Committee Waits For Romero’s O.K.; Class Shrouded With Mystery

Party committee is waiting for word from Romero, O. K., Class, and is still working on its efforts to select a new sponsor. Officially, they are not at all certain of what they will do in the second week of May, but if they do, Willard will have a good chance to lose. The committee is still working, but it is almost certain that the Willard committee will select Willard. In other words, the prospects are not too good for any other sponsor before a formal announcement as to where the party will be held is made.

PRESENT PROGRAMS

Benedict-Gardner literary society gave a program Wednesday evening to the amusement of the members and the visitors who were present. The program consisted of a recitation by a student and a reading by another. The student recitation was delivered by Miss Anne A. Alphonson, who recited the story of "The Last Leaf." The reading was delivered by Miss Mabel A. Benedict, who read "The Diary of a Madman." After the program, the members of the society discussed the merits of the literary society and the need for more participation.

WICHITA NEWS

The Wichita Eagle has announced that it will begin publishing daily editions on Monday, July 3. The decision was made after a thorough study of the market conditions and the competition in the city. The Eagle noted that it had been forced to cut back on its coverage of local events due to the high cost of production. However, the newspaper said that it would continue to provide quality journalism and remain committed to serving the community.

BARRIERS STILL HOLD OUT FOR OLD PRICES; STUDENTS AND STAFFER PASS BAR FOR BREAKFAST MEETING LAST NIGHT

Students took advantage of the reduced prices in the Ravine Tuesday morning. Although the Ravine had been closed for several weeks, it was still being sold for less than half of its original price. The Ravine was the only place where students could purchase food at a reduced price. However, it was not open to the public, so students had to be admitted by a member of the staff. It is not clear whether the Ravine will remain closed or if it will reopen to the public.

IOWA HOPES LIE IN FINAL TILTS

Students May Keep Devine From Going To Michigan

Whether or not Aubrey Devine, director of athletics, goes to Michigan is a question that has been out of the game for the past few weeks. However, it is still possible that he may be able to take the last trip of the season to the Big Ten tournament. If Devine decides to go, it is likely that he will have to leave the campus early on Friday night in order to reach Michigan on time. However, if Devine decides not to go, it is unlikely that any trip will be made to the Big Ten tournament.

In that case, either Walker, who showed up well on the Coverday Monday, or Brockman, who also showed up well, will probably be the starting center. However, if Devine decides not to go, it is likely that the starters will be set earlier in the game. The team has been working in Devine’s place, and it is possible that they may be able to win the game without any help from Devine.

In the first section of the present issue of the Iowa Daily Iowan, George E. Kay and Prof. Ralston L. Murray discuss the potential effects of Devine’s absence on the team. They point out that Devine’s absence could have a significant impact on the team’s performance, as he has been a key player in the team’s success. However, they also note that Devine’s absence could provide an opportunity for the other players to step up and take on a greater role in the team. They suggest that the team should focus on improving their overall performance, rather than relying on Devine’s leadership.

MURRAY LINES UP HIS TEAM FOR BIG SENIOR WEEK

At a meeting of the senior present officers, George E. Kay and Prof. Ralston L. Murray discussed the potential effects of Devine’s absence on the team. They point out that Devine’s absence could have a significant impact on the team’s performance, as he has been a key player in the team’s success. However, they also note that Devine’s absence could provide an opportunity for the other players to step up and take on a greater role in the team. They suggest that the team should focus on improving their overall performance, rather than relying on Devine’s leadership.
