SQUAD DEPARTS FOR YALE WITH 4000 CHEERING

Hawkeyes Are on Way East in Two Special Cars for Inter-sectional Game

With 4000 students cheering and waving hats and the University band playing "Rambling", as the train left the station the Iowa football team left yesterday afternoon at 2:30 for the first inter-sectional football game in the history of Iowa athletics. The Iowa team was provided with two special cars to make the trip to the greatest game of the year with Yale at New Haven on Saturday.

Confident that the team will be victorious in the Yale Bowl and instilling that confidence into voluminous yells, the student body turned out in full force for the final mass meeting and send-off.

The mass meeting opened in front of the liberal arts building with several selections by the university band. This was followed by a number of loud, snappy yells and then a parade line was formed to march to the Rock Island station.

Band Leads Crowd
Headed by the band and a large banner bearing the famous slogan of the Howling 300, "Iowa Fights," the students marched in Dubuque street to the station. The crowd was so large that all traffic was halted. Under the direction of the university cheer leaders, many yells were given on the way to the station.

Students Crowd Station
Every available vantage point at the station was filled to overflowing by students anxious for a last glimpse at the Iowa team before the great game with Yale. Cheer leaders mounted the coaches of the train in order to be able to direct the cheering. With a final cheer for Coach Jones and the members of the team, a big "Iowa Fights" and the band lustily playing "Rambling", as the train left, the students marched back to the city.

Coaches Decried
The two coaches in which the team will make the trip to the East were decorated with many of the Iowa slogans. "Beat Yale," "Iowa Fights", "Yale is Our Meat", "Look out for the Indians", were among those conspicuously painted in white along the sides of the coaches.

Meet Team Monday Morning
Before the train left, Barney Don-dore A4 of Iowa City, head cheer leader, asked how many of the crowd would be at the station when the team returns at 4:30 Monday morning. Judging by the number of "Yea Boy's" given in response to his question, the team will receive a big welcome on its return next Monday.

The demonstration yesterday was undoubtedly the greatest manifestation of pep by the student body given this year. When the team goes on the field Saturday afternoon, it will do so with the full confidence that 7000 university students are in back of it. Although the mass meeting and send-off were planned in short order, the student body rose to the occasion and gave the team a great send-off.

GYMNASTIC TEAM BEGINS PRACTICE MONDAY AT 5:00

"The gymnastic team will begin practice next Monday afternoon for this season," said Coach Herold E. Briceland. "All men wishing to try for the team should report in the office of the director of physical education Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. A captain will be elected, and all old members are urged to be present."

It is probable that several meets will be scheduled this year but no definite arrangements have been made yet. The team is practically sure of going to the Western Intercollegiate Wrestling, Fencing, and Gymnastic Association meet to be held at Ohio State university next March.

FOURTEEN MEMBERS OF GROUNDED BOAT ARE STILL MISSING

(By United News)
Halifax, Nova Scotia, Oct. 11—Fourteen members of the crew of the Gloucester schooner, Marshall Foch, which grounded off Sable Island Wednesday, are missing.

Capt. James Whittle and six of his crew have been landed at Sable Island, it was reported, but the other fourteen still are unaccounted for. The schooner, which sailed from Halifax last week for the fishing banks, is lying on the inner bar about three hundred yards from shore and is being pounded by a heavy sea. The vessel went aground in heavy fog.

DIRECTORS COME FROM 30 STATES

Weller Looking for Rooms on Oct. 27-28 for Summer School Directors

The annual meeting of the Association of Summer School Directors, at Iowa City October 27-28, includes representatives of thirty of the principal institutions of the United States. Representatives will attend the Iowa-Purdue game which will be played on Oct. 28.

When the date of the meeting was set, Prof. Charles H. Weller, Director of Summer session, did not know that a large convention of shriners was to be held in Iowa City at the same time. The circumstance makes the providing of rooms for the guests very difficult, and it is hoped that some members of the faculty might be glad to provide a room for some of these men during the convention. Probably none of the delegates will be present except Friday night. Anyone who desires to keep a guest may notify Professor Weller.

Many Ask for Rooms
The men who have already asked for rooms are Prof. J. J. Coss of Columbia University, Prof. R. M. Ogden of Cornell University, Dean R. A. Kent of University of Kansas, Dean E. H. Kraus of University of Michigan, Prof. J. J. Pettijohn of University of Minnesota, Prof. Clyde L. Gross of Northwestern University, Prof. H. L. Crosby of University of Pennsylvania, Prof. Charles G. Mapis of University of Virginia, Dean S. H. Goodnight of University of Wisconsin.

Many Not Heard From
Other members of the Association who are in doubt as to attendance or who have not yet been heard from are Prof. A. H. Rice of Boston University, Dean W. A. Hart of University of California, Prof. M. G. Durham of University of Colorado, Prof. W. C. Ruediger of George Washington University, Dean C. E. Chadsey, of University of Illinois, Dean H. L. Smith of Indiana University, Prof. R. E. CRESTON BOY WITH SOUSA

A base soloist with Sousa, though only twenty one years old—that is William Bell, a Creston boy now in his second season with the famous leader, who will be heard here at the auditorium Thursday, October 19. Bell's instrument is the Sousaphone, a peculiar invention named for its originator. Bell early showed signs of being a musical prodigy, and at twelve appeared in a symphony. Following that he became a member of the well-known Bachman Million Dollar Band, but gave that up to attend the University of North Dakota for a time. Music lured him back, however, and as a member of Sousa's band he has achieved marked success.

BRITISH REFUSE TO GRANT U. S. SEARCH RIGHT

Can't Stop English Boats, But Britain Will Help Fight on Rum Runners

London, Oct. 11—The British government has refused the request of the United States that certain seizures of British ships outside the three-mile limit be permitted when necessary to prevent rum smuggling.

The refusal is made in a note which has been despatched to Ambassador Geddes at Washington for transmission to the state department. Washington had asked the British government to cooperate in the running down of rum runners plying along the American coast. Great Britain, in declining to permit search and seizure of British vessels, pointed out that it doubted that such an arrangement would be possible in view of prevailing rules of international law, and danger of creating precedents.

This is not to be taken as an unwillingness to assist American prohibition enforcement authorities, the British note says. Measures have been taken to cooperate with the colonies in preventing issuance of fraudulent clearance papers, transfers of shipping registry and other violations of shipping laws.

Apart from the note, the United News was informed that if England ever intended to grant search and seizure privileges, such a tendency was lessened when the United States made the ruling barring foreign ships from carrying liquor, even under seal, inside its three-mile limit.

Washington, Oct. 11—Friendly search and seizure, paving the way to an amicable test case of the Daugherty ruling forbidding liquor on foreign ships within the American three mile limit, will be exercised by American customs officials against the first ship leaving the home port after October 14 and attempting to enter the three mile zone with liquor aboard. The prohibition bureau has prepared regulations for the application of the ruling to both foreign and American ships, and these are now before Secretary Mellon for formal approval.

1. Seizure and possible forfeiture of American vessels found attempting evasion or violation of the Daugherty ruling, except those sailing from a foreign port on or before October 14.
2. Seizure of foreign vessels leaving home ports after October 14 if such vessels enter the three mile limit with liquor aboard.
3. Exemption of "medicinal liquor" from banned intoxicants, which exemption may also cover liquor of diplomats stationed here or elsewhere.
4. Nonexemption of liquor listed as ships stores, and including supplies of rum and wine which constitute a portion of usual rations of British, French, Italian and other foreign crews.

The department of Justice has assured foreign shippers that as a result of the expected seizure of such vessels as violate the ruling, the test case to be brought by foreign owners will be rushed to decision before the United States Supreme court.

Apart from the legal side of the case however it is expected here, in event a foreign ship is seized, there will be a prompt and formal protest made by the government whose flag floats from the ship's masthead. It is when the issue becomes involved in the net of diplomacy that officials here believe there will result a long discussion which may ultimately necessitate an international conference on the subject, to establish maritime laws governing booze.

CUBS TRIM SOX

Chicago, Oct. 11—The Cubs trimmed the White Sox 8 to 5 in the third game of Chicago's big league city series Wednesday.

SPLIT COMES IN RANKS OF BIG FOUR

Railroad Union Divides; "Still Solid", Johnson, Break Deplored at Chicago

(By United News)

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 11—Forces of the "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods have divided into two groups for purposes of negotiating wage and working contract. On one side is William Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, and Lee Shepard, president of the order of railroad conductors. On the other side is Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers and J. B. Robertson, president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engine-men, and T. C. Casstan, president of the switchmans union of North America.

Best for Union
At the national headquarters of the trainmen, Lee declined to discuss his refusal to "go with" Stone and Robertson in negotiation the future wage agreement and working conditions. "I have said all that I care to say," Lee said. "I believe it will be the best for all concerned for trainmen and conductors to handle their own affairs and permit the engineers and firemen to do the same."

(By United News)
Washington, Oct. 11—They reported "break" in the Big Four, is merely the formal application of a policy involved for a year, according to Pres. William H. Johnson of the international association of machinists. "The Big Four is just as solid as ever" Johnson said.

Deplore Split

(By United News)
Chicago, Oct. 11—Officials of the railway employees department of the American federation of labor deplore the split of the Big Four brotherhood announced from Cleveland as a blow to labor, and railroad executives declared that it would have little effect on the railroad labor situation. Both agreed, however, that the announcement came as no surprise.

BRITISH TO PAY 50 MILLIONS WAR DEBT INTEREST ON MONDAY

(By United News)
London, Oct. 11—Great Britain will make a payment of $50,000,000 next Monday through the Federal Reserve bank as interest on her debt to the United States. This payment is for current interest only. Payment of interest in arrears is being held up until after Sir Robert Horn, chancellor of the exchequer, confers with American officials at Washington.

The delay of Sir Robert and the assistants who will compose the British mission to negotiate for repayment of the American war debt, is due in part to the fact that the British government wants to wait until after the November elections in the United States before the negotiations begin. The domestic political situation here is also a factor, no doubt.

Pending negotiations, in Washington, it is believed, will be facilitated by Monday's interest payment. Officials expect a better atmosphere to result from it.

The stop was at Benson, Ariz., where a broken propeller was repaired. The C-2 was scheduled to leave here at daylight, today, for San Antonio, Tex.

RADIO OUTFIT TO HAVE REPORTS OF IOWA-YALE GAME

A play by play account of the Yale-Iowa game will be given out by the radio outfit on the east side of the physics building. This is free to all who care to come and listen. The account will begin at 1:30 p. m., the game being called at 2:30 p. m. eastern time. This is the same radio outfit that has been giving the daily concerts.

This outfit has a very powerful amplifier and can be heard for several blocks. It is owned by W. L. Hunter of the manual arts department. Through the courtesy of Prof. George W. Stewart of the physics department, a room in the physics building has been loaned to W. L. Hunter for experimental purposes.

NO INQUEST FOR STUDENT'S DEATH

Investigation of Armstrong's Death Deemed Unnecessary by Harmon

No inquest was held for the accidental death of J. C. Armstrong who died Tuesday from injuries received when he fell under a University coal truck. A. C. Harmon, funeral director, who had charge of the body did not think it was necessary after questioning all of the witnesses. K. W. Coddington, A1 of Humboldt, testified that he saw Armstrong try to climb on the back of the truck but could not hold on so he went around to the left side and tried to get on there. "I saw him falling, then I did not see him for an instant, and when I saw him again he was about a foot behind the wheel," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong accompanied the body home on the 12 o'clock interurban. Burial will take place Friday afternoon at Waterloo. Corliss Armstrong was the oldest child. The parents and eight brothers and sisters survive.

ADDRESS IS GIVEN IN MEMORY OF ARMSTRONG

In memory of Corliss J. Armstrong A2 of Waterloo, who accidentally met his death Tuesday, the time of the eleven o'clock speech class of which he was a member was given to an address by the instructor, Mr. Lee R. Norvelle. As they paused in the busy rush of University life to honor the memory of their departed comrade, Mr. Norvelle painting in very fitting words the uncertainty of life, the certainty of death; the ease with which a life may be snatched from this institution while the instruction moves mechanically on.

IOWA FANS MAY SEE HOW HAWKS FARE AT YALE ON IOWA FIELD

A direct wire has been leased from the Western Union to give the detailed report of the game Saturday. J. J. Lambert, director of athletics, and Aubrey Devine will watch the game from the Yale Bowl and dictate the progress of the game to the operator there who will relay it to Iowa field. Prof. E. H. Lauer and Prof. J. J. Lambert will receive the reports and read them to the fans. The movement of a football on a diagram of a gridiron will show the bleacherites which way the ball is going and who has possession of it.

The reports will begin at 1:15 as the game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 eastern time. Year book holders will be admitted on presentation of the book at the gate. General admission will be fifty cents.

In case the weather does not permit the reading of the reports on Iowa field, a loop has been installed in the new armory and the play will be received there. The new armory has a seating capacity of 5,000 to 6,000—so that there should be ample room for all. According to Prof. Louis Pelzer, the reports will be just as detailed as those of last year.

CLAIM KEMAL TROOPS MOVING TO BOSPHORUS

British Rushing Heavy Artillery to Check Advance Toward Black Sea

(By United News)

Constantinople, Oct. 11—Despite the promise of Kemal troops that they would not advance in view of the armistice arrangements, Turkish nationalist patrols are reported to have appeared in the vicinity of the village of Riva on the coast of the Black Sea.

(By United News)

Athens, Oct. 11—Kemalists continue to violate the neutral zone around the straits, despite the Mudania armistice agreement, according to despatches reaching the Greek capital. Two divisions of Turkish troops are said here to be moving toward the Bosphorus. The British are hurriedly transporting heavy artillery in an effort to check the Turk advance.

COUNCIL PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

Margaret S. Altman Elected Union Council Secretary at Same Meeting

Margaret S. Altman A4 of Livermore, was elected secretary of the Union Council at a meeting held last night at Closs hall. At the meeting, the campaign to be carried through Homecoming week was lined up. The campaign will start Monday of that week and will be finished on the following Thursday. George A. Hurley L1 of Rolfe, chairman of the parade committee, made a thorough and complete report, which was discussed and accepted by the council. Each phase of the councils plans brought out clearly that there is a determination to "put 'er through in '22," to quote the slogan which has been adopted.

Chairman Hubert H. Matt L3 of Iowa City, explained importance of a complete organization in order that this first big job of the Union be planned and completed in record-breaking time. It was the consensus of opinion that an organization of at least one hundred leaders would be necessary to complete the work laid out by the Union council during the next four weeks.

Grassfield Encouraged
Director Ralph G. Grassfield explained to the council the immediate plans for the Union concerning organization and the securing of more pledges. He expressed optimism over the outlook this fall and early winter. It is his belief that providing that the efforts of the council are as great a success as they were last year, the matter of enlisting the aid of alumni will be furthered greatly.

At least one hundred, live-wire enthusiastic men and women are needed to help put across the present plans of the Union, according to chairman Matt. He urged each member of the council to bring someone who is interested to the next regular meeting, which will be held next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock on the first floor of Closs hall. An invitation is extended to all who desire to help or are to learn about the Union and its plans to attend this meeting.

The members present last night were: Director Ralph G. Grassfield, Herbert H. Matt L3 of Iowa City, Catherine T. Wright of Des Moines, C. F. Muller L3, Beatrice Gates A4 of Iowa City, B. F. Martinsen L3 of Lyons; John S. Grassfield Jr. B. A. 22 of Iowa City; Margaret S. Altman A4 of Livermore; Leona White A4 of Council Bluffs; Vergil Hencher L3 Rolfe; George H. Gallup A4 of Jefferson; Abram De Vaul L3 of Fonda; and Clarence O. Sloan S 4 of Fairfield.

FEW FROSH TRACK MEN REPORT DAILY

Will Recruit Yearling Weight Men From Football Candidates

With the freshman track and field meet only a few days away, the response of the frosh to the daily workouts has not been what it should be. The cold weather seems to have put a crimp in the desire of the men to report for work.

As is known, those men who place first in the events in which more than three men are entered, will be awarded numeral sweaters. Ribbons too will be given to the first three to finish in each event. As Coach George T. Bresnahan will be absent Saturday, Eric Wilson, captain-elect of the Varsity track squad, will take charge of the Frosh.

First year weight men have, up to the present, been reporting in small numbers. But Captain Martin stated last night that men now out for football would be expected to compete in the weight events next Saturday.

Officials for the meet have, as yet, not been named. Members of the faculty and Varsity track men have been asked to act as starters and timers. It was announced that the list of events, with the time when each shall be run off, will be published in tomorrow's Iowan.

IRVING PLANS YALE REPORTS 24 HOURS BEFORE THE GAME

Robert H. Seashore A4 of Iowa City was elected treasurer of Irving Institute last night to fill the unexpired term of Kelse Saemisch, who did not return to the University this fall.

A play by radio is promised in Irving hall at the Friday night meeting of the literary society. "Irving is always at least twenty-four hours ahead," was the succinct explanation offered by members of the organization. The radio will be tuned in on this end by Carl Seashore S1 of Iowa City.

In between Iowa touchdowns, talks will be given by Harry E. Mundt A3 of Evely and Horace G. Baker A2 of Iowa City. Merton M. Memler S4 of Iowa City will give a reading, and there will be a debate on the question, "Resolved: That compulsory military training at the University of Iowa should be abolished."

Waldo E. Nibel A2 of Grimes and Gerald R. Imbody A2 of Swea City will uphold the affirmative of the question. Opposing them will be William J. Holland A2 of Iowa City and Edward Eaton A2 of Sidney.

GYM PROGRAM FOR WOMEN STARTED

Receive Credit for Ability on Both Soccer And Field-ball Teams

With the beginning of regular classes in physical education for women, the fall field sports of soccer and fieldball get under way. They continue until the inter-class tourneys are played off, probably on Homecoming day. Women may enroll for recreational swimming or for one of these outdoor sports as their regular class work.

The same general rules apply to both field ball and soccer, with the exception that field ball is a throwing game and soccer a kicking game. As in football, eleven people comprise a team. The forward line consists of right end, right inside, center, left inside, and left end. The half-back line consist of right, center, and left half-backs. Farther back in the field are the two full-backs. The goal-keeper's actions are limited to a semicircular area at the goal post.

The game is divided into four periods of ten minutes duration. A rest of five minutes is given between each period.

Last year several exciting and hard fought games were played on the men's field. The sophomores were victors in field ball, defeating the freshman by a score of 9-1, and scoring over the Juniors 7-4.

Advanced Classes Started

The advanced gymnasium class has already begun work, with a view of learning to coach some of the classes. The increased enrollment in physical education makes it certain that there will be greater rivalry than ever for places on the teams and more spirited contests. The usual experience has been that the freshmen women have slightly more spirit and optimism, but that the upperclasswomen excel them in team work and technique.

To Receive Points

Making a team, in addition to helping a woman's grade in her physical education course, entitles her to points toward a numeral if she is a member of W. A. A. A numeral and 100 points are given for making a first team. Fifty points reward a woman who makes a second team. Teams will probably not be chosen until shortly before the final contests.

TRANSIT TO REWARD ESSAY ON ENGINEERING

The Transit, a magazine published monthly by the students of the college of applied science, is offering a prize of $10 and a position on its staff to the student in that college who writes the best essay on some phase of engineering.

This essay of from 1500 to 2500 words will be published in the first issue of the Transit on November 1. The contest closes October 16, when all essays must be in the Transit office.

The second best essay will receive a prize of $5 and a position on the Transit staff. This essay will be printed in the second issue of the Transit.

The essays will be judged on subject matter and composition. The judges will be Dean William G. Raymond of the engineering college, Prof. Walter A. Scott of the English department, and Prof. Burton P. Flemming of the engineering department.

MEN'S PHYSICAL EXAMS ARE MAKING PROGRESS

The men's gymnasium began physical examinations yesterday. All men unable to swim must register for swimming; the other men will be placed in physical training classes. Freshmen must be able to swim two lengths of the pool in order to pass the swimming test. Men suffering from broken arches will be placed in a special class as they were last year. Since gymnasium classes opened October 2, the time has been spent getting equipment distributed and taking the Iowa City address of all the enrolled men. After these examinations are completed, track and football men will be expunged from all gymnasium classes.

CORRECTION

Contrary to the statement in yesterday's Iowan, men who are required to take physical examinations have their hours assigned to them. Those for whom it is optional may make appointments.

TRUMPET CLASSES START

Trumpet classes in the R. O. T. C. will begin next week at the Armory. Every cadet having any knowledge of trumpeting is urged to report to Sgt. Maier at the Armory at one o'clock sometime this week. The class will meet at one o'clock on days best suited for the majority of those wishing to enter the class. Twenty-seven men were in the class last year and more are expected this year.

NOLL, DONDORE AND WINTERS ARE SENIOR COMMERCE OFFICERS

Gehart B. Noll C4 of Waukon was elected president of the senior class of the college of commerce at a meeting of the class held last night. Angus L. Cotton C4 of Algona was elected vice-president; Chris Donodore of Iowa City, secretary and M. P. Winters C4 of Shenandoah, treasurer. About fifty seniors attending the meeting. It was the first meeting of the class since the organization of the college last year.

Tonight the juniors will meet at 7:30 in room 203 of the liberal arts building, to organize. After the juniors have organized a committee will draw up a constitution of the college of commerce. It will then then be submitted to the college for ratification. The college of commerce is the youngest college on the campus.

Kansas Governor to Investigate Organizations Lacking State Charters

(By United News)
Topeka, Kan., Oct. 11—Governor Henry J. Allen will make a state wide investigation of the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas, it was announced Wednesday. The Governor instructed the Attorney General's office to make a thorough investigation of the purpose of the Klan, and the legal status of organizations in the state operating without state charters.

The general investigation is the result of several special investigations made in Winfield and Arkansas City by Judge James M. McDermott of the Kansas industrial court.

STRATTON CHOSEN TECHNOLOGY HEAD

Massachusetts College Without President for More Than 2 Years

(By United News)
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 11—Dr. Samuel Wesley Stratton, director of the bureau of standards at Washington, was elected president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Wednesday.

The election of Doctor Stratton was announced following a meeting of members of the corporation, and becomes effective January 1, 1933.

Doctor Stratton, who is a native of Litchfield, Ill., was selected to head the institute because of his unusual qualifications, a statement issued by members of the corporation declared. The institute has been without a president virtually since 1920, when Dr. Richard C. Maclaurin died. Dr. Ernest F. Nichols, who was elected in 1921, was forced to resign a few months later because of ill health, and since that time the administration of the work has been in the hands of an administrative committee of three faculty members.

RATES TO URBANA MAY BE CUT TO $11.55 ON ROUND TRIP TO GAME

"Rates to Urbana for the Illinois game will be cut," said Barney Don-dore, cheer leader, just before he left with the team for New Haven.

A crowd of Iowa rooters is expected at Urbana when Coach Jones' gridiron stars clash with Illinois October 21. It is generally expected that the band will make one trip this fall, either to Illinois or Ohio, but it has not yet been decided which.

A rate has already been granted as far as Peoria, making the fare that far $7.08 for the round trip. From Peoria to Urbana the regular fare is $3.35 one way, but in all probability there will be a rate of a fare and a third made for this distance, and if this is granted the total fare for the round trip will be $11.55, exclusive of Pullman expense.

A number will make the trip in cars and some of the harder ones who are expert in the use of side door pullmans will take the fast freight, which is perhaps the cheapest way of all to go. Whether they get there by walking, riding, or taking the freight, it is sure that there will be a big crowd of Iowa boosters on the field at Urbana when the game starts.

GETS BIG OIL CONCESSION

New York, Oct. 11—What is said to be the first large oil concession granted by the Russian soviet was brought back by Nathan Dey, president of the International-Barnsdall corporation, who arrived here Wednesday. The concession gives the privilege of developing 400 acres of land in the Baku oil district, for an almost indefinite period, Dey said.

ERODELPHIANS PLAN RUSHING PARTY OCT. 5

October 5, has been the date set for a party for upper-classwomen to be given by the Erodolphian literary society. The party will be in the form of a costume affair with characters taken from funny papers. The party will be held in Erodolphian hall. The program will be announced at a later date.

PLAN TO ELECT NEW FRESHMAN COMMISSION

Freshman commission plans are in full swing according to president Verne Shaw A2 of Watertown, S. Dak. Yesterday lists of twenty-six freshman women were given to each member of the present freshman commission. For a month each freshman commission woman acts as hostess to the freshman women on her list at parties held at her home or in the drawing room. In this way groups of freshman women are entertained and become better acquainted with their classmates.

Before a month's time, each group selects by vote two women to represent them, making forty names in all. These names are handed in to Miss Avilda Buek, secretary of Y. W. C. A., who presents them to Y. W. council. Y. W. council then votes on the names, selecting twenty women out of the forty names submitted, to represent the Freshman Commission for this year.

The purposes of Freshman Commission are to train women to be leaders in Y. W. work and positions on Y. W. council and cabinet; to aid the dean of women in her work; to create a spirit of friendliness on the campus; to discuss campus problems; to aid in any worthy movement that asks for aid.

Alice Hagedorn, A3 of Luverne, Minn., recently elected vice-president of Y. W., is council member advisor to the Freshman Commission.

REHEARSE CHORUS ON THURSDAY NIGHT FOR CHRISTIAN VESPER

Rehearsals for the University program will begin tonight in the liberal arts assembly hall at seven p. m., and will continue every Thursday evening until Christmas. As has been the custom at the University of Iowa, the chorus, assisted by the glee clubs, will present one entire vesper service, to consist of music appropriate to the Christmas season. Membership in the chorus is open to any one who enjoys singing. Prospective members should, however, present themselves at once.

To join the chorus, it is necessary only to attend rehearsals and fill out a card with the members name and address. Both men and women are welcome. There are more vacancies in the men's sections than the women's. A chorus of from 100 to 200 members is expected.

150 ATTEND Y. M. C. A. MEETING YESTERDAY AT 4

More than one hundred and fifty girls gathered in liberal arts drawing room, yesterday afternoon, at 4:00 for the regular Y. W. C. A. weekly meeting. Alice Banning A3 of Farlin, opened the program with a song.

Margaret Dolliver, an Iowa alumna and now instructing in the Iowa City high school, explained the importance of entering outside activities.

"If you want an outside activity in the liberal sense of the word, go out for W. A. A. propositions. Formerly, only twenty-five girls attended W. A. A. parties; now, two hundred and fifty turn out. Y. W. C. A. is an organization into which we can all work whether geniuses or otherwise," said Miss Dolliver.

Among other organizations recommended by the speaker were glee club, university players, literary societies, and athletic clubs.

The appointment of Alice Hagedorn A2 of Luverne, Minn., as vice-president of Y. W. was confirmed by a general vote.

300 ARE REGISTERED FOR INSTRUCTION BY MAIL HERE THIS YEAR

The school of correspondence of the extension division of the University has increased its enrollment twenty percent since January 1922 and now numbers three hundred students representing twenty-six states and three foreign countries.

Miss Helen Williams head of the school of correspondence accounts for this growth in popularity and service by the fact that the students by correspondence receive the personal attention of the instructors, who themselves grade and correct all work done. The tuition of the school is but four dollars a semester credit hour of work, which is much less than that of correspondence schools other than those connected with the big universities, and the small tuition for the best available courses is attractive to many. A number of those enrolled are students of irregular standing, for whom the correspondence school can divide the course proportionately as cannot be done in the classroom, and thus enable them to get the maximum of credit.

Several new courses in English, eco- to those offered in former years, and the departments of English and education are especially full now. The school at present includes a faculty of thirty-eight, and hopes ultimately to have a faculty devoting its entire time to this school, entirely separate from that of the university, at which time they plan to add some non-credit courses.

DOCTOR O'HARA URGES UNIVERSITY WOMEN TO FORM RIDING CLASSES

Are University women interested in forming riding classes? Dr. Marian L. O'Hara, the women's physician and medical assistant to the student health director, is anxious to find out. Horses are available at the Glanz stables on Capitol near College street, and if sufficient women show an eagerness to participate in this form of exercise, student rates will be made by Mr. Glanz.

Dr. O'Hara is enthusiastic about riding and sees no reason why riding should not be as popular as hiking and canoeing.

"The first thing I learned about the State of Iowa," says Dr. O'Hara who is an Easterner, "was that corn and horses were abundant. I'm quite sure about the corn, but I'm ready to see more horses."

Women who wish to learn to ride, and any who are capable of teaching horsemanship may leave their names and addresses in the office at the women's gymnasium.

PROF. ROBINSON MAY LECTURE NEXT MONTH

"Ancient Smyrna and Other Cities of Asiatic Turkey" is the subject of a lecture to be delivered here November 16 by Prof. David L. Robinson of Johns Hopkins university. It is through the efforts of Prof. Berthold L. Ullman, head of the Latin department, that Professor Robinson is coming.

The lecture is, as yet, tentative as Professor Robinson will also speak in Des Moines and Davenport and, if he spends only two days in the state, Iowa City will probably be omitted.

HOSPITAL NEEDS SCHOOL TEACHERS

Teachers are needed for the University Sunday School Union, an organization which gives religious education to the children of the Perkins, general, and convalescent hospitals. At present there is a staff of twenty teachers.

The organization was founded four years ago by Thomas Roach. Its officers this year are Ruth F. Wolcott M3, of Hawarden, president, and Dwight E. Kinsey A3, of Grimes, secretary and treasurer.

THE STUDENT'S CHECKBOOK

Father may pay the bills but the cancelled checks come back to the student. They are the foundation upon which the guilty conscience may rest. If the student can't show value received for his check stubs, father is being buncoed. Father may be an easy mark, but a guilty conscience needs no accuser.

Times flies and with it goes the school calendar. Knox has been knocked and Howard Jones and his Hawkeyes are nearing the Bowl of Yale. Flannel shirts are appearing on the campus and before long, galoshes will be flapping once more.

Meanwhile, the check stubs continue to receive the red end of the deal. They record the debit marks of the school year, the monetary ones which point out the high cost of an education. Without them, many students would be lost; they would not know they were turning backward as time goes on in its flight.

It is good to have a check account to learn occasionally that money and time go hand in hand, although it is often true that many a student has time to burn and possess only blank checks.

For the average student, the check stubs are his material evidence of accumulative knowledge. As the balance diminishes his stock of knowledge increases. He knows he's getting value received whether the stub indicates expenditures for books or dances.

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

(Christian Science Monitor)

THE POWER TO HOPE

In "The Schonberga-Cotta Family," one of the classics of the English language but too seldom read nowadays, occurs a phrase replete with meaning. The phrase is, "the power to hope." Poor, indeed, and an irredeemable hostage to fortune, is the man or the woman who has lost "the power to hope." Behind the solid, indestructible barrier of hope, men and women have endured the blows of life to the utmost. But so long as that defensive barrier endured, victory was still theirs in prospect.

Hope argues belief, belief in one's self, belief in the justice of one's cause, and the triumph of that cause, whether it be personal or world-wide in its bearings. It was hope and faith that religious thinkers, scientific investigators and political leaders achieved, and are achieving, the mighty feats that have added so vastly to the richness of life, that have lifted the human mind and the human body to the higher planes they have attained. It is hope that the everyday man or woman, crushed to earth by an unforeseen material catastrophe, lifts his eyes upward, straightens his back and says down deep in his heart: "I will conquer yet."

There is profound spiritual philosophy in the old saying, "While there's life there's hope." The man or woman who still retains "the power to hope" is a living, fighting unit in the battle of life, the struggle to achieve. The man or woman who has lost "the power to hope" has lost the great motive power in existence. He or she is like a ship that has lost its steering gear—a helpless object for the winds and waves to buffet to the pitiful end. It is "the power to hope" that makes men and women live and justify their lives by their deeds.

(Michigan Daily)

Perhaps the only thing that is more pitiful than an old, broken-down horse is an old battered automobile. Animals have a society to watch after their welfare. Why, then, could there not be a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to automobiles? Judging from the species of machine that the average student drives about the streets of Ann Arbor and the recklessness with which these young Oldfields handle their poor, bed-ridden hulks, there would be much use for such a society. Many an infirm and faithful old servant could be sent out in the country to spend its last days basking in the sunshine by the side of a tottering barn.

But attempted humor aside, the way in which the majority of the student drivers of Ann Arbor drive the cars which they have been able to bring from home, or which, by starving, they have been able to purchase, bids fair to clutter up the streets with prematurely old conveyances which are an eyesore to those who are forced to see them, a source of discomfort to those who are invited to ride in them, and a constant drain on the purses of those who are unfortunate enough to be their owners. A little more care on the part of the drivers in turning corners, in shifting gears, in speeding up, and in jamming on brakes would make things a lot more pleasant for the non-participants. And then, perhaps the autos would get a little more enjoyment out of their servitude. "It's hard to work when you're old, Sonny, but there ain't nothin' so hard as a mean boss."

OUR ANSWER TO ETIQUETTE PROBLEMS

Q. Is it correct for a lady to refer to her husband as "Mr. Smith"?

A. Yes, if that is the gentleman's name.

Q. Is it correct for a man to give his seat to a lady in a street car?

A. The practice of this interesting old medieval custom is no longer considered to be in good form.

Q. At a football game should the lady precede the gentleman to their seats?

A. No; the gentleman should go first in order to batter an opening through the crowd.

Our idea of the height of incongruity is an ornate gold monogram on a flivver.

FOOTBALL TEAM LEAVES ON TRIP TO NEW HAVEN

Injured Veterans Make Lineup Doubtful, Drill Today at Cleveland

With hats flying in air and thousands of pairs of lungs straining to capacity, the Old Gold backers gave Coach Howard H. Jones and his men what was perhaps the best send-off ever given to an Iowa team, when the train bearing the coaches containing twenty-five players pulled out of the local Rock Island depot at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Many of those who bid the team good by did not realize that they were sending it on the longest athletic trip ever taken by an Iowa team.

Included among the twenty-five men making the trip are the half-dozen regulars, who, Tuesday night, were more or less incapacitated by injuries. "Johnny" Heldt, mainstay of the Iowa line, whose absence from practice caused a great deal of anxiety among the fans, was much better yesterday, and it is a general belief that he will participate in most of the game. Hancock's shoulder appears to be somewhat improved and he will no doubt be in shape to start. Locke, Meade, and Engledinger, the other regulars who have been receiving medical attention, seemed to be in pretty fair shape on their departure, but their injuries are of such a nature that they may be unhard contest.

Have Reinforcements for Line
Yale will have the advantage, if injuries are numerous in the game, as she has a multitude of exceptionally strong reserves to call upon in case they are laid out. Iowa is well fortified against injuries in the line, but the same cannot be said of the backfield. Either Rich or Parkin may start at quarter, and both have looked mighty well at the pivot position. In case of injury to the halfbacks, Nugent will be available to fill the gap, but he has not yet had a chance to show his ability as a backfield man. Should Locke get laid out, Jaqua will replace him. Jaqua lacks the hard drive and punch that Gordon possesses, but may show up well under fire.

The exact players who will compose the forward wall are still more or less undetermined, but the following is probable dope for the line. L. E. Kadesky; L. T. Thompson; L. G. Minnick; center, Heldt or McIntyre; R. G. Kriz; R. T. Hancock or Engledinger; R. E. Hancock or Otte. If Engledinger's leg will stand up he will no doubt be seen at tackle and Hancock will be placed at end. If not, Hancock will probably be shifted to tackle and Otte, who has been showing a great deal of scrap in practice, will be run in at Hancock's end.

Will Practice in Cleveland
The train carrying the Iowa team, will arrive in Cleveland this morning, and a light workout will be held there. The squad has been invited to attend a banquet given by the Cleveland conference alumni club, and to attend the Keith theatre entertainment Thursday afternoon, but it is not known whether or not they will attend. The Cleveland workout will be the last until the squad reaches New Haven.

The trip will be a long, hard one with comparatively few stops, and will probably have an effect on the condition of the men when they stack up against the easterners. This fact, together with the possibilities of stage-fright and injuries, creates a more or less pessimistic atmosphere among the Old Gold backers. On the other hand, if the team plays the brand of ball they are capable of playing, and if injuries are not numerous enough to demoralize the team play, Iowa should stand an even chance with the Old Eli eleven.

DEVINE PROTEGES SHOW REAL STUFF

First Year Grid Men Give Promise of Rating as Capable Team

Under the efficient tutelage of Coach Devine and his assistants, the freshmen are beginning to show signs of being real football material. Most of the rough spots have been ironed out, so that by the end of this season they should be dangerous contenders for next year's varsity. Injuries have handicapped some of the most promising men. Griffin, center, is out for some time with a slight concussion of the brain. Hargessheimer, halfback, is still hobbling around on a wrenched knee, and won't appear in uniform again for a week or more. Clendenning, quarterback, was out in uniform, but had his knee encased in a brace. Several other men are suffering from minor bruises which shows lack of condition. Many frosh athletes labor under the impression that it is not necessary to keep fit in order to play first year football. It does not take the coaches long to find out who the delinquents are, for soft muscles quickly show up.

Backs Learn Quickly
Last night the ends and backfield men were drilled in running interference and blocking. In running interference the backs showed a tendency to dive at their man. Coach Devine demonstrated the proper manner to spill the opposing end and before the practice was halted, the backs showed vast improvement. The ends were good, bad, and indifferent. The majority could not use their hands to advantage, and consequently were spilled by the halfbacks. Some of them have the earmarks of developing into good ends and with a little more polish should be heard from.

Fast Men Are Found
Coach Devine spent forty-five minutes in instructing the men on Iowa plays. Two teams were lined up and sent through the plays for the benefit of the rest of the squad.

TO PRESENT SHERIDAN'S "SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL"

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "School for Scandal" will be the annual production of the Iowa City Center of the Drama League of America, to be presented with Iowa City people in the cast, and will be under the direction of Mr. Francis N. Snuppel and Professor E. C. Mabie. The students in the University whose homes are in Iowa City will be eligible for parts in the cast. Try outs will be held Thursday evening, Oct. 12, at 7:30 in the Natural Science Auditorium.

DOPING THE DOPE

BY "PEST"

Thanks to a contributor we learned all about Aubrey Devine's chance to make this year's football team. The story goes that a certain freshman strolled down to the field in time to watch football practice. The freshmen "Yale" team was demonstrating Yale plays to the varsity in light scrimmage. Not satisfied with the manner in which his backfield was behaving, especially displeased with the men carrying the ball, Aubrey Devine had undertaken to run with the ball himself. He got away several times on skirting plays around end.

This observing freshman remarked to one of the bystanders that there was a real back who ought to be able to make the varsity next year if he continued his present gait.

He almost dropped over when told that the supposed yearling was none other than Aubrey Devine, all-American quarterback on last year's team. When he had recovered his breath, he confessed that he had picked another man as the great quarterback. Pointing to one of the men on the field who was dressed in civilian clothes, and who was smoking a ten inch black cigar, the freshman said, "I thought that that fellow was Devine."

We had to wait until Dr. Walter R. Fieseler left town before we dared print this story. He would have wanted to know the name of that freshman.

We hope that Coach George T. Bresnahan is not always as forgetful as he was this afternoon. He was halfway to the depot before he remembered that he had left behind a number of tickets to the Yale-Iowa game. He was nearly left behind, and worst of all he had all the railroad tickets and all the hotel money.

Forgetfulness is peculiar. Once upon a time there was an Iowa track man who was taken to a conference meet. Before his event started he fell asleep close to the finish line, and he came back to consciousness just in time to see the race, in which he was entered, finish. Iowa did not score many points in that particular meet, so maybe it did not make much difference.

The old cry, used for so many years by Eastern teams, that "it is only an early season game", is being sent forth from New Haven about the game with Iowa. Coach "Tad" Jones is reported to have said that he may not use some of his star back because he wants to save them for more important contests.

We don't care, if Jones keeps all his gang out. Yale will be represented by whatever team he puts on the field. Just the same we would rather have the Hawkeye varsity defeat the Yale team in its full strength.

Somehow, it is hard to believe that "Tad" Jones will not use every man who is in shape. It will be a hard blow to Yale prestige in the West if they are beaten next Saturday.

A report from Eastern sources states that Yale's best offensive game is built around Captain Jordan, and Quarterback O'Hearn, and that with these men out, the Yale running and passing game will be broken up. This statement gives further comfort by saying that the only other Yale back worthy of mention is Neidlinger, "who should be one of the greatest backs of the year."

Iowa will not have to worry about Jordan. He will be in the game, for he was kept out of the North Carolina just so that he could play against Iowa.

"Stocks continue upward movement is the latest report. Iowa stock also mounted another notch, when it was learned that John Heldt, Iowa's star center, was in better shape than was at first supposed. "Johnny" will undoubtedly be able to play against Yale next Saturday.

Just Read This! THE FIRST TRIBUTE FROM CHICAGO TO THE PERFECT MOTION PICTURE Remembrance WHICH OPENS AT The STRAND NEXT SATURDAY (From "Chicago Herald-Examiner"—Monday's issue) "REMEMBRANCE" A TRIUMPH FOR RUPERT HUGHES AND CAST BY OBSERVER Here is something to take hold of, something definite, bold, strong, original—something to take hold of you. It is "Remembrance," which Rupert Hughes, wrote, directed, cut, sliced, titled and lived with until he got it like he wanted it. He got it just like your reporter wanted it, too. There isn't a thing to be added or taken away, and you may be certain that if you are mad about the long, fantastic, beautifully photographed, powerfully acted nightmare scene of "Pop" Grout, you are entitled to pat your good taste on the head. It is a family story, and family stories are common. It has young love and old age and pity and humor, all things that are old—but it has a slant and an emotional pressure all its own. "Pop" Grout is a wealthy owner of a department store. His wife looks and acts like the Kaiser's sister. His family—all save Mab, the youngest—are idlers, wastrels, social loafers. He breaks down under the strain and in his delirium the bills shower down. His family relents and regenerates itself, and the outlawed young lover of Mab wins the girl, but not until "Pop" has teetered a long time on the threshold of death, undecided whether to go on in or come back out. What a piece of acting! Claude Gillingwater's performance, humorous, kindly, whimsical, cantankerous, suddenly becomes demonic, tragic, as wild as the wind. A great actor! Theodore Roberts has a rival now. Theodore Roberts, so long alone as a character actor, is going to have it nip and tuck from now on. Gillingwater becomes through "Remembrance" something indeed to remember. The cast is big and good, the story something that creeps inside your skull and chest and lays itself, penetrating, absorbing, dominant over you. The art photography is almost sculptural at times. The subtitles are the best in five years. The thing has everything that any human, common American family picture ever had—and a style and genius all its own. Rupert Hughes, after several near-triumphs in pictures, has arrived. He owes nothing to Griffith, nothing to Lubitsch, nothing to Tucker. He's his own man and yours.

TO COOPERATE IN PUBLISHING PAPER

Commerce Organizations Will Combine in Issuing of Journal of Business

At the first meeting held this year by Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity, it was decided that the organization would cooperate with Gamma Epsilon Pi, the honorary commerce sorority, in producing and distributing the Journal of Business, the student bulletin put out by the college of commerce. As soon as the staff of the Journal is appointed, Beta Gamma Sigma plans to give practical support, and thus make possible a bigger and more representative publication.

The fraternity also agreed to render practical assistance to the commerce committee which will have charge of the conception and construction of a float for the college in the annual Homecoming parade. Suggestions and ideas for something distinctly appropriate for the college of commerce will be turned in to the committee when it is appointed by the soon-to-be-elected president of the college. Support was also pledged to the class meetings called by Samuel M. Smallpage A4, president of the Commerce club, for the purpose of arousing the interest of the commerce students in the coming election of officers next week, when for the first time in history, the College of Commerce will elect its own group of officers distinct from those in liberal arts.

Beta Gamma Sigma wishes all commerce students to know of its particular position in the affairs of the college. Its membership consists roughly of those who excel academically. Each fall a certain proportion of the highest seniors in commerce are chosen for election. Last fall four seniors were taken in. In the spring an arbitrary proportion of the best-proved juniors are selected for election to the fraternity. Last spring seven juniors were elected and taken in. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate and encourage higher scholarship and excellence in the field of commerce. Over twenty chapters are scattered through the country, and the fraternity virtually has come to take the place of Phi Beta Kappa in commerce.

The Alpha chapter at Iowa was installed in 1920 as the first distinctly commerce organization on the campus. The officers for this year, elected at the spring banquet last May, are William O. Moore A4 of Fort Madison, president, Harold H. Mc-

Carty A4 of Stockport, secretary, and Samuel M. Smallpage A4 of Eldora, treasurer. These men will hold office until next spring.

The next meeting of the fraternity will be in the nature of a luncheon Thursday noon, October 26.

WOMEN WILL MEET FOR CHAWA KWAI

Plans for the Annual Chinese Lantern Parade Tonight Include Speeches

Chawa Kwai, annual Chinese lantern procession around the campus for all university women will form tonight at 7:00 in the liberal arts drawing room. After leaving liberal arts building, eight Chinese university women will lead the procession singing Iowa songs around the campus. The parade will terminate on the oval west of Old Capitol, where Mildred Freburg, instructor in the department of speech, will explain the significance of Chawa Kwai and the traditions of Iowa.

CHEMISTRY CLUB PLANS ROOMS IN NEW BUILDING

An informal reception for all students, both old and new, who are interested in chemistry, and all the faculty members of the chemistry department will be held next Tuesday night. Plans and preparations for this reception were discussed at the first meeting of the Chemistry Club, Monday night.

Detailed plans for the work of the coming year were also made. Following the custom of other years, the Club will bring in successful industrial chemists from the outside to give lectures. Numerous other ways and means will be adopted to make the year an interesting one for the Club.

Between thirty and forty students and instructors attended the first meeting which was held in the chemistry lecture room. All students who are interested in chemistry are invited to join the Club, and it is expected that the membership will soon pass the fifty mark.

The Chemistry Club will have a club room of its own directly over the main entrance in the new chemistry building which is now in construction process north of the dental building. This room will be fitted out with relevant magazines, chemistry books, library tables, and lounging chairs for the convenience and edification of the Club members.

The present officers are C. M. Toyne S4, president, Carl Tucker S4, vice-president, and F. V. Morrison G. secretary and treasurer.

12,000 MORE FISH NOW SWIM IN IOWA RIVER

Twelve thousand fish were deposited in the Iowa river late yesterday by the warden of the fish department for this state. The fish included bass, pickerel, and many other kinds. Some of these fish were over a foot long. They were deposited above the dam and will be allowed to spawn in the spring. The object of this action was to promote a feeling of sportsmanship among the fisherman of the University and the city. Clubs will be formed with the object of cooperating in this work. A fee of around $1. will be charged, and this will entitle a member to all the privileges of the organization. The dynamiting and seining laws will be strictly enforced.

Isaac Waltons in the University will be given a chance to show their prowess, as an organization to encourage this particular sport is being formed.

OFFICER'S UNIFORMS WILL SOON BE ISSUED

Junior and senior cadet officers in the military department will be issued serge uniforms this year. $30 is provided for uniforms for each student. Approximately 100 of these uniforms are expected to be issued by November 1, the date at which the uniforms are to be here. It is essential that all juniors and seniors keep in touch with the military department, so that when the man from Columbus, Ohio, is here to get the measurements, he will not be delayed any longer than necessary. He is expected here in a day or two.

These uniforms automatically become the property of the men after finishing the training at the end of the year. Each one is required to keep his uniform in first class shape or he will be required to pay for the uniform.
