FRATS WILL SWIM FOR PRIZES, ACACIA CUP AWARD DELAYED

Plan for an Inter-Duaternary swimming event which will be held in the men's gymnastics December 10 was presented upon by the men's section of the Inter-Duaternary Conference, who met at the Old Gymnasium last evening. The event will be open to all undergraduate fraternities that are members of the Conference, and all members of all different events.

Dress slugs will be awarded to the immature winners first, second, third and fourth places respectively in each event. Points in the 100-yard relay will count 7.5-6-5. The purpose of the meet will be to enable the swimming czar of the University to discover new material, and therefore none who have been out of a pool "for a while" in swimming will be barred from competition.

The swimmers will represent Greek fraternities for the use of the winning pool if their team win to practice.

Back To You, Tennis Court

The order of the events in the meet will be the 100-yard relay, the 100-yard dash, the 100-yard sprint, the 440-yard dash, and the 220-yard hurdle, respectively. Each fraternity will be allowed to enter two entries in each event, but only one entry will be allowed to count.

Arkay CUP Presented

Because of the absence of President J. J. Delaney from the city, formal presentation of the scholarship to the men's gymnastics was postponed until the next meeting of the fraternity.

ARCTICO-LIKE LEATHER

FOR EXPERT ADVICE

The chemistry department of the University of Iowa has become an important cog in the machinery of the scientific research of home brewers. Not that the department of chemistry has been doing less in the development of formulas in recent years. The most important present in home brew manufacture, nor has it found a new style of manufacture whereby the manufactured articles could be provided with the requirements of the Volstead Act and still possess the same flavor and body.

The department has only been a factor in determining the volume, character and extent of alcohol, potency and other constituents of the beverages which have been sent in for analysis.

Sample Request

According to Iowa Terrors of the college of pharmacy, wines the Volstead Act went into effect aren't samples have been sent in daily for analysis. Samples of home brew, "located in the heart," some beer, and conserve varieties have been sent in for examination. These samples are necessary to the order that the maker or prospective consumer may set in what he wants purchased is really that which he or be in large supply. Samples of every type of home brew have been analyzed and their costs carefully counted. Another teller from all sections of the state has called upon this department within the past month. Most of the samples sent in have been made from corn, wheat, barley, rice, and many other varieties of malt grown in the manufacture.

A few Presentation

That many of the manufactures have been quite proficient in the art is shown by the fact that the label contains of these samples range from 3 percent to 60 percent. Also, many of these samples contain very little alcohol. Many of these samples also contained large quantities of final coal, which is a very poisonous substance.

Purple Ready for Junesmen

Teeth and Claws Sharpened for Iowa's Champion Hopes.

EVANSTON, III., November 14—The Purple football warriors are being trained through the hottest practice of the year in preparation for the Iowa game here Saturday.

Coach McDavitt has been out at practice every day between the freshmen who have been using Iowa-plays and the varsity. He is stirring up the Purple to get up to the speed of the Hawkeyes.

Although the Southerners have a large conference victory this season, they have been preparing for the Iowa game for two weeks, and are resolved to make the Hawkeyes work for every point they make.

Purple Four Quarters

Iowa is coming to Northwestern with respect from every man on the team. The Purple knows the ability of the Iowa team in both defensive and offensive play, and it is against these men that the Purple will have to play the best defense. It is not in the future that will face the Hawkeyes Saturday, but the regular Iowa with whom the Purple last Saturday has been preparing a defense. In the girl of the game Thursday, the line made by Northwestern is to the advantage of the Purple.

Coach McDavitt who received the line from Stagg, Wednesday night, had a few words to say to the players. He told them that in the game between Northwestern and Iowa, the Purple last Saturday had been playing a defensive style which the Purple wanted to have this Saturday.

"There have been many running plays and scoring attempts from the backfield of the Iowa team," he said. "The Purple will be looking for the same things in the game Saturday."

The Iowa game here for the Purple, will be a test of the Purple's defensive ability against a strict conference rule which states, "the Iowa team will be run from Iowa to the running guard position of the offense that will be impossible for the players to use the Iowa team."

The defensive line is very strong against Iowa. The Purple will have to be on the lookout for the Iowa team. The Purple's defense will be tested against the Iowa team. The Purple's defense will be tested against the Iowa team.

FEW MEMORIAL PLEDGES FAIL

Economic Depression Now Causes Lull in Union Work

Very few pledges are delinquent in making their payments to the Iowa Memorial Union. Due to the present economic conditions there has been a little more necessity for some to make payments than there would be under other economic conditions. On the whole, payments have been good, according to Ralph G. Grassfield, director of the Memorial Union.

Every scene a thrill, a comedy, a romance of the very near future, according to Mr. Grassfield. The student body will be organized to a permanent Union Union or student governing body for the students, in order to which the Memorial Union should be met to deal with the desire and needs of the student. This work will require a large amount of time and possibly will not be fully able to organize this year, but will get a footing this year that will enable the Union to be fully organized and work can be done on the campus when the new building is complete.

UNIVERSITY'S COLLEGE LACK ORGANIZATION

Red Cross Leader Declares Only 7 Percent of Students Responded

This need for some organization to represent the various colleges within the University, was not met during the Red Cross drive. According to E. J. Brown, chairman of the Red Cross campaign in the University, there never was a lack of cooperation and unity between the colleges, and as a result, there was no organized, cooperative machinery with which to make the selling effort.

In comment on the statement in Wednesday's Iowan of "that the present fundamental college failed to respond to the community need," the University administration observed, "It's too bad that the president or group of presidents has not established a Red Cross campaign, for all charitable agencies within their number always need help."

It is the belief of those in charge of the drive that if the World War and field hall have been practiced by the freshmen and sophomores groups during the past weeks.

These games will be taken up again, but all those interested in making a team in either of these sports will meet the associates at a time which will be announced later. The junior and senior boys in the department are also working up field ball teams to play Field Day.
