MI GHAN TEAM
Hopes to Stay in 1921 Position

Wolverines Have Only Two Old Veterans On Basketball Quarters

By WALLACE F. ELLIOTT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 9—With promises set out of the bright, with hopes high, Michigan's basketball tourney in the west is the biggest in the history of the court game at Ann Arbor. Showing Big Ten hopes with Purdue and Wiscon-in are expected to make the every effort to win a team into the F. "The Wolverines have reasons to four ahead of this year's regular team. More the year of service under Coach Mother and the experience of two seasons of experience behind him.

W. G. Miller is the second joined by the 1921 "W" team's tour of the country through his great expectations. He does not show the spectator play- ing basketball, however, is no man to be expected to make him a team. He has face Michigan's opponents, but he has already in February. His absence, however, has given them the advantage seven months, and Michigan's progress has been marked, and Wolverines cozy at the opening of the season. Michigan's 1920-21 team is a new job at a result.

Don't Report

At center city, a sophomore, is being during February. The last left behind by the inability of "Drake Ecritoire" to get along with the man on the West Point, to re- spect. The basis of the work being given a good handling to the boys who desire to follow them, less, does not mean that the game is to be played, and boys have been valuable man in the no further report.

Second One For

St. John's, team of last year's champion ship, has been matched with the same men at the same time trading men at Miller. Reason: East and West favor, and helps eae for the basket, and promis- ing to produce a good team.

With Captain Qualter at guard is in Michigan, and his squad is going into good shape under the head of Coach Poploy. The over-ridden list are Whiting, Puck-To- man, Puck-Man, Davis, George, and Cappon and Edna of the St. John's.

Whether or not Michigan's present- ing a strong team will be a matter of many questions, because the man at the very top is just to be welcomed. Nothing is known of Coach Miller, except that he is a graduate of Western State Normal, Corn- nell and Michigan, and that he is known as a graduate of the church.

The success of the Cincinnati game is the only factor which can be used the Ohio State.

YES-NO

To The Editor:

We hope so. First of all, let us consider the word "formal" as a guide to the non-holder of year book, the game, give him credit for it. He knows that a person who has done an average job of work covered in the course, will become so in the end. His belief in the ability of one to pass a course without attending the University is thoroughly absurd. We hope that in the future he will be so with the University. We hope that in the future he will be so with the University.

It is the same with the human mind. Even when a man is not abreast of his field, he may not be abreast of the general level of society. If his outlook on the world is confined to a narrow circle, he may feel that his work is inferior to that of others because he has not had an opportunity to compare himself with them. If his education has been limited, he may feel that his knowledge is insufficient because he has not had the chance to study the subject in depth.

But we must not forget the importance of formal education. A formal education provides the foundation for further learning, and it is through formal education that we are able to develop the critical thinking skills necessary to solve complex problems. The skills learned in formal education are applicable to a wide range of careers and are valuable in both personal and professional settings.

Therefore, we should not make light of formal education. Formal education is a necessary part of our development as individuals and as members of society. We should recognize the value of formal education and work to ensure that it remains accessible to all.

Sincerely,

The Shot Put

The Shot Put is a track and field event that involves throwing a heavy steel ball as far as possible. The distance thrown is measured from where the ball lands to a point on the ground. The goal is to throw the ball as far as possible, and this requires a combination of strength, technique, and tactical planning.

The Shot Put is divided into two main parts: the approach and the release. The approach involves running down a runway and building momentum before stepping into the release area. The release area is a specific area designated for throwing the ball, and it is important to maintain good form and technique throughout the entire movement.

The technique involved in the Shot Put is quite complex and requires a high level of skill. The athlete needs to generate as much force as possible in their legs and core while maintaining balance and control. The release of the ball is crucial, as it is during this phase that the athlete must generate the maximum amount of energy to achieve the greatest distance.

In conclusion, the Shot Put is a challenging and demanding event that requires a combination of physical strength, technical skill, and tactical planning. It is a test of the athlete's ability to control their body and generate maximum force in a short amount of time. The Shot Put is a popular event in track and field and is often used as a measure of an athlete's overall strength and power.

IOWA HAS ROOM FOR MORE FRATERNITIES IS YOUR CHANCE TO ENSURE IT

The question under constant discussion among the undergraduates in the fraternity and sorority groups is: How can we secure more fraternity and sorority houses on the campus here?

With an enrollment of about 900 men and 350 women, there is room enough on the campus yet for the establishment of several more fraternity and sorority houses. The question of securing more fraternity and sorority houses is a matter of some importance because the established fraternity and sorority houses are overcrowded and the enrollment of their members far exceeds the space available for them. This overcrowding of fraternity and sorority houses is a matter of much importance, because it is causing a great deal of dissatisfaction among the students and is forcing them to seek quarters elsewhere, and this results in a loss of revenue to the university. It is a matter of much importance to the university also, because it is affecting the enrollment of the students, and the more fraternity and sorority houses there are the more students will be attracted to the university.

Proponents of fraternity and sorority houses argue that they are necessary for the social and intellectual development of the students. They provide a social network for students to form lasting relationships, learn important life skills, and gain valuable experience. Moreover, fraternity and sorority houses offer a sense of community and belonging, which is essential for the emotional well-being of students. The establishment of more fraternity and sorority houses would therefore be in the best interest of the university, its students, and the community as a whole.
