DISCUSS PLANS FOR VICTORY CELEBRATION

Date Will Be Set at Noon Today at Meeting of Committee

MAY BE DECEMBER 5

Rumored Monday Will Be Declared a Holiday by University

Plans for a great victory celebration in which every student in the University will have an opportunity to celebrate the winning of the Big Ten and Western football championships were not made public by the sub-committee which met in the Daily Iowan office last evening, but it is being rumored that the date may be set at December 5, and that that day will be declared a holiday by the University authorities. Members of the committee when questioned failed to confirm the rumor, but they did not deny it. If December 5 is set as the date of the celebration, the banquet which President Jessup will give that evening to all men winning I's and I 2's and to the members of the board in control of athletics will automatically become a very fitting part of the celebration.

The plans were not made public by the committee members because of the fact that they will have to be passed upon by the executive committee composed of the presidents of the thirty-five representative student organizations, who, with the secretary of the commercial club will meet at the Jefferson hotel this noon. A definite date will be set at this time, the report of the sub-committee will be heard and passed upon, and definite plans will be made.

Members of the committee expressed the opinion last evening that although it is rather late in the season to hold a celebration in honor of the team that won the Big Ten and Western championships, it would be a sad mistake to let the year end without holding a great celebration to prove to the team that the students appreciate its efforts, and to show the whole country that we are proud of our team.

DEVINE AND MCGOVNEY WORK AT THE FORWARD POSITIONS

Coach James N. Ashmore sent the varsity basketball men through a light hour's workout during the practice yesterday. The men went through a long formation practice in which Devine and Prentiss were given an opportunity to perfect themselves in the new plays.

Devine went to the forward position yesterday and during the practice worked with McGovney. Devine is spending much of his time basket shooting, when not practicing Coach Ashmore's plays, in order to make up for the advantage the other players have over him due to their longer practice.

Ehrsman at Guard

Ehrsman was moved up to the standing guard position on the first team yesterday during a short scrimmage with the third team until Moltmer was sent in to fill the place. Kelloway, playing the center position on the first string, showed up well. When called into play to rescue the ball from under his opponent's basket or to take the ball away from the basket and out of the hands of the opposing defense after a long shot, he showed up well. Burgett and Thoma, Coach Ashmore's other two rangy centers were pitted against each other for a short time later.

Frohwein Has Improved

Frohwein showed his old time ability to make baskets yesterday. His floor work has improved much during the last week. Frohwein worked during the scrimmage with his old mate Lohman.

Captain Shimek had little opposition during the short scrimmage in penetrating his opponents' defense for frequent baskets. Shimek is playing even better this year than during the last season.

BALCONY SEATS ARE ALMOST COMPLETED IN THE NEW ARMORY

The work of providing for the crowds at the basketball games in the new armory this winter is well under way, and everything will be in readiness for the first home game. The balcony seats on either side of the spacious interior have been practically completed and lack nothing in the way of space and substantial construction. They rest mainly on the iron work on either side. The balcony construction will remain in place throughout the season.

Temporary bleachers like those that have been used in the men's gymnasium, will be used under the balcony, and will be erected for every game. It seems probable, however, that the balcony seats will prove to be the more popular, inasmuch as they are constructed in such a way that they will provide a clear view of the game, no supports or railings being in the way.

LAW BULLETIN APPEARS TODAY

Student Editors for the Year are Announced in Magazine

The Iowa Law bulletin, which appears today, contains articles by six members of the faculty of the college of law, as well as the first announcement of the student editors for this year. The Iowa Law bulletin is published by the faculty of the college of law, through Prof. H. F. Goodrich, editor-in-chief, and a board of student editors who are appointed each year on the basis of their grades for the preceding year. This magazine is distributed only to alumni of the college of law and members of the Iowa Bar.

Editors Selected

The student editors are selected on the basis of scholarship, and are chosen from the junior and senior classes. Those who will contribute this year are William S. Anderson L3 of St. Charles, William E. Carr L2 of Lamonte, Mo., Clyde S. Charlton L2 of Rolfe, Edmond M. Cook L3 of Davenport, Frederick M. Miller L3 of Des Moines, Harry H. Miller L3 of Webster City, Arlo W. Palmer L3 of Malcom, Joseph A. Pollock L3 of Davenport, Heinrich C. Taylor L2 of Bloomfield, Francis H. Uriell L3 of Elkader, and Edwin V. Zahorik L3 of Iowa City.

Wassam Contributes

The leading article of this number of the bulletin is "Notice to the Guarantor—In Iowa," by Prof. Rollin M. Perkins of the college of law. "A Bureau of Criminal Investigation," by Professor Goodrich discusses the legislation passed at the last General Assembly with the purpose of coordinating the efforts of the peace officers throughout the State in reducing crime. "Administrative Provisions for Licensing of Chiropractors, Chiropractors and Osteopaths," by Prof. Edwin W. Patterson, details the procedure by which license will be granted. "Executor de son tort abolished," by Dean D. O. McGovney discusses the effect of a recent Iowa statute on the administration of estates.

Articles in the bulletin are not confined to the members of the law faculty, for there is a discussion of "Chattel Loans" by Prof. C. W. Wassam of the college of commerce and an article on "Vital Statistics" by Prof. Edward B. Reuter of the department of sociology, also a treatise on "Instruction to the Jury where Handwriting is Identified by Expert Testimony," by Gordon Elliott a practicing attorney of Des Moines.

The usual "Notes" and "Recent Cases" which are written by student members of the staff and are unsigned, include articles on "Forbidding Instruction in Foreign Language as an interference with Religious Liberty," "Filing Articles of Incorporation," "Rights of Inheritance" and "Illegal Contracts."

PLANS FINISHED FOR FROSH HOP

Bright Green Will be the Predominating Color in Decorations

Plans for the freshman party to be given in the men's gymnasium on Friday, December 2, are complete, according to a statement from Leonard C. Parkin A1 of Waterloo, chairman of the committee.

The gymnasium will be decorated with the freshman colors, bright green predominating.

Refreshments Will Be Served

A Christmas atmosphere will be created by a mixture of red with the green color scheme of the freshman class.

During the evening refreshments will be served. Programs will be in the shape of a green cap and of the same shade.

The price of the party is the lowest it has ever been, according to Parkin. Tickets will be on sale at Whetstone's Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock. Programs can be obtained by presenting tickets at Whetstone's after Wednesday.

For Everyone

The freshman party committee will try to give the best party that can be put on under the handicap of the recent ruling of the social committee, according to Parkin.

"The statement has been noised around the campus that this party is only for freshmen," said Parkin. "It is a wish of the committee that this statement be corrected as everybody is welcome the same as last year. The party is to be informal as in former years."

CLASSES IN BOXING WILL START WORK NEXT WEEK

Commencing next week, classes in boxing will start working out under the direction of Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education, and these classes will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 3 p. m. and on Tuesday and Friday at 4 p. m. Mr. Schroeder said that fourteen men registered yesterday, and that many more desired to enter these classes. "We will take care of as many men," he said, "as want to take the boxing course, but they must register this week, since we cannot rearrange the classes after they are once started."

Good Performers Last Year

Last year Mr. Schroeder had charge of the men who were taking boxing and turned out some good performers. At the end of the season he organized a boxing tournament that brought together the best men in the University and enabled fans to see some high class scrapping. Kinney won in the heavyweight class, Harding in the 175-pound class, Kilbourne in the 160-pound class, Penquite in the 145, Prentiss in the 135, Murphy in the 125, and Murray in the 115-pound class. L. G. Kilbourne who won the championship in the 160-pound class was sick when the tournament ended, and won his honors in a post tournament match. Many of these men are in the University this year and should figure as possible winners when this year's meet comes off during the later part of March or the first week in April.

Will Give Medals

Some good medals are to be given to the winners of the different classes in the tournament this year. There is no conference boxing meet since the conference does not believe in boxing as an inter-collegiate sport because of the spirit of personal antagonism that is developed. However, the conference believes in boxing as a developing exercise that should be encouraged in each university.

Besides the classes in boxing, work will be started in all the other special classes. A class in Indian clubs starts next week on Wednesdays and Fridays at 4 p. m. Professor Scott will again have charge of the fencers, who will meet on Wednesday and Friday at 4 p. m. Sophomore intermediate swimming classes for men who have passed the freshmen tests also starts next week with classes on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Wednesdays and Friday, at 3 p. m. Work on heavy apparatus with classes at 3 p. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays will also start next week.

JESSUP HOME WILL BE SCENE OF INFORMAL RECEPTION TONIGHT

President and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup will entertain at an informal reception for all freshmen and all other first-year students at 7:30 this evening at the president's home at 102 East Church street.

In the receiving line will be Robert E. Rienow, dean of men, Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, acting dean of women, the chaperons of Currier hall and the proctors of the Quadrangle.

This affair is given annually at the President's home. Last year, however, it had to be dispensed with because of illness of the President's family which made it impossible to hold the reception.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR EDITORIALS

Association on Limitations of Armaments Will Give Two Awards

The National Association on "Limitation of Armaments" at Washington, D. C., has offered two prizes for the best editorial on the subject "What will constitute success at the Washington Conference." The first prize is for $100 and the second for $50.

Every student at the University is eligible to try and win one of the prizes. The editorial must appear in the University paper and treat on the above subject. Only students are eligible to win the prizes.

The time limit is December 15, at which time all editorials which were printed in a college paper must be in the hands of Charles H. Derby Jr. of Princeton, New Jersey.

IRVING-ERODELPHIAN PLAY TO SHOW HUMAN SIDE OF LIFE

"Beyond the Horizon is not a gloomy play but portrays humor in every scene," is the statement of Mrs. William R. Hart, who is coaching the production, which will be given by the Irving and Erodolphian societies, December 14 and 15. According to Mrs. Hart there has been a mistaken and erroneous idea prevalent on the campus in regard to the nature of the play.

Although it is in no sense a comedy, there is not a scene which does not contain some humor and two of the characters, Capt. Dick Scott and Ben, a farmhand, are distinctly droll in their respective parts.

The most descriptive word that can be used to characterize the play is that it is "human" from the first act to the last. It is a representation of life as it is experienced by the common individual with its periods of sadness, joy and humor. As is neither comedy nor all tragedy, it must be simply portrayed as a "drama."

"Beyond the Horizon" was written by Eugene O'Neill and received the Pulitzer prize of $1000 for being the best American play produced last year.

UNIVERSITY INSTRUCTORS ARE OFFICERS IN ORGANIZATION

Two members of the department of physical education at the University of Iowa are officers of the Iowa State Physical Directors Association.

Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men, was elected president of the organization at a recent meeting. Miss Bess M. Baker, instructor of physical education for women, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The membership of the association consists of college and high school physical directors from all over the State of Iowa. According to Mr. Schroeder, the organization is making every effort to increase its membership throughout the entire State. At present there are about fifty-five members.

For the first time in the history of the organization a State conference will be held in Iowa City. "The first conference will take place sometime in March," Mr. Schroeder declared.

WILL PRESENT DISARMAMENT PROGRAM SOON

National Plan Will be Followed Among the Students

JESSUP APPROVES

University to be Informed About Work of the Conference

The committee on the campaign for disarmament is perfecting plans for student organization which will be ready for operation in a few days according to Abram M. DeVaul L2 of Fonda, who is chairman of the committee. The aim is to follow the national plan for disarmament by arousing interest in the question among University students.

Those in charge are Abram M. DeVaul, representative of the Forensic council, Prof. Rollin S. Perkins of the college of law, Douglas F. Boynton A4 of Cedar Rapids, president of the student council, Frank K. Shuttleworth L1 of Sibley, representative of the Y. M. C. A. and the Congregational young people, and Max A. Conrad L2 of Burlington, representing the Methodist young people.

The campaign is to follow up the national student limitation of armament convention at Chicago, to arouse the students of universities and colleges to the importance of being informed of the work of the International conference now in session at Washington.

The plan is being supported by the administration of the University, President Jessup expressing himself as being very much in favor of the plan.

SEVENTY-NINE COME OUT FOR THE FIRST BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Seventy-nine freshmen reported to Coach Albert P. Jenkins in the mens gymnasium for the first basketball practice last night. Several promising men appeared in suits and others will be out in a few days. Among those who were out and showed up well were Ted Swenson of Cedar Rapids, picked by the Register as an all-State man, Robert Schick and O. Krasuske of Davenport, both all-State men, Herbert E. Vaughan of West Waterloo, Fred Sperling of Council Bluffs, Edwin Hartigan of Cherokee and Kirk Yerkes of Cedar Rapids.

Coach Jenkins talked to the players for a few minutes and explained to them that it would be only a short time until the squad would be cut down, possibly after the Christmas vacation. Coach Jenkins also emphasized that now was the time for each one to start in right and not just do a thing that was wrong because he did it in high school. He explained that he expected them to work while out and when they were called on to play to get out on the floor and do the best they could. Practice will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 and will last until 9.

After giving the freshmen their instructions, Coach Jenkins placed the men in four lines and let them practice passing, emphasizing that he did not want to see any "Haymaker passes" and to avoid anything but a quick overhand pass.

CLEVER BOOTHS WILL FEATURE THE ALPHA DELTA PI BAZAAR

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority will give a bazaar Thursday, December 1 at the chapter house at 126 No. Clinton. The sale will be open from 2 until 8. During the afternoon tea will be served.

Arrangements have been made for several clever booths, which includes a children's booth, a handkerchief booth, a candy booth, a fancy work booth, and a ribbon booth. Clara B. Mackindoe A3 of Cherokee has complete charge of the work.

SOMETHING WRONG

There are a great many students who are apparently willing to give a considerable share of their very valuable time unselfishly in order to make known to their less informed brothers that there is something materially wrong with the present scheme of life; their philosophy has reached that stage which tells them that the order of things is not as it should be. They are right; there is something egregiously wrong. This admission will serve as a reminder, too, that we have before had our attention drawn to the fact that our stars are not at fault for every misarrangement that comes to our notice but that, on the other hand, our underlying characteristics and tendencies should come in for their share of the blame.

When we are notified that the world is wrong, we are unconsciously accustomed to giving it a common sense translation to the effect that not the world but the pessimist or cynic or whatever he may be is wrong. If the general order of things is poor, it is because he does not fit into them well; if he distrusts his fellow men, it is because he expects them to mistrust him; if the sun is too bright, it is because his eyes are too sensitive; if he is not loved or is mocked or hated, it is because he does not love or respect or admire; if his shoe is too tight, it is because his foot is too big.

It is a case where the kicker should be kicked and the knocker knocked. The sorry fellow should spend less time in polishing his star or introducing new lighting effects, and more in educating himself out of the underlying state.

INTEREST AND EFFICIENCY

Many students spend a great deal of time at their studies, but owing to the fact that they allow their minds to wander aimlessly about while they are working, they are unable to accomplish all they wish to. It is only the very few who have such splendidly trained minds that they can concentrate in one specific subject to the practical exclusion of all else. The great majority of students are sure to have their attention distracted by various interesting but inconsequential little thoughts that insist on coming into their heads, and on flitting between the lines of the book they are studying, and in fact that seem to bear scant respect for the wishes of the would-be student.

It is a question whether many of our modern memory courses would help a student so situated. They require concentration as well as our every day tasks, and however good may be the system that they follow, there is still room for the mind to wander. About the best remedy is real genuine interest in the subject which one is studying. Interest will tend to drive away the disconcerting thoughts that tend to crowd into the brain. It will develop concentration, for it is a driving, compelling force that rivets the attention firmly on the matter in hand in such a way that complete mastery of the subject will be the result. Although much may be said in favor of subjects that are supposed to develop certain mental faculties, yet it is doubtful if they fulfill their purpose when the factor of interest is lacking. Healthy, vital interest in a subject will do more to develop keen mental faculties than any amount of weary plodding through dull, classical literature, or materialistic mathematical formula.

The student should endeavor to find out what subjects interest him, then should map out his courses accordingly. The importance of choosing a course that harmonizes with the natural bent of one's mind can not be over estimated. We should think matters over and study our own desires carefully before we definitely decide just what line of work we wish to take up; then we may go ahead and as the subjects we have elected to study become clearer for us, we will find that our interest grows with our increasing knowledge, and that our efficiency increases with our added powers of concentration.—McGill Daily.

THE USED KEY

In his "College Administration" Dean Clark says that after making "pretty careful and extensive investigations of the scholarship of the undergraduate men and women at the University of Illinois," he found among things of interest, that the averages of men engaged in athletics "were usually higher for the period of athletic activity than for the period when the men are engaged in active and regular physical exercise."

This seems strange, on first thought. With more time on their hands, the athletes might be expected to raise their scholastic standing. But their failure to do so is not so unusual an occurrence as it at first appears. In choosing a leader for their commercial clubs, business men choose one of their number who is busy, if they expect to make the organization a success. The man who has but little to do, usually does that little very poorly, as compared with the manner in which the person who is "literally covered up with work" does his. The man who has a great deal of work to do, develops a system, and gives over a definite portion of his day to a particular work. If he is called upon to take some community activity, he puts the new work into his schedule, and works at it with a will, until it is accomplished. On the other hand the idler, although he may be interested in the work assigned him, knows that he has plenty of time, and usually waits until some active person calls his attention to something specific to be done, before he moves.

Busy men are club members, read the daily papers, attend social affairs, and otherwise take part in the world outside of their own narrow field. So the busy student also takes part in college activities, and is made a better man, all round, by doing so. The student carrying a maximum course does better work than one who attempts only the minimum. The moral to be drawn then, is that if you want to do a good grade of work, do plenty of it; leave no time for loafing, but fill every hour with something. If not in the line of your regular work, then outside of it. Do something; keep busy, and the grades will take care of themselves.—Daily Illini.

ONLY ONE WOMAN IS ENROLLED IN COLLEGE OF APPLIED SCIENCE

Leonora Bohac of Iowa City Is Taking Engineering This Year

There is only one woman, Leonora Bohach S2 of Iowa City, among the embryo-engineers in the college of applied science. Miss Bohach has had three semesters of work in the University, and she insists that engineering for girls is great. She has already completed the course in surveying, and has measured all the countless angles and slopes behind the physics building.

When Miss Bohach had completed her first semester, she was told that a course in shop work was in store for her. She experienced a little difficulty in locating the shops, but after she was able to tell a lathe from a forge, she enjoyed the work.

In a recent interview, Miss Bohach said that she had entered the college of applied science in order to satisfy an interest in mathematics and drawing. She started her University career in the summer session, and became so interested in scientific studies that she registered that fall in the college of applied science.

Miss Bohach said that there are over 100 women graduates from engineering colleges in this country, and that more than 200 are now enrolled. She believes that there are great opportunities for women with engineering experience, and she plans to work at drafting when she has finished her course.

TWENTY-FIVE FRATERNITIES WILL TAKE PART IN MEET

Twenty-five fraternities will be represented in the interfraternity conference swimming meet which will be held December 10, and according to a statement from Coach David A. Armbruster some keen competition will be afforded. Several of the fraternity teams have been practicing in the pool for the past two weeks. Arrangements can be made with Coach Armbruster for any team wishing to use the pool.

This is the second inter-fraternity swimming meet. The inter-fraternity meet that was held four years ago was won by Sigma Nu with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity a close second.

Prizes Will Be Given

Three prizes will be given to the fraternities winning the first three places in the meet, which consists of silver loving cups of three different sizes.

First, second, third and fourth places will be given in the various events with first place counting five points, second place three, third two, and fourth one. Relay races will be given points as follows: seven for first, five for second, three for third, and two for fourth. Each fraternity will be allowed to enter four men in the relays. In the other events each fraternity will be allowed to enter two men. Proper entry blanks will be sent from Coach Armbruster's office to the various fraternities who are eligible to compete.

Preliminaries May Be Held

It is possible that preliminaries may be necessary in the dashes to avoid having to many in the final events. The pool will only accommodate about six in a race.

LECTURE COMMITTEE BOOKS WILL IRWIN AND W. L. GEORGE

The University lecture committee has recently secured Will Irwin, called the "Ace of Correspondents" for January 18 and W. L. George, English novelist for February 13.

Will Irwin, who is from the West, started out as a "cub" reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle but soon became known as a "star" in San Francisco and New York and was finally made editor of McClure's magazine. When war broke out Irwin was one of the first correspondents in the field. He was the first English speaking prisoner of the war and in 1914 was held with Irvin Cobb and John T. McCutcheon by German commanders. Following the war, Irwin was under fire in the Ruhr rebellion, and later visited Russia and many other countries of the world, studying social, political and industrial conditions. His work as war correspondent won for him the title "Ace of Correspondents". He has just completed his new book, "The Next War" which Dr. Frank Crane called, in the Chicago Daily News, "the greatest book of the century".

Mr. George is author of "A Bed of Roses", "The Second Blooming", "Blind Alley", "Caliban", "Hail Columbia", "Antole France", and "Antole France", and "Woman of Tomorrow."

Mr. George's comments on the American woman have been widely quoted and are the source of much discussion. In his recently published story, "Caliban" his theme is yellow journalism and his hero, Lord Bulmer, is said to be modeled after Lord Northcliffe, the English publisher, but is represented as Northcliffe's successful rival.

SCHROEDER WILL ATTEND BANQUET FOR COE TEAM

Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men, will attend a banquet tonight given in honor of the Coe college football team by the Cedar Rapids business men. President Walter A. Jessup and Howard H. Jones, director of athletics, received invitations but will be unable to attend.

The banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 in the Cedar Rapids Y. M. C. A. building.

IRVING WILL GIVE MEDALS TO WINNERS OF DEBATE SERIES

To develop all men in Irving Institute in forensic work during the present year, is the aim of that organization, according to Abram M. DeVaul L2 of Fonda, chairman of the committee on forensics. Toward that end, a series of debates has been arranged for the winter months, in which all freshmen and sophomores of the society are required to take part, and in which the juniors and seniors may enter if they desire.

The debates will be held at intervals of two weeks during the coming months, and a regular tournament procedure will be observed by the various teams which have been chosen. The winners of the final series are to be presented with gold medals which will be given by the society.

The question for the debates will be: Resolved; That the Hughes plan for limiting world armament should be adopted by the Washington conference.

The first debate of the series will take place next Thursday evening at Irving hall, when a special meeting will be held. The speakers at that time will be divided into the following two teams: affirmative, Phillip A. Buscemi A4 of Centerville, Jesse M. Westwick A1 of Williams, and Warren G. McAvoy A2 of Washington; and negative, Willis H. Walker A4 of Iowa City, Fred A. Stone A2 of Eldon, and Max A. Livingston.

150 WOMEN COMPLETE W. A. A. REQUIREMENTS

One hundred and fifty women of the University have completed the entrance requirements for W. A. A. This is the largest number the association has ever taken in at one time.

The constitution provides four methods for acquiring the fifty points necessary for entrance: five supervised hikes of three, five, seven, nine and eleven miles respectively, fifteen thirty-minute swimming periods of six weeks; paddling a canoe to Coralville and back four times; and election to a first or second athletic team. In the last case, the women are allowed to use their points for entrance, but must make them up in order to get an "I".

The majority of women earned their points by hikes, which have been conducted during the fall by W. A. A. officers. Over thirty women received their points by swimming.

In spite of the increased difficulty in the requirements, a great number of women attempted the task. Last year the five hikes were only five miles in length, and the swimming requirement was twelve times in six weeks. The point system, for the awarding of "I's" will also be changed.

QUADRANGLE RESIDENT SERIOUSLY INJURED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK

Clement F. Mullen L2 of Waterloo who was quite badly injured last Thanksgiving morning, is recovering but he is still in a very weak condition.

Some of the men of the Quadrangle, in an attempt to play a practical joke, attached an electric wire with several batteries which were located in the north side tower of the Quadrangle.

Connected to Door Knob

This wire was brought down the inside of the door where it was connected to the door knob. With the wires connected in this manner any one who might happen to touch the handle would receive a shock.

Mullen who has a weak heart, unfortunately, happened to be returning from debate practice at this hour and received the shock. After taking hold of the handle he was unable to let go for a few minutes, and after managing to loosen his grip he became very weak and nervous. As Mullen was injured while in the service, this shock was more serious with him than it would have been perhaps with another man.

Remains Nervous

After Mullen reached his room he was in an extremely nervous condition, had pains in his heart and lungs and was unable to see until 4:30 o'clock that afternoon. Since Thursday Mullen has remained in bed suffering with pains in his heart and lungs.

WINTRODE TELLS OF BURIAL OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER NOVEMBER 11

John H. Wintrode A2 of Winterset, one of the delegates selected by Gov. Nate E. Kendall to represent the state of Iowa at the ceremonies of the burial of the Unknown Soldier, held in Arlington cemetery, recounted his experiences at the national capital to the Silver Star club's social party which was held Thanksgiving evening in the Unitarian church parlors.

In his interesting story he said that the most impressive event was the monster procession more than three miles long, which wended its way after the burial to ex-President Wilson's residence where the multitudes of people manifested their admiration and love and expressed their congratulations for speedy return of health to the former president. Ex-President Wilson, responded to the congratulations by appearing on his front porch and thanking all the people for their remembrance.

INSTRUCTOR MAY BE APPOINTED TO TAKE CHARGE OF BOXING

According to Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men, a boxing instructor is being considered for the University at the present time. Although nothing definite has been decided, it is possible that an instructor will devote at least a part of his time here.

If no instructor is appointed, Mr. Schroeder will take charge of the boxing classes with the probable aid of the men who won the championships in the tournaments here last spring.

Arrangements have been made with George T. Brensahan, assistant athletic director, to wire an account of the conference of Big Ten officials to The Daily Iowan each day the conference is in session. Coach Brensahan will send a report of the sessions, along with the schedules of the Iowa football, baseball, indoor and outdoor track, swimming, wrestling and gymnastics. Any other important matters taken up by the officials will also be reported.

Prof. Byron J. Lambert who is president of the conference has called the meeting one day ahead (December 2) to discuss special items of business.

With the story that Cornell university has been invited to participate in the tournament of roses game at Pasadena on New Year's day, interest has shifted from Iowa to Cornell, and fans are awaiting with interest the decision of athletic authorities there. There have been persistent rumors that most of the universities which have been considered as opponents for California have refused to consider the trip, and unless the invitation is accepted by Cornell it looks as if the Tournament committee will have a hard time to find a team which will come to California. In most cases the invitation would not be considered because of the fact that it would be too long a trip and California would be given too great odds on the encounter.

Mike Howard, wrestling coach, is said to be an authority on jiu jitsu, which is used so widely by the Japanese. It is thought that if enough students show an interest in this form of sport, a class will be started.

FEWER STUDENTS CUT CLASSES THIS YEAR, SAYS DEAN RIENOW

Few students are cutting classes this year, according to Dean Robert E. Rienow. Although the committee on administration and classification of the University has made a regulation that students should attend all classes there are times when it is impossible for students to be there. For this reason petitions may be made out by students, and handed in to the dean's office.

Any petition with a real vital reason for absence which is turned in is always given consideration before the committee of administration and classification, of which Dean George F. Kay is chairman. This committee gets at the student's view point, and has the student body in mind, that is they try as far as possible to treat all students alike, and do nothing for one that they could not do for another under the same circumstances.

May Expell Students
If a student cuts classes to a noticeable degree without sufficient excuse, they are notified of the fact, and a letter is sent home to his parents. The student is then subject to suspension if this practice is carried on.

Dean Rienow said, "We try to be reasonable, but of course cannot satisfy everybody all the time as this would be an impossibility, but as a general rule students like this regulation. This is fair to the students, as well as to the University officials, and there has been no tendency to take advantage of it. Students, as a general rule, are honest in their statements when making out petitions for excuses."

Deduct Credit for Cuts
Absences before and after holidays are treated most seriously, for any student missing a class the day before a holiday, or the day following loses one hour of credit for each class he misses, unless he has a sufficient excuse. It seems that this is the only practical way of handling this situation, and to enforce it some penalty has to be devised, and for this reason a reduction of credit seemed reasonable.

On the whole, class attendance has been remarkably good, and Dean Rienow said that one professor told him that in one of his freshman sections he had not had a single absence for three weeks.

THIRTY-FIVE OUT FOR GYM TEAM

Efforts Will be Made to Secure Competitive Meets

Thirty-five men are out for the gymnastic team this year. According to Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men this is by far the largest enrollment in the history of this sport at the University.

Mr. Schroeder stated that efforts would be made to secure competitive meets with other institutions. "More interest is being shown this year than ever before. At Chicago gymnastic work is one of the major sports. There is no reason why the work cannot receive more prominence at the University of Iowa," Mr. Schroeder stated.

To Entertain Between Halves
During halves at basketball games different members of the gym team will put on various exhibition stunts similar to those of last year. Practically every one of the thirty-five men who are enrolled in the gym classes will have an opportunity to participate in some of this work.

Three Years for Development
"It takes about three years to develop a well trained gymnast," according to Mr. Schroeder.

The men enrolled in the gym classes this year are William E. Adams A2 of West Liberty, Ray A. Ashford A3 of Bedford, Lyle J. Bailey of Marion, Vernon L. Barta A2 of Cedar Rapids, Charles H. DeVaul A2 of Varina, Otha D. Hulse A2 of Mingo, Lyle H. Kelly A2 of Walla Walla, Wash., Edward F. Kohrs M1 of Davenport, Robert F. Leimer S4 of Los Angeles, Cal., Martin L. # DEBATE TEAMS TO MEET FRIDAY

Philomatheans and Irvings Clash in Preliminary Argument

The Philomathean debating team will meet the Irving Institute team on Friday night, December 2 at 8 o'clock in a preliminary debate which leads to the final championship debate on January 13 when the winner is to meet the Zetagathian team, winners in last year's fight for the men's literary society championship.

The question to be debated is: Resolved, That a students' cooperative supply house should be established in Iowa City.

Team at Work
The Irving team which is to defend the question is hard at work, according to Kenneth Shumaker A4 of Iowa City. The team is composed of William Jackson A3 of Iowa City, Harold D. Pead A3 of Des Moines and Willis McMartin A2 of Bridge-water, S. Dak. All three members of the team have been members of literary society teams before and hope to face the Zetagathian team in January.

Robert Birchard A2 of Davenport, Clement F. Mullen L2 of Waterloo, James M. Stewart A2 of Runnells will face the Irving Institute team. Charles Sellers A2 of Columbus Junction will act as alternate.

To Take Opposite Side
The winners will take the opposite side of the question on January 13. The Zetagathian team is composed of Leslie P. Towle L1 of Littleport, Kenneth M. Dunlap A3 of Jefferson, and Buel G. Beems A2 of Anamosa.

Approximately 200 packages a day are mailed at Whetstone's, principally by University students.

DUPRE APPEALS FOR HELP FOR STUDENTS OF FOREIGN NATIONS

"The future of the world depends upon the type of leadership developed in the universities, colleges and high schools of the present day," said Huntley Dupre, before a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and the Y. W. C. A. council at the Mad Hatter's Tea Room Tuesday evening, in an appeal to help the students of Europe.

"The challenge of the hour," he said, "is for the students in the colleges and universities of the United States to cooperate and share with those needy students in the nations of Europe. All the world has common intentions to create good will between nations, and all should help each other in the realization of these intentions."

Helping Foreigners
Mr. Dupre is engaged in work among the students of the universities of Czechoslovakia, organizing them into Christian unions such as the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in this country. He has been back in this country only two weeks and is now organizing the student friendship campaign among American students, for the relief of those in the countries of southwestern Europe. His work has been mostly with the University of Prague, which has 23,000 students, many of whom are from other nations than Czechoslovakia.

The work in this country is being conducted under the auspices of the World Student Christian Federation for the benefit of 250,000 students in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Austria, Germany, Hungary, Asia Minor, Estonia, Latvia, and refugee Russian students in Switzerland and France.

Need Leaders
"More leaders are needed," said Mr. Dupre, "and the only place to get the proper leaders is in the colleges and universities. The question of helping students in the European colleges is not a matter of charity but of cooperation."

"Lack of economic adjustments since the war is the cause of all the hardship in Czechoslovakia," says Mr. Dupre. "Food, clothes, books, fuel, and medical aid are what are needed most by the students over there, and are what will be provided by the student friendship fund which is being raised among the students of this and other countries at the present time. The goal for the entire world is $750,000 and the amount to be raised in the United States is $500,000."

Sent By Ohio State
Mr. Dupre is a representative of the World Student Christian Federation in Czechoslovakia and is also sent out by the Ohio State University of which he is a graduate and where he was formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He has been in Czechoslovakia for twenty months and will return to that country some time in January.
