JOHNSON WILL TALK TONIGHT ON STRATEGY

University Lecturer To Arrive in Iowa City At 3:41 Today

ONLY ONE MORE LECTURE

Officers' Club Is Planning Dinner for Speaker at Pagoda

Douglas Wilson Johnson, professor of physiography at Columbia university, who will deliver a lecture on "Topography and Strategy in the Great War," tonight at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium, is traveling all the way from the University of West Virginia to the University of Iowa. He will arrive this afternoon at 3:41.

The University is the only place at which he will lecture except at Cornell college. He will then return to New York.

Professor Johnson has consented to stay over another day in order that he might talk before the Geology club at 11 a. m., Wednesday. His topic will be "The Work of a Geographer at the Peace Table." Anyone interested may attend.

The Officers' club will entertain Professor Johnson at a 6 o'clock dinner at the Pagoda his evening. He will make a short speech on a subject of his own choosing. President Walter A. Jessup of the University, George F. Kay, dean of the liberal arts college and head of the geology department, and Professor Benjamin F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department will be guests of the Officers' club tonight.

"Professor Johnson has demonstrated his ability as a lecturer to such a degree that he is frequently invited to participate in the general programs of the National Geographical society," said Dean George F. Kay.

"The work of Professor Johnson lies in a field just between history and geography and for this reason should be of particular interest to students in history," said Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger, head of the history department. "In view of the fact that he is in a position to throw some light on the World War, his lecture should be of interest."

The lecture which Professor Johnson will give tonight will be illustrated with slides. There is only one more University lecture of the series left on this semester's list.

LAST INDOOR CONCERT PLEASES AUDIENCE AT AUDITORIUM SUNDAY

The second and the last indoor concert of the season given by the University band under the direction of Dr. O. F. Van Doren was enthusiastically received by an audience which filled the auditorium in the natural science building last Sunday at 4 p. m.

The Slavonic dance Number 3, by Dvorak, a spirited composition, brimful of that remarkable individuality which has secured for the composer a prominent place among the greatest of modern composers, proved the most popular of the numbers.

After the overture "Fest" by Leuter, the "Bonus Blues" was given as an encore. Popular music in the form of feature numbers were distributed throughout the program. "The Sheik," as an encore for the cert waltz, "Wedding of the Winds," and "I Love You Truly," by the saxophone quartet, composed of Harold Pratt S3 of Waukon, Charles Sullivan A3 of Belle Plaine, William Wood A3 of Vinton and Burdett Bailey A1 of Pierre, South Dakota, drew much applause from the audience. "Largo," from the "The New World Symphony," was slow moving and serene until the episode toward the last, which contrasted greatly with the rest of the composition. "The Dance of the Serpents," by E. Boccalari and the "Star Spangled Banner," completed the concert.

UNIVERSITY AUTHORITIES ANTICIPATED COAL MINERS' STRIKE; SUPPLY ON HAND WILL LAST TWO OR THREE MONTHS AT LEAST

The University has no cause for apprehension of a coal shortage said J. M. Fisk, superintendent of buildings, for two or three months for we anticipated the miner's strike and put in a supply sufficient to run us for a couple of months at least.

If the strike does continue we may feel the effects of the strike for, contrary to the opinion of many, there is not enough coal mined at the present time to last through the coming winter. It will be a great comfort to those who have had their fears aroused to visit the vicinity of the University heating plant and see the piles of coal heaped there.

To the ordinary observer there would appear to be enough to run the University a year or even more but expert opinion is to the effect that notwithstanding the coming of warm weather these heaps of coal will disappear within the coming three months. In the meantime we can rest assured that light and heat will be furnished for the remainder of this semester at least.

DEAN PHILLIPS IS PRESIDENT

Association of Economists Decides to Meet Here Next Year

Dean Chester A. Phillips of the college of commerce was elected president of the State' association of economists and sociologists for coming year at a meeting held in Cedar Rapids March 31 and April 1.

About 100 men represented the different colleges in the State at the meeting.

Dean Phillips read a paper on "Recent Iowa Aspects of the Federal Reserve System" which was a discussion of the apportionment of federal reserve credit in the United States with specific reference to the banks of Iowa.

The association, which meets every year about April 1, will meet here next year.

DAMP WEATHER PREVENTS BALL PRACTICE YESTERDAY

Damp weather and wet grounds prevented the varsity from getting a good workout last night although the infield was given a short practice by Coach James N. Ashmore. Barrett is looking better behind the bat as practice continues, his throwing is steadily improving, and he seems to be hitting the ball cleaner. If he continues to improve, he will probably get the first chance at catching. This would leave Locke at first, where he is beginning to pick-up ground balls as if he had always been an infielder, and place Michaelson in the outfield. Barrett throws to second better than either of the other men, but of course, lacks experience, and one of the other men may have to be used before the season is over.

A contract agreeing to the State teachers' terms, was mailed to them by Coach Ashmore and they will probably play here next Saturday, although they have not yet returned the agreement. The games with Minnesota will be played on June 5 and June 12. Both of these games were scheduled by Prof. B. J. Lambert at the meeting of conference officials.

The report from the Registrar's office on baseball men was received by Coach Ashmore, and only a few men are on the ineligible list. In this particular, baseball seems to have escaped the blight that caused so much trouble to the other sports. Only one man on the report has been playing on either of the first two teams.

JENNINGS WRITES BOOK

"The American Embargo, 1907-1908," the volume recently written by Prof. Walter W. Jennings of the department of commerce, will be published next week as a volume in the University of Iowa's studies in social sciences. The book traces the economic, political, and social effects of President Jefferson's embargo upon American life. Professor Jennings has spent a number of years in collecting material upon the subject of the embargo. Some of the most significant features of the study are based upon his investigations in the newspapers printed during the time of the Revolution.

PROM TICKETS TO GO ON SALE

Only Students, Former Students and Alumni Are to Attend

One-half of the 225 tickets for the Junior Prom on April 2 will be placed on sale today at 1 o'clock at Whetstones.

The remainder will be placed on sale Wednesday at the same hour. The committee has arranged this plan of ticket sale to give students who have classes Tuesday at 1 an equal opportunity to get tickets with those who have no classes at that hour.

Will Not Reserve Tickets

The committee has had many requests the past week to reserve tickets which is impossible according to regulations of the social committee. The budget has been presented to the social committee and has been approved by it. Specialties are being arranged for and will be announced within a few days. The contract for decorations for the Prom will also be let this week.

Outsiders Not Allowed

The committee wishes to emphasize the fact that only students, former students and alumni will be eligible for attendance. Although outsiders may secure tickets a committee will be on hand the night of the Prom to prevent entrance to the armory.

UNION BUTTONS WILL BE SEEN ON EVERYONE BY THIS WEEKEND

Button, button, who wears the button?

Not everybody right now but at the rate they are being distributed everybody will have one by this weekend. Little yellow buttons with the words "Iowa Memorial Union" across them are being worn by everyone who has pledged during the big push this week.

Just why the color yellow was chosen for the honor badge is not known; possibly because they were the cheapest in price. They are almost identical to the buttons the Daily Iowan issued last year to their subscribers, but, as one person remarked, "it's no use to haul that fastener down from the wall because it won't get by."

A large banner fastened to the columns of Old Capitol displayed the following in red letters:

OUR CHALLENGE

Will we meet it?
Illinois students pledged... $800,000
Indiana ..... 413,000
Purdue ..... 382,000
Missouri ..... 348,000
Ames ..... 325,000
Kansas ..... 262,000
Iowa ..... ?

The Union council is working with every bit of effort. Persons coming to the office for information, material to the Union, to make reports and to do a half thousand other things connected with the "big push" crowded the office all day long.

ERIKSON TO TEACH

E. McKinley Erikson, candidate for the degree of doctor of philosophy in history, of Odebolt, has been elected instructor in history for the summer session of Iowa State teachers' college.

FIRST DAY OF UNION DRIVE INCREASES FUND BY $50,000

THEMES DRIFT IN FOR UNION PRIZE CONTEST

Several Professors Have Reported Scarcity of Good Articles

BEST THREE GET MONEY

Contributions Must Be Work of First Year Students

With the opening of the Memorial Union drive yesterday, themes by freshmen students on "What the Iowa Memorial Union Will Mean to the University" yesterday began to roll in at the Daily Iowan office for the contest. Twenty-five dollars in prizes are to be awarded for the three best articles submitted before Wednesday, April 6, at 6 p. m. The prize money which has been donated by the Johnson county savings bank has been divided into a first prize of fifteen dollars and a second and third prizes of five dollars each.

Myers in Charge

Prof. Walter L. Myers who is in charge of freshman English, has instructed all teachers in freshman English to select the A papers for themes which were written on the above subject on March 29 and 30 and to submit them to the judging committee. Several professors have reported a scarcity of A papers in their classes. These will submit the best articles. Professor Myers stated yesterday that he could form no estimate of the numbers of papers which would be submitted through the instructors. They should however, be turned in today and tomorrow.

Must Be Work of Freshmen

The judging committee announces that it is not necessary that articles be submitted through English classes. They may be entered through any other channel, provided only that the contributions are the work of freshmen.

Regulations governing the contest are as follows:

1. The contest is open to all freshmen students of the University.
2. The subject of the articles shall be, "What the Iowa Memorial Union will Mean to the University."
3. Entries for the contest will close Wednesday, April 5, at 6 p. m.
4. Articles will be limited to 500 words.
5. Any freshman may submit as many articles as he or she wishes.
6. All articles must be the original work of the entrant.
7. Manuscripts are to be placed in the Memorial Union box in the Daily Iowan office, room 14 of the liberal arts building. The judges of the contest are to be the director of the Iowa Memorial Union, the professor of journalism and the Editor of the Daily Iowan. The winner of the contest will be announced and the prize article printed in the Daily Iowan for Friday, April 7.

DATE FOR FINALS IN BOXING TOURNAMENT NOT YET DETERMINED

The date of the final round of the University boxing tournament to decide the champions of the various classes in the different weights still remains undecided. Physical director, Ernest G. Schroeder declared last evening that he was not ready to announce the date at the present time. Last year the finals of the boxing tournament were held while the convention of Iowa physicians and surgeons was in session here.

As the meeting of that body is scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday it is not probable that the last bouts will be held on either one of those evenings.

FIFTY EXPECTED AT CONVENTION

J. Ray Files of Fort Dodge To Deliver Address at Opening Session

Fifty or more delegates will attend the eighth convention of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, which is to be held here April 27, 28 and 29. Delegates will come from educational institutions from all parts of the United States, including Bates college in Maine and the University of Lower California.

Files to Speak

J. Ray Files '06 of Fort Dodge will deliver the address at the opening session of the convention Thursday evening. Although he has not announced his subject his address will probably concern the national and local organization of Delta Sigma Rho. Friday evening the local chapter will give a banquet at the Jefferson hotel for the visitors. Stanley B. Houck of Minneapolis national president, will give the main address Friday evening.

Has Twenty-four Chapters

The national officers who will attend are Mr. Houck, president; Mrs. Henry F. Carelton of Cambridge, Mass., secretary; and Geddes Smith of New York city.

Delta Sigma Rho was founded at Chicago April 13, 1906. The Iowa chapter is one of the charter chapters. There are now twenty-four chapters.

D. A. R. GIVES FUND

The Iowa society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at their annual conference in Dubuque on March 15, 16, and 17 of this year passed the following motion: "That the sum of $100 be taken from the reserve funds to be spent for books bearing upon the period of the American Revolution, to be placed in the library of the State University of Iowa. This contribution is to be the first of a series of annual appropriations for the purpose of making the University of Iowa one of the main centers for graduate study in Revolutionary history in the Middle West.

ORGANIZATIONS WERE VISITED BY SPEAKERS

Speakers' Bureau and Union Council Will Meet at Jefferson Today

GOOD START IS MADE

Today Expected To Be Big Day By Students In Charge

With the unfurling of a huge challenge banner over the entrance of Old Capitol, intense activity among the fraternities and sororities, characterized the first day of the Memorial Union drive which closed late last night with a total pledge amounting to $50,000 for the day's work. The Union spirit is rapidly gaining momentum and the interest displayed is more than satisfactory to the members of the Union Council.

Yesterday during the day efforts were centered freshman men year through classes in the military department and those who were not solicited yesterday will have the opportunity today in the various classes at the new armory.

Sororities Visited

Most of the sororities and a few of the fraternities were visited by teams from the speakers' bureau last night and the response was very satisfactory in some cases and in others it was far below the amount which should have been subscribed. In some of the places visited the reception displayed an entire lack of appreciation of the Union and even went as far as intimating to the committee they were not welcome. The Iowa spirit has permeated the campus in favor of the Union, and the Council and speakers' bureau is confident that by Wednesday morning the entire undergraduate body will be determined to put the campaign across, with a total equal to, if not above that record established by the students of other institutions.

Meeting Today

The speakers' bureau, together with the Union Council will meet in a body at luncheon at the Jefferson hotel today noon. Every member of both group is expected to be present. The organization is complete, but with the rapid progress, there arises changes that must be made at the last moment.

Today a Big Day

Tuesday will be a big day, say the members of the Union Council. A good start was made Monday. Half of the freshmen men, and all of the freshmen women, the Quadrangle, most of the fraternities, besides a large number of miscellaneous organizations will be visited today. It is expected that the total by Wednesday morning will approach the $200,000 mark.

Some Averages Are High

The averages of the pledges are running fairly high. Some of the organizations, particularly the freshmen solicited Monday are very good. The first platoon, averaged $100.00 a man, and the others to be solicited today are expected to do as much.

TENNIS COURTS TO BE IN SHAPE SOON

In answer to many queries by the tennis players about the time when the tennis courts near the old gym will be ready, Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education stated that the annual task of getting the courts in shape hinges entirely on the weather. The coming of two or three days of warm weather to dry out the ground will mean that in a short time racquet wielders of the University can get into action.

THE YELLOW BUTTON

There is always a feeling of pride and glowing satisfaction to the youngster who can wear a Sunday school button indicating that he has been a regular attendant at Sunday school. The same is true in later years; we are better satisfied to wear the green on St. Patrick's day than not to, we wear the "send the band" tag with a feeling of loyalty, and on patriotic occasions we like to wear or carry the Stars and Stripes.

So it is in the Iowa Memorial Union campaign this week. The yellow button means Iowa loyalty. The wearer of the button has subscribed to the Iowa Memorial Union, has recognized its ideals and its purposes, is a good Iowan, and is one whose interests are in common with those of Old Gold.

Wear the yellow button this week. If you have subscribed and the committees have not given you one, go to the committeeman and demand your button. If you have not subscribed, now is the time to do so.

CAMPUS LOUNGERS

We have about our University campus, a group of confirmed campus loungers, students who stand around the campus, watching or staring at all the passers-by, making witty remarks in an undertone, perhaps, or laughing loudly after a person has passed. This group should be classed with the condemned small town gossips, or the much talked of "rubbernecks" making their first visits to cities.

Society has always looked down upon the person who stares at others. Society will ever condemn the loafers who camp on the street corners for no other purpose than to watch people go by. Society as a whole condemns rudeness. And surely it is rude to stand idly around, watching perhaps with a casual appearance, perhaps with a rude stare, the people who must walk past. Society, including every other person in the University, certainly should lock down upon these people, pity them, and take warning from a bad example.

In grammar school we were taught that staring was rudeness. Most of us have had our ears boxed many times while learning the lesson. And yet many seem still not to have learned. University students often show grammar school education, or less, in this matter. Of course, everybody is curious, and everybody likes to watch everybody else, but habitual staring, "rubbernecking", puts one in the class of a campus loafer, a class inviting extermination.

We invite visitors to our campus and ask them to see all the University and its campus. Any students who do not really know their own campus, are certainly slackers. But this does not apply to those who merely walk about the campus, sightseeing, or perhaps passing a little time away. It does not apply to those who do their studying on the campus. It applies only to those who spend their time watching passers-by, to the campus loungers.

THE MAGIC CHARM

(Syracuse Daily Orange) One thing that is needed very sorely in this world is tact. It is the magic charm that transforms the order to do a difficult task into an honor to be received with thanks. It is the balm that turneth away wrath and produces a good-natured grin. It is the force that rules homes wisely and preserves princes' palaces. It is the grace that makes a homely woman appear beautiful and places a famous man on your level of society.

Although tact may be revealed in a thousand different ways there are two expressions that are especially to be desired. The first is the kind that saves both you and others from embarrassment. It keeps you from that agonizing realization that "you have put your foot in it," and should discreetly sink through the floor. It stands between you and the temptation never to appear in public again.

The second important expression of tact is in difficult situations in which there are likely to be wounded or angered feelings. This is the kind that is needed most. There is nothing more wonderful than the personality with the power to make you realize that you have done your best and that your efforts are appreciated even though you have failed. Nor is there a spell more potent than that which another exerts to make you want to do your work that is perhaps unpleasant but necessary to the achievement of a great end.

Although this quality is valuable and remarkable, it is very difficult to describe. There are few tangible ear-marks about a tactful personality. Contrary to common opinion, tact is not composed of white lies. It springs from love and self control and infinite understanding. Some are born with tact, others achieve it, but no one ever has it thrust upon him. It is, however, enough that some may acquire it. It may be gained only through experience, the observation of others, and a desire to be really helpful and considerate.

ALMOST EVERY BRANCH OF ATHLETICS HAS ITS REPRESENTATIVE AMONG THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY MEMBERS; ALL SUPPORT OLD GOLD

The number of faculty members at Iowa who were athletic stars during their college days dispels the more or less generally held opinion that athletes are inclined to neglect the academic side of undergraduate life. Every branch of athletics has its representative among the faculty and all of them are among the most enthusiastic supporters of Old Gold teams.

The faculty of the college of commerce numbers many letter men on its roll. Dean Chester A. Phillips played football and baseball at Huntington college in 1901-1904, playing right end on the football team and an outfield position in baseball. Prof. R. W. Stone, associate professor of commerce was an outfielder on the Valparaiso university baseball team from 1909 to 1912. Other baseball stars in this college include Leland B. Irish, graduate assistant in commerce, who has been a regular on the Iowa team for the past three years, and Herbert S. Crim instructor in commerce who pitched for Ohio State in 1917, 1918, and 1919.

The English department also has many ex-college stars. Millington F. Carpenter, assistant in English was a cross country and distance star at Chicago while Prof. Thomas A. Knott was a member of the Northwestern track teams way back when the mile walk was an event at every track meet. Professor Knott specialized in this event and was also on the football squad. Prof. Henning Larson is one of the prominent tennis players in the State.

Prof. Stephen A. Bush, head of the Romance language department, was a star half-miler at Harvard for four years. He was secretary of the Iowa athletic association for thirteen years and coached the Iowa track team in 1904 and 1905.

Lieut. Col. Morton C. Mumma and Major Ray Hill are old West Point football stars and Dr. Campbell P. Howard, professor and head of the department of the theory and practice of medicine played rugby at McGill university, Toronto, Canada. Prof. Jacob Van der Zee, of the political science department played baseball and tennis at Iowa and was a member of the American baseball team at Oxford.

FINALS IN FRAT GAMES WILL BE PLAYED SOON

With this week's games out of the way the finals of the interfraternity basketball tournament will be ready. Throughout the season no one team had a decided advantage over the others at times one in particular would have the advantage but the next week one of the others would take its place and the former leader would drop back into a lower position. At this time three games are left in the preliminaries, the Delta Theta Phi team meets the Phi Kappas, Delta Tau Delta meets Sigma Phi and Phi Kappa Psi meets the Alpha Tau Omega. In section A a three cornered tie exists which will be cleared up this week when Delta Tau Delta meets Sigma Phi, Delta Theta Phi is the third member of this tie, however, a win by either one of the other teams leaves a tie for second place with the loser and Delta Theta Phi.

In section B only two teams are left, the Phi Kappa Psi and with six wins, Nu Sigma Nu with the same number, and one lost, however the Phi Kappa Psi have a game to be played with the Alpha Tau Omega, which if they win they are accredited with the championship of section B but if they should lose a tie exists with the Sigma Nu. In section C first one team has been in the lead and then another, Kappa Sigma had been picked to win this section until their defeat by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon last week. This left the Kappa Sigma, Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon tied for first place. In the drawings Kappa Sigma drew a by and will play the winner of the Phi Gamma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon game on April 10.

In all over 130 games have been played.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY COMPOSITION BY PROFESSOR CLAPP

Among the selections to be played by the St. Louis symphony orchestra in the men's gymnasium on April 20, is "Norge," a tone poem for orchestra and pianoforte, composed by Prof. Phillip G. Clapp, head of University music department.

This composition was written for the centennial celebration of the Pierian Sodality of Harvard university in 1908, and was played by that organization on the occasion, with Leland Hall at the piano and Professor Clapp, the composer, conducting.

The present version is a revision made in 1919, and was performed in St. Louis in March, 1920, by the St. Louis symphony orchestra under Max Zaach, the composer playing the piano part.

Professor Clapp's principal compositions are "Norge"; a Song of Youth" tone-poem for orchestra composed in 1910, and performed by the Royal Opera House orchestra in Stuttgart in 1910; "In Summer," prelude for orchestra composed in 1912, and performed by the St. Louis Symphony orchestra in 1914; Symphony in E minor, composed in 1913 and performed by the Boston Symphony orchestra in 1914; Symphony in E-flat major, composed in 1916, and performed by the Boston Symphony orchestra, in 1917, also music for several pageants, chamber music, and songs

The men's glee club will present a home concert Wednesday, April 5, in the natural science auditorium was highly complimented in the local papers of the cities where they gave concerts in their vacation true to the saying that a profit has more honor shown him in any country than his own.

The Mason City Globe-Gazette, said in reference to the glee club program: "Never in the opinion of most of the 250 who attended was a more successful concert staged by a college organization. For each main number on the program there was an encore with a 'kick'."

BIG TEN CONFERENCE MAKES NEW RULES AT MEETING SATURDAY

No more contests between teams in the Big Ten conference and teams in other parts of the country will be allowed, it was decided at the meeting of presidents of athletic boards at Chicago Saturday.

The rule was not made retroactive, and will not apply to the Iowa-Yale game next fall, but hereafter all inter-sectional contests will be prohibited. Another important point of the same question, the playing of games with institutions which do not enforce the freshmen rule, was discussed, and it was decided that conference teams could not schedule games with these institutions.

The two year rule states that when an athlete leaves one institution for another, he shall not be allowed to participate in athletics for a period of two years.

The baseball rule, which prohibits a college man from playing in any contest in the summer where admission is charged, was finally passed. Another very important rule which may be adopted limits an athlete to two sports.

Milton Rommy, captain of the Chicago football team, was the first Big Ten Athlete to be declared ineligible by the two year rule which was another of the important subjects discussed. Romney, who could graduate in June, but who decided to drop out of the University will not be able to play football next fall, according to the new ruling.
