THIRD ANNUAL IOWA DRAWS CROWD OF 2500

Alpha Tau Beta and Delta Delta Win Prizes For Floats

MINSTRELS POPULAR

Sigma Pi "Old Gray Mare" Wins Fraternity Prize In Parade

Over 2500 students, athletes, and delegates to the Iowa College Press Convention crowded into the new armory last evening to witness the third annual Iowawa, and hemmed in by rain which started early in the evening, nearly everyone stayed late, before leaving for Iowiggle at the men's gymnasium.

Whistles, squawkers, tick-tacks and horns vied with clown bands and tin pan orchestras to make the carnival a typical circus pandemonium.

The fraternity and sorority parade led by the University band, the first event of the evening contained sixteen floats of varying types; gay colors and flowers being most prominent among the sorority entries, while great, greedy monsters and comic take offs were more characteristic of the fraternity animals in the parade.

Butterfly Float Wins

The Alpha Tau Betas were given the award for the best float among the sororities and the Delta Delta Deltas given second place. The Sigma Pi fraternity won the fraternity trophy. The Alpha Tau Beta entry was a lavender and purple float trimmed in gold, with a large butterfly placed on a canopy over the May Queen and with ribbons running down to smaller butterflies placed on antennae in front.

The winning Sigma Pi animal was "The Old Gray Mare" drawing a "One-Hoss Shay", upon which sat a mock Queen of the May. Surrounding the float were four gamboling youths who threw sporadic kisses to the audience.

The judges of the parade were Prof. Edward H. Lauer, Mrs. L. G. Lowrey, and James Aldous.

Food Plentiful

In brief the story of Iowawa as far as food is concerned, is as follows: 250 pop corn balls, 1000 ice cream cones, 360 Eskimo pies, 600 bottles of pop, 300 lemons converted into lemonade, 200 pounds of candy, 300 cakes and 250 dishes of Hawaiian delicacies, all consumed within the space of two short hours.

"Le Cafe Francaise" and "Hiowawa", the Hawaiian garden, were the most popular refreshment centers of the carnival while the "South Sea Syncopators" and the Wild West show divided the honors among the numerous side attractions from the standpoint of attendance.

The largest crowd of the evening was in the "South Sea Syncopators", the minstrel show, which proved to be highly entertaining. Those who took part were J. F. Allebach A3 of Iowa City, interlouter; J. Russell Stanton A2 of Newton and Charles R. Marshall A2 of Knoxville end men; Robert W. Cooper A2 of Newton, Fred A. Shore A2 of Eldon, Cecil LaPorte A2 of Keokuk, Lewis B. Wallbridge A1 of Burlington, J. West Townsend A2 of Garwin, E. D. Gavney A2 of Marshalltown, William Ballhorn A1 of Garwin, and Tom T. Norris L1 of Manchester, chorus.

May Queen Crowned

Iowiggle, the Iowawa dance, was attended by over 250 couples at the men's gymnasium. Special features of the dance were the awarding of the trophies to Alpha Tau Beta and Sigma Pi, winners of the fraternity and sorority parade, and the crowning of Nellie Clingaman A3 of Iowa City, the Alpha Tau Beta representative, as Queen of the May. Dean Wilbur J. Teeters performed the ceremony. Chapin's Illinois Five furnished the music for the dancers, the orchestra stand being placed in the center of the floor with overhanging streamers of old gold and black forming the decorations.

HISTORY JOURNAL OUT

The Iowa Journal of History and Politics, the quarterly journal of the State Historical society, will be out today. Feature articles in the current issue are: "A Trip Across the Plains in 1857" by William Clark, a former mayor of Ames, and "The Judiciary of the Territory of Iowa" by Jacob A. Swisher, an alumnus of the Iowa law college. The Journal also contains a review of recent publications by Iowa authors.

HIGH SCHOOL RUNNERS HERE

Over 270 Contestants Have Registered — Many At Iowawa

Beginning early yesterday and continuing until the last interurban car arrived here last evening, Iowa high school athletes poured in to Iowa City for the fourteenth annual interscholastic track and field meet. High school track and field men were quartered at the fraternity houses of the campus and with student friends. Many arrived in time to enjoy Iowawa at the armory last night. With the arrival of Cedar Rapids representatives, all contestants will be ready for the preliminaries billed for 9 a. m.

The events of the meet will be held in connection with the dual track meet between Iowa and Northwestern.

All entries are registering, no withdrawals from the lists having been made, which promises a field of over 270 contestants representing the best track and field men of the state. Several schools are sending full squads, others are sending a few men who have been winners in other meets. Entries are from Ainsworth, Boudurant, Coin, Cedar Rapids, Cumberland, Davenport, East, West, and North Des Moines, Fort Madison, Grinnell, Iowa City, Marion, Mount Vernon, Newton, Orange City, Ottumwa, Riverside, Shellsburg, and Springville, Tipton, University High, Waukon, Washington, West Branch, and Williamsburg.

There will be the regular program of fourteen events with the addition of the javelin and hammer throw. Preliminaries in the hurdles, dashes and field events will be run off this morning at 9 a. m. Finals will be run off this afternoon, alternating with events in the Northwestern-Iowa meet.

Cedar Rapids is picked to win the meet because of their performance at the Drake relays last week. Twenty men who have entered from there are hoping to win places, Des Moines, Davenport, and Grinnell teams will also be contenders for first honors, with entries from other institutions making first places in some events.

With the field in excellent condition and kindness from the sun, the day is ideal for fast time and some setting of new records.

DINERS TO MEET

President Walter A. Jessup will entertain the Diner's club at a dinner at his home tomorrow night at 6:30. The club is a social group consisting of nine faculty members who meet once a month at the homes of the various members. The members are President Walter A. Jessup, Prof. William G. Raymond, dean of engineering college, Prof. Charles C. Nutting, Dr. Campbell P. Howard, Prof. Carl E. Seashore, dean of the graduate college, Col. Morton C. Mumma, Dr. Henry J. Prentiss, Prof. William F. Russel, dean of the college of education, and Chas. H. Dutcher, Iowa City attorney and an alumnus of the University.

CLASSICAL CLUB NOMINATES

Nominees for officers for the Classical club were named at a meeting Thursday evening, and will be balloted on at the next meeting. Following the business meeting Anna Traeger A3 of Decorah spoke on "Science Among the Ancients", and Lydia Pless A2 of Cresco gave a lecture on "Music Among the Ancients."

PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS ELEVEN

New Members of Honorary Fraternity Initiated May 15

Phi Beta Kappa elected eleven seniors to full membership at a meeting yesterday afternoon. This brings the total number elected to the organization this year to sixteen, as five were chosen last fall.

Four of those chosen yesterday afternoon are from Iowa City. The new members will be initiated Monday, May 15. No more members will be chosen this school year.

Those elected are: Thelma Y. Blake of Greene, Arthur C. Ernstene of Nebraska City, Neb., Martin A. Gearhart of Batavia, Lois V. Hochstetler of Kalona, Henrietta K. Hoersch of Iowa City, Gertrude A. Lynch of Ottumwa, Geraldine E. Mars of Iowa City, Earl I. Orr of Castana, Fannie Potgieter of Steamboat Rock, Margueretta M. Strubbe of Iowa City and Genevieve G. Turnipseed of Iowa City.

Election to membership is based upon scholarship. Only students of senior standing, having average grade of 90 or above are considered by the eligibility committee of the chapter. No definite per cent of the senior class is elected. Twenty-three seniors were chosen last year.

Prof. Henry L. Rietz, head of the department of mathematics, is president of the Iowa chapter. Prof. Lemuel C. Raiford, of the department of chemistry is secretary.

OTTUMWA WINS STATE HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

Charles Nutting, of Iowa City, won first place in the Iowa high school extemporaneous speaking league and the Iowa patriotic league here yesterday afternoon. Harold McComb of Council Bluffs won second place.

Other contestants were Mason Damon of Fort Dodge and Loren Reid of Osceola. Those appearing in the contest are the winners of four district contests. They selected their subjects by lot at 2 o'clock, and spoke eight minutes. The University will give four-year scholarships to the winners of first and second places; and the school winning first will receive a silver plaque.

The judges were Prof. Sam. B. Sloan, of the department of English; Mr. Henry H. Hummel, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Davenport, Mr. Ralph Himstead, department of public speaking, Mt. Vernon.

Ottumwa defeated Orange City in the championship debate of Iowa high school debating league with a two to one decision. The question was "Resolved: That the Philippine Islands should be granted their independence within five years." Ottumwa will receive a silver plaque, and each of the six debaters will receive four year scholarships at the University. These teams won a series of contests in their respective sections of the state.

The judges were Prof. Frank H. Randall, college of law; Mr. Don Rogers, department of education; Prof. John E. Briggs, department of political science.

CANOE RACE ENTRIES MUST BE IN BY MAY 27

"All entrants in the canoe race must be able to swim at least fifty yards in order to save themselves in case of accident", said Coach Armbruster, with whom all entries in the annual race, which is to be held May 30, are to be left before May 27 at six o'clock. The canoes used must not be over eighteen feet nor under fourteen feet in length. Each canoe is to contain two men. Any undergraduate may enter.

The most important rule in connection with the swimming race which is to stretch from the park bridge to the Iowa avenue bridge, is that each contestant must be followed by a boat. This rule is made so that there is no possible chance for accidents in case of exhaustion or cramps. All entries in this race must be in by six o'clock May 27.

YEOMEN ENTERTAINED

Visiting Yeomen spent yesterday morning in looking for a site for their future $10,000,000 orphans' home. The visitors were taken around the campus yesterday afternoon. Yesterday morning, sites between here and Cedar Rapids were considered. A luncheon at the Commercial club was held yesterday for the guests and they were entertained at a dinner at the Country club.

IOWA TO RACE PURPLE TODAY

NorthWestern - Varsity And High School Meets This Afternoon

With an entry list of sixteen men, among whom are some who have made very good time in indoor meets this season, Northwestern presents a formidable team for the Hawkeyes to meet this afternoon on Iowa field. The meet, which is being held in conjunction with the interscholastic track and field meet, will begin promptly at 2:30, although preliminaries in some of the interscholastic events will be run off this morning.

Dahl, field man, Crippan, Captain Young and Telford are perhaps the best men who will be pitted against the Iowa team this afternoon. Dahl, who heaves the sixteen pound shot 42 feet and 6 inches in dual meets, will probably do that well this afternoon, and in that case will have no trouble in taking first in the event. He is also entered in the hammer and discus, where he represents practically all the Purple strength in the field.

Harker Best in Dashes

Harker is probably the best man entered in the 100 and 220 yard dashes although Grausnick and Howland are running along with him in the tryouts. They have made fast time indoors and should do better today.

Captain Young is the Purple's best quartermiler, making :54 1-5 during the indoor season. He is expected to better this mark today. Telford and Crippen are entered in the half, the former making the distance in 2:04 2-5 in indoor meets. Bove with a run of 10:08 2-5 in the 2 mile race is the best man in this event. Loveland in the low and high hurdles, Faust and Davis in the pole vault and Ringland in the javelin are the other dangerous entries on the Purple list.

Old Iowa Team to Run

On the Iowa team, the fans will see practically no change in the personnel that competed at Drake. Wilson and Brookins in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Belding and Shope in the hurdles, Noll in the half, Morrow in the quarter, Ashton and Foster in the mile, Ristine and Peterman in the two mile, Devine and Meder in the pole vault, Hoffman and Conn in the high jump, and Jaqua and Smith in the broad jump are expected to win the most points for Iowa, although Beck, Colby, Miller, Keppler, Adams, Goodrich Selling and Lambert may take some points away from Northwestern.

PALMPSEST WILL BE ON SALE NEXT WEEK

The next number of the Palimpsest, the monthly magazine issued by the Iowa State Historical Society will be placed on sale next week. The primary purpose of this publication is the dissemination of Iowa history, and the presentation of the materials of that history in a form that is attractive and in a style that is popular in the best sense.

This issue will contain an article by Ruth A. Gallaher, librarian of the State Historical Society, on Hummer's Bell; a review of the first suits brought against the first railroad bridge across the Mississippi river, by Prof. John C. Parish, editor of the Palimpsest; and extracts of the argument of Abraham Lincoln, on behalf of a bridge company, before the United States Circuit Court in 1857 in a suit brought against the bridge company by the owners of the steamboat Efficactan, which had been wrecked by running into the bridge.

SEASHORE MADE FELLOW IN ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

Prof. Carl Emil Seashore, dean of the graduate college and head of the department of philosophy and psychology, has been elected a fellow of the National Academy of Science. Professor Seashore has been on a one-year leave of absence from the University, and has spent the year in research work at Washington, D. C.

BASEBALL MEN DEFEAT DE PAUL

Smith Stars for Iowa Team Holding Opponents To Four Hits

Iowa defeated De Paul University yesterday by a score of 7 to 2. Smith pitched the entire game and held his opponents to four hits. At bat he was also the star of the Iowa team, getting two hits in his trips to the plate. He struck out six men, but was a trifle wild and gave three free passes.

The Iowa team jumped on Herman, the De Paul pitcher for ten hits and these hits combined with the nine errors of the De Paul team allowed the Iowa team to score five runs in the eighth inning and break the tie that had existed up to that time. Iowa started the scoring in the second inning, but De Paul tied it up in the fifth. Both teams scored again in the sixth, and that ended the scoring except for Iowa's big rally in the eighth.

Locke started the game behind the bat, but was relieved by Barrett. Hurlburt was the star of the Iowa team in the field, and made several fine stops of balls that were apparently going for hits.

Score by innings:

OUT-DOOR PLAYERS TO GIVE PLAYS WEEKLY AT SUMMER SESSION

The Out-Door Players club will put on an all summer session community program this summer. Members of the club will be drawn from students in the class in educational dramatics, other students who are interested in dramatics but have not elected the course, and members of the faculty. It will be similar to the organization which put on weekly out-door plays during the summer session last year. Facilities for finished productions will be greater this year than last, as both the audience and the players will have better accommodations. Last year the club numbered about seventy-five but the membership will undoubtedly be larger this year as many people have promised to join, and many old people are returning. The speech department has a different aim for the work of the summer than for the winter session. Two points of view dominate the summer work; the technique of out of door productions, and the point of view of the high school teacher of dramatics. The department is offering courses in educational dramatics, community pageant, and the development of an American theater.

Prof. Edward C. Mabie will supervise the work of the first six weeks session. Four programs will be given, beginning the third week. The programs will be given every Friday evening thereafter. The first Friday a group of one-act plays will be given, and on the second Friday a group of original one acts. An American comedy will be offered for the third evening, and "As You Like It" is the fourth number. All of these plays will be produced by members of the Out-Door Players.

Professor Gough, of De Paul, will conduct the work for the second session in place of Professor Mabie who will be in Indianapolis with Stuart Walker and his company.

SIXTH COLLEGE PRESS MEETING IS UNDER WAY

Almost 100 Delegates From Iowa Colleges Now Registered

HARVEY INGHAM TALKS

French Assails College Press And Methods in Advertising

Talks and discussions on all phases of college and professional journalism comprised the interesting program of sessions of the sixth annual convention of the Iowa College Press association held yesterday afternoon at Close Hall. Harvey Ingham editor of the Des Moines Register aroused a lively interest in the gathering of aspiring newspaper folks with his spicy informal talk on the possibilities the field of journalism offers.

Miss Mary Kinnavey, manager of the Women's National Journalistic Register pointed out in a very quiet and dignified way the place that women are winning in newspaper and publicity work. Prof. Blair Converse, of the agricultural journalism department, Iowa State college, led the round table discussion for all delegates, on the problems of the college newspaper. To his call for a statement of views from the various types of papers represented, delegates from Coe, Grinnell, Ames, Iowa State Teachers', Iowa, and Cornell responded.

F. H. French, president of the Cedar Rapids advertising club, created something of a sensation with his pungent tirade against college press advertising, and the methods employed by the advertising staffs for college newspapers. His contention was that college publications are useless as advertising mediums.

The day's session opened with an address of welcome by Prof. C. H. Weller, University editor and chairman of the senate board of publications, who was introduced to the convention by R. T. Kenworthy, president of the association. Professor Weller told in reminiscent fashion of his experiences with college newspapers.

Ingham Advises Specialization

Mary Kinnavey spoke on "Opportunities for Women in Journalism" at 2 o'clock. The round table discussion for all delegates began at 2:45. F. H. French talked on "The College Newspaper as an Advertising Medium for the Retail Dealer", from 3:40 to 4 o'clock. Fifteen minutes of recess followed and then Mr. Ingham delivered the speech of the day on "Specialization in the Newspaper Field."

Mr. Ingham told how college men were gradually filling all responsible positions in American newspapers. He advised aspiring journalists to get a thorough grounding in all fields of knowledge and then decide upon some branch in which to specialize. "Beginning from the bottom, which means the police beat in most newspapers, is the best method of starting out on a successful career in journalism," said Mr. Ingham, and he expressed the hope that this tendency would soon be arrested.

P. R. Geneva, advertising manager of the Des Moines Capital, and Dean H. F. Harrington of the Medill School of Journalism will be the chief speakers of today's session of the convention. Mr. Geneva has worked out a novel folio, displaying ideal newspaper advertisements. This folio, which has already been published, will be explained by the author. He will also show how the plan that he and the men working with him have formulated can be adopted for general use in all progressive newspapers.

ANOTHER PHASE

The journalists assembled here at the University for the annual College Press Association convention will accomplish something more than merely discussing a few of the newspaper problems with which they are confronted. These will be better for the solving, no doubt, and the students will profit from the meeting, but there is another benefit that will incidentally be derived.

Iowa colleges are represented here students from the large and small colleges of the state are brushing elbows and talking over common problems. This will mean just one more step toward the finer relationship that is slowly obtaining in connection with institutions of learning. Students everywhere are very much the same; they have the same purpose in mind, they employ much the same methods, and live much the same life. Their coming together will help make them realize this point and enable them to further good feelings among Iowa colleges.

WHAT IS THERE MORE?

We may scan the skies daily, but it will not be very often that we see signed for humanitarian service soaring about in the sky looking for a suitable place to light. And when such a bird is hovering over our neighborhood, two considerations should be given full attention. The first is that it would be a great stride for the community which has the privilege of receiving this institution; and second, the institution should be careful in selecting its site for it can not readily fly away again at its pleasure once it is settled.

The Yeomen of America are planning to establish somewhere in the Middle West a home for orphans, a ten million dollar institution with charitable intent. The committee on location has, along with a number of other suggested sites, a situation near Iowa City in mind. Students and people can readily realize what this would mean to their community and their University; such a magnificent institution suggests much to the enterprising and public spirited mind. But what can Iowa and the environs of Iowa City in particular, offer to such an institution?

It seems that we have just the things that such an institution demands. The site at Mid-River Park offers the following: the cooperation of both Iowa City and Cedar Rapids, the Iowa River affording good drainage, interurban transportation, the services of hospitals and clinics of the University, a beautiful landscape, a healthful climate, seclusion from the great cities, access to both good farming and timber land, a central location considered nationally, wealth, and a people that does not stint in public service. Certainly it is ideal for such a home.

HOW ABOUT THE JOB?
(Kansas State Collegian)

The most pertinent problem confronting the graduating classes of American colleges this spring is that of securing permanent employment. In spite of what the optimists have said about business turning the corner, seniors are finding employers still reluctant about adding new men to their pay rolls. Those few who are hiring, demand of their candidates qualifications of age and experience which automatically bar the average college student. Teaching seems to afford the best opportunity, but the trouble with teaching is that everyone cannot teach.

This stage of unemployment is not, of course, confined to college graduates, but is made more acute because of the high prices the present graduating classes were compelled to pay for their education. Surely the employers are not to be censured because they are inclined to get all they can for their money, and certainly the college graduates are not to be blamed for not having lived longer. It is one of those embarrassing economic situations which come as a part of the price of war. College graduates will simply have to take what work they can get until the depression is over.

ONLY TWO SORORITIES TO MOVE NEXT YEAR

Of the sixteen sororities that occupy chapter houses, all but two, Iota Xi Epsilon and Alpha Omicron, will remain in their present locations next year. Delta Delta Delta is still undecided whether they will have a different house next year. None of the sororities own their own houses.

The changes in location will be that Alpha Omicron will move from 125 N. Dubuque street to 125 N. Van Buren, Iota Xi Epsilon, located at 120 N. Dubuque will make their residence the house occupied at present by Sigma Chi at 605 E. Burlington.

The remainder of the sororities will be located as follows; Achoth at 114 E. Fairchild, Pi Beta Phi at 923 Iowa Avenue, Alpha Chi Omega at 615 N. Dubuque street, Kappa Omega at 14 E. Burlington, Alpha Delta Pi at 126 N. Clinton, Kappa Kappa Gamma at 226 S. Johnson, Alpha Tau Beta at 424 E. Jefferson, Alpha Xi Delta 431 E. Jefferson, Gamma Phi Beta at 308 N. Clinton, Delta Zeta at 314 S. Clinton, Chi Omega at 304 S. Summit, Delta Gamma at 400 N. Clinton. Delta Sigma Theta, colored sorority will remain at 942 Iowa avenue.

Clinton street seems to be the one preferred by sororities, three having their chapter houses on North Clinton and one on South Clinton. The total for North Clinton will be increased to four if Delta Delta Delta remain at their present location. Burlington Street and Iowa Avenue ranks second with two, and Van Buren, Johnson, Dubuque and Summit are addresses of only one each.

WOMEN MAY BREAK INTO OLYMPIC GAMES IN 1928

Chicago, Ill., (United Press) — Girls dashing down the track between the chalk lines, skimming over hurdles, and tossing the weights in mid-field, may be a feature of the 1928 Olympic games.

Women have already invaded the tennis, swimming and gymnastic branches of the Olympic games. The American team that made the trip to Antwerp in 1920 included a large number of girl swimmers, but the Swedes and Danes, in addition to the girl swimmers, had an equally large number of gymnasts. Program to Be Presented by Seniors Wednesday on Iowa Field

"The intention to observe Senior day next Wednesday is practically definite", states Tom E. Murray L3 of Little Sioux, president of the joint organization of senior classes.

Stunts in Morning
The program to be presented on Iowa field between 9 and 12 o'clock Wednesday morning will consist of stunts put on by the seniors of each college. The University band will assist at the program and previous to that all classes will march together to Iowa field.

Class Plans a Memorial
The women, of the liberal arts senior class have responded well to the call to pay the senior tax 100 per cent in answer to the challenge of the pharmacy seniors, who have the only perfect record so far. Senior arts men have not been stirred by the challenge.

The senior tax is one dollar for seniors of every college. The money left after class day expenses are defrayed may be given to the Iowa Memorial Union or the Student loan fund, but the suggestion most favored at present is to leave a distinct memorial of the class of '22, such as the stone bench at President's Point, left by a former senior class.

PERSON, PHILLIPS AND WALSH TO TALK AT COMMERCE BANQUET

The seventh annual banquet of the Commerce club, consisting of a four-course dinner followed by a toast program will be held at the Pagoda tea shop Wednesday evening, March 17. The main toasts of the evening will be given by H. S. Person, manager of the Taylor Society of Industrial Management of New York City and Dean C. A. Phillips and Mr. Floyd Walsh, associate in commerce, will represent the faculty of the college of commerce on the toast program.

Frank B. Howes A4 of Clinton, Paul Penningroth A4 of Tipton, representing the employment bureau of the Commerce club, and Harold Parks A3 of Earlham, representing the Journal of Business, the official organ of the Commerce club, will represent the student body of the college of commerce as speakers of the evening.

SHOOTERS HAVE CLEAN RECORD

Irregularities Will Throw Out Match Lost to Ohio This Spring

Iowa's R. O. T. C. rifle team did not lose a dual match to the Ohio State university as announced some weeks ago on account of certain complications which arose concerning the conditions of the match. A statement issued yesterday from the office of Lieut. Col. Morton C. Mumma, professor of military science and tactics concerning the match follows:

"Some weeks ago a match was arranged with the R. O. T. C. rifle team of Ohio State university. The conditions proposed by Ohio were accepted by Iowa and provided that the match should be shot under the regulations set forth in War Department Special regulations 122.

"As originally published these regulations permitted the use of special rifles and special ammunition with which both competing teams were supplied. However, before the arrangements were made with Ohio the war department published an amendment to the regulations restricting the rifle to that issued by the government.

"It has developed that Ohio did not receive the change in regulations and, consequently, their team shot the match with the special equipment originally allowed. Iowa, on the other hand, had received the change and shot the match with the issue rifles with the result that Iowa's score was much lower than they had been in the habit of making with the special equipment.

"It is only fair to state that there is not the least reflection on Ohio's action as they shot under the regulations as they had them while Iowa assumed that Ohio had been furnished the changes in regulations as published by the war department and furnished by Corps Area Headquarters.

"It has been agreed that on account of the late season it is not possible to shoot the match over again so it will be expunged from Iowa's record and wait for next year as a match for next year had already been agreed upon.

"Two weeks later a match was shot between teams selected under Western Conference rules which Iowa won by a score of 1911 to 1877 for Iowa.

"Iowa is shooting a match with Illinois this week, which, if won, will make a clean record for Iowa for the season's indoor shooting. There are indications of a record score for the Iowa marksmen."

MATH STUDENTS MAY TRY FOR LOWDEN PRIZE

Examinations for the Lowden mathematical prize will be held on Saturday, May 20, 1922, from eight to eleven a. m., in room 222 in the physics building.

Competition is open to all students who are finishing, with the current year, sophomore work in mathematics. The prize of fifty dollars may be divided equally between not more than two candidates or may be withheld if the work of no candidate is of a superior order of merit.

Arithmetic, algebra, plane trigonometry, geometry, analytical geometry of the two dimensions and differential and integral calculus are the subjects to be covered by the examination. Students intending to compete should submit their names to Prof. Henry Z. Rietz of the mathematics department at once.

TRANSIT TO APPEAR FOR THE LAST TIME EARLY NEXT WEEK

The Transit, monthly publication of the A. S. of A. S., will appear for the sixth time this year, the early part of next week. This issue will contain more articles of local interest than the former ones have.

Probably the one that will be the most interesting to students in the University, will be the one by William G. Raymond, dean of the college of applied science. "Are Four Years Enough" is the title of this article. It deals mainly with the proposed change that is to be made in the engineering courses in the various technical colleges throughout the country. The proposed change that is to be made in the next few years, is to give the students in engineering a course of two years in the college of liberal arts and a course of three years in engineering. Dean Raymond explains the reasons for the proposed change, giving ideas of many noted engineers on the subject.

"The Graduate and his Job" is the subject of another article that gives some very interesting ideas on the ways of obtaining a job after finishing college work. This is written by a Mr. Fletcher who conducts a firm which finds the men for the executive positions in the larger firms.

Prof. Frederick G. Highbee tells about the Iowa pony brake in a short article. The pony brake is the work of the students of the college of applied science having been designed and constructed during the last two years.

The manner in which the Iowa stadium is being constructed is explained by Prof. Byron J. Lambert in an interesting article. The type of construction used in the stadium

HIGHES TO GIVE SENIOR SERMON

Full Program of Events to Start June 2 — Senior Day May 10

Bishop Edwin Holt Highes, of Malden, Mass., will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 4, at the baccalaureate services of the sixty-second University commencement. The address at the commencement exercises at 9 a. m., Tuesday, June 6, will be given by Dr. Franklin Henry Giddings of Columbia University. Commencing with the senior day May 10, seniors will have a busy program until the class graduates on Tuesday, June 6.

Several senior sings are to be given within the next few weeks. Seniors will gather evenings on the campus to sing University and college songs. The senior class breakfast and Senior Frolic which have heretofore been held at the city park pavilion will be held at the new armory at 10 a. m., June 3. The breakfast will be followed by dancing and other informal amusements.

The commencement play, which has been called the class play in the past years will be given on Monday evening, June 5. The play, "A Woman's Way" will be held in the University theater, natural science auditorium, at 8:15. Seats may be reserved in advance through Prof. E. C. Mabie, professor of public speaking, who will coach the production.

The University luncheon will be held at noon Tuesday, June 6, following the commencement exercises. This event has been growing in popularity, and those who wish to be certain of a place should secure their tickets early. Last year many who waited until the last day were disappointed. The price this year is to be $1.

Many class reunions are to be held during commencement week. The class of '65 will celebrate its fifty-fifth anniversary. Hon. Milton Remley, one of the two living members says he expects to be a strong contender for the loving cup with fifty per cent of his class present.

A fifty-year reunion will be staged by the law class of '72. About fifteen classes are completing arrangements for reunions during commencement week. The University club, made up of women of the faculty and the alumni has thrown open its club rooms in the Dey building for visiting guests.

Program

The graduation invitations are soon to be ready, according to Tom Murray L3 of Little Sioux, president of the association of senior presidents. The proofs have been here, have been corrected and returned. There are to be two varieties, one with plain white paper and one with brown leather covers. The prices have not been determined yet.

LIBRARY RECEIVES
PHOTOGRAPHIC COPIES OF TWO RARE BOOKS

The University library has just received photographic copies two editions of Tragedy of Calisto and Melibea, published in 1501 and 1502 in the quarto size form by an expert photographer of the British Museum of London, England. There are no copies of these editions in this country nor could there be any purchased in foreign markets.

The photographic copies of these editions are negative proofs, white printing on black with two pages photographed together. The reproduction is somewhat smaller than the original but it is clearly legible.

The photographic copy of these editions was procured for research work in the department of the Romance languages at the expense of the graduate college. This is the first complete edition of any book that the library has had photographed although there are several photographic extracts of various other books available. Exactly five weeks after the request for these copies left the library in Iowa City the copies were received.

The University library sends information in regard to these editions to the library of Congress, so that they may be available to other libraries in this country for borrowing. Since these are the only copies of these two editions of Tragedy of Calisto y Melibea, there will be undoubtedly some demand which the University library can fill.
