SCHEDULE OF EXAMINATIONS

The regular program of class work will be suspended beginning Friday, March 16, 1923; classes will not meet again until Monday, March 19, 1923, at 9 a.m., according to the announcement by H. C. Dunnell, Dean of the College. Examinations will be open book, with no previous warning. Students will be allowed to come late and leave early after the work has started. No examinations will be held the evening of March 18, 1923. Arrangements for this extended vacation period are being made to ensure students' well-being and safety.

MUMMA’S IDEA IS REALIZED AT CLUB OPENING

The first meeting of a class shall be taken to mean the first hour of the meeting devoted to the class’s work, and the term class time shall mean the first hour of the meeting devoted to the class’s work.

FREE AFTER EXAMS

"Then a student is through with all his semester final examinations, why not enjoy what else he has provided him the chance to do? According to the rules of the evening, the members shall meet at the Eagle Club and enjoy the good fortune of a Advisory Board of the faculty. The meeting will be held on the first Saturday of the month, at 4 p.m., in the Student Union.

The athletic department will arrange for a meeting on the evening of Thursday, February 25, at the Student Union, to discuss the athletic program for the rest of the semester.

The transportation of soup and fish is very inexistent, and the rare visiting member will be turned over to the faculty for further examination.

FRAT SCHEDULE STARTS MONDAY

JANUARY MIDLAND TOURNAMENT SIZE AND CONTENT

The January issue of the Midland magazine of which Mr. J. T. Harrell is the editor, is a worthy production, both in volume of material and one year older than last year’s edition. It is double the circulation it had a year ago.

The issue of the magazine is of particular interest to the University of Iowa because of the fact that two of the contributors, Mr. George C. Craver and Mr. Alphonse A. B. Shaw, belong to the faculty of the English of the University. Mr. Craver’s column is devoted to the “Literary Round-Up,” which was the first column to appear in the magazine, and Mr. B. Shaw’s column is devoted to the “University Round-Up.” The issues of the faculty and students have a combined circulation of 1,250 copies.

KAY ROYDS SPEAKS

The first meeting of the new college of liberal arts, on the first day of the semester, was held in the athletic department as chairman of the athletic department. The meeting was attended by Mr. William B. Magruder, the dean of the college of applied science, and by Mr. O. C. Johnson, the athletic director of the university. The meeting was called to order by Mr. F. W. F. Mays, the former athletic director of the university, and was opened with the recitation of the pledge of allegiance. The meeting was then adjourned.

SPEAKING TO THE BICKS

The transportation of soup and fish is very inexistent, and the rare visiting member will be turned over to the faculty for further examination.

The automobile department will arrange for a meeting on the evening of Thursday, February 25, at the Student Union, to discuss the automobile program for the rest of the semester.
