that expressions for present and future wars have actually been renounced. It looks as if the conventionalizations of nations will have to be nixed before the hotbed of suspicion of imminent aggression can be dashed and for the present at least the armored race of the nations will continue." said Professor Van

1,000 MORE SEATS
UNDER CONSTRUCTION FOR SATURDAY'S GAME

Reserved seats for the Iowa-Purdue Game are now on sale at the athletic office and will be placed on sale at Whiteman's drug store Sat-day. A total of 700 seats will be reserved for Saturday night's game.
All the reserved seats will be on the north side of the new arena.

It is 500 seats that were reser-vied for the Iowa-Wisconsin game.

The fact was brought very futinely to our attention when upon opening for a book which had been placed in a reserved section, in a certain room I found that although there had originally been six books on reserve there was not one left. The book had not been checked out but had been ceremoniously tak en and taken to their homes. This was no less a state of matters than that students who are supposed to represent the highest type of young man and woman are lowering themselves as to their own estimation, that he had suffered a disgrace, that the student body
had been harmed.
Not only will they take books out of reserve but have brought to my attention that a considerable number of things which reached us just from his desk by students when the professor was not concerned books were not returned.

This criticism of the reserve books kept under lock and key is in order that they shall not be taken from him.

This petty larceny, is not on the level at the Iowa University, but on the contrary, I did not feel discomforted, but I felt that it is on the increase. Hats, overcoats, umbrellas, notebooks, books, and various other articles will be missed as soon as the eye is taken from them.

There is talk of reforming this.

This reserve section should be taken by any officers of discipline and for the cause all those to whom these were sold will be missed as soon as the eye is taken from them.

It is gratifying for he is an able and sound in dramatics, that the student body will lower themselves as to their own estimation, that he had suffered a disgrace, that the student body
had been harmed.

BANKERS ARRIVE FOR CONVENTION

More Commerce Students Should Register Says Speaker

The second annual convention of the Iowa Bankers' Association, traveling from the University of Iowa opened its sessions at 11:30 a.m. in the liberal arts assembly room with an address of welcome by President Taylor A. Jennings. President Jennings' speech related to the need of education at the present time compared to yesterday, the increasing demand of men and women for institutions with masters that are of common interest, the state attitude toward education and the way money is being approved to maintain schools.

"We look to the banker," said President Jennings, "to help the student because he is the banker of the state. He is up to his friends to help him in order to establish good conditions in the state. When our foundations start all of these little banks throughout the state he had done for the future, the day which is now at hand, they did not think for the same conditions that we men had a policy in a year and a half in making a better help to the people of the state.

Other speeches given yesterday were of the Tax Foundation of Iowa, the "New Income Tax Law as it Affects Individuals" by John F. Council, of Dubuque, income tax division of the "New Advantages of the New Revenue Laws of 1922" by Clayton B. Wilson, of Dubuque, income tax expert of the Iowa Bankers Association.

Queen of Sheba
To Visit Iowa City

The Queen of Sheba is coming here.
She left New York some months ago after holding royal court before thousands of her admirers and packing a Broadway theatre twice daily for nearly six months.

Enormous crowds that flocked to gaze upon her matchless beauty and see the thrilling chariot race which is probably the most sensational and spectacular event over known in the world of motion pictures.

The Queen of course, the celebrated famous and wonderful "Queen of Sheba," the super screen spectable, produced by William Fox, and directed by J. Gordon Edwards, which has been hailed as the crowning achievement in the realm of motion pictures; and which established a high water mark of superlative supremacy, which probably will stand unequalled for many years.

"Queen of Sheba," the magnificent pictorial representation of the love story of the celebrated Queen, who worthy with King Solomon in Jerusalem three thousand years ago, will be shown at the Englert Theatre, beginning next Sunday.

If you don't see "Queen of Sheba" at the Englert Theatre next week, you will miss something that will give you one of the most thrilling moments of life. Never in the history of motion pictures has there been anything approaching this marvelous masterpiece in the way of sensational thrill and stupendous achievement. It is not only a beautiful and gigantic accomplishment; it is a picture of such exquisite beauty that it will live as the greatest screen classic of this generation.
