LULL PREVAILS BEFORE SECOND BOYCOTT DRIVE

Theaters and Cigar Stores Have a Good Business Sunday

BACKERS ARE CONFIDENT

Some Say Non-Fraternity Men Are Not Behind Movement

A momentary lull before a strong drive was noticed in the student boycott yesterday and Sunday. The theaters were well-patronized and the cigar stores did a good business in cigarettes, malted milks and other sundries. However, the pool halls are still deserted. At one pool hall the covers were removed from only two tables yesterday.

New Boycott to Start

A prominent member of the executive committee that is pushing the boycott said, "Tonight at every fraternity and sorority house the student boycott will be taken up in great detail and a rigid set of rules set down and enforced. In the next two or three days there will be a meeting of every sorority and fraternity president and definite plans will be made and followed."

"We feel that we have been successful so far and if the students will continue to stand by their resolutions results will be evident before the week is out."

Brown is Satisfied

Manager Brown of the Strand theater, which pledged itself to show only thirty-cent shows is very well satisfied with the result of the reduction. "The students generally tell you what they want," he said, "and if you give it to them they will stand by you. But if you don't they won't patronize you. Sunday night we turned away approximately 200 people."

The Garden theater which was also was running a thirty-cent show was unable to accommodate the crowd which endeavored to gain admittance. The Englert and the Pastime, both showing at forty cents shows were not rushed.

"Punch" Dunkel, manager of the Pastime said that he was endeavoring to give his patrons the best of shows and that when a forty cent show was running at the Pastime, the folks could be assured that it was worth the money.

The barber shops, another scene of the boycott have not suffered materially from the non-patronage of the students, if the words of the barbers are to be taken. One owner of a prominent shop smiling said that he had cut the hair and administered a tonic to the president of a fraternity just that morning.

Organization is Lacking

A number of men prominent about the campus expressed the opinion that the non-fraternity men were not standing by the boycott as staunchly as the fraternity men. "They lack organization," was the reason almost unanimously expressed by these men. "We must hang together," was another wise-word spoken.

"The quality of our goods will not permit us to sell them any cheaper," said Fred Racine, yesterday afternoon. "If they want thinner malted milks and smaller sundaes we can reduce the price but otherwise we cannot. As to cigarettes, we are selling them at the advertised price. We do not make any claim to being a cut-price store."

Does Not Succeed on Eats

The boycott on the restaurants has never been successful. The regular Sunday night dinners went to their regular haunts and ordered in "business as usual style."

IOWA WILL NOT DEBATE

The Iowa debating team will not debate California because the expense incurred in having the California team come to Iowa City would be too great. The California team wished to debate Iowa on its way to Maine where they will debate with the Bates college team.

CHI OMEGAS EXPECTED TO TAKE FIRST PRIZE IN SALES CAMPAIGN

| HAWKEYE SALES | |
|-------------------|------|
| Chi Omega | 218 |
| Delta Delta Delta | 188 |
| Alpha Chi Omega | 184 |
| Delta Zeta | 168 |
| Achoth | 163 |
| Pi Beta Phi | 156 |
| Iota Xi Epsilon | 149 |

| Alpha Xi Delta | 119 |
| Gamma Phi Beta | 91 |
| Alpha Delta Pi | 82 |
| Delta Gamma | 72 |
| Total | 1714 |

When the last lap of the Hawkeye sales race ends tonight at 6 o'clock it seems probable that the Chi Omegas will carry off the first prize trophy, but the winners of second and third honors will be determined by the efforts made in the sale of subscriptions today. The Alpha Chi is only four sales behind the Tri Deltas, and with a little added effort the Delta Zetas might come in third on the home stretch.

Three cups are to be awarded the three sororities who have sold the three largest numbers of Hawkeyes during the two weeks campaign, ending tonight. These trophies have been placed in the Iowa Supply company window.

TOUR IS PART OF DAD'S DAY

Visitors Requested to Leave Names at Iowan Office On Arrival

A tour of the campus with stops and explanations at all the important points will be one of the features of Dad's day. The trip will start promptly at 8:30 p. m. Friday on the Old Capitol steps and will be conducted by Prof. C. H. Weller.

Start at Old Capitol

From Old Capitol the party will go through the liberal arts building making visits to Prof. Carl E. Seashore's psychological laboratory and the state historical library. From here they will go to the engineering building and shops and then back to the physics building and art department. The party will then move on to the women's gymnasium, then to the law library and then to the dental infirmary. They will then come back and go through the natural science building and museums, with Professor Homer R. Dill, University curator, leading. They will then go to the University hospital principally for the view that may be obtained from the top floor of the University buildings.

To Visit Children's Hospital

They will then be taken by auto across the river where they will be taken through the children's hospital and the Quadrangle. They will then be brought back to the city and the party will disband.

All persons who are expecting or know that their parents will be here on Dad's day are asked to report to the Iowan office so that the proper number of cars may be arranged for the trip across the river.

SATISFACTORY PRICE WILL BE CHARGED AT NEXT STUDENT DANCE

The student loan fund dance committee is cooperating with the boycott committee to fix a satisfactory price for the dance Friday evening. Edward J. Harrington D4 of Sioux City said yesterday, "We have not fixed the price for the dance yet, as we have not had an opportunity to meet with the committee. Our charge will be governed by their decision. The last dance was not well patronized as there were too many conflicting parties. As the dance Friday night will probably be the only one approved by the boycott committee, it should be well attended."

The dance will be held in Cotillon hall Friday, February 24, and Johnny Wright's orchestra will play.

CAMPUS AUTHORITIES WILL MEET TODAY TO DECIDE WHETHER SEVEN OR SIXTEEN SHOULD BE ON SENIOR HOP COMMITTEE

Final negotiations in the senior hop tangle are expected to be settled today at 4 o'clock when J. G. Cooper L2 of Marshalltown, chairman of the senior hop committee, meets with the social committee to decide the question of how many persons are to be included on the senior hop party committee.

Long Discussion

If the matter is settled it will bring to a close one of the longest and most involved social discussions on the campus. The tangle originally started when Frank J. Shimek A4 of Iowa City, president of the senior liberal arts class, appointed a committee of seven persons to take charge of the annual senior party.

NORTH DAKOTA IS DEFEATED

Iowa Rifle Team Triumphs Over Opponents By 275 Points

The University of North Dakota rifle team went down to defeat before the Hawkeye shooters, the University team leading by a margin of 275 points. The total scores, Iowa 1796, North Dakota 1521.

Phillips Is High

Captain James F. Phillips captured the highest individual score with a total of 190 out of a possible 200 in the two shooting positions. He made a possible in the prone position and ninety in the standing position. Lovell Jahnke was high scorer in the standing position, getting 92 points out of a possible 100. Jahnke was second in prone shooting, bringing his total individual score down to 185 out of a possible 200.

New Men on Team

Four new men placed in Iowa's rifle team during the last match with North Dakota. Sorenson, Woods, Smith and Custer edged out their fellow competitors by better shooting, making for themselves a place on the team.

Lieut. Thomas E. Martin, rifle team coach and James J. Gibney, instructor of the team, were more than surprised at the results made their team in the match. The standing position is reputed as being the most difficult even for professional rifle shooters.

New Gallery Used

In addition to this the team will make use of their new rifle gallery in the armory across the river. The new gallery has many advantages over the old, as fourteen men can shoot at one time, and the action of the shooters will not be hampered by the regulations imposed by the department of physical education for in order that the gymnasium classes can be carried on. Another point that favors the University team is the stability of the new gallery, which should improve the score of the team.

The following is the rating of the University team against the North Dakota team last week:

| Name | Prone | St'g | Av'g |
|-----------|-------|------|------|
| Phillips | 100 | 90 | 190 |
| Jahnke | 93 | 92 | 185 |
| Fabricius | 92 | 89 | 181 |
| Bray | 93 | 86 | 179 |
| Corenson | 93 | 85 | 179 |
| Woods | 96 | 82 | 178 |
| Smith | 97 | 81 | 178 |
| Memler | 97 | 80 | 177 |
| Custer | 96 | 80 | 176 |
| De Klotz | 96 | 78 | 174 |

Crowded Auditorium Sees Ruth St. Denis Dances Last Night

Ruth St. Denis danced last night before the largest crowd that has attended any production in the University theater this year.

All balcony seats were sold early in the afternoon and final reservations for main floor seats were made early in the evening. Miss St. Denis answered four curtain calls on her dance "The legend of the Peacock" and responded to enclosures after the "Dance of the Black and Gold Sari."

After the final dance Miss St. Denis spoke of her ideas of classical dancing and the present style of dress.

Y. M. AND Y. W. GIVE BOOTH POSITIONS FOR DAD'S CELEBRATION

Those who wish to play an active part in the entertainment of the many "Dads" who promise to be in the city for the celebration of Dad's day have the opportunity of securing a position in one of the booths that will be operated by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Either young men or young women who are desirous of helping in this way will be placed in charge of one of the booths.

The women must apply to the Y. W. C. A. while the men are requested to come to the Y. M. C. A. A number of students are needed for positions in the following places: action booths, exhibition booths, construction booths, finance booths, refreshment booths, fraternity parade booth and the sorority parade booth. Jobs in any of the above places will be supplied to the students who petition at their respective places on or before February 23.

Sixteen or Seven

With the appointment of this committee further entanglements ensued when it was discovered that the social committee's regulations provided that there shall be only seven members on a party committee. The constitution of the senior class had provided that there be sixteen members on the party committee of that class, hence the mixup, and the irritating question as to whether Murray's committee was to go ahead and function or be reduced to seven members.

Settled This Afternoon

That question will be settled this afternoon when Chairman Cooper meets with the social committee. Cooper is in hopes that the committee will waive its rule in regard to party committees and allow the senior committee to be composed of sixteen members as has been the case heretofore.

Meanwhile arrangements for the senior hop are going steadily forward. Chairman Cooper announced last night that tickets would go on sale Thursday at 8 a. m. at the Iowa Supply Company. The sale will be limited to 200 and the price will be $2.50.

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON HEARS BISHOP McCONNELL SUNDAY

One of the largest Vesper crowds of the season listened to the address of Bishop McConnell, Sunday afternoon, in the natural science auditorium. Preceding his talk a selection was played by the Hayden string quartet, which has been organized and directed by Prof. Frank E. Kendrie. The anthem "O Gladsome Light," was sung by the combined glee clubs. Invocation and the scripture reading were performed by the Reverend Sylvester E. Ellis, pastor of the Methodist church.

Bishop McConnell expressed his appreciation of the work done by Prof. William R. Russell on the commission of China which the bishop attended as a representative.

"Types of Life in the Gospel and Life Symbolized and Personified" was the subject of Bishop McConnell's lecture. Using Peter as typical of the larger share of humanity, the bishop illustrated by the use of humorous incidents and scenes from his life, how St. Peter always acted according to his light. "There have to be persons in life who make an appeal to activity," said Bishop McConnell, "St. Peter was such a man. The essential thing in Christianity is to see how the ideal works out inwardly." He went on to explain that the kind of a church which we needed most must be founded upon a human Peter.

"We have not yet devised a social scheme that is war proof" said the bishop. "Very learned men say that we need a new order of human beings. If we had a race of perfect human beings we could get along in any sort of system. We need better people but they aren't here. There has to be some sort of scheme to fit in with the kind of people there are here. In other words we have to deal with Peter."

Things Are Fitted

In conclusion, Bishop McConnell, summarized the main thought of his speech by saying "Somehow, the great manager fits things together so that the imperfections are cancelled out and a flexible kingdom is founded upon human nature aided by the command of the Devine."

CHINESE WOMEN TO BE HONORED

Miss Ward Will Speak at Y. W. C. A. Tea This Afternoon

This afternoon the active members of the Y. W. C. A. will entertain at a Chinese tea in the liberal arts drawing room from 3 to 5 o'clock in honor of the five Chinese women who are attending the University.

First Event of Week

This is the first event in the annual China Week celebration conducted by the Y. W. C. A. The purpose of this week is to allow the University women to become acquainted with the Chinese women in the institution and to hear of Chinese customs and practices. A special Chinese dish will be served at the tea this afternoon.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the liberal arts drawing room, Miss Gladys Ward of Coe, a recent Y. W. C. A. secretary in China will talk on conditions in China from the viewpoint of a social service worker. Miss Ward just recently returned from the Orient, and will tell of the living conditions, and the customs of the people.

Contributions Can Be Made

During the week envelopes will be passed out by the committee in charge of China Week and voluntary contributions for the maintenance of a Y. W. C. A. secretary in China may be placed therein and handed in at the Y. W. C. A. rooms, according to Beatrice Gates A3 of Pierre, S. Dak., chairman of the week's activities.

SNIFFLERS' NUMBER OF FRIVOL IS ON SALE IN COLLEGES TODAY

Sniffer's number of Frivol, the University humorous magazine, is being sold today by the women of the Theta Sigma Pi sorority in the halls of all the colleges, at the new price of thirty-five cents per copy.

The replacement of the zinc-cuts of previous issues by the half tones of the present number has considerably increased the cost of publication. Full page dramatic criticisms and book reviews take the place of the light jokes that the usually associated in most people's minds with college humorous publications.

CELEBRATION NOT NAMED

The name for the celebration to be held soon by the college of commerce has not been chosen yet but will be selected within the next few days. A prize of $5 has been offered to the person suggesting the most distinctive name for the affair. The time limit for handing in names expired last night and the committee will make its selection from the names already in their hands.

WATER IS GOOD

"The city water is now safe and can be used for domestic purposes without fear of disease resulting" said Prof. Jack Hinman yesterday.

ENGLISH HEADS TO MEET HERE ON FEB. 24, 25

About 150 Teachers Will Attend Conference This Weekend

JESSUP ON PROGRAM

Departments of Education English and Speech Are Promoters

About 150 teachers of English and speech will attend the conference of secondary teachers by the extension division with the cooperation of the department of education and departments of English and speech and which will be held at the University next Friday and Saturday.

Jessup Will Speak

The address of welcome will be extended by President Walter A. Jessup at 9 a. m.

Professor Allan Abbot of the teachers college of Columbia university will speak upon, "The special function of the head of a department of English," at 9:30. After his talk there will be an informal discussion.

At 10:45, C. C. Curtin of the public schools of Detroit will talk on "The Auditorium" which is a teaching method developed in the public schools there.

Prof. Sterling A. Leonard from the University of Wisconsin will speak on "Reading aloud and dramatization in literature classes." Prof Leonard's book upon this subject is titled "English composition as a social problem."

At 2, Professor Abbott will speak upon, "The measurement of poetic appreciation and its bearing on the teaching of poetry." It is his aim to further the standard of measuring English teachers. Discussion will be led by Prof. F. B. Knight of the University.

Horn on Program

Prof. Ernest Horn, director of the elementary school discusses literature and music in the schools. He will probably have some of the pupils from the elementary school perform for the conference illustrating his methods.

At 8, all those attending the conference will be provided tickets for the Masque at the University theater.

Saturday Meetings

On Saturday, Prof. Leonard speaks to the conference of English teachers on, "The correction, criticism, and grading of composition." The discussion will be led by H. Y. Moffett.

At the same hour a conference of teachers of speech will be held in room 24 liberal arts building with the discussion being led by Mr. Curtin.

The conference will adjourn at 10 a. m. to attend the founder's day celebration.

Craig Will Summarize

Professor Abbott will discuss, "The next step in the grammar problem—an experiment to determine the extent to which instruction in functional grammar will improve the sentence structure of junior high school students." An opportunity to cooperate in this experiment will be given to the teachers of Iowa. The discussion will be led by Prof. Thomas A. Knott.

A summary of the work of the conference will be presented by Prof. Harding Craig, head of the English department of the University of Iowa.

LUNCHEON TODAY

The woman's alliance of the Unitarian church will serve a cafeteria luncheon in the church parlors at the corner of Iowa Avenue and Gilbert streets, at noon today. Serving starts at 11:30.

VACATION SATURDAY

No classes will be held Wednesday, February 22 and Saturday, February 25, is the announcement from President Walter A. Jessup's office.

ABILITY AND OBLIGATION

Iowa was defeated badly in a track meet Saturday by the young men of Illinois University. Yet there had been some talk after last year's successful track season of our ability to win this year.

Why don't we win, then? We have the coach. Certainly there are good athletes in the University. But are they all out there doing what their ability obligates them to do, for the honor of their University? No. That's where the trouble lies. Certain young men of Iowa are not eligible. Sure point winners in track events, they did not (we will not say 'could not') score enough points of the possible 100 percent in their subjects.

There is some small excuse for a man who has not sufficient brains, or who is taking a professional course, for flunking a few hours. But a man who is in the liberal arts college should feel out of place in the University if he cannot keep above the passing grade, especially if he has no outside work to do to support himself.

Those who have flunked cannot congratulate themselves on the part they played in Iowa's defeat Saturday. When the attitude that athletes have no particular obligation to fulfill is changed by some severe criticism, even boycott on the part of the young women (who, incidentally, play an inglorious part in their being indirectly responsible for some athletes' flunking), then we may show up better against our opponents. But as long as our student newspaper can print a headline such as the one which recently appeared: '20 Track Men Ineligible', we cannot expect much of our teams.

TIME TO WRITE

The time has come now when we should write to Dad and find out about the possibilities of his being here for the Dad's day celebration. Students were anxious to express their approval of the plan to have their fathers visit the campus; organizations voted in favor of it, authorities expressed their favor for such an idea, and it now takes the ranks of accepted good things.

But such an indication of favorable sentiment is not the one great element of success. The thing to do is to get Dad here, and if we are to accomplish this we must begin the correspondence at once. He will have to make his plans, arrangements for accommodations during the visit will have to be made, conflicting plans will have to be adjusted, and it may take a little persuasion before he will decide to come.

Write the letter now; tell him that you are expecting him and that you want him; tell him that you have made all of the necessary arrangements up here, that the one proper thing for him to do is to pack a grip and buy a ticket for Iowa City.

MILESTONES

The progress of an institution is not marked by celebrations that are flashed across the country or by the building of a new building; these are but the punctuation marks. In athletics it is not always the conference championship that marks superior rank.

The unprecedented size of the crowd which watched the wrestling match Friday evening is a silent but significant indication of the growth of interest in athletic contests of a minor nature. The minor sports growing is a nice thing but their mere growth is as nothing in comparison with the development of student interest, the much spoken of college "spirit." Students—may we dare entertain such hopes—are waking to live interests, have their finger on the pulse of student activity, and are slowly passing the milestones.

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE HERE FOR RELAY CARNIVAL WEDNESDAY

Thirteen high schools are entered in the second annual relay carnival to be held February 22 in the new armory. These are the final entries received up until Friday night by the athletic department. Between forty and fifty high school athletes will take part in the meet, every school having entered from one man or more, to Cedar Rapids, who entered sixteen men.

Thirteen Schools Entered

The schools that have entered are Ames, Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, Davenport, Newton, West Waterloo, Marion, Grinnell, Mason City, Iowa City, Shenandoah, Atlantic and Anamosa. Mason City and Shenandoah were the last to enter, their entries were expected, but were not received until Thursday.

The events which will be held are 60 yard high and low hurdles, 50 yard dash, 440 yard run, half mile, mile, running broad jump, running high jump, pole vault, 12 shot, and the relays.

This year a charge of twenty-five cents is made to aid in keeping down expenses.

At the last meeting of the Interfraternity conference, they decided that each fraternity would take a group of men and house them for the days they were here. This means that every fraternity will take three or four men and some may take a full team if they have the place to put them. It has always been the custom for the fraternities to aid the athletic department in finding quarters for the visiting athletes.

ment in finding quarters for the visiting athletes.

Meet Starts at 7 O'clock

The meet is to be held in the new armory promptly at 7 p. m., in connection with the intersorority relay, interfraternity relay, military company relay and quadrangle relay, the winner of which will be presented with a large wall plaque. It has been decided to give plaques this year instead of the customary cups, because of the better chance a winner of a plaque will have, to display.

The University championship relay will be run off at the same time. Three teams will be entered, one contest this year. Last year's contest which was held at Iowa City was won by the representative of the University of Wisconsin.

The five contestants who will speak tonight and their orations are: Vernon L. Sharpe A3 of Rolfe, "American Ideals Unflinching;" Byrl A. Whitney A3 of Cherokee, "A world constitution in writing;" Carl G. Tucker S3 of Iowa City, "Problems of Future Peace;" Albert J. Todd L2 of Des Moines, "Foreign exchange;" Robert Birchard A2 of Davenport, "Problems of child welfare."

STUDENTS CAN'T CHANGE REGISTRATION NOW

The following regulation was adopted at a meeting of the faculty of the college of liberal arts on Wednesday, February 8:

"No change in registration, which involves admission to a course shall be allowed after instruction has been in progress for two weeks or more in the course to which admission is sought."

The reason for this regulation according to Herbert C. Dorcas, registrar is that as a rule a student who misses more than the first two weeks of work in any course would otherwise be permitted to enter upon that course with so serious a handicap as almost to insure his failure to do the work of the remainder of the course in a sufficiently satisfactory manner to warrant his being credited with the entire semester's work.

5 ENTERED FOR JESSUP PRIZE

Oratorical Contest Will Be Held in Auditorium Tonight

Five men will present original orations at the University oratorical contest which will be held at the natural science auditorium tonight at 7:30 to determine the University champion in oratory and the winner of the Jessup prize of $25 and Iowa's representative for the Northern oratorical league contests, to be held at the University of Illinois early in March.

There will be no admission charge for this contest. Which is open to all University students and others who are interested.

The candidates who are all striving to represent Iowa at the N. O. L. contest have been working on their orations since the middle of December with the hope of developing suitable material to win the

THE SHOW SHOP
Reviewed by Prof. Glenn N. Merry

What is it we like? Who is it we like?—on the stage. The question cannot be answered any easier than "What makes the best seller?" It was the purpose of Forbes in his "The Show Shop," a comedy presented by Octave Thanet and Philomathean societies at the University theater, Thursday night, to impress the hazard of a theatrical producer for the amusement of, in this instance the T. S. (tired student.) To say that the play was a popular success is necessary to accord with the facts. I venture that audience and actors alike enjoyed the two and a half hours of this digression into imaginative experience. The play made good and helped to provide another bit of evidence establishing the desirable possibilities in student life of an educational and recreational institution which we believe the theater possesses.

parts. Were these factors overdone? underdone? They were done just about to suit us, you say. The cast played up, especially well; the play moved. You felt no doubt that occasionally the character of Rosenbaum, so well done, might have been better done with a little more genuine dialect to aid us in completing our illusion. Mr. George Hurley, who carried the part, possibly lacked little else to have given us a complete sense of satisfaction. But let us give him, as Miss Mildred Freburg, who played the mother's part, our appreciation for not overdoing. The "judicious" did not grieve. Miss Freburg, as Mrs. Dean, possessed the force, the flamboyant confidence and the sophistication quite essential to the interpretation of her character. And we understood the words both she and Mr. Hurley spoke. Divine achievement! Great will be the devotion of the University audience to the player who in addition to his ideal to appear well to the eye, strives equally hard to suit the demands of the ear.

Iowa Ave. across from Chem. Lab.

Consider the play for a moment as you saw it. Two characters and one dominant atmosphere probably come to your mind simultaneously. Max Rosenbaum, the Broadway producer, the clever mother of an indifferent daughter on whom must be thrust stellar greatness, and the en rapport of bouyant hilarity with which the players carried their Leona White, as Bettina Dear, and Jasper Johnson, as her finance and financier, deserved the applause given them. We loved them the more because they had under-rehearsed their scenes of affectionate concurrence. Sometimes we did not hear what they said, but love seldom seeks to be understood anyhow. She was always definite in her interpretation and consistent. She might have been more coy, more like a Broadway eligible; yet, I suppose we must have been assured she did not wish to succeed on Broadway. He was realistically the unconventional actor of the critics of his "first night performance." Mr. Mullen as Grinkley and Miss Gray as Effie also did well. Possibly Miss Gray was not always consistent in her interpretation; maybe it was just uncertainty. But the characterizations of both had merit. Nor could we fail to recall Miss Cromer as Sadie. I doubt that Mr. Voltmer was as vicious as your imaginations wished him. Yet when we heard his words, he was good. Did you not enjoy the interpretation of what is probably too often true, the outraged author, Mr. Kleok as Granby Smith, even though he elbowed his way through the scene?

Other parts taken by Messers Ryan, Marple, Cannon, Lindsay, Blum, Kraushaar, and Misses Had-dock, Hoffman and White were acceptably done.

A part well "put over" was the action on this side the stage, especially the box scene where the ambitious Mrs. Dean, the crafty Rosenbaum and the self confident author viewed their play.

SPORT WEAR for SPRING

What could the University girl look better in than a clever sweater with fresh collars and cuffs, a plaid skirt and scarf to match?

We have the whole outfit, slip-on and tuxedo sweaters in all colors; and the checked gingham, organdy and linen collars and vestees to be worn with them.

The sport skirts of plaid with fringe trimming and scarfs to match add life to the outfits.

WASH BLOUSES

Those neat little wash blouses with the checked gingham collars and cuffs are here in all styles and colors. Come in and see our variety.

STARTING TODAY

Marjorie Daw
(Douglas Fairbank's leading lady)

in a thrilling melodrama of San Francisco's China-Town.

"Fifty Candles"
From Saturday Evening Post story by Edgar Burr. Also Ernest Truex in two reel comedy

Showing in connection with the Great Mahendra and his company in a brand new program.

And the orchestra! With this feature so much appreciated by all, who is there that does not welcome the between act waits? I know that I express the regard of Thursday night's audience when I say Professor Kendrie and his players are as essential to the success of the theater as the actors.

Miss Gladys Fie, director of the play and instructor in oral English in the University high school held the group to a rigid standard of comedy which is not easily done. The public realizes that she and her cast "worked hard" in spite of Max Rosenbaum's philosophy that the public never "gives a darn about that."

INVESTIGATION AT ILLINOIS

The students of the University of Iowa are not alone in their attack on high prices. The students at Illinois are feeling the strain on pockets and purses and are planning an investigation.

Clean Cuffs Without Scrubbing

When grimy cuff edges are scrubbed, something is bound to wear—and it isn't the washboard. That's why we wash cuffs without scrubbing, simply soap and water, combined with our modern washing process, cleans them without a sign of wear. Shirts washed this way wear longer, look better and feel better, too, when professionally laundered.
