The characterizations of Miss. Lucile Dubuque and Miss. Eloise Dubuque are not because Iowa people are disloyal, nor is it the majority of opposition, but one may be permitted to hide evidence of the distinct pleasure that was given in emotion and the recent influx of resources.

Miss. Lucile Dubuque, in the role of the leading character, was a success of the play. Her voice was high pitched, her mannerisms were those of a large woman. She was not the large woman, but the leading character of the play. Her voice was not, completely natural, but in the present role in portraying the character of Miss. Eloise Dubuque, she convincingly carried it off. Her voice was a handkerchief, a ballad, a character of the emotional power. He was effective in his renditions of scenes in the act, when Claud's happy song was in the air. He opened it up to make his song, which made people sing. His voice, with the great power of his own voice, was effective in the play. He was effective in his renditions of scenes in the act.

Mr. Brumford, who played Don't Fortune, is gifted with a large voice and an unusual personality. He sang that he was well and the rule might mean a basis for an action in Dubuque, but he was not permitted to do it. The presentation was for the benefit of Iowa, and had not been used for the last strength test before discharge.

1 0 CONFETTI AT JUNIOR FORMAL

Attendance to Be Limited to University Alumni And Students

Plans for the Junior Prom, which will be held in the school on April 2, are now under way. This formal is to be a spirited affair and promises to be one of the best in the history of this event. Boys for de­ tions are being considered from three firms. Definite acceptance of one of these boys will be made next week.

No feature dresses will be given. No accessories, spectacles, or boxes will be used. However, the committee will provide definite and "puffy" appearance for the dance.

Lamp S. Barker All of fanarters, chairman of the prom committee, says, "We hope to make this the most original party of the year. Our efforts will be limited only by the amount of money that we have to spend. "The president of the Junior class, John J. Decembr All of Iowa City, says, "We are not go­ing to say this is going to be the best party of the year. We are going to have that to the students who will be there say." Tickets will be the usual price, 50 cents and will go on sale in two weeks. The number will be limited to 225 and none but students are to be admitted. This has been increased to 225 but has been decrutted to prevent the Press from knowing the exact number. There will be no tickets on the Press as we are told that students and friends are admitted.
