WOMEN DROP TO LOWER AVERAGE WITH .4 DECLINE

Delta Gamma Tops List With 84.37 Average; Delta Zeta Drops to Sixth Place

The general scholarship average of the women of the University for the year 1921-22 shows a slight decline, and the sorority averages shows a decided decline, from the averages attained during the previous year 1920-1921, according to the reports issued yesterday by Helen L. Peterson, social assistant to dean of women. The general average for all women in the liberal arts college dropped from 80.6 per cent to 80.2 per cent. The all-sorority average dropped from 82 per cent to 80.97 per cent. The Panhellenic sorority average for the year 1921-1922 is 80.5 per cent and the local sororities brought the average up to 80.97 per cent.

Delta Gamma, with an average of 84.37 per cent, leads the list of sororities with Alpha Tau Beta and Alpha Gamma Phi taking second and third places. Delta Zeta headed the list the previous year with an average of 84.5 per cent while Delta Gamma was at the foot of the list. This year Delta Zeta has been forced down to sixth place while Delta Gamma has jumped to the lead. The order of the standings follows:

	Average No. of Mem.
Delta Gamma	84.37
Alpha Tau Beta	84.07
Alpha Gamma Phi	83.57
Gamma Phi Beta	83.43
Kappa Kappa Gamma	82.86
Delta Zeta	81.07
Kappa Omega	81.58
Ashoth	81.45
Iota Xi Epsilon	81.04
Chi Omega	80.90
Alpha Omicron	80.86
Sigma Rho	80.47
Alpha Xi Delta	78.94
Delta Delta Delta	78.32
Alpha Delta Pi	78.20
Alpha Chi Omega	77.62
Pi Beta Phi	77.11
Average	80.97

The rules of the fraternities concerning the placing on probation of fraternities whose averages are below the general averages of the men of the University, apply also to sororities. The average of the sorority must be substantially the same as the general average of all the women. The term substantially is given as meaning within two per cent of the general average.

The general averages for the professional colleges can not be compared fairly with the average from the college of liberal arts because the grading systems in each college are very different. The general averages for professional women are as follows:

Applied Science	82.30
Law	81.00
Medicine	84.20
Pharmacy	73.60
The general averages of the classes in the college of liberal arts are:
Freshman	76.1
Junior	83.0

DRIVER OF RACER IS RELEASED ON BOND

Mike Haddad, the driver of the racer that killed Sylvester Hoffey Wednesday afternoon, was brought to Iowa City from Cedar Rapids yesterday by the chief of police, J. J. Lorack.

He was arraigned before Justice E. A. Crossett yesterday afternoon, and charged with leaving Iowa City without reporting the tragedy. The justice set his hearing before the grand jury for Nov. 10, and then released him on a $1,000 bond.

Haddad claims that he did not realize any accident had happened and did not know it until he was taken in custody at Cedar Rapids.

WOMAN, CONVICTED, IS SENTENCED TO LIFE

(By United News)

Towns River, N. J., Oct. 18—Mrs. Ivy Giberson, the "woman without nerve" was found guilty late Wednesday of having murdered her husband while he slept, at their Lakewood, N. J. home last August. She was immediately sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison. This is one of the few instances in the United States in which a woman has been convicted of murder.

In regard to the University, Mrs. Dickman finds it "very, very good" while her husband says, "It is very wonderful." Mr. Dickman does not like the town as well as the one he left across the ocean, but he says the school here compensates for that. The versities here differ from the foreign ones, greatly; the most evident difference being the great number of coeds, here, and their absence there.

REMOVE SAWYER LEGION DEMANDS AT CONVENTION

File Five Charges That General Not Able to Handle His Position

(By United News)

New Orleans, Oct. 19—The resolution demanding the removal of Brigadier-General Sawyer charges:

1. Thousands of veterans are in contract hospitals though adequate sums have been appropriated for United States institutions.

2. Men have died due to delay in selecting hospital sites.

3. Sawyer has hampered the effort of the veteran's bureau, has shown an utter inability to understand the necessity of immediate action, and has shown himself by speech and action to be temperamentally unfit for the position he holds.

4. Sawyer is "more interested in economy than saving the lives of the men who gave their health to their country."

5. Sawyer has caused to be published statistics about hospital beds, "totally at variance with facts."

The resolution "demands the removal of Brigadier-General Sawyer from the post of chief coordinator of the federal hospitalization board."

New Orleans, Oct. 19—Despite efforts of conservative leaders, the American Legion has come into open conflict with the administration on the eve of a national election through its demand for the removal of Brigadier General Sawyer, chief coordinator of the Federal Hospitalization board. Added interest is attached because Sawyer is President Harding's personal physician and lifelong friend. Rank and file of the legion got up on their hind legs in convention Thursday and ran away from the leader, who had been followed dolefully. It was the first time the convention had not voted yes without debate, on anything suggested by Rye.

The intermezzo, "Golden Light," by the entire band, was followed by another of Sousa's compositions, "U. S. Field Artillery".

Audience Likes Zylphones

"A Bouquet of Beloved Inspirations," composed by Sousa, gave the audience snatches of musical themes which Sousa believes are most universally admired by music lovers. The encore to this was, "Look for the Silver Lining," by Kern.

The third soloist was Mr. George Carey who played, "The Witches Dance", by Macdowell on the zylphones and when recalled played "Nola," by Arndt, and when recalled for the second time played, "Kalus," by Kearns.

Again the band played a Sousa composition, "The Gallant Seventh," followed immediately by, "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Miss Caroline Thomas, violin soloist, played, "The Romance and Finale from Second Concerto," and played as an encore to this, "Souvenir." The final selection was the Cowboy Breakdown, "Turkey in the Straw," transcribed by Guion.

HENRY PRENTISS IS SERIOUSLY HURT BY FALL

Shatters Vertebrae in Neck; Small Hope Held Out for Recovery

Henry J. Prentiss Jr. B. A. '22, son of Prof. Henry J. Prentiss, head of the departments of anatomy, histology and embryology in the college of medicine was severely injured, probably fatally, at 7:20 a. m. yesterday when he fell down a long flight of cement stairs at the Cedar Rapids Republican and Times office where he has been employed since Monday.

Prentiss, who was working in the capacity of city editor at the Republican, had sent one of his reporters out on an assignment and wishing to recall the man started to rush down the stairs after him. At the landing he stumbled and was thrown head first down the remainder of the flight. He was not rendered unconscious and was able to assist in picking himself up with the aid of co-workers who laid him on a table and called an ambulance which removed him to St. Luke's hospital.

He was examined at the hospital by Dr. Linn Crawford of Cedar Rapids who gave him preliminary treatment and called his father Dr. Henry J. Prentiss. Dr. Prentiss was accompanied to Cedar Rapids by Prof. Charles J. Rowan, head of the department of surgery in the college of medicine.

After examining the young man carefully and consulting x-ray pictures that had been taken the three doctors held a conference and issued a statement that the young man's chances for recovery were very slight. The x-ray showed that three vertebrae had been shattered.

It was also believed by the doctors that the spinal cord itself had been injured. Prentiss has been paralyzed from the neck down since the injury, and has also complained of a scalp wound, but was still conscious at a late hour last night.

Prentiss was graduated from the college of liberal arts last June and went immediately to the Des Moines Tribune as a member of the editorial staff. When Ralph G. Grassfield, former University student, bought the Republican last month Prentiss was engaged to take over the position of city editor. He and his wife, to whom he was married last August and who was formerly Miss Marion Chase of Clinton, moved to Cedar Rapids last Saturday and Prentiss took up his new duties Monday.

Violations—All violations must be explained. Not more than five will be excused by the Board of Control. All excuses must be written. A season is defined as beginning with the first and ending with the final game.

The complete constitution is now posted at the Women's gym. A masquerade party is being arranged for next Wednesday. All W. A. A. members and women who are now working for their initial points, will be guests.

At this meeting of the constitution will be presented to the W. A. A. for approval.

Emel Hartman A4 of Junction City, Kansas, has charge of the arrangements for the masque.

EACH COMMISSION MEMBER ENTERTAINS TWENTY NEW WOMEN

During October, freshman commission members chosen last year are entertaining all freshman women enrolled in the University. Each commission member entertains a group of twenty girls at three parties. After the girls have become acquainted, each group will recommend one girl for permanent position on this year's commission subject to the approval of the Y. W. C. A.

Freshman women whose names have been omitted from the lists and who, consequently, receive no party invitations should report the error to Verne Shaw A2 Watertown, S. D., Black 259.

PLAY BY PLAY REPORTS SENT TO NEW ARMORY

Telegraphic reports of the Iowa-Illinois football game will be received at the New Armory next Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. A direct wire from Urbana has been leased by the athletic department and a play by play account of the game will be announced.

Year athletic tickets will admit anyone to hear the reports.

ALL ENGLAND IN UPROAR AS GEORGE QUILTS

Conservative and Liberal Parties Caucus to Discuss British Future

(By United News)

London, Oct. 19—Upon the shoulders of Andrew Bonar Law, the original supporter of the coalition government, but in the end the leader breaking the Lloyd George regime, has fallen the responsibility of forming a new cabinet to follow the Georgian ministry. At the close of a day of tremendous excitement throughout England's political circles, a stormy and near riotous scene at the aristocratic Carlton club, the resignation of Lloyd George, the King's request of Bonar Law to take the premiership and finally conservative and liberal party caucuses to discuss the future, England awaited the next move in one of the most dramatic situations in all its political history.

(By United News)

Bulletin, London, Oct. 19—Lloyd George, according to those intimately associated with him, will remain in public life and probably lead the most dangerous opposition any British government has encountered in a century. The ex-premier's secretary, while reticent as to the Welshman's immediate future plans, emphatically indicated that he had no intention of retiring from politics. He still holds his seat in parliament and with several of the unionist members of his cabinet already intimating they will follow him whatever program he adopts, speculation has begun over the possibility of a new party with Lloyd George at its head.

STAFF AND CIRCLE TO BREAKFAST AT HOME-COMING; FAVOR UNION

The Staff and Circle women's honorary senior society, held a banquet at the home of Elizabeth Ensign A4 of Iowa City last night. After the banquet, plans were made for the year and the committees for coming events were appointed. Mrs. Jean Spires Holgeson of Fargo, N. D., was appointed chairman of the Homecoming committee and has charge of the Homecoming breakfast. Other members of the committee are: Helen Peterson, assistant dean of women, Catherine Hamilton A4 of Pasadena, Calif., Maurine A. Yaggy A4 of Daventry.

The Staff and Circle will sell university song books as they did last year. Beatrice Gates A4 of Pierre, S. D., will be chairman of the song book committee. Other members will be Elizabeth Ensign A4 of Iowa City and Catherine T. Wright A4 of Des Moines.

The Staff and Circle went on record as favoring the Memorial Union and every member pledged their support in the coming campaign. The next meeting of Staff and Circle will be in charge of Beatrice Gates and Francis Smith A4 of Montezuma. It will be held November 2.

2 DOWN AND 5 TO GO IS ENGINEERS' SLOGAN

The new engineers' football epidemic, mounted yesterday upon the sign-board at the top of the engineering building, is a phrase stolen from the jargon of the gridiron. "2 DOWN AND 5 TO GO" indicates those two scalps already dangling at Iowa's belt and those five other scheduled scalps which she means to win before the football season closes. The sequel to this proud statement of facts and intention is a clinical secret, the concocting junior engineers say, but it will appear immediately following the final reports of the Iowa-Illinois game Saturday.

PHYSICAL TRAINING STARTS OCTOBER 23

Locker Room Completed; Will Order 800 New Lockers to Meet Increase

Men's physical education classes will not meet this week but will begin regular work Monday, October 23. At present, the Odd Fellows are holding their convention on the main gymnasium floor. They will occupy it until Wednesday, and then it will be used again Thursday for Sousa and his band.

Up to date about one third of the men registered for physical education have taken their physical examinations. Therefore E. G. Schroeder, director, and his assistants, will spend the rest of the week trying to get them through the tests. This is quite a task as it includes swimming tests, lung tests, grip tests, and other strength tests that must be passed by the men.

The newly equipped gymnasium is one the student's should be proud to use. All of the lockers are now in the basement, which has been reconstructed and makes room for all of them. There are 1600 now, but the increase in the number of students has made it necessary to order 800 more. They will be here and set up for use in about two weeks.

Other features of the new basement are the new, easily regulated showers, and the good light from the windows. Mr. Schroeder and his staff are taking special interest in the newly equipped gymnasium and Mr. Schroeder said that hot water always be ready and also that the towel supply will be plentiful. At present he has 150 dozen towels on hand, and has ordered 100 dozen more.

The old locker room will also be refitted. A new wood floor will be laid over the cement, and the room will be used for boxing classes.

UNIVERSITY HEATING PLANT CONSUMES CAR LOAD COAL PER DAY

Heating plant (number one) at the University consumes one carload of coal every day during the winter. The plant heats all University buildings east of the river and extending to Dubuque street. The hospital is sometimes connected in case of emergency. The Gilbert street plant can be tied together on the same line. Currier hall street plant can be tied together on the same line. Currier hall and adjacent buildings are handled in this manner. Number two plant was designed primarily for hospital use.

In 1911 the first alternating generator was installed. Before that time the generator was of a direct current. A few years later a 150 kilowatt generator was used. In 1920 additional ones were applied. In addition the generator is supported by 156 kilowatts from the Hydro Power plant.

The ash from consumed fuel are not touched by human hands. They are thrown into an immense reservoir by means of a steam jet conveyor. They are used by the city and University for repair upon the streets and alleys.

All University water is pumped from University wells. The largest well is located at number one plant. A thirty horse power motor is used to pump the water from this well.

The steam plant is operated from 6 a. m. to 11 p. m. There are ten electricians in attendance, six operators in charge of generators, besides unskilled laborers in various departments. The chief electrician is R. J. McGinnis.

The sixth boiler has just arrived and will be used immediately.

MEN WILL SPORT CORSET EFFECTS

New Models Show off Male Figure on Dance Floor or on the Street

(By United News)
Chicago, Oct. 18—Gentlemen, the masculine figure is about to come in to its own! Corset effects in men's clothing are the thing this season, and according to the style experts at the national clothier's convention in session here, men from this time forward will be properly supported in the proper place, while women slink down the boulevard with the debutant slouch which is encouraged by their newest fashion. The male of the streets, will in direct contrast, walk upright and gracefully, the clothiers gleefully announce.

The convention will show you the neatest trouser models you ever saw to support this contention and exhibitors said Wednesday that the masculine style is the greatest thing ever for the male. Apollos who proudly strut the bathing beaches in the summer, but heretofore have been forced to hide their shapely lines while on the street or dance floor. Here is the secret of the corset effect which causes the convention male suit models to be so well pleased with themselves.

The trousers are equipped with a new pliable belt. This is permanently attached but instead of going all the way around the abdomen or stomach it is in two pieces, each half attached to one side of the trousers and drawn around in the front. The back remains unsupported.

The national clothier's association has yet to secure a constitutional amendment making the wearing of these creations compulsory.

FIVE IOWA VISITORS AT YALE DRIVE HOME ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The five men who made a wild dash overland to New Haven, Conn., returned to Iowa City late Wednesday night. They were welcomed and cheered all along the line. Burly traffic cops in Cleveland and other large Middle Western cities grimed at the highly decorated and over loaded roadster, plastered with "Iowa Fights," "Iowa to Yale," etc., and with a wave of the hand gave them the right of way. Many were the shouts of "Best of luck, boys," and "Hope you win".

Only One Accident
Over 3300 miles were covered in the trip and 213 gallons of gasoline consumed. The men left Wednesday directly after the team pulled out but beat the train to Davenport. The pace was continued until they hit bad roads in Ohio. They drove continuously spending but two nights in hotels, Friday in Waterbury, Conn., and Sunday in Philadelphia. The trip east was made in fifty hours or driving time, but the return was delayed by an accident just out of Philadelphia, when the car spun around on the slippery paving and crashed into a telephone pole. This accident which occurred Sunday morning forced them to spend the night in Philadelphia. They left that city Monday afternoon.

Visited Many Universities
Besides witnessing the Iowa victory in the Yale bowl, the men gave the "little old town of New York" the once over, and visited the fraternity houses at Yale, the University of Pennsylvania, Ohio State, and Illinois. While in Philadelphia they strolled through the historical rooms of Independence Hall. Later, they drove around the battle fields of Gettysburg.

The trip took the men through eleven states and through such cities as South Bend, Erie, Rochester, Albany, Columbus, Wheeling, Indianapolis, etc. The sharp weather and light rains only added zest to the event. The party was composed of Ed. DeSilva, Bob Ford, Carl Gnam, and Don Merritt, Betas, and John Kraft, Sig Alph.

TROWBRIDGE STUDIES DELTA OF MISSISSIPPI FOR U. S. GOVERNMENT

Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge of the department of geology has spent the last several summers in government work. At present his field is the Mississippi delta. The work, on which he is now engaged, was started in the summer of 1921, under the auspices of the United States geological survey, which is a bureau of the department of the interior. In 1922, the work was continued, this time on a transfer to the war department with assignment to the office of the district U. S. engineer in New Orleans.

The work involves a study of the sediment deposited at the mouths of the Mississippi river, the formation of bars outside the mouths of the river, the crevassing at times of floods, the origin and history of the several mouths, and the rate of advance of the delta. These and other problems of the delta are being studied with a view to advancing the district engineer concerning the maintenance of the passes as navigable channels to the port of New Orleans, as well as for increasing the scientific knowledge of sedimentation.

During the past summer Professor Trowbridge was in charge of a party consisting of his scientific assistant, Mr. Littlefield, graduate student in geology at the University, two boatmen, and a cook. The party headquartered in the U. S. Quarterboat Intercoastal, which was equipped with sleeping rooms, commissary accommodations, an office, and a sedimentation laboratory.

Since returning to the University this autumn Professor Trowbridge has prepared a report of 100 pages, supplemented by eighty-five maps, diagrams, photographs, and analyses, which has been submitted to the district engineer at New Orleans.

The convention will show you the neatest trouser models you ever saw to support this contention and exhibitors said Wednesday that the masculine style is the greatest thing ever for the male. Apollos who proudly strut the bathing beaches in the summer, but heretofore have been forced to hide their shapely lines while on the street or dance floor. The New Tariff Law Makes Future Prices Higher
ALL OUR PRESENT STOCKS WERE BOUGHT ON THE OLD LOW BASIS

Thrifty People will Buy Now and Avoid the New Tax

The immediate effect of the new tariff will be to greatly increase the prices that must be paid for many kinds of merchandise.

Our vast Fall and Winter stocks have been purchased ahead of all these new tariff increases, and while many stocks of goods will be marked up to meet the new tariff prices, our stocks will NOT BE SO MARKED.

All Goods Now Owned by Us Will be Sold on the Old Low Price Basis

People who know the facts about this new condition and who wish to lay in the supplies that will be required in the near future will need no argument from us to realize that such purchases should be made WHILE PRESENT STOCKS ARE AVAILABLE.

Prices are down to the lowest basis that they have been in many years, and they are BOUND TO GO HIGHER VERY SOON.

Since the enactment of the new tariff, advances have already occurred in many lines.

Of all the times in recent years,
this Fall is the TIME FOR WISE
PEOPLE TO BUY GOODS.

Again we urge you to BUY NOW!

Mr. Lyman was a college mate of Rev. W. C. Schafer, the Congregational University pastor, and will be entertained at his home during his stay in Iowa City. Students who desire personal interviews with Professor Lyman can make arrangements for them through the Rev. Mr. Schafer.

AUTO COLLISION YESTERDAY

An auto collision which miraculously missed being fatal occurred yesterday noon when a Ford touring car struck a Ford coupe on Van Buren avenue a few feet south of Iowa avenue. Charles Hart who saw the accident, stated that the touring car driver, John Strub, was heading south on Van Buren at a pace considerably over thirty miles an hour when he struck Clifford Rittermeyer, driving the coupe who had just turned south on Van Buren.

Both drivers assured the crowd that gathered after the smash-up that they saw each other, but both of them also expected the other to slow down.

ROLLINS WILL SPEAK TO AMERICAN HISTORY STUDENTS MONDAY A. M.

Phillip Ashton Rollins, author of "The Cowboy," will visit Iowa City, Monday, October 23. Monday afternoon he will speak to the students in "Western American History." At 4:10 p. m. he will address a joint seminar in the rooms of the State Historical Society.

Mr. Rollins is a graduate of Princeton University and was at one time a member of the board of trustees of Columbia University. Although the author's home is in New York City he has spent many years on the western frontier with the American cowboy. He understands the character of the cowboy perhaps better than any one who has written about western life. Mr. Rollins' book "The Cowboy", tells of the cowboys characteristics, their equipment, and their part in the development of the west. The writer attempts to picture the western ranchmen in their ordinary course of business and recounts accurately the every day life of the old time range.

CHEMISTRY CLUB TOOK IN 130 NEW MEMBERS

One hundred and thirty new members appeared at the Chemistry club mixer Wednesday night. The turnout was so large that the limited space available in close hall for the gathering proved to be inadequate.

Some purely social activities are being planned and it is possible that the club will give several dances this year.

The next regular meeting of the club will have as its chief feature an address by either Doctor Lee Lewis or Doctor Schlundt of the University of Missouri, an authority on the structure of atoms.

Doctor Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department, is planning to attend the meeting of the Chicago section of the American chemical society in Chicago today, at which meeting Doctor Lewis will be one of the chief speakers.

The next regular meeting of the Chemistry club will be held November 15.

Correction

Miss Jennie Hance of Iowa City who, according to yesterday's Daily Iowan was elected Secretary and treasurer of senior law class, was elected secretary. Mr. James W. Fay of Emmetsburg is the newly elected treasurer.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armstrong of Waterloo, Ia., wish to extend their deepest appreciation and thanks to the people of Iowa City and University students, who were so kind to them, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

COLD WEATHER SCARES OUT WEIGHT MEN, SAYS CAPTAIN TOM E. MARTIN

There has been a great dropping off in the number of varsity and Freshman weight men reporting for practice, stated Captain T. E. Martin of the University track coaching staff. There were a good number of men competing in the Freshmen meet last Saturday, but since the colder weather has come on, the men have stopped coming out.

Captain Martin has announced that all the weight men with the exception of the hammer throwers will work out on Iowa Field. Heavy clothing will be issued and all men, freshmen especially, are urged to report. Captain Martin will work with both the freshman track men and the varsity and freshman weight men. The reason that he is specializing on the weights is that future meets will be won or lost on those events. Iowa, as it is known, is weak in the weights, and must build these up to have a strong team.

"That is why I want men out for fall work, since a great deal can be accomplished while the weather is still favorable," was the statement made by Captain Martin last night.

STYLE HEADQUARTERS

These days you will find this Store quite a show place. There are a lot of interesting things here to see—new Fall ideas in furnishings of every sort. We'd like to have you see them. Whether or not you are ready to buy doesn't make any difference. Special displays have been arranged just for you to look at.

CRIPPLED MEN SNAP THROUGH HARD PRACTICE

Twenty-five Named to Take Illini Trip; Locke Acts as Quarterback

Showing 100 per cent improvement in teamwork and spirit the Iowa varsity romped through a fast and snappy drill on Iowa Field last night in preparation for the Illini game Saturday. Contrary to the usual program no scrimmage was held and only a short period was devoted to improving the defense against the Illinois pass formation. Nugent, Locke, Jaqua, Shuttleworth, Parkin, Kelly, and Miller alternated at the backfield positions on the varsity, and all took turns in smearing the Illinois passes as worked by the third team. Only one or two passes were completed and it looks as though Coach Jones has developed a defense that will be hard for the Orange and Blue to penetrate with their renowned aerial attack.

Teams Run Signals

Practically the entire practice period was devoted to running signals, the teams stopping between spurts only long enough to get a fresh breath. During the intervals between the hard dashes up and down the field, the men kept warm by walking in a ring, and passing the ball from one to the other to get the feel of it. Captain Locke shifted to quarterback for a short period again last night and reeled off the signals as if he had always been there. When Locke took Parkin's place at quarter, Miller shifted to fullback and Nugent went in in Miller's position. This combination will no doubt be used in case of serious injury to Parkin.

The team appeared to be in about the same condition as during the last scrimmage. Parkin and Hancock are the only men still handicapped by injuries, but they are both of as light nature. Parkin's leg is still rather stiff, and Hancock is still bothered with his bad knee, which he twisted slightly in the light scrimmage against the thirds. Jones Warns Against Overconfidence

Coach Howard H. Jones warned his men against overconfidence again last night and seemed better satisfied with the attitude the team put forth in practice. The team will take its last workout at home tonight, and the squad will entrain at 9 p. m. for Urbana.

Following is the list of the twenty-nine players who will make the Illinois trip: Gordon C. Locke; J. F. Jaqua; L. C. Parkin; F. O. Seiling; E. C. Rich; G. W. Miller; C. E. Nugent; V. C. Shuttleworth; W. H. Thom; L. H. Kelley; J. Heldt; Scott McIntyre; Paul Minick; H. A. Moldenhauer; C. I. Meade; L. J. Kriz; G. Thompson; A. A. Johnstone; Karl Engleider; C. E. Roberts; Max Kadesky; B. M. Barrett; H. Wade; J. N. Hancock; F. L. Otte; L. C. White; Kirk Yerkes; F. J. Frank; D. W. James.

The game Saturday will be called at 2 p. m.

MAP MOTOR ROUTES TO IOWA-ILLINOIS GAME AT URBANA

In response to the inquiries of students desiring to motor to the Iowa-Illinois game at Urbana, the following routes have been suggested by Robert N. Carson, member of the executive committee of the Good Roads' board of the American automobile association.

"The total mileage is 261 miles via the following route: Iowa City to Davenport via primary road No. 7 or the White Way-7-Highway. Thence from Rock Island, Ill., to Urbana, via Milan, Orion, Cambridge, Bishop, Hill, Galva, Toulon, Wyoming, Princeville, Peoria, Groveland, Allentown, Mackinaw, Danvers, Twin Grove, Bloomington, LeRoy, Farmer City, Champion, Urbana. There are three optional routes between Peoria and Bloomington.

Distance Iowa City to Rock Island 60 miles. Rock Island to Peoria 105 miles. Peoria to Bloomington 42 miles. Bloomington to Urbana 54 miles. Total 261 miles. A great portion of the route Rock Island to Peoria is over oiled roads. The balance of the route is over Illinois truck line highways. Another good optional route Peoria to Bloomington, is via Morton, Deer Creek, Goodfield, Congerville, and Carlock. Inquiry at Peoria will give you the best route to Bloomington."

MAROONS WORKING TO IMPROVE LINE GAME FOR PRINCETON CLASH

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29, Special to the Daily Iowan.—With the Princeton game only two weeks ahead, Stagg's Maroons are undergoing a grilling period of practice, in hopes that they may repeat last year's victory over the Tigers. Although next week's game with Purdue promises to be an interesting one, the Maroon exponents are turning their attention to the forthcoming contest, in which Chicago hopes to supplement Iowa's success in humbling a Big Three team.

Last Saturday's game with Northwestern, however, shows that the Staggs have a long way to go before they can accomplish this purpose. Dope expert's predictions of a "stone wall" line were upset when the Purple's weak offense made a series of considerable gains through the Maroon forwards.

With the return of Captain Harold Lewis to his old position at tackle, however, the line should be materially strengthened.

HULL DECLARER STUDENT ACTS IN CIVIC DUTIESPraises Iowa Victory Which Will Give Iowa Prestige in Congress

Congressman Harry Hull of Davenport while in Iowa City yesterday on campaign purposes left a message for the students of the University.

He said "I hope that the students will realize the importance of their taking part in the civic affairs of the nation. There is no more important part of education than that portion which deals with good government for the people.

It is their duty to be informed and by all means to show their interest by voting at the coming election. Any one over twenty one years of age can and should express themselves at the polls on Tuesday, November 7. The state of Iowa has recently made it possible for every student properly qualified, to exercise this right of suffrage by voting by mail.

It is only necessary to write to the county auditor asking for a ballot sheet and this can be filled out and sealed, making the vote secretly.

In speaking of the Iowa victory at Yale Mr. Hull said he stood out in the rain at Davenport with immense crowds of other Davenport people and cheered as the reports of Iowa's victory was radiographed to them.

He said, "I am proud to think that Iowa won and proud that the University of Iowa is not only in the state of Iowa but that it is in the district that I represent. I felt then and I feel now it will give added prestige and importance to the Iowa group of legislators at Washington.

Our eastern friends will realize that Iowa opinion has back of it superiority in the athletic field as well as in many other ways.

"My campaign manager Mr. Joe R. Lane of Davenport, was one of the party that had a special car from Davenport and took time to go to New Haven and cheer the boys on to victory.

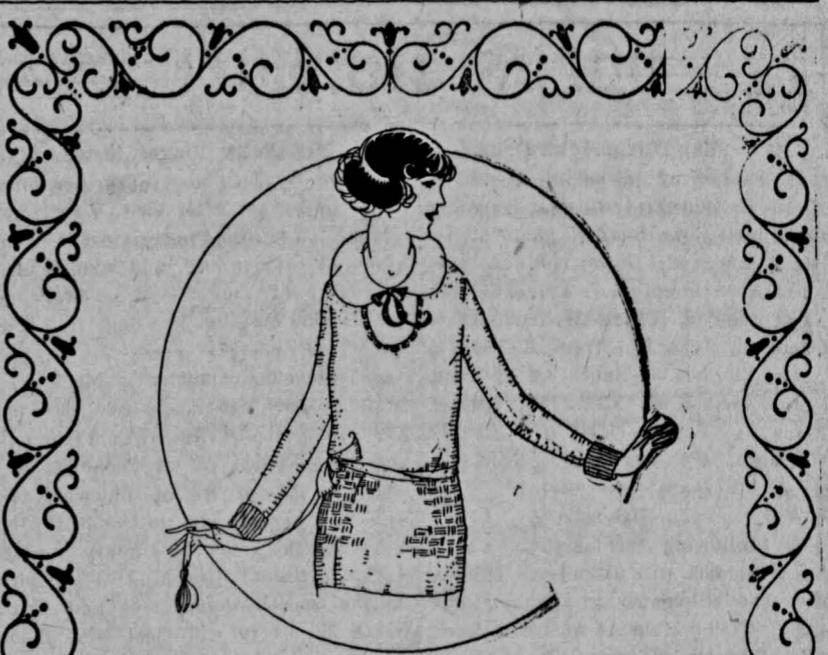

"We all sincerely hope that Iowa will win the Conference title again this year and they may rest assured that whether they do or not they will receive the heartiest co-operation from the representatives of the state of Iowa that any University would receive."

THE DAILY IOWAN, UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

DOPING THE DOPE

BY "PEST"

At the top of the editorial column of the Daily Illini is the following line in big type, "Wallop Iowa!"

It is about the best editorial that could be written for it means more than all the rest of the generalities below.

We don't believe that they can do it. Do You?

"God helps those who helps themselves, but prayer is a big aid when a job is beyond our power" is the way the old saying goes. That must be about the way the people at Illinois feel. The following is taken from the Daily Illini.

Praying Indians

Speaking about the game Saturday, we notice that Zup has adopted the methods used by the football team of Centre college. On the bulletin board was written: "There will be a prayer meeting at 8:30 o'clock tonight."

"Rune" Clark, quarterback on the Illini eleven is a brother of "Popsy" Clark, who made fame for Illinois several years ago. "Popsy" is credited with saying that his brother will be a better man than he ever was. We know that he is good because he used to be a whole team himself. He beat our home town high school team all by his own efforts not so many years ago. He was out of the Butler game with injuries, but is expected to bolster the Illini chances against Iowa on Saturday.

Walter Trumbull, writing in his column "The Listening Post" in the New York Herald is real nice to Kadsky, showing that someone besides the Dents like the little end. He says

"Kadsky, Iowa left end, is as nice a tackler as we have seen in some time. When he puts down a runner he does it in a wholehearted manner."

Trumbull was out here last year, and he kind of liked our bunch, at least he gave us a nice writeup. We did not know at that time that he was a poet, but the following is as true a piece of verse as was ever written.

"On All Americas of Yesteryear One seldom saw a Western star appear;

But, from results, it looks as if today Westward the star of football wends his way."

Even Grantland Rice, who usually does not have much to say for western teams, wrote the following:

"All the way out to the Bowl Saturday there were signs reading 'No Parking Here'. Yale should have put a sign in her back goal posts reading 'No Parkin Here.'

According to the Philadelphia Public Ledger the way that the game last Saturday should have been written-up was not East against West, nor Howard against Tad, nor even Iowa against Yale, but as follows "Parkin, of Waterloo, Iowa, defeated Mallory of Memphis, Tenn., by a score of 6 to 0 here Saturday.

Here is some poetry about the cripples of Yale that appeared in the Brooklyn Eagle before the game last Saturday. It was written by George Trevor, and is a true guess about bear stories.

"So Blair has gone and wrenched his knee,

And Beckett's hand is sore,

And Captain Jordan's sick-a-bed,

And Miller's leg runs gore,

And Tommy Hullman's feeling ill,

When the starting whistle blows."

And Bench has cracked a spine,

They're using crutches for the backs,

And stretchers for the line.

It's the same old story, fellows

We've heard so oft before.

The same old bunch of cripples,

The same old Eli roar,

But it doesn't go in Iowa,

Where "brother Howard" knows

That there are no Eli cripples

When the starting whistle blows."

WHAT ENTHUSIASM DOES

The following compendious statement appearing in the advertising columns of the Daily Iowan strikes at the root of business—it is the keynote of college life.

Enthusiasm is the attribute that has made business, commerce, industry, the servant of mankind; the force that has brought within easy reach of the mass, the luxuries of the few; the agency that has raised the standards of living.

Without enthusiasm, progress would wear leaden shoes. The Fire of Youth is the blaze which sweeps away old views; old methods, old ideas. It is the power that makes new paths, tries new ways, cultivates new faiths.

Enthusiasm for football on the part of American people has given the game its great popularity. A great enthusiasm for football at Iowa has been responsible for the University's long list of victories. A like amount of enthusiasm directed into other channels will produce the same amazing results.

President Jessup's great enthusiasm for the University of Iowa, in the writer's opinion, has been responsible for the giant strides forward taken by this institution in the past few years. The enthusiasm of one professor has brought University dramatics, and the things connected with it, into a place of great prominence in the student body.

It is left to the individual to bear the torch of enthusiasm to the multitude. It is regretful that there is a paucity of such men in the student body. The one thing needed most to make Iowa a champion in all lines is leaders—men who have caught the fire of enthusiasm and who can spread it to their classmates.

Enthusiasm is the dividing line between a bovine existence and real living.

SOME MORE OIL

A Northwestern university professor informs the nation that her college boys are growing better looking because of the advent of physical education in high schools during the last few years.

He teaches physical education and that might tend to make him prejudiced but he claims little of the credit for the change. He simply notes that the college boys of today possess clearer skins, and can boast better carriage and posture than those who have gone before them.

Physical education is a great thing and it could easily accomplish all the Northwestern professor claims. But we fear the work hasn't gone far enough. Some of those who haven't entered the physical exercising classes haven't become good looking; they have become pretty. And what is worse than a pretty college boy?

You know him. It was reported during the early part of the season that the prettiest boy on the squad wouldn't make the team. He hasn't yet. Credit must be given him for donning the moleskins, as the sports writers say. Most of the pretty boys expend their courage in the afternoon lapping up soft drinks, while chattering with softer co-eds. They should be taking physical training. Oily may put shiny hair on the head, but it doesn't grow it on the chest.

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

(Christian Science Monitor)

THE AMERICAN INDIAN SUMMER

As regularly as the people in the northern sections of the United States look forward to and prepare for the recurring advent of the four seasons, they expect and welcome the return of what has come to be called Indian summer. This is the period, brief or extended, after the first chilly winds from the north give warning of approaching winter, which intervenes as a pleasant reminder of the balmy days which have passed. More often Indian summer comes after the white frosts have changed the green of the forests and hillsides into the many-hued canvas upon which the maple and oak and the birch and ash mingle their tints. In fields and meadows the more persistent greens of the grasses remain. In the barn-lot are piled wagonloads of yellow pumpkins and heaps of fodder and corn. On the hills, and lingering in the valleys, are moving clouds of smoke which appear to come from fires whose origin no one seems to know. Diffused, these clouds form hazy banks, warm and inviting, behind which one may imagine there might, on some day long ago, have marched a cavalcade of Red men, accoutered and adorned for the war path.

Indian summer, one is told, was thus named because it gave to the once hostile American tribes an opportunity to renew campaigns and expeditions supposedly halted by earlier inclement weather. It would seem that the traditional feud between the Red men and the invading whites was hardly bitter enough to induce the defenders of a threatened domain to forgo what slight comfort they could find in the sheltered wigwam and around its generous wood fire.

Thus it may have been that the white settlers in New England and other sections of the north country came to look with apprehension for the return of the hazy Indian summer season, much as now its advent is hailed and enjoyed. Beyond the pasture line, where the smoke cloud deepens into the semblance of a barrage, there is no longer danger that a crafty and ingenious foe lurks. In the darkness of the woods and groves there is no longer that silence which the touch of a moccasined foot compels even from feathered and furry denizens. The old feuds have been forgotten, no doubt forever, and Indian summer comes as a season of rejoicing.

CAST FOR HEP-ZET PLAY TO LUNCH TODAY

Those members of the Hesperian and Zetagathian literary societies who were chosen by Professor Mabie to take part in the forth-coming production of "Mr. Pym Passes By" will meet at the Pagoda Tea Shop for luncheon and the first reading of the play at 11 o'clock today. The complete list of characters has not yet been announced owing to the fact that Professor Mabie has not definitely arranged the final cast of characters.

The play "Mr. Pym Passes By" by A. E. Miles is a clever comedy offering excellent character work. It is the story of how an innocent old man, a casual passer by, can work temporary havoc in a peaceful English family. Of course in the end everything turns out for the best and a young couple are brought together by the advent of the old gentleman in their lives. He passes peacefully in and out of the play totally unaware that he has begun, aided, and closed a drama in the lives of four people.

Lutheran young peoples society of Zion's Lutheran church will have a mixer in the church rooms tomorrow evening at 8 p.m.

SKULL OF BISON SENT TO UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

A portion of the skull of a now extinct species of bison has been received by Professor Abram O. Thomas, of the department of geology and will be placed in the museum. This specimen was sent by the father of Glenn Williams A2 of Galva who found the skull fourteen feet underground while digging a well.

"This skull," says Professor Thomas, "is from a species of western bison which existed many thousands of years ago. Unlike the modern buffalo, the horns of the now extinct animal were very broad, having a span of perhaps four or four and a half feet from tip to tip. From what we can learn about the animal, it was about the size of the bison with which we are familiar. So far, very few fossil remains of this animal have been unearthed. One has been found at Webster City, Iowa, one in Kansas, and a very few in Alaska."

Winning of Yale Game is Big Factor in Coming Drive Says Grassfield

At a meeting Wednesday night of the Memorial Union Council the campaign was divided into eight main groups which will include every student of the University. A big dinner similar to the one held at the Commercial Club last year is planned for November 6.

Director R. G. Grassfield in addressing the meeting said, "This is our big opportunity to put this proposition of the Memorial Union over. Ohio dedicates her memorial stadium this fall and has been working on the proposition a shorter time than we have. Last year the student body of Illinois went on record by the raising of $800,000 in two hours. To date, $440,000 has been pledged on the Iowa Memorial Union. The alumni are right on their toes, said director Grassfield, "and they are watching to see what the students are going to do in this fall campaign. The great football victory last week has done more than any other single factor to rouse the interest and enthusiasm of the alumni."

Director R. G. Grassfield with his partner, owns and manages a string of seven newspapers through the state and needless to say is an extremely busy man. At a meeting of the board trustees last week it was decided that in view of the large business interests of Mr. Grassfield, an attempt would be made to find a man capable of taking his place. In the meantime, however, Mr. Grassfield will devote all the time possible to the direction of the campaign. "As a business and newspaper man, I am absolutely and thoroughly convinced that it is worthwhile to sacrifice time and effort to put this proposition across," said Mr. Grassfield.

The office of the Memorial Union has been definitely established in Close Hall on the first floor, first door to the left of the entrance. The next meeting will be held before November 3 are Octave Thanet, Whity and Athena. The dates of these parties have not yet been picked.

In order to avoid the same confusion that occurred last year in sending out the bids a box will be placed outside of Professor Merry's office in which bids are to be placed ready for mailing.

Methodist sophomore and freshman women will hold a party at the church tonight at 7:30.

Dental students eat, sleep and drink in terms of points; hours mean but little to them. Before they graduate they must accumulate 1622 points in operative dentistry, prosthetics, and crown and bridge work. These points, moreover, must be made during the junior and senior years. If a junior student fails to make a minimum total of 500 points his work is marked, "unfinished." By dint of good, hard work a student often makes more than the allotted number of points, but none are allowed to make less.

The greatest number of points are required for operative dentistry. Operative dentistry has to do with gold, amalgam and cement fillings. 825 points must be made in this branch of the work. Forty-five points are required in pulp devitalization and root canal filling; sixteen in abscess filling; 200 in prophalactic work and seventy-five in gums and pyorrhoea treatment.

At the dental clinic students and town people are treated free of charge by junior and senior dental students. No work is pronounced finished until it has been passed upon by competent instructors. Upon the decisions of these instructors depends the amount of points given the student for work on the patient. The least number of points, usually from four to seven, are given for prophalactic, or teeth-cleaning work; the greatest number of points are given for combined upper and lower bridge making, this form of work often bringing fifty-six points.

Every dental student, from his entrance in the college to his graduation is drilled in efficiency and cleanliness. Untidy appearances and soiled instruments are not tolerated. Points are deducted for anything that hints of carelessness, while a student who persists in breaking these rules is not given a degree.

EASTERNER PRAISES WORK OF IOWA'S TEAM IN GAME WITH YALE

The following letter from Mr. B. M. Hope, of New Haven, Conn., was received by the city clerk of Iowa City.

"Will you kindly forward to me a copy of the best paper of your city of October 15, giving the account of the Iowa-Yale football game? It was a wonderful team that Iowa sent here to represent its University and it certainly lived up to its reputation, as well as achieving a result that it can well feel proud of.

The team certainly was a fine appearing aggregation and through its coach, Howard Jones, manifested that it had everything pertaining to football. May the said club have continued good luck in its coming games, for it surely is a team that any coach or university may well be proud of. Every man proved himself a gentleman and seemed to possess those characteristics that any athlete may feel proud of.

Thanking you in advance for same, believe me to remain yours in clean athletics."

LITERARY SOCIETIES SET PREFERRED PARTY DATES

The Women's forensic council set the dates for the literary societies' preferred parties at a meeting last week. Hesperia, Erodelphian and Hamlin Garland literary societies have already held their parties. Those to be held before November 3 are Octave Thanet, Whity and Athena. The dates of these parties have not yet been picked.

In order to avoid the same confusion that occurred last year in sending out the bids a box will be placed outside of Professor Merry's office in which bids are to be placed ready for mailing.

INVITE 7 WOMEN INTO SEALS CLUB

Brooker, Byrne, Cox, Chase,
Richter, Greene, Kay
Are New Members

Of the thirty women who tried out for the Seal's club at the three tryouts which have been held during the past week, seven were bid last night. They are Gladys Brooker A1 of Omaha, Nebraska, Evelyn Byrne A2 of Dubuque, Sara Cox A2 of Iowa City, Marjorie Kay A1 of Iowa City, Catherine Richter A1 of Davenport, Doris Greene A2 of Des Moines, and Eleanor Chase A1 of Clinton.

The Seals club is composed of the best swimmers among University women. The requirements for admittance to the club are the execution of three simple dives, a swim the length of the pool, which is sixty feet, in at least eighteen seconds, mastery of three standard strokes in good form, and a twenty-five foot plunge. The new members all showed unusually good technique and form.

OCTOBER ALUMNUS INTERESTS UNDER- GRADUATE STUDENTS

The October Alumnus issued yesterday contains a variety of articles of interest to both the student and alumnus.

For those who are now in school, such articles as, "How to Register", appeals to everyone. Arnold Hand A4 of Clinton gives a description of the long and tiresome process of registration showing also the humorous side of the situation side of the situation. More over he gives some excellent advice as to how to escape all the tedium of the dreaded operation with a very slight exertion, providing the student is blessed with a glib tongue.

In the description of life at the summer training camps, by George H. Seigle A4 of Muscatine, there is given an idea of the very real benefits to be gained from a summer spent at one of these camps. The training offers an ideal combination of physical and mental drill with plenty of recreation.

The football writeups furnish side lights on Coach Howard Jones and the men of his team. Along this line, "Reminiscences of an R. G." gives very definite hint as to where this Iowa spirit has come from.

For those who have romantic ideas of travel and strange countries and peoples, the article entitled, "Iowans Visit the Antipodes", is an economical way to gratify curiosity. The warm atmosphere of the south sea islands should be conducive to a frame of mind which would disregard the rigors of an Iowa winter.

Miss Florence Seidlitz, '82, has contributed some verses on autumn under the name of "October". Besides all these things, there are the various departments, such as "On the Campus", "With Iowa Writers," giving the latest publications, and a number of other articles.

HENRY PRENTISS INJURED SERIOUSLY BY FALL

Mr. Prentiss's abilities as a newspaper man were highly commended yesterday by Ralph G. Grassfield, editor of the Cedar Rapids Republican. "I was more than pleased with the way Prentiss plunged into his work," said Mr. Grassfield. "He was full of enthusiasm and had been working early and late. Although we had not announced it, Prentiss was to be managing editor of our paper, a position that carries a great deal of responsibility but one that Prentiss had already shown he was capable of filling. Prentiss had been highly recommended to us, but his work surpassed even the most glowing things we had heard of him when he was engaged."

In Des Moines where Mr. Prentiss worked before going to Cedar Rapids he was said by newspaper men to be the most promising young man they had ever seen. Mr. Prentiss was a reporter on The Daily Iowan two years ago, and last year was a night editor. While he was attending the University he worked one summer as a reporter on the Des Moines Tribune and had been on that paper since his graduation last June. Des Moines people will remember the good work he did with his "What's Your View" interviews and his column, "Seen and Heard," as well as the way he handled the big news happenings he covered for the Tribune.
