UNIVERSITY GRADUATE

Pension Art in Paris

Mrs. Cora Fischer-Brown, who received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the University of Paris 1914, is now a student of art in the Ecole Normale des Beaux Arts in Paris.

Mrs. Fischer-Brown passed a special examination in composition with first honors in three French schools which entitle her to classification as a student of special distinction, with the title of "Protegee," which she has also been granted a certificate entitling her to classification as a protege of art, distinction rarely accorded one of her rank, she being a woman. Mrs. Fischer-Brown worked here in the department of fine arts, and was graduated with honors from the college of fine arts. The college has since been merged with the liberal arts college.

HALF OF LIBERAL ARTS STUDENTS GET GRADES

 Practically half of the students in the college of liberal arts have taken the president from their registrar's books to the registrar's office, and have had them returned with their grades for last semester.

The majority of the classes were completed at the end of the first semester, at the beginning of the second.

This system has had a larger response that any in the last year," said Herbert C. Dorcas, registrar. "Therefore, the sending out of the grades could be accomplished much quicker and sooner if all the requisite were in before the time of the semester. Late reports merely serve to hold up the progress through the regular files."
