1500 ATHLETES WILL ATTEND DRAKE RELAYS

Previous Work of Teams Indicates that Records Will Be Broken

165 SCHOOLS ENTERED

Final Date for Entries Set For April 20—Coaches to Attend Meet

Des Moines, Ia., April 8.—(Special): Nearly 1,500 athletes, representing 30 universities, 35 colleges and 100 high schools will compete in the various events of the Drake relays here April 28 and 29, according to the entry list which is now on file in the office of K. L. Wilson, athletic director of Drake University.

Some of the most famous figures in athletic circles in the United States, including Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, Tommy Jones, of the University of Wisconsin, and John L. Griffith of the University of Illinois, will be among the officials of the meet. Rockne will act as official referee of the games, Jones will be head field judge and Griffith will be official starter of the meet.

Record Holders to Run

Many of the greatest athletes in the country will get into action here in the coming games. Among them will be Gus Desch of Notre Dame, holder of the world's record in the 440 yard low hurdles, Bill Hayes of Notre Dame, former national champion in the 100 yard dash, Sundt, Wisconsin weight man, Landowski of Michigan and Merrick of Wisconsin, two pole vaulters who tied at 12 feet 9 inches in the Illinois indoor meet recently, and who have both cleared more than 13 feet consistently in outdoor practice, and Platten of Wisconsin and Osborne of Illinois, high jumpers. Everett Bradley, Olympic star and captain of the Kansas track team, will undoubtedly break the national record in the shot put here, as he established a new record in that event in the Missouri Valley indoor meet at Kansas City recently with a heave of 45 feet 13-4 inches. Sandefer, another Kansas athlete, also puts the shot around 45 feet.

The four mile relay record, established by the University of Wisconsin in 1916, 18:02, will go into the discard if the Illinois four mile team runs true to form here. In a recent indoor meet, the Illini cut 12 seconds from the "Big Ten" record in the four mile.

Competition in Mile

Many of the speediest mile relay teams in this country will be pitted against each other in the Drake meet here. Illinois, Nebraska, Chicago, Iowa, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern, Drake, Michigan, Iowa State, Grinnell and the University of the South are some of the teams which will compete in the mile relay race in the university section.

Teams from all sections of the United States will be entered in the meet. The University of the South, of Sewanee, Tenn. has already entered and the entries of Vanderbilt university, Centre college, Texas A. and M. and Occidental college of San Francisco are expected to be received soon.

Introduce New Event

Among the famous coaches who will be here with their track teams are A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, Bob Simpson of Missouri, former world's record holder in the high hurdles, "Indian" Schulte of Nebraska, Howard Jones of Iowa, Tommy Jones of Wisconsin, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Harry Gill of Illinois, John Nicholson of the University of the South and Frank Loomis, Jr. of Hastings college, another former holder of the world's record in the 120 yard hurdles.

A new event this year will be the 440 yard relay in the university section, for the accommodation of the large number of schools with several sprinters on their track teams.

TODAY'S VESPERS TO CONSIST OF ORATORIO

University vespers this afternoon in the natural science auditorium will take the form of a special oratorio service. Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ," will be presented by the University chorus under the direction of Professor Philip G. Clapp, assisted by the glee clubs, directed by Prof. Walter Leon, and by the University orchestra under the direction of Prof. Frank E. Kendrie.

The solo parts will be sung by Prof. Walter Leon, tenor, Miss Ruth Rowland A4 of Iowa City, soprano, and James Houghton A3 of Davenport, baritone. "The Seven Last Words of Christ" is a Lenten oratorio and is one of the best known works of the French composer Theodore Dubois.

The words of Christ and most of the narrative of the oratorio are given to the solo voices, while the chorus of voices, in parts of the oratorio, represent the angry mob clamoring for the crucifixion of Christ.

FRIVOL CALLS FOR NEW MEN

Business Manager and Editor to be Chosen By Board

In order to determine certain questions as to the future of Frivol, University humorous magazine, the Frivol board of trustees is asking for preliminary applications for the positions of editor and business manager for next year. Applicants should report in person at once to one of these members of the board's subcommittee: Robert L. Block L1 of Davenport, Raymond L. Peterson A3 of Council Bluffs, and Prof. William S. Maulsby.

Any student who will be of at least sophomore standing next year is eligible. Both positions carry a salary and a share of the net profits. The editor appoints the other members of the editorial and art staff, subject to the approval of the board, and the business manager does likewise with respect to his advertising and circulation assistants.

Candidates who report at this time will be given every opportunity to see how Frivol is at present conducted and may be allowed to assist in putting out the last two issues of the magazine for this year.

The board of trustees which elects the editor and business manager is composed, in addition to the three men previously mentioned, of Prof. Charles H. Weller, chairman; Dean Chester A. Phillips, Lue Prentiss A4 of Iowa City, and Cloyce K. Huston A4 of Crawfordville.

WEATHER FAILS TO KILL FIRST ANNUAL INTRA-MURAL MEET

An interesting battle was waged yesterday on Iowa field between the weather man and Coach George T. Bresnahan, to determine whether or not an intra-mural track meet should be continued; and although the former used the sprinkling can to good advantage, Coach Bresnahan would not give in, and all but three of the events listed were run off, but not on schedule.

The track was soggy and slow, the runners wet and even some of the judges took French leave before the contest was over. The twenty or so fans who braved the dampness to watch the meet grew discouraged and soon left, and the men left to compete for honor alone.

Kramer took individual honors with firsts in the 220 and 100 yard races, making him ten points, while Coulter with a first in the 120 yard hurdles and a second in the broad jump, took second place in the individual honors.

Slow time was recorded in most of the events.

UNION CAMPAIGN TO BE FINISHED EARLY IN WEEK

Total Pledges Approaching The Half Million Mark

CONTRACT TO BE LET

Faculty Members Asked To Make Contributions At Union Office

Personal solicitation of students for the Memorial Union will be started Monday in an effort to conclude the drive early this week, according to plans completed yesterday afternoon by the Union council. Friday's and Saturday's work added $5,600 to the Union total. The city has been mapped out by districts and each district has been assigned to a member of the council.

Now that the total of pledges is approaching the half way mark, or $500,000, the Union assumes a tangible aspect. Campaigns for pledges among alumni are scheduled for every week between now and commencement time.

With the half way mark long passed, and an approach to the three-quarters mark by commencement time, the board of trustees expects to begin the final work of preparing to let the contract, locate the site and take other steps necessary to break ground this summer.

A letter has been sent to every faculty member. Each is asked to make his pledge and return it to office of the Union in the Old Capitol building before Wednesday evening. The literary societies have registered practically one hundred per cent. The same can be said of the fraternities and sororities and miscellaneous organizations that called special meetings for the Union council committees last week.

A careful survey of the situation has revealed the fact that less than fifty per cent of the student body has been reached. A great many students have voluntarily come to the Union office to make their pledges. In these cases they complain that they have not been solicited. It is the intention of the Union council to reach every student on the campus.

The Union council and the speakers' bureau have mapped out the entire city by blocks. Teams to cover assigned districts have partially been assigned. But it has been discovered that more workers are needed.

A committee headed by Abram M. DeVaul spent all of Friday afternoon carefully covering the city, arranging the districts. With a committee of four, two men and two women, according to the present plans, it is the belief that the most effective work of the campaign can be accomplished.

The committees will receive their final instructions and assignments Monday evening. They will start out to see every student in their respective districts.

FILIPINOS TO GIVE VARIED PROGRAM

The Filipino club will present its second annual program at the University theatre on April 22. The music will be furnished by the native string orchestra. The program will consist of ukulele selections, moonlight serenades, native songs, a Philippine folk dance, magic tricks, the Philippines in picture and tableaux, and a demonstration of native fencing, or "escrima."

IOWA COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED MONDAY

The committees appointed to have charge of the Iowa celebration will be announced Monday, says Douglas F. Boynton A4 of Cedar Rapids, who, with Maudie Shoemaker A2 of Guthrie Center, has charge of the preparations for the event. Iowa is an annual all-University celebration under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

VACATION STARTS THIS WEEK

The president's office announced yesterday that Easter vacation will begin at 6 p. m. on Thursday, April 13, and that classes start Tuesday, April 18, at 8 a. m. The usual penalty of deduction of one hour of credit will be exacted of all those who miss the last meeting of the class in the course before vacation, or the first meeting after vacation without sufficient excuse.

DEBATERS WILL GO TOMORROW

First Women's Team To Enter Contest Off Campus

Iowa's team of women debaters, who leave tomorrow morning for Bloomington, Ind., to debate Wednesday with the women's team of the University of Indiana, will enter in the first intercollegiate contest in which Iowa women have ever taken part outside their own campus.

Iowa Upholds Negative

The members of the Iowa team are Margaret A. Brady A4 of Fort Dodge, Mildred C. Freburg A4 of Pomeroy, and Eloise B. Smith A4 of Fairfield. They will uphold the negative of the question: Resolved, that the political, territorial, and commercial integrity of China is the solution of the problem of maintaining peace in the Pacific. China is to include Old China, Mongolia, Manchuria, and Korea.

Indiana has trained four teams from which one was selected to meet the Iowa debaters. One of the members of the team chosen debated at Iowa last year in the intercollegiate debate. Miss Freburg opposed her at that time as a member of the Iowa team.

Will Be Entertained

The Iowa representatives will be entertained at a banquet Wednesday and will be guests during their stay in Bloomington of Delta chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, of which Margaret Brady is an Iowa member.

L. R. Norvelle of the department of speech, coach of the Iowa team, will accompany the debaters on the trip.

Eleven minutes will be allowed for each constructive speech and five minutes for rebuttal, according to the Indiana custom.

METHODIST CHOR TO GIVE "THE HOLY CITY"

The choir of the Methodist church will present "The Holy City," an oratorio by A. R. Gaul, today at 10:45 at the church. Mrs. Mildred B. Paddock will direct, and Mrs. Preston C. Coast will be at the organ.

SOPHOMORE PETITIONS FOR IOWAN BOARD TO BE IN BY THURSDAY

Only five more days remain in which petitions for sophomore members of the Iowan board of trustees may be presented to Prof. Charles H. Weller, chairman of the board. These petitions must be signed by twenty-five members of the sophomore class who are paid-up subscribers of the Daily Iowan. The two sophomores chosen will hold office for two years, beginning next fall.

Up to date no petitions have been handed in. However, it is expected that several will be handed in this week.

'CLARENCE' WILL BE THIS WEEK

Tarkington's Comedy Staged by Players Tuesday And Wednesday

The class in dramatic production will present in the University theatre Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock, Booth Tarkington's comedy, "Clarence". Practically all of the cast has had some stage experience, and has appeared before University audiences this year.

Ward Plays Lead

Albert Ward A3 of Clinton, who is playing the title role is well known, as he has appeared in University productions several times this year. He played the leading role in "Mater", which was the initial play of the University theatre last October. In December he played the lead in "Beyond the Horizon", which was put on by the Erodolphian and Irving literary societies. In "Pillars of Society", produced last month by the University Players he played the part of John.

Foley Has Part

Henry Ruwe A4 of Marathon, who played the part of "Benedick" in "Much Ado About Nothing" also has a part in "Clarence". Ruwe had a prominent part in "The Land of the Aiuwas". Maurine Shay Au of Des Moines, who played in "Mater" with Ward, is to be in "Clarence". She, too, had a part in "Pillars of Society."

Gregory Foley is well known to University audiences by his work in "Beyond the Horizon", "Much Ado About Nothing", and "Pillars of Society", has one of the kid parts, and Marjorie Meardon A3 of Iowa City portrays his flippant young sister. Other members of the cast are Opal Stevenson A3 of Shannon City, Helen Larson G of Corwith, Janette Hunter A3 of Wellman, and Leslie Boatman A4 of Barnes City.

Play is a Comedy

The plot of "Clarence" has a strong comedy element which is carried on by Bobby, Cora, and Clarence. It was produced by a professional company at the Englert last year. The University theatre planned to give it one night only, but the ticket sale was so large that it was decided to give it a second night. There are about thirty-five seats left for the first night and a few more than that for the second night.

EASTER PARTIES HELD

Practically all of the student church organizations held their annual Easter parties last night. The Lutheran club entertained at a dance at their club rooms in Close hall, chaperoned by Mrs. Charles Gill. The Baptist church was the scene of a mask costume party at which prizes were given for the best costumes. An Easter social was held at the Presbyterian church and the young people of the Unitarian church entertained with a dance and the play, "The Merry, Merry Cuckoo," at their club rooms on Iowa avenue.

PATRICK TO SPEAK

Prof. G. T. W. Patrick, acting head of the department of philosophy and psychology, will address the Philosophical club next Tuesday evening on "Some Phases of Pluralism". The meeting will be held at Professor Patrick's home at 704 North Dubuque street.

IOWA DEFEATS TEACHERS TEAM IN SLOW GAME

No Scores Made During First Five Innings of Game

LOCKE HURT SLIGHTLY

Travis Relieves Frohwein In Pitcher's Box at Seventh

Despite adverse weather conditions which handicapped the pitchers of both teams, Iowa defeated State Teachers 7 to 0 in the opening baseball game of the season, yesterday afternoon. Until the sixth inning, the game was either side's, no runs having been made. At this time the teachers were outitting Iowa, but the tight playing of the Iowa team held them without runs. Frohwein always managed to tighten up in the pinches and strike out some of the batters.

Travis relieved Frohwein at the beginning of the seventh inning and went through the rest of the game, until the umpire called it off in the ninth inning, without trouble. He was inclined to be wild, walking one man, but was saved from further bother, when Barrett's fine peg to Shimek caught the runner trying to steal.

No runs were scored until the sixth inning, when the Iowa team combined two hits with the numerous misplays of their opponents for five runs. Two more scores were made in the eighth inning off of Roeder, who had relieved Dickinson, the Teachers' star pitcher in the seventh.

Locke, Iowa's first baseman, was dazed but only slightly injured when he collided with the Teachers' catcher. He attempted to come home on a ball hit to the third baseman and the catcher got in his way. He knocked the catcher down and caused him to drop the ball but was dazed and was tagged out by the pitcher, who recovered the ball. He was able to continue playing.

The Iowa team played good baseball in the field, not an error being made, but seemed weak at bat. This weakness was due in part to the difficulty met in hitting the slippery ball. Locke, Michaelson, and Wilhelm look like three hitters who will cause trouble for any pitcher. Iowa fans several hundred of whom stayed throughout the rain, will have chance to watch these men in action again, before vacation, when Cornell comes here next Tuesday.

LOOK ABOUT

It goes without saying that campus publications constitute one of the most potent factors in molding opinion concerning the University. Poor officers and poor staff members and poor directors are tantamount to a weakening prestige for any college or University.

Within a few weeks editors and business managers for the three major publications will be selected. Trustees will also be chosen from the student body. A proper regard for the importance of these appointments and elections will dictate student interest in the matter. Look about for proper material, judge the likely men, and then take it upon yourself to see that these positions are properly filled.

LOOKING AHEAD

(Third place in the Memorial Union contest conducted among the freshmen of the University by the Daily Iowan was given to the following article, which takes an interesting little peep down the gun-barrel of time. It was written by Marion Ansel.)

We had just glimpsed the familiar old haunts,—liberal arts, natural science, and finally Old Capitol. "Magnificent old buildings, aren't they?" I said to Jim Bradshaw, with that reverence and pride which comes from wearing a '22 pennon on the day before Homecoming, 1925.

At that moment we rounded the corner and I stopped short at the sight before us. A huge building of gleaming white loomed up above the smoothest of green lawns. Tall pillars gave stately dignity to the place, while a hundred windows glistened in the sun. Just in front of the broad flight of steps, a bronze statue was sharply outlined by its white background.

"The Iowa Memorial Union," I cried to Jim. "The building of our dreams."

"A substantial reality," he laughingly replied; then added more seriously, "the very corner of our campus life."

As we sauntered up the wide walk, the exquisite carving on the pillars became visible. We examined the statue, then mounted the wide stone steps. It was with a feeling of awe that I walked through magnificent pillars to the dim portico beyond. The bronze tablets with their glorious roll of heroes of three American wars filled me with pride at Iowa's record.

Then Jim Bradshaw led me through an imposing doorway into the memorial hall. The splendor of it dazzled yet fascinated me. Slanting sunlight glistened on the smoothly polished floor. The ceiling towered above us, high as the building itself. Great tubs of palms and jars of ferns stood about, half hiding the orchestra square in the corner. My fancy painted gay mixers, dazzling balls, dignified receptions here in this imposing room.

Once out of the memorial hall we toured a perfect labyrinth of rooms and halls. I was impressed by the suite of rooms occupied by the alumni association, the cozily furnished headquarters of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. On the second floor, various organizations were evidencing the utility of their location by activity apparent. Staff and Circle of 1925 were discussing plans. Iowan reporters dashed to and fro in their busy work. When we had reached the top floor I was charmed with the excellent rooms given over to the various literary societies. We roamed through the theatre, down the aisles, into the pit, through the dressing rooms, upon the stage. Certainly, here was a theatre equipped to delight the heart of any drama organization. Jim then conducted me through the well-supplied kitchen and the immaculate dining rooms. Once out in the corridor we walked into the game room. Friendly voices called from the magnificent bowling alleys, the hum and click of billiard balls was audible.

"Jim," I said "as a sophomore here at Iowa, just how would you rate the value of this building?"

Jim Bradshaw's fine young face grew serious as he replied, "It means everything to us. It's recreation, it's society, it's home to us fellows—and the women feel the same way. Everything is here except our classrooms. We couldn't live without it!"

BULLETIN OF SUMMER SESSION GIVES HISTORY OF DENTAL PROFESSION

Three new bulletins outlining courses to be given in the summer session of the University have been published recently. The first one published March 15, is entitled "Dentistry as a Profession," and it outlines briefly a history of the profession from ancient to modern times. It also contains several cuts picturing the laboratory equipment of the college of dentistry.

"A Summer Course in Athletic Coaching and Physical Training" is the title of a bulletin to be circulated April 15. It announces among other things a special semi-professional course for women and a similar special course for men. It announces also that Aubrey A. Devine will assist in football and basketball.

The third bulletin, published April 8, announces a summer school for library training. Courses will be offered in book selection, library administration, cataloguing, classification, reference work, children's literature accessioning and minor subjects. Blanche V. Watts will be the director and Miss Jane E. Roberts the resident director.

TWO ELECTED TO SEALS

Two women out of the five who tried out for Seal's club, women's honorary swimming organization, were chosen to be members of that organization. The women elected were Margaret Mather A1 of Watertown, S. D., and Helen E. Rule A3 of Little Rock, Ark. The qualifications for membership were skill in swimming for form, form in diving, and speed swimming. This tryout was the last of the year.

STUDENTS INVENT SUCCESSFUL METER FOR ELECTRIC MOTORS

Designed, developed, produced and tested by undergraduate students in the college of applied science, a new piece of apparatus for measuring the horsepower of electric motors has been installed in the laboratories of the department of electrical engineering and is in daily successful use, an immense improvement over similar pieces of apparatus offered on the market by manufacturing electrical supply houses.

The "University of Iowa pony brake," as the apparatus is named, developed first as an idea in the electrical laboratories. It was developed and modified by a class of advanced students in machine drawing. Members of the staff offered criticisms at this point, a second drawing class took the project in hand with a new viewpoint, and the design was finally produced in the engineering shops and tried out in the electrical laboratories with complete success.

Detailed drawings for use in the manufacture of a similar brake will be supplied free of charge by the University to any electrical laboratory which wishes to construct this apparatus, together with some necessary gray iron castings in limited number.

PROFESSOR CLAPP'S "NORGE" TO BE PLAYED AT SYMPHONY CONCERT

As a part of the program to be presented by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra April 20, a selection entitled the "Norge," by Philip G. Clapp, head of the department of music, will be played.

The evening opens with the familiar overture to "Der Freischutz," von Weber's romantic opera. Then comes the aria, "Knowest Thou the Land?" from the opera of "Mignon," by Ambroise Thoms, sung by Ellen Rumsey, contralto.

The symphony will be Tschai-kowsky's Fifth, considered by many to be his most beautiful work. The slow movement contains what some critic has called "a love duet between the oboe and the clarinet, with one of the loveliest French horn themes ever written."

The next number is Debussy's prelude, "The Afternoon of a Faun," which carries us back to the myths of ancient Greece and lets us share the thoughts of a shaggy faun as he lies basking lazily in the afternoon sunshine.

Following this comes Professor Clapp's "Norge." The closing number on the program is Liszt's symphonic poem, "Les Preludes."

SEALS ELECT TWO TO MEMBERSHIP THURSDAY

Two women were chosen as members of the Seal's club, women's honorary swimming club, from the five who tried out Thursday evening. The women who will become members are Helen E. Rule A3 of Little Rock, Ark., and Margaret L. Mather A1 of Watertown, So. Dak. Membership of Seal's club is given for skill in swimming and diving. These tryouts will probably be the last which will be held this year.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION OFFICERS WILL BE CHOSEN THIS WEEK

Next year's officers of the women's association, to be elected Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, face the task of organizing all women's activities under one general head and of working out some scheme of co-operation with the student council. At present the association is in no way connected with the council. If all men's organizations could be organized under a similar head, they would be able to co-operate with the women through a student council consisting of both men and women, and Iowa would be well on the way to self-government.

"The women's association," says Violet Blakely, assistant dean of women, "was organized some years ago with the purpose of securing self-government at the University. Although the final goal will be reached gradually, a great deal of progress has already been made in this direction."

The present self-government machinery of the women's association consists of the executive council, the administrative board, and the district organization. The executive council is made up of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, chairman of the point system, chairman of the sponsor system, and publicity chairman. These officers for the year 1922-23 are to be chosen by ballot by all University women next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The women's association also does a considerable amount of work in a social way. The freshman sponsor party, the party for the nurses, the party for the upper-classmen, and the representative women's dinner are affairs of this kind. The association also has charge of Saturday afternoon varsity.

Y. W. ADVISORY BOARD ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. composed of Iowa City women interested in church and association work, elected the following officers for 1922-23 at a luncheon yesterday noon at the Pagoda tea shop. Mrs. Walter C. Schafer, chairman; Mrs. Philip G. Clapp, vice-president; Mrs. John A. Yoder, secretary.
