Springtime is Fixup Time

Possibly a little too early for Spring house cleaning to take hold in earnest, but not too early to buy your drapes, furnishings and shades. The careful housewife plans detail the fittings for each room in the house. Perhaps a parlor with valance valance and gold cloth hangings with fringed rug; a dining room with Rosevel Net and Madras hangings, with a lighter, handwashed red room with Crenogee curtains and rag rugs—and more than likely a figured linoleum with serin curtains in the kitchen.

These possibilities and many others may be successfully developed in the dressing and Dining room departments of our store.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS GREET Y.M.C.A. SHOWS WITH MUCH APPLAUSE

Shouts of glee mingled with excited applause when the little hands of the invalids in the hospital found the Y. M. C. A. show in the original Chateau. Cheerleaders and Barker were always in evidence and at one time or another many of the patients performed. Some of them, too, were on their feet to add their contributions to the entertainment.

Ronald Ganz
GANZ WON FAME IN TWO FIELDS

Accomplished Composer And...

Here April 20

Ronald Ganz, the conductor of the St. Louis symphony orchestra, which appears here on April 20, is a man who has won his way to worldwide fame through his musical accomplishments, both as pianist and composer.

Ganz was born in Zwickau, Silesia, February 24, 1877. In his youth he was a distinguished pupil of the conservatories of music at Brussels, Lamoureux, and Strasbourg. Later he studied under Chodkiewicz and Carus at Berlin.

Make Debut in Vienna

While in Berlin he met and married a refugee from Poland, and has since settled in Chicago. Ganz made his debut in Paris at the age of sixteen. Practically from then on he has continued to figure prominently in the musical world, and has repeatedly made concert tours that have taken him into many parts of the world.

Also a Composer

To many Americans the most famous name in music in America is that of Rudolph Ganz, the conductor of the St. Louis symphony orchestra, which appears here on April 20, a man who has won his way to worldwide fame through his musical accomplishments, both as pianist and composer.

The selection included very lovely street and afternoon frocks, featuring the highest points of fashion, developed in Navy, Brown, Black, Copen, Henna, Periwinkle. Embroidered, braided fringe and lace trimmed—in solid and combination effects.
