SENIORS PLAN HALF HOLIDAY

Faculty Advisor Believes Classes May Be Dismissed

With commencement but six weeks away, the senior class is busy making definite plans for graduation. The innovation of this year's commencement program is to be a Senior day which will probably become an annual affair.

For several years senior classes have made attempts only partly successful to have a Senior day. Classes were not dismissed for the day, however. As a consequence seniors were forced to cut classes in other years.

At a meeting of the Association of Presidents of the senior class Wednesday, the question of Senior day for this year was discussed. The class presidents expressed an opinion that there had been too much inactivity of the senior classes in past years. The committee was enthusiastic over the prospects of a senior day, provided classes would be dismissed for at least a part of the day.

When asked about the plausibility of getting a dismissal of classes for everyone in the University from ten to twelve o'clock in the middle of the week, Prof. R. M. Perkins, senior class advisor, though at first reluctant, later expressed a belief that such a dismissal might be secured.

No definite plans for the day have been made. However if classes for all University students are suspended for several hours, a program will be given out of doors. The program will probably not include much speaking. It will be put on by the seniors with the other classes as spectators.

The graduating class intends other commencement affairs which will tend to bring the senior classes of all of the colleges on the campus closer together and will bring about at least an acquaintance between them before leaving the University.

PROMINENT TEACHERS WILL ATTEND ANNUAL SUPERVISORS MEETING

Among the leading educators who will attend the eighth annual conference on supervision to be held in the liberal arts assembly hall on April 27, 28, and 29 are; Professor C. E. Chadsey, dean of the college of education at the University of Illinois, Professor L. M. Terman, professor of educational psychology at Stanford University, Superintendent Charles H. Judd, director of the school of education of the University of Chicago, and Superintendent R. G. Jones of Cleveland, Ohio.

Dean Chadsey will speak to the conference on "The Status of the Superintendent", Professor Terman on "The Superintendent and mental tests" and "Measuring the mind", Superintendent Newlon on "School costs and the Business Depression" and "Educating the Public to school needs", Director Judd on "Reading Habits as Cultivated by Different Types of Material" and "A Half-century of Educational Expansion" and Superintendent Jones on "Economy in Education".

Talks will also be given by President Walter A. Jessup, Director Orie E. Klingaman, Dean W. F. Russell and Professors Ernest Horn, F. C. Ensign, T. J. Kirby, Harry Greene, C. L. Robbins, F. B. Knight and Bird T. Baldwin.

The class in oral expression of Miss Alma G. Madden of the department of speech will give a recital Monday, April 24, at 3 p. m. in the liberal arts drawing room.

The numbers in the recital are: "Pauline Pavlovia", Maurine Wallace A4 of Des Moines; "Advertising for a Wife", Helen Douglas A3 of West Branch; "Irish Lyrics" Leona I. White A3 of Council Bluffs; "Summer Beaux Company Limited", Aava Smith A3 of Cedar Rapids; and the "Lion and the Mouse" by Helen Langworthy A4 of Massena.

"JAPANESE GIRL" IS FIRST OPERETTA BY WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

"The Japanese Girl" which is to be presented by the Women's Glee club next Thursday is the first operetta ever played by the Women's Glee club at Iowa.

This year is the first, also, that the Glee club has given two programs in one year since its activities have previously been limited to the one regular concert. The cast includes seven principal characters and a chorus of thirty, twelve of which number represent flowers and the rest Japanese girls. The costumes are elaborate and showy, making the playlet an effective combination of color and song.

Prof. Walter Leon, who is directing the operetta, also accompanies the entire performance on the piano. An important solo by Ruth Rowland who plays the leading role of the Japanese princess, O Hanu San, will be accompanied by the flute; played by Miss Gladys M. Watkins A2 of Woodbine. Miss Rowland will wear a particularly elaborate costume, and with it a great many characteristic ornaments that cannot be secured for the simpler chorus costumes.

The flowers appear singly when they are presented as gifts to princess O Hanu, who is celebrating her "coming of age", and form into a corsage group which the princess winds about with green tulle wrappings and fastens with two long pins.

The operetta takes place in the garden of the young Japanese beauty, O Hanu San, where two American girls who are touring with their governess, steal in, curious to see the garden. They desert their governess, who has fallen asleep over her sketching, and O Hanu's Japanese girls find her there and resent the intrusion. Princess O Hanu herself later comes to the rescue and invites the three American girls to be guests at her eighteenth birthday celebration of her "coming of age".

The principal characters are as follows: O Hanu San, Ruth Rowland A4 of Iowa City; O Kitsu San and O Kayo San, her cousins, Lorna Shuppert A4 of Iowa City and Martha Althouse A3 of Muscatine; Chaya, servant of O Hanu San, Grace Redfield A4 of Mason City; Nora and Dora Twinn, the two American girls, Marion H. Smith G of Iowa City and Florence Kings A2 of Sanborn; Miss Minerva Knowall, the governess, Beatrice Gates A4 of Pierre, S. D.

The flowers are as follows: white rose, Margaret M. Wagner A2 of Alton; lily, Emma V. Kimm A3 of Blairtown; violet, Myra E. Kane A1 of Iowa City; Bluebell, Florence B. Ingham A4 of Des Moines; Virginia creeper in green Anna H. Doornik A1 of Sioux Center, purple veronica, Ruth Eidelstein A2 of Iowa City; amaryllis, Malinda M. Gies A2 of Iowa City; scarlet poppy, Alma K. Buck A1 of Britt; passion flower, Jean G. Speirs A4 of Reinbeck; pink verbena, Margaret I. Sinclair A3 of Marion; yellow chrysanthemum, Olive M. De Lay A1 of Arispe; Forget-me-not, Frances E. Williams A2 of Burlington.

PROFESSORS SIGN UP FOR SEVENTY-FIVE HIGH SCHOOL TALKS

Through the extension division, engagements for the making of seventy-five commencement addresses in Iowa high schools are available, the engagements already extending from May 17 when Dean Robert E. Rienow, advisor of men, will go to Montezuma, until June 9 when Dean Wm. F. Russell, dean of the college of education will give the commencement address at Burlington.

Professor Clarence W. Wassam of the commerce department, an experienced commencement and chautauqua speaker, has been in great demand and leads the list of speakers with twelve engagements. Dean George F. Kay, Professor Forest C. Ensign, Professor Bohumil Shimek, and Dean Robert E. Rienow are also in popular demand.

OLD CAPITOL TO GET NEW PORCH

Changes Will Be Completed By Next Homecoming — Says Fisk

"We hope that Homecoming visitors next year will be able to see Old Capitol with a front facing the river," said John M. Fisk, superintendent of grounds and buildings, when questioned concerning the possible date of completing this intended improvement.

"Work of this nature cannot be done on schedule. Delay in getting supplies, other necessary work that must be done first, and unforeseen interruptions keep work from progressing as fast as we would like for it to progress. We can only say what we hope to accomplish."

Mr. Fisk then outlined his plans for the future of Old Capitol. Any change in the familiar lines of Old Capitol will be avoided as much as possible in the addition of the west front porch. It is the desire that the repairs will be unnoticeable. Ruined column heads and bits of ornament are being replaced by others exactly like them. The purpose of the repairs is to keep the building in shape and to prevent its going to ruin.

The interior of the building has been changed considerably in the period of years since it was new. Superintendent Fisk plans to restore it to the original arrangement.

COUNCIL COMEDY TO START TICKET SALE FIRST OF WEEK

The ticket sale for the "Fascinating Princess" the musical comedy which will be put on at the Englewood Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2, under the supervision of the student council will begin tomorrow with the launching of a selling campaign among the organized groups on the campus.

A member of each professional college and social fraternity has been chosen to handle the ticket sale in his respective group and in addition tickets will be handled through representatives living at the Quadrangle, and members of the students associations such as the Associated Students of Applied Science, Associated students of Dentistry, the Law Students' association and the commerce club.

Townspiece will be reached through the Iowa City commercial club and tickets will also be on general sale at the Iowa book store. Tickets will sell for $1.10.

The general committee appointed from the student council to be in charge of the production is the same committee that has put on the loan fund dances, consisting of Edmund J. Harrington D4 of Sioux City, chairman, Ruth Vau Lau A3 of Marshalltown, Roscoe Nash A3 of Tipton, Henry J. Prentiss A4 of Iowa City and Agnella Gunn A3 of Sioux City.

ROADS OFFER SPECIAL RATES TO DRAKE RELAYS

Excursion rates to the Drake relays here will be offered by every railroad which holds a membership in the Western Passenger association, rail officials announced yesterday.

Tickets may be purchased April 27, 28, and 29, and their return limit has been set at May 1, so that visitors may spend Sunday in Des Moines if they desire.

The rates will be good throughout the passenger association territory, comprising practically every state between Chicago and the Pacific coast. Most of the roads are offering fare and one-half for the round trip from points within Iowa and the certificate plan will be used from points outside the state.

HUMANISTS TO MEET

The Humanist society will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Charles H. Weller, 18 South Governor street. Prof. Charles F. Ward of the department of Romance languages, will speak on, "Main Currents in French-Canadian Literature."

CAMPUS CRITICS AWARD PALMS TO THE SENIOR HOP AT CLOSE OF FORMAL YEAR

By Observer

Now that the last all-University party of the year is history, considerable comment is being made on the campus to determine, in our own minds at least, just which of these five would be selected as the best party of the year and the decision is awarded to the Senior Hop.

The basis for this decision rests on criticisms obtained from couples who have attended every one of the five parties with respect to decorations, music, programs, condition of the floor and features of entertainment. A review of these functions and the outstanding marks of each party will give us the reason for awarding the prize to the Senior Hop.

Leland C. Parkin A1 of Waterloo, chairman of the freshman party committee, made this statement, "The freshman party committee will try to give the best party that can be put on under the handicap of the social committee ruling on lower prizes."

The student sentiment in regard to this party was that it was not to be considered in the contest because of its informality and the appearance of programs.

"Attendance will be limited to 175 couples" and "The highest bid for a ticket for the 'best decorated party of the year' has been ten dollars" are two of the remarks made by Lovell Jahnke S4 of Muscatine, chairman of the Military Ball committee. This party, while it surpassed the freshman party to a certain extent in the line of programs and decorations, fell down when the question of music and good floor were considered.

For weeks before the Sophomore Cotillion we heard about the ice cave decorating scheme so that when we arrived at the party our hopes were too high to compare with the effect procured. The programs for this party were also a disappointment to the majority of those present. Speaking of this party, Hal A. McCann S2 of West Liberty, a member of the decorating committee, said, "Elaborate decorations in the nature of an ice cave will be used in fitting the gymnasium for the Sophomore Cotillion."

The next party on our list and the one which is awarded the prize, can easily be pictures in the words of J. G. Cooper L3 of Marshalltown, chairman of the committee, who said, "The committee does not propose

DR. EDWIN HEYL DELK WILL SPEAK AT NEXT VESPERS, APRIL 30

Vesper service will be held next Sunday instead of today as announced in yesterday's Iowan. Rev. Dr. Edwin Heyl Delk of Philadelphia, Pa., author of "The New Paganism and the Old Faith", "Three Vital Problems" and "The Need of a Restatement of Theology", will discuss such subjects as civics, sociology, theology, political reform movement and internationalism in a course of three lectures and one vesper service.

Sunday afternoon he will speak at 4 p. m. in the natural science auditorium, Sunday evening at the union services in the M. E. church, and Monday morning at 11 o'clock he will meet the students of sociology and international problems in the liberal arts assembly and discuss "Internationalism, the Goal of Social Evolution."

At noon on Monday he will talk at the Commercial club luncheon. Professor George T. W. Patrick, chairman of the vesper committee stated that Doctor Delk is the most prominent Lutheran minister the committee could find in this country, being highly praised both locally and in the east. Doctor Delk has been one of the leaders in political reform movements in his state and city. He was preacher at Harvard university during Reformation week and at the University of Pennsylvania chapel services.

VARSITY DEFEATS FROSH BASEBALL MEN IN FIRST GAME

The varsity baseball team won from the freshman last evening in a nine-inning game by a score of 10 to 2. Duhm, freshman pitching star, was hit hard in the first few innings of the game, but improved as the game continued. The freshmen's second run came when Holm caught one of Nichol's fast balls and sent it hurling over the head of the varsity center fielder. The freshman have a promising bunch of material, and showed up well despite the fact that last night was the first time that they have been out.

Frohwein will probably start the game against Coe tomorrow, with Becker as relief man. Poepsel will probably play second in Shimek's place, as Shimek will not be out on account of the death of his mother. Hurlburt, who looked very good at short yesterday, is slated to start at that position. Barrett caught for a short time last night and will undoubtedly play against Coe. If he does catch, Locke will go back to first, but has not been able to find his eye at bat.

The game with Coe tomorrow starts at 4 p. m.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL PUT ON PLAY TODAY

Presbyterian students will present the three act biblical play, "The Drama of Ruth," this evening in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church.

Biblical plays are becoming popular among students of drama and this field is rapidly being strengthened in college dramatics. Very little has been done in this vicinity but next year a series of biblical plays have been planned for production in the University theater.

The cast is composed almost entirely of University students. Marjorie McQuilken A4 of Fort Dodge as Ruth, and Gerhard B. Noll A3 of Waukon as Boaz a wealthy Hebrew, playing the leading roles.

The setting of the play is according to the biblical story of "Ruth" in the holy land in the time when judges ruled over Israel. The costumes are typical of the ancient flowing garments of that period.

Great interest has been shown by the students in their cooperation for this religious play.

The cast is as follows: "Naomi", the wife of Elimelech, Catherine Donica A1 of Cedar Rapids; Mehlon, the elder son of Elimelech, George Crane A1 of Dexter; Chilon the younger son, Russel Hunter; Elimelech, the brother of the wealthy Boaz, Dwight E. Kinsey A2 of Grimes; Orpha, a Moabitist, Helen Wylie A4 of Keokuk; Benjamin, chief servant of Boaz, Edward Piper A2 of Iowa City; groomsmen master of the wedding ceremonies, Mark Piper A2 of Iowa City; Priest, Dwight Kinsey; neighbor women, Irene Shenke A1 and Gertrude Apel; friends of the bridegroom, Lawrence Jongeward A2 of Orange City; Edward Patton A1 of Vanning; Virgins, Nancy Corlett A1 of Setauket, L. I., Margaret Meyers A2 of Keokuk; Ruth Clark A1 of Moulton, Maurine Ricke, A1 of Williams, Myrtle Van Olst, Ramons Simpson A1 of Audubon, and Edna Lewis; bridesmaids Florence Saveraid and Frances Gay. M. Persi Carney A2 of Greene coached the production.

DECLAMATORY FINALS TO BE HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

The final freshman declamatory contests will be held Tuesday evening, April 25, at 7:15 o'clock in the liberal arts auditorium, according to an announcement made by the department of speech last night.

The contest will be open to the public, and there will be no admission charges. Judges will be chosen Monday. The eight winners in the preliminary contest last week will compete for the twenty-dollar Lefevre prize.

THREE RECORDS ARE SMASHED IN HOME MEET

Phelps, Noll and Meder Set New University Marks In Their Events

WEATHER AIDS RUNNERS

Large Crowd Watches The Many Athletes In Action

Kindness, in the way of the first decent track weather for nearly a month, was showered upon the department of athletics yesterday with the result that the Hawkeye track men who were feeling ambitious broke three University records and made fast time in other track events. The field events were not so far behind with good results in near all of them.

Although the day was a trifle cool for the best results, the runners found the track in excellent condition. A rather large number of athletes participated in the home meet, while a crowd which half filled the west stands watched the competition.

Phelps Wins Two Mile

Morrow and Belding of the track team took high honors with two first each; the former getting his points in the 440 yard dash and the half mile run, and the latter in the high and low hurdles. Phelps, a freshman engineer, broke the University record in the two mile run, lowering the record from 10:03 3-5 held by Lester Peterman to 9:57 3-5, six seconds faster. The first five men across the line finished under the old record. Noll lowered the record in the one mile run from 4:35, held by McIntire, a former track man, to 4:30 3-5. Meder broke the record in the pole vault by vaulting 11 feet 6 inches. The old record was one-half inch less.

Sprinters Divide Honors

Brookins and Wilson, the two fastest sprinters on the Iowa track team divided honors in the short races, Brookins beating Wilson by a very narrow margin in the 110 yard dash, and Wilson nosing out Brookins in the 220. Several other fast men appeared in the dashes, Lambert, Smith, Colby, Miller and Seiling of the track team and Coulter of the freshman team showed up very well.

Beck and Keppler followed Morrow closely in the 440 yard dash, and in the half mile race Keppler pushed Morrow all the way. Shope ran a close second to Belding in the hurdles.

Weight Men Poor

Records in field events were approached in almost all events in addition to the record set in the pole vault. Hoffman jumping 5 feet 10 inches, tried for a new standard of 6 feet but failed in the attempt. In the weights the contestants failed to come up to previous performances, the shot going at 37 feet 1-4 inches, the hammer at 108 feet 6 3-4 inches. Several men in the broad jump made better jumps than were counted but they were not recorded because of fouls.

THERE'S A REASON

A proud University student intimated yesterday that Iowa is accumulating the finest display of electroliers of any University in the country. They are amassed together on one little corner of the campus and have aroused considerable curious and amused comment during the last few days.

It is the general feeling that if they are placed on the campus for an artistic or ornamental effect that they fail of their purpose. Some suggest that if they are meant to light the secluded and dark corners of the campus that we might hit upon a better plan of distribution; others speak fondly of the old days and say that the lamp posts recall to them memories of a time before we made our acquaintance with Mr. Volstead; some wonder if the curious placing of the electroliers and the fact that there are no two alike does not indicate that some kind of a psychological experiment is being conducted. It appears that none are quite right.

Mr. Fisk, who pulls the important strings and levers connected with the grounds and buildings of our campus, has a different story to tell. He tells us that plans are being arranged for the installment of a new system for lighting the University campus. Consequently he is trying out the various kinds of electroliers by placing them together in a prominent spot where they can be seen by everyone. It is his desire that those who have opinions to express would criticize the various types that are being considered in order to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as to the most satisfactory kind for the new system.

Are you a connoisseur of lamp posts? If so, make it known. You can have your choice.

A STRONG FINISH

Iowa is nearing the end of the academic year. In six more weeks the present student body will be scattered in various parts of the country. But the remaining weeks that are left are important ones, especially for the seniors. These weeks can be made irksome by a lack of interest in work and University activities, which, attitude becomes a common ailment at this time of year, or they can be made the most pleasant and memorable by a thorough enjoyment of every day that is left.

Every year the senior class endeavors to set aside a few hours in which members may get together to participate in stunts or some form of recreation before they leave the campus as a group never to be assembled together again.

This year plans are being made for a bigger celebration of senior activities than ever before. The plans point toward a celebration which will be an occasion of joy not only for the seniors but for the whole University.

In the past, many senior celebrations have been unsuccessful because of the lack of interest shown by a few members who are too lazy to exert themselves even to have a good time. The arrangements for this year's senior activities, more than ever, depend upon the cooperation of all members of the senior class and the support of the student body.

THE CURSE OF THE PEN
(The Daily Cardinal)

It is peculiar how convenience can become a block to progress. We have so many things coming right to our door that we lose the ingenuity which comes from going after them. We get rocks where we once got diamonds.

Books are now turned off the press like hotcakes. Everybody is reading, old and young, ignorant and wise, guided, misguided, and unguided. Everybody is not only reading, but everybody with the faintest literary conceit is writing and courting the patronage of the publishing business. The mania at both ends is now so severe that when an ordinary seriously bent person surveys the "recent books" on the shelves of a public library he finds upon exit that he has figured much chaff and little wheat.

It indicates to what an extent the improvement of the printing machine and the growth of compulsory education has added to the accretions of intellectual bunkum. But it could not be helped. It is the price we are paying for democracy. And inevitably so, for every progressive institution demands its price. But with our democracy it would not at all be out of place if the would-be writers develop a certain responsibility and keep for their private sanctums what has been so much better written by their sires whom they ape.

The wealth of pure unadulterated bunkum is becoming so tremendous that the person honestly interested in books loses all confidence in them and begins to turn to himself for intellectual pdrver albeit he may not have the necessary preparatory training. Moreover, he is often unable to differentiate between a good and a bad book, for so often bad books have loud horns blown for them by the booksellers, and often a man with a reputation in one field may write a book on an entirely different one and give weight to a book about which he speaks with little authority.

But this tendency now-a-days is not entirely a curse only in the sense that it makes people fall back on their own observations and thinking. However, it is no doubt responsible for much of the misapprehensions in regard to contemporary things.

Would that the universities take a greater hand in guiding the student in his reading of contemporary literature. How much valuable time it would save for everybody. The universities, which after all are the only responsible educational factor in a democracy, ought to be guiding the masses of the country in their reading.

The people of a democracy who live in the confusion of indiscriminate printing press products, can never arise out of their eighth grade minds unless some institution takes vital steps to lead them. The university is the rightful institution. Some universities are perhaps doing this already, but the idea needs to be spread broadcast. For, if the college graduate finds difficulty in selecting his reading, how about the man of the street?

HISTORY CONVENTION TO BE HELD SECOND TIME IN IOWA CITY

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association which will be held here May 11 and 12 will be attended by many notable men. Gov. N. E. Kendall, Hamlin Garland, James H. Robinson, George F. Parker, William F. Connelley president of the association, Clarence W. Alvord of the University of Minnesota, Joseph Schafer of the State Historical society of Wisconsin and Eugene C. Barker of the University of Texas, are among those who will attend.

This is the second meeting of the association that has been held at the University of Iowa. The first meeting which was the third meeting of the association, was held here May 26, and 27, 1910. Representatives from the Illinois, Nebraska, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, Wisconsin, and Louisiana State Historical societies attended and participated in the session of the meeting. Preliminary to the sessions of the association, a program was given under the auspices of the State Historical Society of Iowa.

Prof. Benjamin F. Shambaugh, superintendent of the State Historical Society of Iowa presided over a conference of the local historical societies of Iowa. Prof. Shambaugh was elected president of the association for the ensuing year.

HART TELLS RESULTS OF SOCIOLOGY TESTS

Mr. Hornell Hart, head of the sociological division of the Child Welfare research station, announced the methods and results of the social tests by which he is finding out how to prevent social retardation Wednesday evening before the Social Science club.

Mr. Hart has given these tests to over a thousand people, including some University classes in sociology, high school children, West Branch school children and students in the parochial schools of Iowa City. By means of the tests he hopes to discover children who are backward in social development or who may have become full grown without reaching any higher social principles than they had as children.

From the socialization tests Dr. Hart learns that the social retardation is chiefly due to improper environmental conditions, which may be corrected. Even adolescents or young men and women may be cured of their social backwardness by proper environment, social growth unlike mental development, being capable of being artificially controlled. Dr. Hart learns from the tests also that many schools making special efforts to make their pupils patriotic are having exactly the opposite effect.

GUN CLUB SEASON TO OPEN AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Cambridge, Mass., April 17—The Gun Club will officially open spring season at 12.10 o'clock today when automobiles will leave Claverly to take all men who are interested in trap-shooting to the Boston athletic association traps at Riverside. This is the first of a series of practice shoots to be held on Thursday of each week at Riverside, and on Fridays at the traps of the Montclair Gun Club. The Thursday practice is an innovation adopted to enable those men whose afternoons are occupied with athletic practice, to engage in shooting practice as well. The guns used at these practices will be furnished by the club while automobiles will leave from in front of Claverly at 12:10 o'clock on Thursdays and at 2:30 o'clock on Fridays to afford transportation for all members of the University who wish to shoot.

Two cups will be awarded on a basis of the work in these practice shoots. The season handicap cup will be awarded to the winner of the largest number of weekly shoots with handicaps averaged in, while the scratch cup will be awarded also at the end of the spring season to the man who has won the greatest number of shoots on an even basis. In addition to determining the winners of these cups, the shooting at the weekly practices will determine the six men who will represent the University at the Intercollegiate meet at Chappaqua, New York, on May 27.

Women from every walk of life have listened to the Voice, the voice that makes them dissatisfied, the voice that makes them envy other women's clothes.

Jacqueline Lee was no different than the others. She wanted the luxuries of life, wanted fine clothes and pleasure. When the Voice whispered she answered.

SENIOR HOP TAKES PALMS AMONG FORMALS

to furnish the entertainment in the form of feature dances but will secure caps, horns, confetti and all other necessary equipment for a good old fashioned get-together carnival dance at which nothing will be formal except the clothes worn."

This party came up to the above statement and while it did not excel in any one branch of the constituents of a real party, still each and every part was of sufficiently high standard to make a high class party. Somewhat on the principle of a team, it is not the one star that makes the team but eleven players playing as one.

The Junior Prom is awarded the prize for decorations and programs but the other features of this party failed to come up to the standard set by the Senior Hop and consequently suffered in comparison. The floor was the main objection students brought out in their arguments against the Junior Prom saying almost to a man that it was too slick for even the slickers.

It seems to be the tendency of most of the dance committees to put too much money on decorations, programs, or any one feature and neglect the other features of the dance.
