ELECT PHILLIPS LEADER OF THE RIFLE SQUAD

CAPTAIN IS ONE OF THE BEST SHARPs ON TEAM

NEW GALLERY OPEN SOON

MOMMA AND MARTIN BOTH GIVE PRIZE TO MARKSMEN

The resident of the University of Iowa, J. Floyd Phillips, Jr. of the rifle team, was elected leader of the rifle squad last night by making a score of 97 in competition in the gallery. Whether this score will be the standard mark for the rifle team is not known. However, this mark is a very good score for the competition on hand and if kept up will place the sequence of the Iowa rifle team in the first rank. The gallery, Thomas E. Martin, class of '21, was elected leader of the rifle squad.

MINNESOTA STRIKES BACK

"To win this game we must play a fine game," said the captain of the rifle team, "but we must also play a game of skill. If we wish to win, we must win with skill and not just by shooting." The captain was referring to the upcoming match against the University of Minnesota, which is known for its strong rifle team.

HAWKEYES BY 36-22 SCORE

In a game that started out as a contest of skill and strategy, the University of Iowa Hawkeyes emerged victorious over the University of Minnesota Gophers by a score of 36-22. The Hawkeyes took charge in the early stages of the game, with Iowa's quarterback leading the team on a series of successful drives that were punctuated by powerful runs and accurate passes. The defense was equally impressive, shutting down the Gophers' offense and making them work hard for every yard.

Despite the intense competition, both teams showed great sportsmanship throughout the game. The Hawkeyes' victory was well-deserved, as they outplayed the Gophers in every aspect of the game. This win solidifies Iowa's position as one of the top teams in the conference and sets them up for a strong season ahead.

The Hawkeyes are expected to face a tough test in their next game against the University of Wisconsin, which is known for its strong defense. The team will need to continue to play with the same intensity and focus if they want to secure another win.

We look forward to following the Hawkeyes' progress throughout the season and seeing how they fare against the top teams in the conference. With their strong performance against the Gophers, it seems like the Hawkeyes are well on their way to a successful season.

Glee Club's jaunt to Florida is postponed

Washington, D.C.—The Florida trip of the Indiana Glee Club has been indefinitely postponed.

W. W. Lynch, Jr., manager of the Glee Club, made this announcement yesterday following the cancellation of several concerts which he had made during Christmas vacation. If new engagements can be booked the club will make the proposed trip about the last of February.

The faculty, acting on the recommendation of the committee on protection of University interests, has granted the club a leave of two weeks instead of two as originally intended.

During Lynch's trip to Florida recently a formidable injury was incurred. Organizations in several cities asked for two concerts and it was thought that the workmen could hold the trip immediately after final examinations. Since the cancellation of the concert the manager has written prospects which were dropped when it was thought that the scholarship was completed—Indiana Daily Student.

No Student Classes Until FRIDAY AFTERNOON
Classes Friday 4:00 and 6:45—Saturday at 4:00

Groups Eight and Ten Will Meet as Usual

Beginners at 4 on Monday

The following classes are being organized:

Advanced Class

This will consist of up-to-the-minute dances and those professional tricks that puts finish and touch to your dancing. No "Neophyte" Bunk, just the catchiest combinations that are worth while, AND THE WAY TO DO THEM WELL.

Standards will be high in this class and only those who can keep up will be admitted.

Elementary Class

For those who have taken the beginning work or who can keep up in a series of smart popular dances. The standards will be well above average, and well worth while.

OVER SIX HUNDRED have been taught dancing during the past four weeks—ask any of them if they are satisfied. Better still see them dance.

JUDGE TELLS "WHY KIDS LIE"

Gang and Family Responsible For Part of Youthful Delinquency

"An Audit, -Hick-" There aren't any bad people and there aren't any good people in the world-children are just people," said the union of Judge Roy H. Lindley's listeners at "Why" Kids Lie" last night in Hill auditorium. In conclusion all of Judge Lindley's 32 years of service on the bench to a judge this axiom bears his own guiding law, and exper- ence has taught him that it is the truth, he said.

Judge Lindley, therefore, trusted bad boys and girls and people con- ducting their ways, but not their estabishing bonds of friendship and espe- cially rather than for nearly two hours relating interesting experiences from the pens of the small "little Devils." He went on to show "the judge is not touch them so as to offend him to be to and to end.

In placing the responsibility for juvenile crimes and the mis- tresses of the youth Judge Lindley included the share of the policeman as the parents, and the parents. It is, he thought, from his own experience with the histories of those three that he is the judgment of this from the policeman is a great factor in their solution. In dealing with the group, Judge Lindley said that one could not have expressed more of the fundamental laws of their world to come after that it would be a question for another, that every one must not trust a book.

That parents are of two kinds was another of the facts which the judge brought out, those who are rare that their boys are innocent and those that are not so. He has be- come acquainted that there are un- doubted "judges" within, with a difference which are for by older than those of the world. The physiological, psychological and sociological phenomena here were, he thought, important to a part in the development of the primitive type of judgment.

In conclusion Judge Lindley said "the struggle is for the future. There is no justice without love. We must learn how to put a little love into the law." -The Michigan Daily.

MILITARY TO MORI

The military hop is an old American tradition. There are two ways of serving in the military: by conscription and by recruitment. The former is compulsory, while the latter is voluntary. The main differences between the two are that conscription is mandatory for all men, while recruitment is voluntary. The military hop is an event that is typically held for military personnel, and it is a way for them to relieve stress and socialize. It is a time for them to come together and enjoy each other's company. This hop is a great opportunity for military personnel to bond and create lasting relationships. The military hop is a celebration of the military and the sacrifices that they make for our country.
