CAMPAIGN WILL SPREAD FACTS ON ARMAMENTS

Campus Organizations Will Help to Bring Subject Before Students

WILL MAKE BIG DRIVE

All-University Ball Will Be Means of Spreading Information

A campaign is being launched today to get the facts underlying the limitation of armament problem before the student body, according to Abram M. DeVaul L2 of Fondq, who is chairman of the State and local campaign committees.

The plan, as outlined by DeVaul, is for the various organizations on the campus to take part in an intensive drive to educate the student body about the present day situation, and to enable them to become familiar with the intricate facts and national interests involved in arriving at an agreeable plan of limitation such as that proposed by Secretary of State Hughes. In addition, it is the hope to make clear the viewpoint and the reasons behind the agitation by foreign governments for their stands at the Washington conference.

To Have Ball

The campaign will be carried on through campus organizations. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and the Congregational young people will be organized under Frank K. Shuttleworth L1 of Sibley. The Methodist young people will conduct discussion groups and engage special speakers under the direction of Max A. Conrad L3 of Burlington.

Douglas F. Boynton A4 of Cedar Rapids has brought the matter before the student council and that organization is planning an all-University disarmament ball, at which a special speaker will be present. The rest of the evening is to be devoted to dancing. Proceeds of this ball will go toward meeting the expenses of the campaign among the students.

Literary Society Organized

All the literary societies will be organized by Abram M. DeVaul. Already several of the societies have had special programs dealing with the limitation of armament problem, and the plan is for the following meetings to consider different phases of the same question.

The political science and history departments are intending to discuss the conference problems in the various classes. In addition, several lectures by professors, which will be open to the University, are being planned for the near future, and one monster mass meeting is to take the form of an open forum discussion.

Part of National Campaign

December 15 is the last date upon which editorials on the subject: "What will constitute success at the Washington Conference" will be received. These editorials must appear in a college newspaper, the best articles to be awarded prizes by the national council on limitation of armament. The first prize is $100 and the second prize $50.

The local campaign is a part of a national organization among the colleges and universities all over the country. The president of the national organization is F. Rothschild of Harvard.

The national organization has been made permanent in order to foster interest among the students of colleges and universities in all international problems after the disarmament conference at Washington has ended.

President Harding and Secretary Hughes have both acknowledged the resolution, expressing their approval of the national organization and stating that their desire was that it might help materially to formulate opinion on world problems of the present day.

FRIVOL OUT THURSDAY

Frivol will be on sale Thursday morning instead of tomorrow due to a delay in delivery according to Harold H. Smith A4 of Maquoketa, circulation manager.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT OF OLD DAYS TO PREVAIL AT W. A. A. PARTY

"Ye olde tyme Christmas spirit" will be revived at the W. A. A. party Wednesday, December 14, at the women's gymnasium. Members will come dressed in masculine or feminine attire of the English colonial period which was of such good cheer and geniality as to give the country the name, "Merry England".

One will, no doubt, almost smell the aroma of the bayberry candles and the smoke of the Yule log. Or one will imagine those engaging characters of Dickens', Mr. and Mrs. Fezziwig, dancing beneath the festoons of holly and mistletoe.

A short program, of which Lorena M. Bowen A4 of Iowa City has charge, is being arranged. The numbers will especially stress Christmas customs and traditions. Everyone will join in the singing of Christmas carols.

After the program dancing will take place. Later in the evening refreshments, carrying out the Christmas scheme, will be served. The party is the first of this type to be given by W. A. A. and is an attempt to establish such party as a yearly custom.

PLANS ALMOST COMPLETED FOR SKATING RINK

Plans for an all-University skating rink where all of the enthusiasts may skate to their hearts content and not have their joy marred by a sudden bath due to thin ice, are rapidly nearing completion. According to Ernest G. Schroeder, physical director, a new plan of flooding the tennis courts will be used this winter so that the ice will be fit for skating.

To Flood Courts

"We are going to flood the tennis courts as soon as the weather gets cold enough, and we hope that this year the weather will permit us to use the new system of flooding the courts. We are going to use the same system that is in use in the northern part of this country. According to this method the court is flooded thoroughly at first and then the top layers are sprinkled in such a fashion so as to make the ice perfect for skating. This method will take lots of work but we feel that it will be worth it," said Mr. Schroeder.

This year will mark the third year that the system of flooding the courts will be put into effect. The last two years the method was unsuccessful due to the weather conditions and also due to the fact that ice resulting from flooding the courts was anything but satisfactory.

The Iowa river has also been used for skating in the past years but it has been quite difficult to keep the river free from the snow after snowstorms. Volunteers have usually kept the river free from the snow but there has always remained the question of safety.

Classes on Ice

According to Mr. Schroeder if the new plans are satisfactory and the weather remains cold, gymnasium classes in ice skating will be held and also hockey games will take place. "We can have no classes in ice skating," said Miss Marion Lyon, women's physical director, but we will have contests on the ice and the winners in those contests will be awarded points toward W. A. A.

The opinion of the majority on the campus is in favor of such a skating rink if it can be carried out successfully.

Students Approve

"I think that it will be a very good idea and appreciated by every student who loves skating," said Douglas F. Boynton, president of the students council.

"It certainly would be fine to have a real good skating rink and I know that all of the girls would like it," said Jean Spiers, president of the Staff and Circle.

"Capital idea," said Edward Goodrich, president of the A. F. I. "I think that it would go over big and should be tried at least."

PETERMAN TO LEAD HARRIERS

He Has Been a Member of Cross-Country Team For Two Years

Lester V. Peterman A3 of Iowa City was elected captain of the cross-country team for next year at a dinner at the Hotel Jefferson Sunday noon. Peterman, besides being a member of the cross-country team, holds the University record of 10.03 2-5 in the two mile race.

At the meeting Leonard P. Ristine, retiring captain of the team was awarded an "I", Peterman a "c", and Goodrich, Noll, Morrow, Murray, DeWitt Smith, Ashton, who besides Peterman and Ristine were members of the cross country team, were awarded "c".

For the past two years Peterman has been a member of the cross country and track teams, and still has one year of competition in each branch of sport, and has the reputation of being one of the most consistent runners in the conference.

ASHMORE WORKS MEN ON OFFENSIVE PLAY

The greater part of the basketball practice last night was spent in perfecting a new style of offense which Coach James Ashmore believes will go well against Iowa's opponents. Last night this type of offense was used by the varsity against the third string and it enabled them to get many chances to break and shoot at the basket. Lohman and A. Devine seemed to work well together as one pair of forwards, while Frohwein and McGovney did nearly as well.

The only change in the lineup was when Barton was used as a forward, working with either Devine or Lohman. The Augustana center seemed to be able to out jump Barton, but did not do as well against Burgett. Barton, however, is fast enough for a forward and will probably push the other men out for those positions.

JONES WILL ATTEND BANQUETS THIS WEEK

Athletic banquets will be held this week in several different towns throughout the state. Coach Howard H. Jones and members of the football team have been invited to several towns in the State to be present at the banquets given in honor of the high school football team. The principle speakers at these banquets are members of the Iowa football teams and members of the board of education.

Coach Jones spoke at Osceola last night. The banquet was given by the school board of Osceola to the members of the team after having completed a most successful season. Coach Jones and Fred Slater have been invited by the Rotary club to be present at a banquet today noon in Waterloo and by the Commercial club of Cedar Falls this evening. It is probable that Lester Belding and Gordon Locke will go to Cedar Falls to the banquet. George Thompson will attend a banquet at Pows this noon given by the school board.

Thursday, Coach Howard H. Jones, Gordon Locke, and George Thompson will attend a banquet of the Iowa Alumni at Fort Dodge.

CHRISTMAS VESPERS TO BE DECEMBER 18

The second all-musical Christmas vespers to be given at the University will be held Sunday afternoon December 18, at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. A number of organizations will join in presenting portions of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah". The organizations to take part are the Women's Glee club, the Men's Glee club, the University chorus and the University orchestra.

"The Messiah," which is to be presented is known, according to Prof. Philip G. Clapp as the world's greatest oratorio.

Professor Clapp said, "This is the continuation of the policy started last year to organize a large chorus for Christmas and Easter vespers in order to give large works of a festival character."

30 REPORT FOR TRACK PRACTICE

Start Training Because of Meet With Wisconsin February 11

About thirty men reported to Coach George Bresnahan for the first indoor track practice of the season in the basement of the men's gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The candidates were given a light workout consisting of calisthenics, practice in starting, and practice in stride lengthening, finishing up with a few easy laps around the track. A number of beginners and a few of last year's varsity men were out, and Coach Bresnahan expects the squad to grow to much greater proportions before the holidays.

Practice in Two Sections

Practice will be held each afternoon in two sections, one at 4 and another at 5 o'clock. Candidates will be permitted to workout during the hour that best fits their daily class schedules. A meeting of all candidates for the 1922 track squad was held in the basement of the men's gymnasium last Saturday evening for the purpose of preliminary instructions from the coaching staff.

Coach Bresnahan outlined the indoor track schedule for the coming season, and emphasized the importance of an early start in training due to the fact that the first meet will be held February 11 with Wisconsin at Madison. Lieut. Martin, who has been appointed assistant track coach spoke to the men about the importance of this year's track schedule and of the prominence that Iowa will gain from holding the conference track and field meet in Iowa City.

Will Give Course

Coach Bresnahan announced that a coaching course will be given to all track men who are interested in track coaching. The course will begin immediately after the holidays and will continue until the spring vacation when those enrolled will be sent out to a number of smaller high schools throughout the state that are without the services of a coach. The Iowa men will act as coaches during their vacation, and will instruct the high school athletes in the methods of track athletics. The high school authorities will pay the expenses of the coaches. It is thought that this plan when carried out will be of benefit to both the high schools and to the University.

STUDENTS MAY TAKE BOXING

Only Sophomores Have Been Permitted to Register in Fistic Classes

All students, regardless of the year of their attendance in the University, are now allowed to register for boxing. Only sophomores were heretofore permitted to register for this form of athletics, but this rule has been changed so that any student who wishes may take up boxing provided his schedule can be arranged so as not to conflict with boxing class hours.

Any student wishing to take up boxing must first see Coach Schroeder. The hours of the boxing classes are Tuesday and Thursday at 3 o'clock, Wednesday and Friday at 3 and Tuesday and Friday at 4.

The boxing meet this year will probably be held some time during the latter part of February or the first part of March, according to Coach Ernest G. Schroeder. Last year the medals were given to the winners of the bouts by the committee in charge of the Medical clinic and they will very likely be given again this year.

WEATHER REPORT

Weather for Iowa—Colder with probable snow. Strong winds in the western part of the state.

WOMEN WILL COMPETE TONIGHT FOR PLACES ON DEBATING TEAM

Tryouts for the women's intercollegiate debate will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Little Theatre. The question has been stated as Resolved: That Ireland should be granted complete and immediate independence. The speeches will be five minutes in length on either side of the question. Twenty-five women signified their intention of trying out at a preliminary meeting. This is a large increase over that of last year, but many more than these twenty-five are expected. The judges will be Prof. Glenn N. Merry, head of the department of speech, Herbert C. Weller, Lee R. Norville and Alma G. Maddon, instructors in the department.

NEW WRESTLING RULES EXPECTED TO HELP IOWA

Captain Sweeney of the wrestling team is fast recovering from a strain received in practice last week. It is believed that the injury will not cause trouble other than to interfere with strenuous work for the captain of the squad for a few days. The fear that Sweeney would have difficulty in getting down to weight was ungrounded as he now weighs only a few pounds above 135, the weight he must reach by the date of the first meet.

First Meet With Purdue

The first scheduled meet for the Hawkeye grapplers is with Purdue here on February 17. Plans are now under way to have a match before that time but these plans can not be made public until arrangements are completed. The condition of the men now is such that a meet before the Purdue event would find the team in good shape.

Changes in the conference wrestling rules made at the meeting in Chicago will add to Iowa's chances for the championship by giving less opportunities for opponents to escape falls. It has happened in past years that opponents have forfeited matches giving Iowa men the decision and six points, rather than wrestle to a fall and give eight points.

No Change in Training

The new rules provide that a man giving up the bout for any reason shall forfeit eight points to the winner.

"The rule making the length of a bout twelve minutes instead of three seven minute bouts will not make much change in training rules," says Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical training. The men will be coached to put more speed into the one bout.

Barnes, Albers and Pfeffer still battle for the 115 pound class. Some doubt has been expressed as to the ability of Pfeffer to train down to that weight as he was in the 125 pound class on the freshman team of last year, but consistent work will probably make him a contender with Barnes and Albers. All three men show a great deal of ability, the experience of Barnes last year being a great asset to him.

Smith Still Leads

Several men are developing into good followers of Vana in the 125 pound class and a lively scrap is promised in the tryouts. Those showing up well are Prince, Langland, McCollister, Weber, and Scott.

In Captain Sweeney's weight Trichey, Jacobsen, and Sheets are doing good work. Sheets was on last year's freshman team and his experience makes him a good man.

Smith is again the leading man in the 145 class and with several years in the game should be a conference leader this season. Hunter is beginning to get back to his form of last year. He should go through the season best man of his weight in the conference. Heldt is coming rapidly under the coaching of Howard and his fight will carry his along as the season advances.

"The team should go straight through to the championship," says Director Schroeder. Coach Howard is well satisfied with the progress so far.

SPECIAL RATES TO BE ADOPTED ON MANY ROADS

Reduced Fares Will Not Go in Effect Until December 22

EXTRA ON INTERURBAN

Round Trip Tickets Will be Honored Until Midnight January 5

Further developments in the reduced railroad fares for the vacation period were brought to light yesterday afternoon when it was learned that the special rates would not go into effect until midnight of December 21. The rates, however, will apply to traffic on all roads in the Middle West. The holiday fare will consist of one and one-half fare for a round trip ticket.

$7.10 to Des Moines and Back

It was learned from Cedar Rapids yesterday that the Chicago Northwestern railroad had followed the action of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific as announced Saturday by the local passenger and freight agent for that road, Harry D. Breene.

In the first announcement of the reduction it was stated that the special rates would go into effect so as to include traffic on Wednesday, December 21, but it has now developed that such was not the case. The rate ruling has been handed down by the Western Passenger Association and will go into effect at midnight December 21 and on all roads in the association. Those roads are Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Chicago Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Illinois Central.

These special rates apply to all fares where the one way ticket would cost $1.75 or more. They will be good for return as late as midnight of January 5. Under these stipulations the following round trip rates to nearby cities will be in effect: Council Bluffs $15.35, Atlantic $11.85, Des Moines $7.10, Muscatine $5.05, Grinnell $3.95, Davenport $3.20, Burlington $4.55, Chicago $13.85, Minneapolis $13.55, Kansas City $20.50, Fort Dodge $13.05.

No Reduced Rates

No reduced rates will be offered by the Iowa Railway & Light company, operators of the interurban line to Cedar Rapids, according to a statement made yesterday by their local passenger agent W. D. Williams.

Mr. Williams was in communication with the head offices at Cedar Rapids yesterday afternoon, however, and announced that steps were being taken toward the running of a special train on Wednesday afternoon, December 21. The train will probably leave shortly after 3 o'clock. Definite arrangements will be announced later it was said.

CAST IS NAMED FOR SHAKESPERIAN PLAY

The cast for Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," which will be produced in January by the class in dramatic production under the direction of Prof. Edward C. Mabie was announced yesterday.

It is as follows:

CONFERENCE SUCCESS

The materialization of international cooperation is at present the foremost desire in the minds of all the delegated powers who are in session at the Washington conference. The formation of an Association of Nations, whereby all worldly countries will be affiliated with one another in the respect that unity and cooperation will exist and, in fact, dominate the world, will be an accomplishment of unlimited value to the entire world.

The great question that is now before the people of the entire world is this, will or will not the Washington disarmament conference be efficacious? The representatives sitting in this conference are not alone responsible as to the result of the conference, whether it will be a success or not. The American people themselves must share a portion of the burden necessary to be expanded in order to make the Washington parley a success. There will be innumerable ways in which we may do this.

Optimism may be spread and established in the minds of American people by not only flashy speeches from our greatest men and by the work of groups of people organized for that purpose, but, not least important, by the work of individuals in every day life. This may be accomplished at time indirectly and at other times directly. Probably the most effective way is indirectly. A spirit of optimism regarding the parley at Washington mingled with individual association, pleasure and work is much more effective than is the general thought of unseriousness of the great mass of people. We should not be gloomy because the movement of restoring peace and prosperity to its proper shelf is going to be slow. Rome was not built in a day, as it is with restoring and rebuilding the entire world. It is entirely unreasonable to expect restoration to come about immediately. Patience and perseverance exercised by all the people of the world, and unrestricted confidence in the representatives of the conference, will be a great aid to the ultimate success of the Washington parley. Why should the common people intervene too excessively into these worldly affairs, about which the most of them know very little? These delegated powers after a thorough study of the situation certainly know what is best for the world rather than do the common people. However, when the subject is brought up between individuals or the common people, we must speak a word of optimism rather than pessimism.

We are now in the midst of a time when optimism must prevail throughout the country in order to hold all forces and powers together in such a way that an era of good feeling and union will be universally established.

American people must not attempt to determine the outcome of the present conference by setting as a basis previous disarmament conferences. With the great changes of worldly affairs in general it would be fallacy to even attempt such a thing. The people of America should not be of this avaricious type; nor should we in any form desire conquests. It is much more remunerative to us to exercise all of our energies in the promotion and advancement of the welfare of our country itself.

Optimism and cooperation, when exercised by all American common people will be a very great asset to the accomplishment of a successful disarmament conference. The delegates of the conference should cooperate in union and work together, not with a selfish interest, but with a worldly interest which when materialized will bring results that will inevitably promote the welfare of mankind throughout the entire world.

A BIG QUESTION

The article concerning the present publicity and discussion now going on about morals and conduct of young women, especially college women, probably was as widely read and as widely considered as any like article printed this year. It is only natural that this should be so, for it affects everyone in some way or other, women of all ages, naturally —, because they have sisters and girl friends.

It would be futile for everyone who expressed an opinion to think that his solution or conclusions were the only sure-fire ones. Everything that can be said is only a contribution. Out of it all, in years perhaps, will evolve a general change in attitude—it may be for better or worse. No one can predict.

The chief point that remains in one's mind, when considering the questionnaire, in which a girl tells whether she has ever been kissed, has told lies, cheated, smoked, etc., is, as Dean of Women Elizabeth Conrad says, that is the problem of the individual girl. She loses something and gains something in each action. Does she gain more than she loses? The dean believes not. It is something that every girl must work out.

Another outstanding fact is the undeniable argument that hundreds of girls are influenced by their actions by others and by the mode. An added responsibility is thus thrown on older girls. There has been a tendency to separate the college girl's morals into a distinct problem. This should not be. A college girl is like any other normal human and comes from the same social sources. It is a national problem, rather than a collegiate one. Possibly there may be a justification in the view that co-eds, besieged and outnumbered by admirers, gauge their conduct to win their admiration, and consider that first. There should be a lofty intellectual plane among college girls, but, after all, the average will not be found greatly higher than of any other group.

It is a mammoth question—the one of morals and conduct. Rabid radicals can be found on both sides. It remains for the individual to think the thing through.—Ohio State Lantern.

DR. LOWREY TO SPEAK

"What is dementia praecox?" is the subject of a paper to be given by Dr. Lawson Lowrey of the University psychopathic hospital, at the Philosophical club meeting Tuesday evening, December 13. The child welfare research station will entertain the club at the station offices on the third floor of the elementary school building.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

To the Editor:—

Every ex-service man who has permitted the premium payments to lapse on his war risk insurance should, by all means, plan to reinstate his policy by paying up two monthly premiums before December 31, 1921. This is the final date for reinstating war risk insurance.

The man who has been disabled in the service is required to pay up all back due premiums to reinstate the policy, but those who have not been disabled are only required to pay two monthly premiums. This ruling, if not thoroughly understood, I would be very glad to explain in detail.

On account of the low handling cost, the government is in a position to provide very low premium rates on the various policy forms. In fact, no old line or legal reserve company can meet the government rates.

To those interested I would be very glad to be of any assistance in helping them reinstate the war risk insurance or give them information as to various policy forms and rates therefor.

H. S. PERSON TO GIVE LECTURES THIS WEEK

H. S. Person, managing director of the Taylor society of New York City is here for a week of lectures and conferences to reinforce and supplement the work in business management offered by the college of commerce.

Mr. Person has had an interesting career as an authority on business management. He was director of the Amos Tuck school of administration and finance at Dartmouth college until the outbreak of the war, when he became Major in the ordinance department and was stationed at Washington.

He was connected with the re-organizing of the supply section, and with the scientific handling of supplies in the ordinance department. After the war he became executive head of the Taylor society in New York city. In this work he has been a leader in bringing about a better understanding of the later method of business development.

Mr. Person's lectures are especially for the students of business administration and industrial management, but his lectures are open for others who are interested, and wish to hear him.

A series of seven lectures have been scheduled, and are as follows: Tuesday at 4 p. m., in physics assembly room 301, Wednesday at 4 p. m. in liberal arts assembly, Thursday at 4 p. m. and one at 8:15 p. m. in the liberal arts assembly, Friday at 4 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m. in liberal arts assembly.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Person gave an introductory talk on "The modern concept of good management," including, management as a profession, influences which have determined the nature of management in the United States, and circumstances which point to the need of better management.

Besides these lectures Mr. Person will also be available for conferences with those who are interested in his subject.

DIERDOFF TO SPEAK AT DINNER OF COMMERCE CLUB NEXT WEDNESDAY

I. E. Dierdorff, manager of the American Bond & Mortgage Company of Davenport will be the principle speaker at the Commerce club dinner at the Pagoda next Wednesday evening.

His subject will be "Bond Salesmanship" and the topic promises to be of interest to every member of the club even though he is not going into this line of work after graduation, because Mr. Dierdorff is a bond man in every sense of the word and the general subject of investments is usually linked with the future of every college of commerce graduate.

Mr. Dierdorff is a former student of the University of Iowa and was captain of the baseball nine some years ago. He also has a particular interest in the college of commerce inasmuch as three of last year's commerce graduates are associated with the American Bond & Mortgage Company in bond salesmanship. Erling Larsen and Charles Glasgow are with the Davenport office while Robert Hayes is affiliated with the Cedar Rapids branch.

The dinner will be held at 6 o'clock at the Pagoda and members of the club can make their reservations tomorrow or Tuesday with Roy A. Sands A4 of Sheldon, Frank L. Stephens A4 of Cedar Rapids, Martin A. Gearhart A4 of Batavia or in the office of the college of commerce, tomorrow or Tuesday.

BEYOND THE HORIZON" CAST ADDS LAST TOUCHES TODAY

With only one day remaining for rehearsal, the cast of "Beyond the Horizon" is making every effort to add the few touches which are necessary for its presentation tomorrow evening.

Maude Adams A4 of Des Moines and Albert Ward A3 of Clinton are both experienced players; the former has appeared in three consecutive productions on the campus and the latter has taken several leading parts in past plays. Although this is the first appearance of William Hauser who is the third member of the triple lead, he has the advantage of having witnessed "Beyond the Horizon" in New York and therefore has a knowledge of the play as interpreted by professionals.

The part of James Mayo, the father of Robert and Andy, is carried by Kenneth Shumaker A4 of Iowa City; Lois Garrett L1 of Fairfield is to assume the role of Mrs. Mayo; Gregory Foley A3 of Rock Rapids takes the part of Captain Dick Scott, an old sailor who is the brother of Mrs. Mayo. The character of Mrs. Mayo, Ruth's mother is being carried by Beatrice Pentony A3 of Manchester; the roles of Ben a farm-hand, and Doctor Fawcett, a specialist from New York are being taken by James Barton A3 of Ottumwa and Carl Kriener A3 of Ottumwa. Mary Evelyn Burns the five year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Burns of this city is to appear as "Mary" the small child of Ruth and Robert Mayo.

IOWA CITY BUSINESS MEN PLEDGE $70,000 TO MEMORIAL UNION

The latest report of the Iowa Memorial Union campaign in Iowa City shows a total of $70,000 pledged. Up to the present time there has been slightly over one-third solicited of the total number that the committees expect to solicit. Of this one third is included mostly business men and faculty members which was more easily to solicit than the remainder will be, but of course there are many more good prospects which have not yet been called on, says Ralph G. Grassfield Director of the Union.

The committee in charge of the soliciting feel confident that they will more than surpass the goal of $100,000, which is the quota set for Iowa City, says Ralph G. Grassfield, director of the Memorial Union.

The work at present has slowed up on account of the holidays being so near, as many of the committees are business men of Iowa City, and have not the time to spare at present. Immediately after the holidays the committees will again re-organize and the Iowa City campaign will be pushed to a finish.

Do You?

Many University students live in their own little sphere, more or less unaware of many things that Iowa City affords. Not long ago a student professed surprise that Palmetto Chocolates were made in Iowa City. The purpose of this article is to call your attention not only to that fact, but also to inform you further about Palmettos.

The most important ingredient used in making chocolates is sugar. However, it is cheaper to use glucose and nearly every chocolate made contains glucose. There is absolutely no glucose used in making Palmettos. The finest grade of granulated sugar, as well as the best of all ingredients, is used by Reich's in making Palmettos. The finished product presents a more unusual difference. When glucose is used, chocolates soon lose freshness. In the case of Palmettos they are permitted to "season" for three days, after which time, their freshness is retained remarkably.

Candy manufacturers the country over have sent to Reichardt's for samples of Palmettos, and have attempted to duplicate them. To date, they have not been successful—the distinctive center of Palmettos is made only by Reich's in Iowa City.

The secret of this wonderful individuality of Palmetto Chocolates is the property of Mr. J. D. Reichardt, a candy maker of thirty-seven years' experience.

Christmas Cigars and the Ash Can

That all Cigars eventually reach the ash can is inevitable. The main difference is that some go in, in the form of ashes, while others go in by the untouched box full.

If you buy his Christmas cigars at Racine's they will go in—in ashes, only.

Why Advertise Candy for "Her" Gift

Candy is the gift that never goes wrong with the girl—the gift that always demands her appreciation. We really don't need to advertise candy, but merely state that we SELL candy. The quality of our candy advertises itself. If you are going to give good candy for good gifts, you must buy them here. Place your orders early for fresh goods delivered when you say. Many packages are not duplicated; therefore, early selection for best choice is imperative.

ANY STUDENT CAN REGISTER FOR BOXING

There is a law which prohibits any charge for admittance to boxing bouts. Because of this law no money has been received for the purpose of buying medals. However, there are some exceptions to this law which allows certain organizations to make charges for bouts. What these exceptions are have not been found out but Coach Schroeder is now making investigations from the Attorney General to see whether or not boxing bouts here must comply with the law.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS GIVE COMEDY TONIGHT

Thirteen University students are to take part in the production "It Pays to Advertise" tonight at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian church parlors. The play which is three act comedy, is being given by the students of the Presbyterian church who are interested in dramatics, in cooperation with the department of speech.

Rodney is to be portrayed by Gerhard B. Noll A3 of Waukon while the scheming secretary role will be taken by Marion Faville A. of Iowa City.

The play has been coached by Marjorie McQuilkin A4 of Fort Dodge.

Other members of the cast are Edward Piper A2 of Iowa City, Marjorie Roland A2 of Iowa City, George Crane A1 of Dexter, Thomas Roche S4 of Iowa City, Lillian King A2 of Waukon, Leonard Hoffman A1 of aVil, Edwin Patton A1 of Manning, Russel Hunter A1 of Iowa City, Wright Kinsey A2 of Promise City and Katherine Bonica.

FORTY MEN OUT FOR PLACES ON SWIMMING TEAM

Forty men are now diligently working out with the varsity swimming squad every night in an effort to make the Iowa swimming team which will meet Minnesota here February 4 in the first swimming meet of the year.

Although defeated by Minnesota at Minneapolis last year, the Iowa swimmers feel more confident in themselves this year and will no doubt make a better showing against the Gophers.

Two Men Lost

Iowa lost only two men from last year's team, those being Vedova, who is now at Harvard and Weidlein who has completed his three years of varsity competition. To fill these men's places there are a number of likely candidates. Captain Cliff Shepard will fill Weidlein's place in the dives easily and Nelson will probably be another clever man in the fancy work. For the breast stroke E. Fisher and P. Mills will be the chief candidates for the place vacated by Vedova.

Has Much Material

It is probable that another man will also have to be found in the dash events to take the place of Douglass Boynton who is not swimming this year. In these events, however, Swimming Coach Armbruster has an abundance of material and will probably find little difficulty in selecting plenty of dash men to compete for Iowa.

In the distances another good man in the person of John Goltman is coming up and may find a place on the Iowa team. William Goodell and Shepherd will also be on hand.

In the plunge, Loren Bane and Warren Hickox are other good men besides Iowa's former representatives, Roy K. Forney and Edward C. Halbach.

CROWDED AUDITORIUM GREET'S BAND IN FIRST BIG CONTEST OF YEAR

The University band made its initial appearance at the natural science auditorium Sunday afternoon before a large and appreciative audience. The auditorium was filled a half hour before the concert began and the latecomers were forced to listen to the music from the halls.

The entertainment opened with a typical Sousa march "Bullets and Bayonets". "Mon Homme" was played as an encore.

"Introduction and Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin", was the next selection rendered. Harold Pratt S3 of Waukon and Charles Sullivan S3 of Belle Plaine played the encore "Peggy O'Neil". Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" was played with a grace and fervor that made it the most appreciated piece on the program. Mickey Forshay A2 of Anita played "Dangerous Blues" as an encore. In answer to repeated applause Forshay and Lyle J. Bailey A2 of Marion played a duet "The Rosary" on the xylophone.

This was the first appearance of the University of Iowa band for the series of concerts which will be held during the winter months.
