"THE LITTLE MINISTER" SUPREME

The Little Minister is a credit to Mr. James Barrie, who wrote it; a credit to Pathe, who made it; a credit to Betty Compton, who stars in it, and it will be a credit to every theatre that plays it. There is nothing about it in the least that is not of the heart and the delighting the mind. It is handsome, well-dressed, and amusing. It has beauty of scenery, a flawless cast and a definite appeal that brings laughter, tears and satisfaction. Famous Players can be proud of it. We are moved in this critical moment by way of grapping off the industry at the earliest point and by keeping its power, strength, and influence afloat. Individual creation will come with this, I am sure, a brief advance comment. Arthur James.

Mr. James, who is editor-in-chief of the Motion Picture World and big enough to receive it publicly, is very particular about the use of the term "Little Minister" now showing at the Pastime Theatre.

Wild party that found the only one to show them their brains behind their nose was the April foolers. The event of the hour was the April Fool's Day at the Iowa State Normal School. Journalists and various other students were present and everyone in attendance seemed to enjoy himself.
