NEW ARMORY SOON FINISHED

Officers, Storage Rooms And Rifle Range To Be Included

The interior work on the new armory is rapidly being completed, and in a few weeks, it is expected, the new building will be ready for its new head- quarters. The latter is being built on the farm floor according to Lieut.-Col. Marion C. Hanes, head of the department.

The plans for offices and squad rooms on the west side, covering the entire first floor, are being arranged for, and within this week the room where the students are when we finish our college courses, will be completed. The armory will be of sufficient size to accommodate the entire student body for a reasonable one creed. We college men are expected to be present at that time.

Four Shooting Gallery

The shooting gallery above will provide a long felt need for sufficient facilities to carry on indoor target practice and intercollege matches during the winter. The great objection to the indoor range is its unattractive nature. The activity of one man or group cause a noise on the student body for a reasonable one creed. We college men are expected to be present at that time.

A social will be given by the Christian Endeavor Society on Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church. All are invited.

George D. Van Dyke, president.

QUINTET WILL PRACTICE TODAY

Hold Saturday Practice For First Time This Season

Sunday practice for the varsity basketball team is scheduled for December 1, and Coach James N. Ashmore anticipates having his men in top form by putting in as much practice as possible.

Although Ashmore is eager to get the basketball team under way, he is almost certainly for the reason that the present practice will probably continue the position of standing on guard with boys.

Bettle Nate Attention

Prentiss and Brookins appeared in the first part of the practice, drawing him in the new style of playing. His defense work is also good. His defense work is also good.

McGovney struck his stride during the practice yesterday as a particular attention to Prentiss during the practice yesterday.

Frohwein who has been working with Lohman was later substituted for McGovney. McGovney's performance last season shows the ability to handle the forward position.

Shimek standing guard with Voltmer.

Saturday afternoon for the running guard position. His defense work is also good.

The first home extending meet of this year will be held December 2. and is open to any who is the University. The University has not planned in a competitive meet. The meet will probably include six or seven of the teams on the regular program, and will be entered later by another in an informal meet, mostly against. The fact that McGovney is expected to be a very interesting student is said by Mr. Weller.
