IOWA'S CHANCES ARE DECREASED

Michigan Defeats Illinois in One-sided Game Last Night

The Illinois Illini were defeated by Michigan in a hard-fought battle last night, with the final score being 30-13 in favor of the University of Michigan. The Illini, led by star quarterback John Smith, were outplayed by the Wolverine defense throughout the game.

The Illini started strongly, with Smith completing a long pass to wide receiver John Doe for a touchdown in the first quarter. However, Michigan's defense quickly got on track, sacking Smith twice and forcing him to turn the ball over on downs. The Wolverine offense took advantage, with running back Mike frost scoring a touchdown on a powerful run up the middle.

In the second quarter, Michigan's quarterback Bill Smith engineered a well-executed drive, culminating in a touchdown pass to tight end Tom Jones. The Illini were unable to respond, as Smith continued to pick apart their defense with his strong arm. At halftime, Michigan led 17-7.

The second half saw Michigan pull away further, with Smith finding Jones again for a touchdown early in the third quarter. The Illini tried to mount a comeback, with Smith leading them on a drive that ended with a field goal. However, Michigan's defense held strong, preventing any further scoring opportunities.

In the final minutes of the game, Michigan's quarterback Bill Smith led them down the field once more, finding his wide receiver John Doe for a final touchdown to seal the victory. The Illini, despite a strong performance by their quarterback, were unable to overcome the powerful Wolverine defense.

On the evening of the game, fans gathered in front of the stadium to watch the game under the bright lights of the Big Ten stadium. The atmosphere was electric, with cheers and jeers filling the air as the teams battled for victory.

In the end, Michigan emerged victorious, with a final score of 30-13. The Illini, despite their best efforts, were unable to overcome the talent and experience of the Wolverine defense. The game was a testament to the skill and determination of both teams, as they fought for the right to claim victory.

OLD CAPITOL STANDS AS A REMINDER OF IOWA'S EARLY DAYS

In a recent address upon the completion of the new building, Governor Grant, in speaking of its importance, said:

"The old Capitol was constructed in 1836 and was the first in the Territory. It contained 18 rooms and was the seat of government for 20 years. The new Capitol is the seventh in the Territory and the present building is the sixth in the nation. It is the largest in the world and contains 500 rooms."

Dr. John C. Yerkes, an old graduate of the University, who has been in charge of the building for the past 20 years, said:

"The old Capitol was constructed in 1836 and was the first in the Territory. It contained 18 rooms and was the seat of government for 20 years. The new Capitol is the seventh in the Territory and the present building is the sixth in the nation. It is the largest in the world and contains 500 rooms."

Children's Hospital has 150 beds, all of them occupied.

"Wilford's skin was in a condition not to be endured," he said. "I don't think I could enjoy the good healthy life that has been outlined to me in the future. But if I were in a condition to return home, I would like to attempt it." He then went on to explain that the hospital was trying to treat the problem of the infection in a different way than before, and that he had been advised to try a new treatment for the infection.

The patient was transferred to the hospital for further treatment. He was kept in a private room, where he was given a frank and honest explanation of the situation. The patient was informed that the infection was not going to clear up quickly, and that it would take time to overcome it. However, the patient was reassured that he would be given the best care possible, and that he would be helped in every way possible.

"We are trying our best to treat the patient," the doctor said. "We are giving him the appropriate medication, and we are closely monitoring his progress. We are also doing what we can to make his stay as comfortable as possible."

THE MART IS NAME PICKED

College of Commerce Uses Store's Title as Name for Celebration

"The Mart" is the name chosen for the annual college of commerce celebration and the $3 prize given to Professor Ralph W. Stone of the college of commerce as the originator of the winning entry. The contest in college of the celebration found it a very difficult task to choose from the many names that were handed in because there were several of about the same merit and it was hard to judge which one would stand the test of time.

The name "The Mart" appears in the Marten letters which have been requested for the occasion and the downtown plans are in the hands of the New York service company of this city.

CRAIG SUMMARIZES CONCLUSIONS DRAWN AT THE CONFERENCE

A total of more than 100 teachers English from over the state registred for the conference which closed here yesterday afternoon.

Speakers before the conferences were: C. C. Gour, president of the public schools of Denver, Prof. Burdick of A. L. Lomb, University of Wisconsin, Professor Allen Abbott of the University of California, and President Walter A. Young, University of Washington. Professor Thomas A. Kitch, head of the department of English, gave some of the personal reactions in the various speaking cards. The points of cooperation between department heads, especially in the subject of English, and the importance of the teachers in other departments paying attention to the English used in class work, for example. Mr. Curtis in his address, "The Antithesis," brought up this problem.

Professor Craig also expressed the fact that the mere fact of having the college class system and deplored the continuous flow of the elementary schools. "The instructor," he said, "must realize that the main body of his work is not to be found in the ile classes but in the higher ones. Every teacher knows that the girl who is stricken with an acute attack of the measles or a pellagra who is studied in the high schools, but the public schools are the places where first the success or failure of the school is to be judged.

"And," he continued, "I do not know how to express to boys from the school to the end of the conference that the Iowa runner a chance to increase enthusiasm over the state." The plans for the first annual conference are to be held at the University on Saturday evening, March 28. The club has an active group of active members who are planning the occasion for the occasion and the downtown plans are in the hands of the New York service company of this city.
