts for the Irving-Ero play "Beyond the Horizon" will continue until tonight according to Mrs. William R. Hart, of Iowa City, who is to coach the play. Group tryouts will be held all day Saturday, and the cast will be chosen Monday. "Much care will be taken in selecting the cast," Mrs. Hart said, "because Eugene O'Neil's "Beyond the Horizon" is a tragedy very difficult to present."

Much interest has been given this play because of its successful presentation in New York and Chicago. "Beyond The Horizon" is now running in Chicago.

Members of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity, living in Des Moines, have formed an alumni chapter of the fraternity. Monthly luncheons will be held the first Monday of each month at the Grant club. Don F. Malin of Ames, associate editor of Wallace's Farmer, is president of the chapter and Donald H. Clark of Grinnell, editor of the Northwestern Banker, is secretary-treasurer.

The chapter expects to attend at least one session of the national convention at Ames in a body, and will give all assistance possible in making the coming convention there

WILL SPEAK ON WYOMING TRIP

Prof. Homer R. Dill Will Give An Illustrated Lecture Wednesday

Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the University museum, will lecture on the topic of his recent expedition into northwestern Wyoming Wednesday evening, November 9, in the natural science auditorium.

Professor Dill, in company with C. H. Fishburn of Muscatine, who financed the trip, went to Gillette, Wyoming. From there in company with Theodore Waner, former student in the University, and now editor of the Gillette News, they traveled in a Ford car over the plains to a hunting ground sixty-five miles from a railroad.

A fine antelope skin was obtained, which is preserved and will soon be mounted for the University museum. A number of good photographs was obtained of the hunting party, as well as of the unusual fossils which are abundant in that section of the country.

These photographs have been prepared into a series of lantern slides which will be used in connection with the lecture. The trip was made the latter part of September and first part of October.

Professor Dill's lecture also includes his description of a petrified forest which was visited by the hunting party.

The duties of this committee shall be to consider the names of all juniors and seniors in the college of commerce who are candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce and who signify their desire to become members of the club and to consider their qualifications for membership.

"The old requirement that every student in the former department of economics, sociology and commerce had to have at least a 'C' average in all his studies has been done away with," Jacobs stated, "because we want to put the club within reach of every student in the college of commerce who is desirous of putting his efforts into the making of a better and stronger student organization and to deriving the benefits which the club is in position to offer him in return."

A program has been outlined for the year's work which will permit the members of the Commerce club to come in contact with successful business men of various vocations. This program will include as speakers representatives from bond houses, manufacturing concerns, banking institutions and retail establishments. The committee in charge of the program has already received a reply from a manager of one of the largest bond houses in the country consenting to talk to the club at an early meeting.

"The students in the college of commerce who know exactly what line of business they wish to enter into after they shall have completed their college courses are few," Jacobs stated, "and it is by coming in contact with these representative business men who have been successful in their several lines that the members of the club will become acquainted more thoroughly with the nature and inside characteristics of the various lines of business which are open to them. These business men will always be willing to consult individually any of the members who are interested in their lines of business activity and will furnish information in regard to placing men after they have obtained their degrees."

If there are any students in the college of commerce who are interested but do not happen to know any of the members of the membership committee, a representative of the club will be in the office of the dean of the college of commerce, Room 205 liberal arts building, from 3 to 4 o'clock for the purpose of conferring with prospective members.

MOUNT SAINT JOSEPH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Mount Saint Joseph club, held Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock in the liberal arts building, officers were elected as follows: president, Mildred Dempsey A3 of Cedar Rapids, secretary-treasurer, Eleanore Wade A1 of Iowa City. It was decided to hold monthly meetings throughout the year at the homes of the members for the purpose of getting together in a social way. The first of these regular meetings will be a dinner party at the Pagoda Tea shop, Wednesday, November 9.

The list of active members at present includes the following: Agnella Gunn A3 of Sioux City, Helen Kriebs G of Elkport, Mary O'Donnel A2 of Elma, Mercedes McEneny Au of Coggon, Eulalia Beecher A3 of Iowa City, Eulela Moser A1 of Fort Atkinson, Alma Buck A1 of Britt, Adelaide Wagner A1 of Van Horn, Helen Baldwin A4 of Cascade, Clare Spain A3 of Parkersburg, Margaret Hauer A2 of Davenport, Vivian O'Halloran A1 of Emmetsburg, Mildred Dempsey A3 of Cedar Rapids, Eleanore Wade A1 of Iowa City, Hazel Kemmerle A4 of Iowa City, and the following alumnae of the University: Irene Kemmerle, Marcella, Francis and Viva McInnerney, and Mary Fitzgerald, all of Iowa City.

Mount Saint Joseph club wishes to include in its membership all students or alumnae of the University who have previously attended Mount Saint Joseph academy or college, at Dubuque according to Mildred Dempsey. If there are any University women who are eligible to membership in the club and have thus far been overlooked, they may communicate with Miss Dempsey.

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Invitations have been received here for the disarmament conference to be held in Chicago November 13 and 14. Students, faculty, and alumni of 700 universities, colleges and denominational schools of the United States are asked to send representatives.

The conference was called by the boards of education of the denominational churches, the majority of which have student pastors in the larger universities, for the purpose of creating a nation-wide sentiment for disarmament.

The Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. and the various student pastors here have been notified, and plans have already been made to send a delegate from the Congregational student group and one from the Chinese group.

WILL PLACE DEBATERS ON AFFIRMATIVE AND NEGATIVE SIDES SOON

The men chosen for Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa debates have not yet been placed on affirmative and negative sides, according to Herbert C. Weller of the department of speech. It will be necessary first to collect material on the question, which is "Resolved, that England should give Ireland complete independence, and then the material must be worked over until it can be determined which side can be taken best by each of the debaters.

In the final tryouts held Tuesday night six men were chosen to represent Iowa in the I. M. I. debates. They are Frederick O. Paulson A4 of Clear Lake, Cloyce K. Huston A4 of Crawfordville, Abram M. DeVal L2 of Albert City, William O. Moore L1 of Sigourney, Vernon Sharpe A3 of Rolfe, and Otto B. Laing A3 of Corydon. Alternates will be Donald D. Holdoegel A4 of Rockwell City and Kenneth M. Dunlap A3 of Jefferson.

SHIFTS TO BE GOPHER RECIPE FOR HAWKEYES

Minnesota Sports Writer Tells of Changes in Lineup for Iowa

ROOS TO PLAY SLATER

Spirit of Write-up Seems to Concede Iowa's Superiority

By LEON LUSCHER, Minnesota Daily—

Shifts and more shifts are in store for the Gophers before they take the field against Iowa at the big Homecoming contest Saturday. This is becoming more and more evident as the practice sessions proceed. The latest changes appear to be Roos at tackle opposite Slater and Larkin at fullback. These changes leave the lineup as uncertain as ever and it is doubtful whether Dr. Williams himself is certain just who will play.

Using Roos at left guard is a measure Dr. Williams is taking to prevent Slater, powerful colored tackle of the Hawkeyes, from raising havoc with the Minnesota forward wall. Although Roos will be at guard and Slater fills a tackle position, by means of the Minnesota shift he will be sent against the big tackle with the hopes of stopping him.

He Calls Slater Slow!

Dr. Williams remembers the way Babe played Schlauderman, the big center of the Municipal Pier eleven in that memorable struggle, and he has confidence that he will be able to stand off Slater in the same impressive fashion. Roos has yet to be outplayed by a man relying on strength mostly. His greatest fear is against the fast speedy man, Slater, while fast for a big man, is nevertheless slow in comparison with most linemen and Roos is confident that he can play him on even terms.

The other shift that is likely to be made, and one that has occasioned great surprise is the using of "Birdie" Larkin at fullback. Larkin was all slated to fill the right end position and now Dr. Williams spills the dope and starts using him at full. In the short time he was at the position last night he literally tore the frosh line to shreds. Most of the old grads were of the opinion that his line plunging was the best that has been seen on Northrop field since the days when Eddie Reubens was tearing them up.

Gophers All Cripples

If McCreery and Gilstad were in tip-top condition, this change would rot, in all probability, be made, but the condition of each is more or less uncertain. Mac, although probably able to start, is not in condition to last out the whole game. He might get his knee twisted on the first play and be laid out for good. The same is true of Gilstad, only with reference to his hip. The trainers do not seem to think that he could last out the entire game. The coaches are not worrying, however, after Larkin's showing at full last night.

With Larkin at fullback, the old end problem still remains open and it is uncertain whom Dr. Williams will decide to send in to fill the gap at right end. Cole is an almost certain starter at the left wing position. Wallace may be sent back for another try or Moyle or Blumer may get the call. What seems more probable, however, is that if Gilstad is in shape to permit his playing, he will be seen on the right outpost.

Hawks Conceded Victory

With Roos at left guard another problem arises and that is who will fill the right tackle job. Johnson, if his condition permitted, and Copeland were slated to take care of the position, but now with Roos in the lineup, McLaury is out of a job, and Mac's showings in the last two games were such that it appears doubtful that Dr. Williams will want to relegate him to the sidelines. It would not be at all surprising to see him in at the tackle job opposite Captain Teberg. Aas, Teberg and Tierney are the only linemen reasonably certain of their jobs. The flood of ticket buyers continued yesterday and Dr. Cooke has predicted a sell out long before the time of the game. This shows that the Gopher fans have confidence in their team's ability and know that they will put up a real fight and give a good account of themselves even if they are defeated. The Hawkeyes are in for a real battle even if the odds do favor them to win.

IOWA MAY SEND RHODES SCHOLAR

Committee Will Select the Successful Candidate December 3

"The State University of Iowa has remarkable candidates for the Rhodes scholarship," declared Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge, a member of the University committee which selected Iowa's representatives.

When Prof. Jacob Van der Zee, one of the members of the state committee for the awarding of the scholarships was asked what he thought of the chances for a University man to receive the scholarship he said, "All I can say is that he has an even chance. The fact that a University man received the award last year would have no effect on the decision this year. The best man is chosen irrespective of the number from his institution who have received the scholarship."

Each State Sends Two

Each state is entitled to two men who have completed at least their sophomore college year. The records of their school and University work, letter of recommendation, interest in athletics and qualifications for leadership are the bases on which the award is made. No written examinations are required. "This is a comparatively new ruling," said Professor Van der Zee, who is himself a former holder of a Rhodes scholarship.

Exams Are Abolished

Two years ago examinations were abolished. Previous to that time it was necessary to take written examinations lasting for two days. Latin and Greek were then the main subjects in which examinations were given. These examinations cut down to competition to such an extent that it was thought wise to dispense with them in order to have more men from whom to choose.

The two University men who were awarded the Rhodes scholarship in the last two years are Willis Nutting of Iowa City and Virgil Hancher of Rolfe. These men reached England a few weeks ago. Mr. Nutting is studying theology and Mr. Hancher law.

English System Better

Professor Van der Zee, in commenting upon the differences between the American system of education and the English, finds the English preferable. The wide choice of electives permissible in American colleges gives the student a smattering knowledge of many things, so that he is not well grounded in any subject. At Oxford, as in other English universities, the electives are few. America is now tending toward the English system of education.

December 3 the state committee of Iowa, composed of Pres. Walter A. Jessup, Prof. Jacob Van der Zee, J. H. St. John of Arlington, J. M. Hoffman of Pella and J. W. Woodrow of Ames will meet at Iowa City. The candidates from all the Iowa colleges and universities will appear individually before the committee. This will serve as an examination of the men and will have a direct bearing on the decision.

Committeemen Rhodes Scholars

The state committee is appointed by the American secretary of the Rhodes Trust, Frank Aydelotte. It is the plan to appoint on the committee only those who have held scholarships. With the exception of the chairman of the Iowa committee all the men are holders of the Rhodes scholarships which entitled them to three years at Oxford.

The men who will represent the University are Robert L. Block A4 of Davenport, Charles C. Bowie '21 of San Benito, Texas, now a graduate student at Harvard, Alan C. Rockwood S4 of Iowa City, Chester H. Kirby of Sioux City, and Frank K. Shuttleworth L1 of Sibley.

YEARLING DIVERS WILL TRY FOR SEAL'S CLUB; EIGHT TO BE PICKED

The tryouts for freshmen for Seals club, honorary women's swimming organization, will be held November 9, in the pool of the women's gymnasium. The requirements for membership are excellency in time or form swimming and in diving.

The tryouts for upperclassmen were held Wednesday, October 26. Eight women were made members of the organization at that time. About that number will be taken from the freshmen. It is hoped that a great many will try out, according to Helen M. Hayes A4 of Iowa City, president of the Seals' club.

Shuttleworth ran the second string against the freshmen when the varsity stopped scrimmaging and got off some good runs himself, but the second string had a hard time putting over the lone touchdown that they made. The freshmen stopped a few plays at the beginning of the scrimmage and then seemed to get the habit, for they smeared most of the second's attempts especially on the right side of the second string line. Anderson made a few good smashes, but could not get loose.

After the seconds were through with the freshmen the third string took the freshmen on for a short scrimmage until darkness sent everyone in.
