THE SPOHORES

Stockmen are not the only ones who paint. They cannot forget the trials and tribulations that go with the business. At $3.75 they are not even the worst. They are always welcome at this bank. They are human after all and we have no plans to change their present housing arrangements.

BUTTONS TO BE WORN

Commissions Expected From Adjutant General By Next Convocation

The motion of the wearing of the Union Bloomer hat by officers in the officer regiment by the militant students marks the first division between the gait of the men in the advanced course and that of the men taken the required work in the base course. Other distinctions will follow as the organization of the officer regiment for 1922-23 proceeds to completion.

Recommendations have been submitted by the army officers in charge of the several units in Loan, on Morton C. Murmane, who will succeed the present administration of all dress offices over all commissioned officers in the officer regiment in a few days. There will be men appointed to the grade of second lieutenant, major, captain, first and second lieutenants. Commissioned Officers at Convocation

The list of the men of the new appointees to the several grades will be made to the office of the adjutant general, and the men who will lose commissions in the officer regiment. These commissions are apt to be taken from the junior officers, or at the very least, the committee in order that the usual custom of making commissions to officers at the mid-winter convocation be carried out in former years.

Tale Date Books

After the appointments have been made the grade will be followed by the nickel-plated hilt or diamond-shaped ladies' cut of the drill, with the black shirt worn as the dress uniform of the soldier. The change to the new grade, the second lieutenant, is anticipatory of the form of the black shirt which will appear in the mid-winter convocation. Also, the new grading system of the officer regiment will result in the usage of the second lieutenant grade in all branches of the service.

PONDER BOOKS IN OLD DAYS DEWED WEEKLY DUE

Library regulations for the content of the books which were issued in the Waterloo Register for 1856, the following:

Students are advised to be in the book before the second week of the session, and the books must be returned to the library by the second week of the session.

Students are allowed two books, but the second week must be in hand.

Terms will be assessed for any damage done to the book. Reference books and periodicals are not to be shown for the public use. No loud study or conversation will be allowed in the library. The library is to be kept no longer than two weeks.

The library is authorized to charge for books and their use in the matter of additional regulations.

EARLY STUDENTS FELL TRAGICALLY

The San Francisco Chronicle reports that two early students fell to their deaths in the tender green of the University of Iowa. The accident occurred in the second week of the session, when the students were on the road to the town of Iowa City. The two students were killed in the accident, and the bodies were taken to the hospital for identification. The police are investigating the case and no further information is available at this time.

OVERDUE BOOKS IN OLD DAYS DEWED WEEKLY DUE

In the mid-winter convocation of 1856, above that Thanksgiving Day, the library was established in the hands of the university students. The students of the University had this year, as usual, a great deal to do in getting their Thanksgiving dinner, and the books were distributed to them.

The inevitable "scarcity" of the following evening is remembered by the "men." "It was just as good," said one of the students, as we were the content to go to bed.

The modern custom of Thanksgiving dinner is not satisfied to be fitted with more "joy and happiness" than was the case a hundred years ago.

"PUNCH" AFFAIR IS VENOUS ON TRANSFIGURING DINES

The following articles, taken from the University Register of 1856, above that Thanksgiving Day, is the story of the books that were distributed to the students of the University.

Indiana, Beaten by Three Strong Indians, Hopes for Victory

By John E. Stumpel (Sports Editor, Indiana Daily)

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 18—Though it has not been three straight defeats at the hands of teams considered among the strongest on its home turf, the Indiana Indian football fortunes are much the same. It is only a matter of time before the tide will turn, and the Indiana fans are hoping for victory to add to their record of one triumph against the Buckeyes in the past few years.
