"I'll give all I've got to be in the Yale last year when the Iowa men come on the field," in the contest of opinion expressed by a number of persons interviewed yesterday. "I know that they're going to be the team that is going to be talking about Iowa next year and not the other way around."

The Inter-Collegiate, which has charge of the arrangements for starting the special train, plans on having at least two trains from 10 to 11 coaches start out from the station in Iowa City, and two other trains being considered for the trip, the Baltimore and Ohio and the other is the New York Central. The coaches would be taken to the Rock Island train at Chicago and then be continued on the trip to New York.

Want To See New York

Most everyone interviewed wanted to have at least a day in New York. A desire to paint the town red on the way back was expressed by more than one. "There is nothing like arrangements of this kind that makes the tour of New York worth while," was the way most of them put it.

"YE BLUE LAWS" IS IN LIBRARY

Many Interesting Books May Be Found On New Book Shelf

"Hands are associated with evil" is the theme of a new book, "Ye Blue Laws," which appeared this week on the book shelf in the University library. From this book it would seem that the blue law advocates of today are merely reviving the themes of the Puritans. It says:

"Blue Laws are not only a source of pride to students, but a source of joy to the literary community.""YE BLUE LAWS" IS IN LIBRARY
