HILL AND DALE TEAM DEFEATS GOPHER SQUAD

Ristine Finishes First In 26:25—Peterman Runs Third

FIRST BIG VICTORY

Bresnahan's Squad Expected To Place In Conference Meet

Iowa's inexperienced cross-country team did the unexpected at Minneapolis yesterday morning when they defeated the Minnesota runners, 27 to 28, the same score by which Wisconsin won from the Gophers a week before. It was a sad day for Minnesota, since she lost both the football game and the cross-country run, but the hardest blow came when the Iowa harriers led the Minnesota team. They expected to get beat in football, but they thought that they would easily defeat the Iowa runners.

Ristine Is First
When those who were at the finishing point of the race saw a jersey with an "ic" come sprinting toward the finish line, they cheered on the runner. Even the Minnesota fans shouted encouragement to Ristine as he crossed the line in the fast time of 26 minutes and 25 seconds, because they saw a Minnesota man on the home stretch, about 200 yards behind him. All the Minnesota rooters thought that this year's meet would end as did the one last year, when Ristine finished first, followed by six Minnesota men ahead of the next Iowa man. They were astonished when Peterman followed Sweitzer but were reassured when two more Minnesota men finished fourth and fifth, and another one came in close behind Goodrich of Iowa. It is always the last men to finish who decide a cross-country race, however, and when Murray and Morrow of the Iowa team came in ahead of Minnesota's fifth man, the race was over and Iowa had won her first conference run.

Men Show Improvement
The Iowa team showed the results of the work that had been given it in the last month by Coach George T. Bresnahan and fully justified the confidence in them. He has said that he has good material, but who lacked enough experience to make them a good team. Yesterday's meet should give the men the right kind of a tryout to put them in shape for the conference meet at Bloomington, Indiana. Iowa might as well win the conference cross-country championship as well as the football championship.

All Deserve Credit
The entire team deserves great credit for beating a team that was better on paper, especially on that team's home course, a course that none of the Iowa runners had ever been over before. The apparent superiority of the Minnesota team did not bother the Iowa men who cared nothing for paper strength, but left every thing to be proven by the results of the race.

With some time left to prepare for the conference meet, the Iowa team should give a good account of themselves. The remaining time will be spent in smoothing over any faults that Coach Bresnahan may have observed.

Peterman Showing Form
Ristine lived up to expectations and finished with a good lead over Sweitzer, whom he beat last year. Peterman finished in much better shape than he did last year as he beat all but one of the four men who finished ahead of him then. He has been coming better every week and should place high in the conference meet. The rest of the team came in close together as a cross-country team should, and with another week of Coach Bresnahan's training will push the two leaders.

PROVIDE CLUB ROOMS

Sunday services will be resumed tomorrow in the Baptist church after six weeks' tenancy of the liberal arts auditorium. Repairs at the church are not yet complete but will likely be finished in a week or two. Student club rooms are being provided.

Violent Threats Warn Frosh To Unearth Mossy Headgear

For some time the scarcity of emerald headgears on freshmen domes has been noticeable but the time has come when this condition will not be tolerated if the opinions expressed yesterday by several upperclassmen can be taken as an intimation of future action. No drastic measures have yet been taken to enforce the custom. Barney Dondore A3 of Iowa City, president of the Howling 300, laid down the edict of the Howling 300 and of the upperclassmen in general when he said that green caps would be worn at all times between the hours of 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. until the close of the football season. Upperclassmen and fraternities have been lax about enforcing this rule but it has been mainly because of the fact that the matter was not brought to their attention. Upperclassmen are just beginning to take notice of present conditions as is shown by their statements.

FACULTY MAY TREAD BOARDS

Plans Are Being Made For Play With Professor-Student Cast

The University theater project is becoming a real community proposition, according to Prof. Edward C. Mabie, head of the department of speech. Tentative plans are being made to stage a play composed of both faculty and students although no definite announcements have been made as yet. Some of the faculty who were formerly connected with dramatics, as students, are still much interested in University performances, and are willing to participate in a student-faculty play. "Judging from the enthusiasm already exhibited about the opening of the University theater," said Professor Mabie, "I have thought it advisable to schedule the Hep-Zet play, 'The Admirable Crichton,' for two nights, November 17 and 18. Many people were unable to secure reservations for the first play given in the University theater since it was only given the one night."

Besides the seven plays that were scheduled, plans are being perfected for producing two more plays which will be complimentary to the holders of season tickets. One will be a one act play and the other one will probably be a longer play. In this way the profits of the project will always be turned back into the production of more plays.

The second campaign sale of season tickets will commence Monday and will continue until the presentation of the "Admirable Crichton" play by the Hesperian and Zetaghian literary societies. A ticket including the remaining seven plays may be purchased for four dollars and seventy-five cents.

PROF. KARL YOUNG TO SPEAK ON SHAKESPEARE

Prof. Karl Young of the University of Wisconsin will speak on the "Shakespeare Skeptics" tomorrow afternoon in the liberal arts auditorium at 4 o'clock. His lecture will deal with undergraduate criticism of Shakespeare. Professor Young will give his lecture under the auspices of the graduate club.

Professor Young was born in Clinton, Iowa. He is now at the head of the department of English of the University of Wisconsin. Monday evening he will lecture on "Research work and the life of the University". After his lecture the Humanist society and the graduate club will give a reception for Professor Young in the liberal arts drawing room.

TO SERVE CHINESE MEAL

Proceeds Will Be Used to Defray Expenses of Delegate to National Conference

A Chinese dinner will be served November 10 from 4 to 10 p. m. at the Methodist church parlors by the Chinese students' organization. The proceeds from this dinner will be used to send student delegates to the conference of the Chinese students at Washington, D. C.

The Chinese students' organization was started at the University in 1916. At present there are seventeen student members and nine honorary members. The organization meets the first week of each month and is devoted to the discussion of affairs of China and the work of the Chinese students in the United States.

Need Paddling Says Charlton

Clyde Charlton L2 of Rolfe, former president of A. F. I., in commenting upon the matter said, "I did not notice that the freshmen were not wearing their caps until I saw one of our freshmen running around without one. He got a good paddling for it. That's what they all need more than anything else."

Freshmen have received ample warning. They have been notified of the feeling of the upperclassmen and yet there is no increase in the number of green skull protectors seen about the campus.

Roscoe Holmes, president of the freshman class admitted the laxity of the freshmen in the matter, and then tried to pass the buck by blaming the matter on to the fraternities. He said, "The fraternities are not making their men wear the caps."

There is some truth in this statement for up until now the student body has not been sufficiently concerned about the matter. That the upperclassmen have at last awakened to the seriousness of the situation is evidenced by their strong statements as to what should be done to any freshman caught without a cap.

Fraternities Are Blamed

Edward J. Harrington D4 of Sioux City, president of the inter-fraternity council said "The fraternities are largely to blame for the present situation. They should enforce the order and make the freshmen wear their green caps. If the fraternities do not see that their own men live up to the tradition then I am in favor of the student body in general taking more drastic measures. The matter is to come up before the inter-fraternity council."

Marcus S. Carlson president of the senior engineering class said, "We are making our freshmen tow the mark. They are all liable to get the idea that the whole thing is a bunch of bull unless the upperclassmen keep after them. I am in favor of drastic measures if necessary."

Murray Advises Use of Paddle

Thomas E. Murray president of the senior law class stated that the fraternities had to set the example. "If some men do not wear the caps the effect on the rest of the freshmen is bad." He also favored a judicious use of the paddle if necessary.

All of the men interviewed yesterday agreed that if it were necessary to do so drastic measures should be taken. Most of them conceded the fact that a cold bath in the river might be a very good means of changing the freshman point of view.

Freshmen Will Reconsider

Officers of the freshman class have condescended to consider the matter at a meeting next week, according to their president. Unless some action is taken before this time and the campus once more becomes verdant the freshmen are going to get into serious trouble if the threats of the upperclassmen are carried out.

The Howling 300 will map out a definite course of procedure to be taken in the matter and will decide upon the best means of enforcing the custom at their next meeting according to statements of different members.

BROWN TO ADDRESS CLUB

Prof. Warner Brown of the department of philosophy will give a lecture Tuesday night on "Social Implications of Mental Tests" before the philosophical club.

HAWKEYES TAKE ANOTHER STEP TOWARDS CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP BY SWAMPING HUMBLE GOPHERS IN ONE-SIDED GAME 41-7

IOWA HAS CHANCE TO CLAIM HIGH HONORS IN BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Wisconsin and Ohio State Have Yet To Lose First Game

Already the dopesters are figuring the possibility of Iowa taking the conference championship this year, but the Ohio victory over Chicago has mixed things up a trifle. Probably the best that the Hawkeyes can hope for is a tie for first, providing, of course, that they win from Indiana and Northwestern, with either Wisconsin or Ohio State on the other side of the tie. It may be true that all three of these eleven will go through the season without a defeat, and in that case the three would have a claim on the championship. For the benefit of those who wish to be very optimistic, it can be figured so Iowa will have the only clear claim to the title.

Iowa Can Be Champions

Should Chicago win from Wisconsin on November 19, Wisconsin would be eliminated from highest honors. Then on the same date, if Illinois wins from Ohio State, the Buckeyes would share the same fate. This exceeds the wildest dreams of the most ardent fans though, because the Chicago-Illinois game the week before will be a hard battle for both teams, and Ohio has an easy game with Purdue, while Wisconsin should not have a great deal of trouble with Michigan.

Every game in the conference yesterday went true to form with the possible exception of the Chicago-Ohio State game. Although Ohio State was known to have a good team, they were not expected by most of the followers of the game to win from the Maroons, especially since the Chicago victory over Princeton. Given an even break in luck, either side could have won, and Ohio is fortunate in having the honor of eliminating the Maroons from the conference championship.

Ohio To Play Purdue

Next Saturday the Ohio State eleven will have a much easier time than they had yesterday. Purdue will journey to Columbus to do battle with Wilce's crew, and should be defeated without much trouble. Purdue did not do as well as expected against Northwestern, and at the best must be classed as a mediocre eleven this year. On the other hand Ohio has a team that is not far behind being last year's eleven which was recognized as conference champions.

Maroons Have Hard Battle

Chicago will have a hard battle Saturday when they play Illinois at Urbana before a homecoming crowd. The Illinois victory over De Pauw, while it means nothing as far as the conference championship is concerned, may have given the Indians' morale a boost, and it may be the cause of a pappy eleven. Chicago will beyond all doubt do its best to win from Illinois and partly avenge its defeat yesterday. This will be a very hard game, with Chicago having the edge because of its previous work this season. However Zupke may spring some surprises on Stagg, for it is certain that Zupke would rather win this game than any other.

Wisconsin Should Win

What promises to be one of the hardest battles of the season is the Wisconsin-Michigan game at Madison. Wisconsin has gone through the season so far with no defeats, while Michigan was defeated by Ohio State early in the season. It seems doubtful if Michigan will win from Wisconsin Saturday. Wisconsin always has a strong team, and can be counted as dangerous at all times. An especially strong backfield and an average line under a good coach will win games almost every time.

Northwestern will rest Saturday, and prepare for the visit the Hawkeyes will make on November 19. According to the results of the game

WRESTLING CLASSES TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Wrestling classes under the supervision of wrestling coach Harold "Mike" Howard, will start tomorrow morning, according to Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men. Classes will be held at 9, 10, 2 and 3 o'clock daily, the period from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon being devoted to the training of varsity men only.

Approximately eighty freshmen have registered for wrestling and twenty-five varsity men are working out for the varsity wrestling team. A freshman wrestling tournament will be held when the indoor season is under way and a freshman team picked. Numerals will be awarded to men making the team.

"All men who wish to take advantage of this excellent chance to get some training in wrestling should start in this week," Mr. Schroeder said, "in order to get in on the ground floor and not get behind."

LAW STUDENTS COME FROM THIRTY-FOUR DIFFERENT COLLEGES

Students who are taking work in the college of law at the University of Iowa this year have previously studied in thirty-four different colleges or universities where they have finished their required work in liberal arts. This year there are 208 students in the law college, which is an increase of 25.6 per cent over last year's registration.

Liberal arts work in Stanford, West Point, Notre Dame, Nebraska, Michigan, Annapolis, Hamline, Creighton, Virginia, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Chicago, Minnesota, Carleton, Vermont, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Western Normal, Trinity, Coe, Grinnell, Ames, Cornell, Drake, Morningside, Parsons, Iowa Wesleyan, Buena Vista, Upper Iowa, Highland Park, Columbia, Des Moines, and State Teachers College has been taken by the law students before coming to Iowa for their legal education.

MINNESOTA OUTPLAYED IN EVERY DEPARTMENT BY JONES' WARRIORS

A. Devine and Locke Star in Downfall of Williams' Husky Gophers

Iowa dealt its fourth consecutive defeat to Minnesota yesterday by piling a score of 41 to 7 on William's men. It was one of the worst drubbings the Gopher team has ever experienced on its own field and before a homecoming crowd.

600 Cheer Iowa

Iowa's band and about 6000 Iowa rooters occupied the east bleachers and aided the varsity with their cheers. The field was in fine shape and the weather, cold and cloudy, was ideal for football. The Minnesota team came on the field at 1:50 p. m. and was followed two minutes later by the Iowa team.

Aubrey Devine won the toss and chose to receive at the South goal. From the first kickoff the ability of the Iowa backs to gain through the Minnesota line and to skirt their ends became apparent, and the only thing that kept the score as low as it was during the first half was the numerous penalties that Iowa seemed to draw whenever she got close to the goal line.

Locke and Aubrey Star

Locke and Aubrey Devine were the two chief ground gainers for Iowa on running plays while Belding snared a number of forward passes for good gains. Iowa's passing game was shown for the first time this year and it aided in the one-sided win as a total distance of 156 yards was gained on passes.

Line Play is Good

The line play of the Iowa team could not have been better for they turned back the Minnesota backs for short gains on nearly every occasion. At other times they threw the Minnesota backs for losses, and it was due, in a good many instances to the rushing tactics of Iowa's line that Minnesota was unable to complete more passes. Martineau, who did most of the passing for Minnesota, was tackled and thrown for a loss by one of the Iowa linemen on several attempts. Thompson at left tackle played the best game that he has played this year. He broke through several times to spill the opposing backs. Heldt knocked down one pass that came over the Iowa line and plugged up the center so that very few gains were made there. Belding caught passes as he did last year and stopped all of the plays around right end. Both Mead and Kriz, who replaced Mead in the third quarter, played good games. Slater, of course, played like he always does. He should have the Minnesota writer who said he was slow, converted by this time to the belief that he is the fastest big man playing football. Roos, who was supposed to hold Slater down, could not stand the fast pace set and had to be taken out. Minick never let Minnesota make more than a yard or two through his position, and spilled them for losses on several occasions. Kadesky spoiled more Minnesota plays than any other lineman by spilling the passer before the ball could leave his hand.

Aubrey Outstanding Figure

Aubrey Devine was the outstanding figure for Iowa in the Minnesota game, although he was pressed closely for honors by Locke and Belding. There are few backs in the country who can compare with Aubrey in running with the ball through an opponent's line. His ability to pick the right plays at the right time was shown on many occasions during the game, but never more so than when he kicked over the heads of the Minnesota backfield. He ran back the kickoffs from thirty to fifty yards and never failed to gain some ground when returning punts. His own punts were exceptionally well placed for they rarely gave the Minnesota backs a chance to return the ball.

Locke was not far behind Aubrey in his smashing plunges through the

IOWA WINS

The Hawkeye victory on Northrop field yesterday should prove to the more skeptical that Iowa is not a team that makes a flash for a few games and then hopes, only hopes, that another flash will follow in due time.

The Conference ranking is a thing that may be considered in connection with the game, but, at best, such consideration is only vague and uncertain. No uncertainty is attached to the fact that the Iowa men play with a consistency that overshadows any talk of horseshoes or multifariously colored streaks of luck. There is no uncertainty as to whether or not they have fought, played the game, and been sportsmanlike. The remainder of the season does not merit the possibility of the introduction of any such uncertainty.

CONTRIBUTOR'S WELCOME

Years ago, representatives from the various tribes and colonies came down from the mountains and the vicinity of Rome to discuss on the scene of the old Roman Forum the important problems and questions of the then known world. Customs were exchanged, habits passed from one to another, different viewpoints were expressed, and gradually the policies and important movements of the progressing civilization were formed from the general coming together and common discussion of the widely separated people.

For a reason somewhat similar to this, the Daily Iowan will conduct a contributors' column for the purpose of bringing student sentiment and opinion on student affairs to the light of more general recognition. It is hoped that students will see fit to discuss in this column the more important problems of the University rather than to thrash out personal difficulties or factional differences. Many such questions are continually discussed to a greater or less degree as, for example, student government, the honor system, traditions, and campus policies. In this way, thinking students will be enabled to have a part in shaping the vital policies and conventions and general tone of the University into a more satisfactory whole.

Contributions on all such phases of campus life will be welcomed, doubly so if they look to a finer and greater Iowa. The value of brevity and directness will be recognized and articles of less than 300 words will receive the greater favor of the editor. Direct, thoughtful, brief, and upbuilding contributions are welcomed.

UNFORTUNATE

An unpleasant occurrence at the armory yesterday afternoon, the spectacle of a faculty member being forcibly carried from his seat and roughly ejected from the building by half a dozen ushers, causes one to ponder on the justice of the act.

The gentleman who was thrown out had been admitted to his seat previously by the very ushers who so summarily manhandled him later. The reason he was taken out was apparently to make room for a girl and her escort, who came late to the football returns.

What actually seems to be the fact is that some ladies came late, and the faculty member was directed in no uncertain terms to vacate his chair. In numerous other instances, however, men were forced to give up their places in favor of other male students bringing women.

Why should fussers go to a football game or returns, anyway? If they do, why should they be given choice seats to the exclusion of rooters who come early for the sole purpose of observing the trend of the contest, not for a social visit which can just as well be staged in a parlor any evening?

If enough seats cannot be provided at the armory for the men, women and couples, why not the returns on Iowa field, where the chilliness of the weather may exclude all but earnest backers of the team?

At any rate, it is no heroic deed for a number of ushers to drag one lone man from his seat, subject to the ridicule of the hundreds present, and, worse, only to make room for people who don't care enough about the football game to arrive in time.

CONTRIBUTORS COLUMN

To the editor:

In Friday morning's issue of the DAILY IOWAN the danger from the hidden piles near the Iowa avenue and Burlington street bridges was pointed out.

These hidden piles might easily capsize a canoe or boat and would endanger the lives of the unfortunate individuals who were thus precipitated into the stream and would likewise menace the life of any passerby who might leap into the river to their rescue.

Where are our safety engineers and "safety first" advocates?

The piles should be removed. In fact they should never have been left so. Such careless and sloppy work should not be tolerated in an intelligent community. The contractors, engineers, or other persons responsible should be forced to correct their mistake.

If by any chance it is common engineering practice to do such work it can only be said that this fact is a reflection on the engineering profession and that such practices should be changed.

Minnesota line. During the first few minutes of the game he did not get warmed up and the Minnesota line held him to short gains, but after a time he got started as he did in the Illinois game and from then until he was hurt he never failed to gain from three to six yards on each smash. He was also a valuable man on the defense.

Gopher's Passes Fail

Minnesota's passing attack, although it gave them their touchdown, was not as effective as it was expected to be. Iowa's backfield smothered most of the passes that were thrown, while the line rushed the passer and often stopped him before he could pass.

Iowa's score yesterday was the biggest score that Iowa has ever made against Minnesota, and is also one of the biggest scores by which Minnesota has ever been beaten on their own field. It far surpassed any expectations that Iowa rooters had, and partly explains Wisconsin's easy victory, showing that it was not so much Wisconsin's exceptional strength as it was Minnesota's weakness that made the score so large.

Entire Team Fights

The entire team showed that last week's close game had a good effect on their morale. There was no let down in the fourth quarter, as there often is when a team is far ahead of its opponents, but the same fight was shown to the last minute. Even when the majority of the first string backfield was taken out the varsity held Minnesota and even gained ground against them.

Iowa clearly outplayed Minnesota in all stages of the game. Minnesota never had more than two chances to score, and the Iowa line turned them back on the first occasion. Iowa's third step toward the conference championship has been successfully taken.

The Game Play By Play

Aubrey Devine won the toss and elected to receive the kickoff at the south goal. The wind was very light from the southwest. Martineau kicked off to A. Devine who returned 2 yards to Iowa's 43 yard line. A. Devine ran 11 yards on play inside Thompson. Ball called back. Iowa penalized 5 yards for outside. Locke was held for 2 yard gain in a jab at line. A. Devine made 8 yards off Iowa's tackle. A. Devine punted to Martineau on Minnesota's 26 yard line, who made a short return. Iowa's line held Minnesota for a 1 yard gain. Martineau carried the ball.

Slater stopped Brown for a gain of 1 yard. Martineau ran 8 yards outside Kadesky for first down. Ball was called back and Minnesota penalized for offside. Martineau punted outside of Iowa's 40 yard line. Aubrey Devine made 2 yards through Slater. A. Devine ran 6 yards and outside for first down, on 50 yard line. Forward pass from A. Devine to Shuttleworth was caught by Shuttleworth and then dropped. Ball brought back.

A. Devine Makes First Score

A. Devine made 6 yards off left tackle. Locke fumbled but recovered for a loss of 1 yard. A. Devine punted to Martineau who made a short return to Minnesota's 14 yard line. Slater and Belding held Martineau to a 1 yard gain. Right side of Iowa line held like a stone wall against a plunge by Gilstab. Minnesota fumbled but recovered for a loss of 2 yards. Martineau punted to A. Devine who returned 30 yards to Minnesota's 17 yard line. Aubrey Devine made 2 yards inside Slater. Locke plunged 4 yards through the line. A. Devine fumbled but recovered for no gain.

An attempted pass from A. Devine to Belding was too high for Belding to catch and the ball was grounded behind the Minnesota goal line. Minnesota took the ball on their own 20 yard line. Minick held runner to a 1 yard gain. Martineau made 4 yards on a run around Belding. Shuttleworth intercepted Minnesota pass and returned ball 15 yards to Minnesota's 8 yard line. Aubrey Devine ran around Iowa's right end for touchdown. A. Devine kicked goal. Score Iowa 7, Minnesota 0.

Martineau kicked off to A. Devine who returned 30 yards to Iowa's 44 yard line. Locke was held for no gain and Iowa penalized 5 yards. A. Devine ran 6 yards inside Thompson's tackle. Locke failed to gain through line.

A. Devine punted outside on Minnesota's 20 yard line. Mead and Slater stopped a line drive by Gilstab for no gain. Brown made 5 yards outside Slater. Ball called back and Iowa penalized 5 yards for being off side. Iowa line held Gilstab for no gain.

Martineau Makes Big Gain

Gilstab made 1 yard in a try at Minick and Thompson. Martineau went 20 yards around Kadesky taking the ball to the middle of the field. Gilstab made a short gain

SEND YOUR SNAPSHOTS TO PETERSON FOR THE 1923 HAWKEYE

Snapshots, large or small, of fat, thin, tall, or short students, or a combination of these three characteristics, to give the Hawkeye a personal touch are wanted by the editor-in-chief of the 1923 Hawkeye, Raymond Peterson A3 of Council Bluffs.

"Get out your kodak and take some pictures of the men and women at the house. Men, take that 'best girl' of yours out for a tramp or up the river, then devise some situation that would make a clever picture. Women have him out to dinner as the only guest and see how he looks with that whole group of women. If he looks as if he were perfectly at home or uncomfortable take his picture. He would like to keep it in the Hawkeye as a moment of that day, and show to his friends at home to verify his statement that he took well with the women," said Peterson.

Any way, snaps are wanted for this edition of the Hawkeye. Send your contributions to the Hawkeye office, room 1B in the physics building, or bring them personally to the editor in the office.

The editor-in-chief wishes to again emphasize the fact that the Juniors should make appointments for their sittings at the photographers. Not many pictures have been taken, and there will be too great confusion at the last minute before the dead line set for November 20.

EXPECT GREAT CHANGE IN CHINA'S SOCIAL LIFE WRITES DEAN RUSSELL

Dean William F. Hussell of the college of education who is now in China on a government educational commission in a letter from Shanghai dated October 14 says that although his study of educational conditions is naturally attended by many serious difficulties, it is very interesting work.

Dean Russell has spent some time in Japan, visiting several of the more important cities, conferring with educational authorities and examining schools. In China, he has succeeded in investigating conditions of the mission schools and, to some extent, of the public schools in the cities of Peking, Tientsien, Tsinanfu, Wehsien, and at the time of his writing the conditions of schools in Shanghai. He expects to be able to extend his study in China to a certain group of important cities including Canton, Hong Kong, Amoy, Swatow, Foochow, Changchow, Ningpo, Soochow and Nanking.

While Dean Russell is not permitted to give specific information as yet concerning the educational conditions which he discovers in the mission and state schools of China, his letter makes it clear that he finds educational conditions pointing to a very rapid and radical change in the social organization of China.

According to Prof. Forest C. Ensign, of the college of education, Dean Russell is having an opportunity never before enjoyed by any man to secure data which will enable him to throw much light upon the educational situation in the far east. "Dean Russell's contribution growing out of this investigation will not only prove of great value to the world but will bring the University of Iowa and Dean Russell himself into quite unusual prominence," said Professor Ensign.

Dean Russell's family is staying at the Wagon-Lits hotel in Peking.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB MEMBERS ARE FROM 9 DIFFERENT COUNTRIES

The Cosmopolitan club held a reception for its members last night. Doctor Chi, graduate of Columbia University and travelling secretary of the Chinese Student's Christian Association, spoke on "New China", Edwin D. Starbuck, professor of philosophy, talked on "World Fellowship" and Sudhindra Bose of the department of political science, spoke on "The New Orient".

The members of the Cosmopolitan club at Iowa came from China, India, Denmark, Japan, Armenia, France, Cuba, Phillipine Islands and America. The object of the Cosmopolitan club is to promote cosmopolitanism and world wide brotherhood. A rather unusual ceremony is carried out when new members are taken in. A map of the world is placed on a table and each member places a lighted candle upon the name of the place where he is from.

The officers of the Cosmopolitan club are: president, W. L. Zecha, A2 of Java; vice-president, L. Samonte S4 of the Phillipine Islands; secretary, C. Liu G2 of China; treasurer, V. Samonte A3 of the Phillipine Islands.

TO MEN WHO ARE NOT OUR CUSTOMERS

We understand—often times a lot of style is put into a Suit or Overcoat of part wool fabric. That's what makes them saleable. The money we have to spend for clothes to sell would buy a great many more garments of the cheaper grades, if we bought that kind.

The reason we don't buy part-wool clothing is because we know goods of that type are the most expensive for any man to buy.

If you think $25. or $30. is all you should spend right now for a Suit or Overcoat—before you spend it talk it over with us. We may be able to suggest a way whereby you'll benefit.

SPECIALISTS TO ATTEND CLINIC

Children's Hospital Will Be Visited by Noted Surgeons November 11

Forty or fifty distinguished orthopedic specialists are to hold an all-day clinic at the children's hospital, November 11, with Dr. Arthur Steindler, professor of orthopedics in the University's college of medicine, demonstrating the work done here in caring for crippled children and adults of the state.

Much of this work is performed under the provisions of the Perkins and Hansell-Klaus laws which make it possible for children and adults to secure medical and surgical treatment and care at the expense of the state. The children's hospital was established at the University to accommodate the large number of children under sixteen years of age who take advantage of the provisions of the Perkins law.

The orthopedic specialists are to convene at the University of Iowa November 11 and will meet in Kansas City the following day for another clinic as guests of Dr. T. J. Griffiths and Dr. J. Francisco. This is the first year the organization has met in Iowa City. The specialists make a practice of visiting two centers of importance every year during the progress of their meeting.

Three of the prominent doctors to be present this year are Dr. John Rodlin and Dr. John L. Porter of Chicago and Dr. M. S. Henderson of Rochester, Minn.

A full day's clinic from 8 in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon is scheduled for the visitors, with an executive meeting from 5 to 6. Dr. Steindler will entertain the visitors at lunch and a banquet has been arranged for the evening.

SONG BOOK SALE STARTS THIS WEEK

Sale of the Iowa University song books will probably start the latter part of this week, according to Josephine Thielen A4 of Grundy Center, sales manager for the books. Subscriptions have already been taken for copies, but those who have not subscribed may obtain books for $1.25 each at tables which will be stationed in the halls of the various University buildings. Some of the books are here now and the rest will probably be here Tuesday. All of these songs have been collected and arranged in this volume by the members of last year's Staff and Circle, the senior women's honorary society.

Miss Thielen says, "There is good stuff in these books. Every student in the University should have one, and show his Iowa spirit by knowing and singing our University songs. At least 1000 copies will probably be sold, and if the supply on hand is not large enough to furnish all who desire them, more will be printed."

yesterday between Purdue and Northwestern, either Purdue was very weak, or Northwestern has developed a much stronger team than they had at the first of the year. Holding Purdue to three points was quite an accomplishment when it is considered that the Hawkeyes beat Purdue only 13 to 6.

Indiana Hard to Judge
In Indiana, Iowa will find an opponent that is rather hard to judge. Indiana plays by spurts, and it is time they spurted again. They will be sure to try to get revenge for the defeat of last year, but their defeat this season by Minnesota makes it look bad for the Hoosiers. It is thought that a crowd nearly as large as the one which saw Illinois game will be present for the battle. It will be the last appearance of the Devine brothers, Belding and Slater on Iowa field as players. This will attract much attention, and these men will do their best to make the score against the Hoosiers a large one.

Minnesota will also rest next Saturday.
