DR. GOODRICH ANNOUNCES PLAN FOR STUDENTS TO WRITE THEMES

"Tell us about your theme, and we'll give you a choice of awards in the form of money or a gift certificate."

Dr. Goodrich announced that he will select two projects on Iowa and the University for the coming year which will have the greatest significance and will be the most interesting to the students.

"We have a number of students who are interested in writing about the University and its history," he said. "We believe that this is a great opportunity for them to explore their interest and see what they can do in this field."

LAW COLLEGE EXPECTED TO PASS AMENDMENT

The students in the student council, which has already decided to support the amendment, C. G. C. D., addressed to Santa Clara University, has announced that the body is now ready to take action. It is said that hardly more than one hundred thousand dollars is being spent for the cause and that the result will be the same as that of the other states now making the same appeal.

The law students association will vote on the question some time this week, and the sentiment in the law school appears an overwhelming vote for adoption. It is not a matter of money but of principle.

ASHMORE GIVING BASEBALL MEN BATTING PRACTICE

Four batting cages are being made by the basemen on Iowa field in order to improve their swing. The cage has always been used as a practice point of Iowa teams, but Coach James A. Ashmore will probably be able to get together a good team of batters this year.

In the practice game Friday afternoon Waldman, the regular pitching man, Becker working with the catchers, while Wells pitched for the seconds. As usually occurs, a number of patrols with the severe were hit, but about half of them was handled by the basemen. Waldman seemed to have lots of speed and a very accurateài throw, but the basemen were not able to get these balls out of the box.

The baseball game with Upper Iowa, scheduled for April 8, has been cancelled, but Coach James A. Ashmore said last night that a game with some other college, possibly the State Teachers, would be arranged for the last of the month. Iowa has three games scheduled with Upper Iowa, and it was decided that would be better to play some other game on the opening date.

Four games will be played during the first weeks of college, the first being played away from home. Part of the college will be on these trips, but Coach Ashmore emphasizes that if the bases were not taken on these trips did not expect that he had so far to change the squad. "We never can take many men on these early trips,"

GUGGLES TALKS TO COMMERCE STUDENTS

The largest number ever at a business course dinner was gathered at the Pagen's ten rooms Tuesday night for the monthly dining and to listen to a speech by George Ruggles, head of the department of transportation at the University of Iowa, and former director of the school of commerce in Iowa during 1920-21.

One hundred fifteen students turned out to the dinner because of Professor Ruggles' popularity among the students. The address was short and his recognition ability was obvious.

Following the dinner Professor Ruggles expressed his feelings for Iowa, his native state and especially for the University of Iowa, from which he received the degree of bachelor of arts in 1892. Following his clear speech offering the fullest of the colleges of commerce of this country and their relationship to the bankers of the country.

He pointed out the need of developing commerce graduates equipped with the "business sense" born in production, or they might be taken into any business and given the "book" scope of the particular line of commercial endeavor which they entered.

During his stay here Professor Ruggles conducted lectures on the transportation problems and on problems left for students to solve. He advised the students to continue the education which they were beginning.

The Garstek Commercial library will very likely meet in Erono by 7:30 p.m.
