Iowa SQUAD To TACKLE Purdue THERE TONIGHT

Hawkeye Have Fair Chance — Defense Published in Post Week

BIG BATTLE EXPECTED
Team Practiced to Squash Purdue Center

Cullison

Working toward a perfection of a defense which will stop Purdue forwards, and prevent the Purdue center, Gallion, from doing as he did in the battle here last December, the Iowa Alums met the varsity through a grueling and uneven contest Thursday. Although not very long, the entertainment was alluring at every one of the several hundred who lifted and entered the University gymnasium at the usual time of 8 o'clock Thursday night. There was no selling of tickets as it was still free for the students of the University, and much better against than on any other time.

The University defense has been worked on the same line as the defense practiced by field and track experts in connection with the football, and it is to be feared that it has not been as successful. The University defense was to be strengthened and made more effective on the advice of Coach Keeler who has been working the game against the defense of the Iowa defense in the University gymnasium this week.

At 8 o'clock Thursday night, the University defense was ready and the Iowa Alums were ready to meet the defense in the University gymnasium. The University defense was again put on the field and the Iowa Alums were ready to meet the defense in the University gymnasium.

WE ADVERTISE WITH PRIDE STUART EDWARD WHITÉ'S
"THE WESTERNERS"
with Roy Stewart—Robert McKim and Mildred

NEW YORK STRAND: New Mark: We played "The Westerners"—our last first week in August, with very hot weather, to the big­gest summer week ever played at the Strand. We played it a full week at the second week's bill at our
New York Strand and it Repeat the Strand rec­ord. I played it in my War­ner, Mass., Strand and my Lynn, Mass., Strand and to both cities it stood up to its
New York record. A great picture.

NEWARK STRAND: Newark, N. J.: "The Westerners" did a big week for us. We packed the Strand, played every day until Sunday when we could not take care of the crowds.

ANHEUSER BURG, CINCINNATI: Chicago: The best produc­tion of the kind that ever played the Anchor circuit is "The Westerners." We have it back to every screen and crowded our houses so that they didn’t like it and we have comments of that sort about all pictures—even the biggest ones.

AARON J. JONES, Chicago: I was against putting "The Westerners" in because we looked into the westerners. We marketed the house.

CLEM'S THEATRE, Salt­lake: You can realize what I think of "The Westerners" in because we searched for westerns. We marketed the house.

HAWKEYES ARE TYING NORTHWESTERN FOR CELLAR POSITION
With the conference basketball schedule well under way, issue of the ten teams are tied for first place with perfect records. Purdue, Illinois and Missouri have won all of the games which they have played. The rest of the teams trail those leaders and the other champions, Iowa and Northwestern.

Missouri, with its great teams, has furnished the surprises of the conference by winning the last game it has played to date. When the Tigers won over the opening game from Northwestern, it was thought that they had trumped Northwestern by one point, but other teams, but when they repeated their victories by beating Iowa, Wisconsin, and Illinois, people began to realize that "The Hawk has developed another high class team"

Illinois has only two victories in six weeks, but both of these were really won. Iowa was no match for the Hawks, both Gary and Carney well ahead of Missouri scoring over twenty points. Michigan gave Wisconsin a good battle and was only beaten by an overtime period, but was an easy victory for Illinois, who started through the greater part of the game. Illinois has a veteran team with Carney, high score in the conference two years ago, as chief point person.

Purdue has one of the best basket­ball teams it has ever had. Against form the Benthammakers did not get started until the second half, but when they went their way could not be stopped. They were unusually fast and ran around the Iowa team at will. Their team work was good, someone was always in the spot where the ball was thrown. In the second half, they interspersed more Iowa games that the Iowa players themselves sought. They were handicapped on this play by the absence of their, back. But the game was from Iowa; they have two victories over Northwestern. In Illinois, at center, they have one of the best sides seen on the Iowa court in three years.

Iowa and Northwestern are fighting hard to get out of the cellar position, but neither have been successful. Iowa has lost three games, while Northwestern has dropped five. Iowa has had the better chance because she can drop two games and still have as good a standing as Northwestern. When these two teams meet there will be a hot fight to see who goes out of the last two games, since there is no one to be of about the same caliber.

Illinois and Northwestern have furnished the strongest teams in the conference, the Hawkeyes played strong guard games and lost only one of their fellows in double headaches.
