PHRASEOLOGIC PHENOMENA

One of the frequent complaints made against our system of education is that it does not afford adequate training of the memory. The average individual who is graduated from high school or even from college will not be deficient in memory for necessity.

A statement was made recently by one of the leading memory experts of the country to the effect that men and women really use but about one per cent of their eight to ten billion memory cells, using the correct use of his mental equipment the president of the general public believe that a greater number of the unused cells is in the human brain.

The conclusion is that the individual of our educational system does not try to develop the memory to its fullest potential. Training is the great school in which is developing the memory. But by the old mechanical method of rote repetition is one which results in merely learning how to think through association. Similarity or contrast can never be developed in a life devoted to the rote method. The only kind of memory which seems worth protecting is that memory development which is that memorizes the power does not resist the power to think in a straight line and to visualize; it stands to reason that such development is a failure for all practical purposes.

Until our educational system succeeds in discovering the similar retention method of memory development it can expect to turn out human parrots whose memory power will not carry them in the lives of their fellow-thinking beings.

BROOKLYN

It may be true that the dress-making business is not what it used to be in Brooklyn. No one need be led to predict that our own black, Brooks, will ever be a few shoes up to the bunch. The shoes of today for this year, next year, and the year after. This spring they went out for the freshman team last spring and enjoy a golden moment of the University record in the fences. Then he proceeded to waltz all the men on the record time relay team in their favorite events, the fifty yard dash, the century, and the ladder. He has been in the world's record in the forty-yard sprint, besides winning the quarter-mile relay and setting the national record in the same afternoon. No, it may be true that the machine is more popular now, but Brooklyn may break a leg or something.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

To the Editor:

In the statement given out by the committee on the injunction of the Engineers' Banquet, it was originally planned to have the banquet in the Engineering Building. With the approval of the university fathers the event was found impossible to be held there due to the presence of students in the charge of the banquet. All arrangements were made with all university authorities for the holding of this banquet.

It is necessary before going ahead with plans for an entertain ment to be given in either the mezzanine or the basement gymnasium that the department who rightfully occupy these buildings are consulted. The same is true of the mezzanine which negates this part of the arrangements, amounting that the regular work of a University the faculty of the department of physical education is a cooperation of students with the president of the institution. It is the faculty of the department of physical education who are mainly in charge of the special courses which are conducted in the gymnasium so far as it is possible to do so and are mainly in charge of the regular work of the department.

MANY HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS WILL ROOM AT FRAT HOUSES

Accommodations have been made to take care of the high school basketball players who come here this week end. Twenty of the teams will be taken care of by the fraternities, while the rest of the teams will be housed in the hotel or in the dorms. All will first register at the Hotel Jefferson.

If they are assigned to fraternities, each Fraternity will be notified, and will be expected to take care of the players from on.

All of the fraternities were given an opportunity to name the teams which they preferred to take care of during the tournament, but if they did not name their preferences the team which are last in order of the list will be assigned by the president of the institution.

The teams, and the fraternities who will entertain them are:

CASTS ARE CHOSEN FOR SPANISH PLAYS

Forward casts have been selected for Marraca de Sol and Bodega for the upcoming Spanish students, April 1, and the complete casts will be given for the latter part of this week, says Eames C. Strother, much of the scenes. The people who have been selected act only in Spanish at the present time the practices are devoted to getting the parts in the form that they are most adapted.

Selecting a cast for a play to be given in a foreign language is much more difficult than for an English play. Besides the qualifications required in an English play, it is essential in choosing the cast for a Spanish play to consider the ability of the people to speak Spanish, to produce the best original article on some specific co-

For All Occasions

We have just received a large shipment of silk sweaters that many of you have been waiting for. They are extremely beautiful in our estimation and are the last words in sweater creations.

They are so good looking and range of styles so varied that the Miss as well as the Matron will find one a valuable addition to her wardrobe.

For travel, street, and sports wear you will certainly need a sweater to wear with that old skirt.

To the Miss the Peter-Pan will appeal. The collar, cuffs and pockets are trimmed with checked contrasting colors and the girdle labeled.

Colors: FLAME, SERPENTINE, WALLFLOWER, JADE, NAVY, etc.

The slip overs in plain or the new Diamond and checked band pattern of black or navy and white as well as the Navy blue are decidedly striking. Plain or finished with fringes as you like. Prices range from $1.89 to $18.00.

Many teams to compete in Pennsylvania Relays

Philadelphia, Pa., March 14—Pennsylvania's traditional annual relay carnival this year will be one of the most important track and field festivities held any place in the world. All the big colleges of the East, without exception, many from the middle west, from the coasts and even from the Pacific slope, and several from the south have already sent in their entries.

Because of the failure of the eastern colleges to send representatives to the N. C. C. A. championships held in Chicago last June, the middle western colleges presented a boycott of Pennsylvania's邀请, even though Penn has one of the best teams in the East, and the meet was set for the N. C. C. A. meet. They have, however, bettered than ever, and it now seems that those middle western colleges which have shown good enough to make a showing at the Pennsylvania invitational tardy.

Missouri, Wisconsin, Kent State, Ohio State, and Purdue have already sent word that they will be in hand, while others are looking over their material to see whether their teams will measure up to the standard necessary at Penn's great carnival.

The indoor season just drawing to a close has shown that the coming season will be one that have for many years been scribed as the one of the great tracks of the new modernism. The standard of performance will come up to the level of the athletic athletic season that all the coming recruiting will either be broken or closely approached.

Many teams will be within a fraction of a second of the record, all striving to win the top championship. With Dropping running at its best, and Causey's shape, many feel that Yale will not
