Brookhart and Soldier Bonus Win in State

PLEDGE UNION OVER $20,000 IN ONE DAY

Currier Raises $2,954, 5 Military Classes $13,428; Matt Satisfied

With one hundred and ten groups yet to report, and pledges coming in steadily, the Memorial Union fund has been increased $20,000, according to reports at 9 o'clock last night. Currier Hall, the freshman military classes, and eight sororities and fraternities raised this amount alone. Due to the necessity of the house to house canvassers to call on the students assigned to them, in the evening, the reports are slow in coming in, but those groups which have reported show wonderful response in pledging to the Union.

Currier Pledges $2,954
Five military classes which were solicited today pledged $13,428, and there are five more sections to be solicited today. The reports from Currier Hall are not complete yet, but $2,954 have already been pledged. The members of the three men's literary societies Irving, Zetaganian, and Philamathian, have contributed $2,560 and it is expected that this amount will be raised.

Eight sororities and fraternities gave incomplete returns to $3,289. The Sigma Pi fraternity reported 100 per cent support to the Union, every member having made a pledge. The great majority of the fraternities and sororities are yet to be heard from.

Matt Pleased
Hubert H. Matt L3 of Iowa City, who is in charge of the drive, says, "The results of the first day are as good as could be expected in view of the fact that only eight of the sororities and fraternities, half of the military class, and part of Currier Hall have been heard from at 9 o'clock last night. Only two of over a hundred groups in charge of the house to house campaign have turned in the results of their efforts. The reason being that these teams are waiting to report until they have seen all of the students in their groups."

Following are the results turned in by the sororities and fraternities which have reported up to 9 o'clock last night:
Chi Omega, $245.
Sigma Pi, $1,000.
Delta Zeta, $195.
Delta Gamma, $660.
Alpha Xi Delta, $190.
Kappa Kappa Gamma, $370.
Alpha Delta Pi, $90.
Iota Xi Epsilon, $500.
Phi Kappa, $400.

PRESIDENT JESSUP AT HOME TO FIRST YEAR STUDENTS TONIGHT

Pres. and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup will hold their annual reception to all new students in the University this evening at 7:30 at their home, 102 E. Church. Robert E. Rienow, dean of men, Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, acting dean of women, the chaperons of Currier hall and the Currier annexes, and the protectors of the Quadrangle will assist in the entertainment. Any first year student in the University is invited to attend.

LITERARY SOCIETIES TO DECORATE FIVE FLOATS

All the literary societies in the University are to represent the Iowa Memorial Union in the Homecoming and Armistice day parade next Saturday, November 11, according to George O. Hurley, A4 of Rolfe, president of the men's forensic council. There will be five floats decorated by the literary societies—Hesperia and Zetaganian will decorate one, Erodolphian and Irving one, Octave Thanet and Philomathean one, the three other women's literary societies, Hamlin Garland, Athena and Whitby, will have charge of a fourth float, and the fifth will be a large float representing the Memorial Union as a whole, which is to be the combined effort of all the societies.

HARDING'S DISTRICT FAVORS DEMOCRATS

(By United News)
Marion, Ohio, Nov. 7.—President Harding's own district gave the democratic candidate for congress the lead on early returns collected by the "Marion Star," the president's newspaper.
Dr. H. H. Hartman, democrat, had 1083, and Congressman Cole, republican, 1164 from 17 out of 352 precincts reporting.

IOWAN DOUBLES ROTOGRAVURE SIZE

Iowan Orders 7500 Copies of Homecoming Edition at Fifteen Cents a Copy

The special Homecoming edition of The Daily Iowan which will include a sixteen page rotogravure section of pictures of the university and its activities, will be sold on the streets Saturday morning. The rotogravure section, which is being printed by the Regensteiner Corporation of Chicago, is twice as large as the one published by the Iowan on Homecoming last year and the year before, and will be sold for fifteen cents per copy together with the regular news section.

Seventy-five hundred copies of both the news and rotogravure sections are being printed, which is the same number as were printed and sold last year. Twenty-five hundred of these go out to the regular subscribers without extra charge, leaving five thousand to be sold as extra copies. With the larger number returning for Homecoming this year, it is expected that this number will be sold out by ten o'clock, as a large number have already been ordered by students and alumni.

Cost 15 Cents
The cost of each copy of the sixteen page rotogravure section is over 16 cents, and either eight or twelve pages of news section will be sold with this for 15 cents. The section this year will be stitched in magazine form. The Regensteiner Corporation have printed the Daily Iowan rotogravure section for the past three years. There is but one other plant in Chicago which does this type of work, The Chicago Tribune plant, and they do not accept commercial work. The rotogravure work was on the press in Chicago yesterday and will be shipped by express today in time to be inserted to meet the first of the Homecomers.

First In Field
Two years ago the Iowan was the first University newspaper to attempt such an undertaking, and last year duplicated its feat. This year it hopes to set a record that will stand for sometime among University newspaper achievements. The total cost of the whole edition is over $1,600. As a safeguard against loss from small sales if the weather should be bad, the business manager has taken out an insurance policy against rain from the hours of eight to twelve on Saturday morning. More than a ton of paper will be used to print both sections.
An entirely different style has been used in the make-up of the color section. There are but two large cuts on front page, one of President Jessup and the other a group picture of the Board of Deans. Most of the pictures used throughout the section are ones which have never been seen in print before, new and interesting reproductions of all phases of university life. There is a full page devoted to women's athletics, one to military, one to the Memorial Union, a page to dramatics, another to the celebration of the Yale victory, and many others on athletics and other varied activities.

UNION HELPERS MAKE FINAL REPORTS BY 11

All helpers who are helping on the Memorial Union at the sororities and fraternities and canvassing the town are requested to get their reports in at the office at Close hall by 11 o'clock tonight since the campaign is to be put over in forty-eight hours.

G.O.P. WORRIED AS DEMOCRATS FIGHT FOR LEAD

Pendulum That Swung High for Republicans in 1920 Has Swung Back

(By Robert J. Bender)
(United News Staff Correspondent)
New York, Nov. 7.—The democratic swing through the country endangering the number of republican candidates to reelection is regarded as virtually certain.
In New York the outcome of the Calder-Copland fight is still in doubt with Copland running far behind Senator Calder upstate candidate but, overcoming this by going two to one in greater New York. The election of Copland would be one democratic gain. Another appears inevitable in New Jersey where Governor Edwards seems to have carried Hudson county, —wet stronghold,—by over 75,000 votes against Senator Frelinghuysen, republican.

A third republican loss is indicated by early returns from West Virginia where Senator Sutherland is still lagging behind M. M. Neeley, democrat.
Returns of an entirely unexpected nature come from Indianapolis and threw a terrific shock into republican ranks. Alfred Beveridge after running behind in Marion county and in Indianapolis, usually a strong republican city, continued to trail Governor Ralston his democratic opponent who appears to be sweeping the state. On the other hand former Governor Winthrop Beekman, republican, is leading senator Peter Gerry, democrat, in Rhode Island with about ten per cent of the districts heard from. This couple with the lead of former Congressman Fess, republican, over senator Palmerine in Ohio was the only bright light on the republican senatorial horizon, at 10 o'clock.

Reelection of Senators Reed and Pepper in Pennsylvania and the apparent reelection of Senator McLean in Connecticut helped to ease republican concern. In Massachusetts, however, the most significant and important senatorial election of them all, failure of Senator Lodge to pile up the majorities expected outside of Boston, began to make Colonel Gaston's lead a 45,000 one in the "hub city," extremely dangerous. Usually Boston is democratic while the outside communities return a republican victory for the state. Gaston, however, was running amazingly strong and was benefiting by the republican enemies at large who were slashing his opponents votes.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM HAS GOOD CHANCE TO LICK GOPHER RUNNERS

On Iowa Field at 11 o'clock next Saturday morning, the Iowa cross country team will line up against the Minnesota harriers for the start of a five mile run. Negotiations are now being made between the two schools in order that eight men, instead of the usual six, may compete.

In spite of the fact that the Hawkeyes suffered a defeat at the hands of Cornell last Saturday, they expect to go up against the Minnesota team to win. The Gophers themselves, were defeated by the strong Wisconsin team last Saturday by a score of 16 to 29. Winners, the highly praised captain of the Gopher harriers, did not do so well in Saturday's race. His teammate, Ulrich, was the first Minnesota man to finish, while Winters placed eight. The time of the race was 27 minutes, 23 3-5 seconds.

The Hawkeye squad has been working hard this week in preparation for the event. Captain Ashton has been leading the men in runs over two and three mile courses. Phelps, who injured his ankle in the tryout preceding the Cornell meet, has not yet reported for work, and it is doubtful if he will run Saturday.

TURKS BECOME ARROGANT; NEW WAR PROBABLE

Kemalists Break Terms of Armistice; Allies Must Capitulate or Fight

(By United News)
Constantinople, Nov. 7.—Regardless of Allied protests the Turkish Nationalists are proceeding in the installation of their regime here, taking over the customs administration, dissolving allied courts and commissions and otherwise displaying provocative intentions. The situation is grave.
Both the capitulations and the armistice terms have been violated. The Kemalists order the dissolution of the mixed courts for settlement of disputes involving foreigners, they suppressed the Allied sanitary commission, they took charge of the customs administration forbidding the diversion of the three per cent quota which has been used for payment of the Ottoman debt. All debt collecting officials were dismissed from the customs offices. A pronounced attitude of hostility to wards foreigners exists. Greeks and Christians are alarmed. The arbitrary actions of the Kemalists brought a protest from the allied nationalist.

Pasha Meets With Allied Generals
Allied generals met with Refet Pasha, new governor of Constantinople. The session was marked with frigid formality. Gen Sir Charles Harrington, British representative informed the Turkish representatives that the allied generals had no power to relinquish their authority here, inasmuch as they were under orders from their government. He said the allies' representatives were responsible for the maintenance of order until the city has formally been turned over to the Turkish troops.
The French and Italian generals endorsed Gen. Harrington's declaration. Siege of Constantinople Considered
London—Probably necessity of declaring a state of siege on Constantinople because of the arrogant activities of the Turkish nationalists is being

FIFTEEN FRESHMEN WOMEN SEEK HONORS IN LITERARY SOCIETY

Fifteen names have been placed on the list of nominees for positions in the freshman women's literary society. These names will be voted upon at a meeting of the society this evening at 7 o'clock in the liberal arts assembly room. The meeting will be over in time for the president's reception.

The following freshmen women who have been nominated have had their grades certified by Dean Adelaide Burge: For president—Helen Crouch, Edith Adams, Dorothy Tebai; for vice-president—Grace King, Mary Louise Baker, Gayle Know; for keeper of records—Ester Marie Hansen, Berenice Purell, Alice Davis; for treasurer—Margaret Carter, Martha Ammons, Lena Canny; for sergeant at arms—Genevieve Harter, Hortense Hartsock, Esther Harding.

ADD $100 TO Y. M. Y. W. SUBSCRIPTIONS

Although the campaign to raise funds on the campus for Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. work closed Monday, the reports are still coming in. Workers reported $100 to be added to the $6,000.00 already subscribed, and there are others to yet report. Pledges from students will still be received at either the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. office. Most of the workers on the campaign are now working on the Memorial union drive. Among the teams the one with Gerhart B. Noll as major secured the most subscriptions. Their total subscriptions were $700.00 out of the total of $6000.00. His captains were: Anton Anderson A4 of Bidge-way, Helen A. Boyce A3 of Denver, Edward F. Voltmer A4 of Sigourney, Marjorie Washburn A1 of Iowa City, and Ryand W. Warren G of Witt, Va.

FIGHT FOR IOWA'S GRID HONORS SAY SENIOR ENGINEERS

"Fight for Iowa's Grid Honors Tournaments" is the slogan that will flash every night from the sign on the physics building until after Homecoming. Similar electric signs are put up by the senior electrical engineering class annually. There is a torch at the top of the sign which is illuminated intermittently. The word "Fight," being the first letters of the words "For Iowa's Grid Honors Tournaments," is illuminated and then the rest of the sign. The translation of the French word "tournaments" is "always." The work on the sign was in charge of Clinton H. Smoke S3 of Iowa City.

FIX REILLY MINE CASUALTIES AT 78

Thirty-Three Escape; Coroner Will Conduct Inquest Within Short Time

(By United News)
Spangler, Pa., Nov. 7.—The death toll at the Reilly mine here has been unofficially fixed at sixty-eight with thirty-three injured, several of them so badly they may die.

Seventy-four bodies have been recovered. Sixty-four have been identified and two other bodies are still in the mine. The most authoritative figures show that twelve entered the death mine Tuesday morning. Three escaped uninjured. Of the ten bodies unidentified it is believed several will never be identified, being so badly mutilated and burned that recognition is impossible.

Spangler, Tuesday is a city of the dead. Practically everyone has a relative dead or injured and there is hardly a house into which tragedy has not stalked. At the town itself, a half mile from the shaft, groups of men stand at the corners and not a voice is heard above a whisper. These groups line the curbs and the ambulances and motor trucks come rumbling in. If they turn towards the hospital the groups reform. If they stop at the miners' hall there is a subdued shuffle of feet and the men move over to find out the name of the latest addition to the ever growing death list.

Coroner M. W. Swabb and Deputy Coroner Yost are conducting a preliminary investigation into the cause of the disaster. An inquest will be held as soon as possible the coroner said.

BROADCAST UNIVERSITY EVENTS THROUGH U. S.

Every evening at 8 o'clock, with the exception of Tuesday and Thursday, concerts and speeches occurring in Iowa City will be broadcasted over the states by means of the radio set in the basement of the physics building. According to Peter A. Stover S3 of Marango, operator, the programs sent by the Iowa City radio set can be heard as far east as Pittsburgh and as far west as Denver and Salt Lake City.

Receiving sets are placed in room 110 in the music building and the natural science auditorium. Reports of the games played on the field or in the armory are telephoned to the station in the physics basement.

The various programs held by the students and professors in the music department, the concerts given by musical artists procured by them, as well as speeches of famous men who make their appearance in Iowa City, will all be broadcasted by the radio set.
Stover said, "This is the first year that concerts, reports and speeches have ever been broadcasted officially from this place. This year Iowa is known as an official broadcasting station."

An experimental radio set has been set up by T. A. Hunter S4 of Iowa City in the advanced laboratory in the physics building.

COUNCIL TO PLAN ELECTION TONIGHT

There will be an important meeting of the student council tonight at 7:30 in room 13, liberal arts building. This meeting is to decide the method of election in the college of liberal arts.

EARLY RETURNS POINT TO EASY WIN FOR BOTH

Republican Candidate Defeats Herring In Senatorial Race

It was indicated in the early returns last night that Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa republican senatorial candidate, easily defeated the democratic candidate, Clyde L. Herring, and that the Iowa soldiers' bonus bill was carried by a three to one vote.

IOWA CITY SPLITS VOTE IN ELECTION

Republicans Lead in Race for Governor, Sheriff, Clerk, and Treasurer

At midnight, last night, election returns in Iowa City indicated that, throughout the five wards of the city, the Iowa soldiers' bonus bill carried three to one. Herring led Brookhart in the senatorial race by a small majority. Governor Kendall maintained a slight lead over Files. The contest between Hull and Cook for congressman from this district was exceptionally close with Cook leading. Republican candidates for sheriff, county clerk, and county treasurer led by slight majorities, whereas the rest of the ticket was conceded to go democratic.

The count of the machines of the five Iowa City wards follows. The paper ballots as far as tabulated maintained about the same ratios.
Smith W. Brookhart, republican senatorial candidate, received 1005 to Clyde L. Herring's 1297.

Governor Nate E. Kendall, republican candidate for re-election, led Files 1232 to 1084.

The machine poll gave Wayne G. Cook, Democrat, of Davenport, a lead of 5 over Congressman Hull, Cook received 1165 to Hull's 1160. Cook is a brother of Edmund M. Cook, Davenport, who was graduated from the law college last spring.

In the race for county treasurer, Charles C. Shrader, Republican, now in office, polled 1307 votes to 1017 polled by Francis J. Boyle, the Democratic overseas ex-service candidate.

James S. Martin, Republican candidate for sheriff, led the Democratic candidate, Mike Malone, former chief of police, for Iowa City, 1254 to 1073.

The contest for county clerk developed into a close race. The poll gave B. V. Bridenstine, Republican, 1182 votes to Charles F. Benda's 1138.

The candidates for justice of the peace stood, T. E. Murphy, democrat, 1328, E. A. Crossett, Republican, 1273, and George T. Reddick, democrat, 1068.

Two Justices Were to be Elected
In the contests for the other county offices, the Democrats had little trouble. J. H. Donohue, democratic candidate for coroner, polled 1239 to 1081 received by A. C. Harmon, his republican opponent. The vote for supervisors went overwhelmingly Democratic. Charles B. Shellady, democrat, outdistanced his opponent, James J. Murphy, republican, 1371 to 947. George G. Ranshaw and George E. Zenishek, democratic candidates for the term beginning, January, 1924, led their Republican opponents, Clay Bowersox and George Zahradnek, by a three to one majority.

The vote at this election was but three-fourths of the vote cast at the election two years ago. About 3600 votes were cast. Both voting machines and paper ballots were used. In the third ward three times as many votes were cast on the machine as by paper ballot, but in the second the vote ran about half and half. Practically every voter cast his vote on the proposition of the soldiers' bonus.

FLIERS ARE READY TO CONTINUE RIDE

Daredevils Will Make Another Flight if Wanted, They Claim

(By United News)

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Lieutenants MacReady and Kelly are ready for another attempt at a transcontinental non-stop flight tomorrow if the air service so desires.

The two daredevils who broke the world's record non stop distance flight and were cheated out of their chances to make a non-stop coast to coast flight by a leaky water pipe in the motor of the T-2, are waiting tonight—the first relaxation they have had since leaving San Diego, Friday. Both Lieutenants have recovered from the severe nervous strain of being hurled through the air at a speed of 125 miles an hour for more than 25 miles straight.

"With 25 more gallons more water we could have completed the trip," Lieutenant Kelly declared.

Wind, rain and fog failed to check the plunging plane from its mad dash from coast to coast. A leaky water pipe in the radiator brought to end, one of the most daring attempts ever made to cross the continent.

The fliers left San Diego at 5:59 Friday morning. They were forced to land shortly after 9 a. m., today. The actual flying time was twenty-nine hours and 48 minutes. They covered 2,100 miles.

Macready Holds Record

The next best record was 1,936 miles, made by Alcock and Brown, the British fliers, on their Atlantic trip.

Macready now holds three world records. He soared 34,563 feet high for a record, and recently circled the city of San Diego, with Kelley as a companion, for 35 hours, eighteen and one-half minutes for a duration record.

ATTENDANCE FIGURES PLACE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA AS EIGHTEENTH

The University of Iowa ranks eighteenth, according to attendance figures released from the all colleges and universities in the United States.

The following colleges and universities have an attendance of over 10,000: Columbia university (25,734 students), University of California; New York university, University of Chicago, College of the City of New York, University of Michigan, University of Pennsylvania, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Illinois.

The 1922 attendance figures of the University of Iowa are given at approximately 6,800. Eight universities have an attendance between 6,800 and 10,000. These institutions are as follows:

University of Boston, University of Nebraska, University of Washington, University of Minnesota, Northwestern university, Temple university, Ohio State university, and Harvard university.

During the past five years the University of Iowa has more than doubled its attendance. The 1922 increase was fifteen per cent over last year. If the present rate of increase continues for the next decade, the University of Iowa will rank among the foremost universities in the United States from an attendance standpoint.

Highland college of Highland, Kan., had the least attendance. Four instructors composed the faculty, and the total enrollment numbered eight students. The college was established in 1857.

EEL-SEAL REVUE FEATURES STYLES

Swimmers to Show All Makes of Bathing Suits at Armory November 16 and 17

The third annual Eel-Seal revue will be given on Thursday and Friday, November 16 and 17 at 7:30 p. m. at the Armory natatorium. The revue is a swimming meet with various features and stunts given by the Eels and Seals' club. The feature number this year will be the bathing suit style show. In this will be shown the various styles of bathing suits that have been in vogue since the early sixties until today, with emphasis placed on the styles of the present.

The pool will be decorated to represent Palm Beach. A large float will be placed in the center of the tank on which the styles will be displayed. It will be surrounded by dazzling mermaids—real mermaids tamed and trained for this particular event. Another feature of the revue will be the handicap race between the Eels and the Seals. All of the stunts and novelties will be new and original. Both organizations are working on the different numbers.

Because many were turned away last year on account of the large demand for seats the revue is being given two nights this year instead of one. The capacity of the pool room is limited to 450. The seat sale is limited to 900 tickets, the admission being 50 cents. The proceeds are used to defray the cost of medals for the home meets, trophies, cups and to cover the cost of the water carnival to be held on Iowa river each spring.

The tickets for the revue may be obtained today from any member of the Eels or Seals' club. At least fifty people will take part in this revue. Costumes will be furnished through the courtesy of Marshall Field & Company of Chicago and Younker Brothers of Des Moines.

NOTED ALUMNI WILL TALK AT HOMECOMING

Mr. Harry E. Kelly, president of the alumnae Association of the State University of Iowa, will arrive in Iowa City Thursday night to attend the home coming celebration.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock he will give a talk on "Some Aspects of the Federal Government and the Treaty Making Power", in room 203, liberal arts. Mr. Kelly graduated from the college of liberal arts of this University in 1892. Following his graduation he published a paper in Litchfield, Illinois. A few years later he returned to the University as an instructor in the department of English. After a few years he went to Denver, Colorado where he studied law and built up a large law practice. He served in the Senate of the State Legislature for one term and was appointed to the office of United States district Attorney for the state of Colorado. His legal work for the government led to his appointment as Counsel to the Inter-state Commerce Commission.

In recent years he has practiced law in Chicago where he is now at the head of one of the largest law firms of the city.

Mr. Kelly, who is a native Iowan, was born at Williamsburg. While a student at this University he was interested in newspaper work, serving on both "The Vidette", and "S. U. I. Quill."

MANY BERLIN DOCTORS MAKE EACH OTHER POOR

(By United News)

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Germany has so many doctors they are making each other poor.

So they have turned to the foreigner living in Germany to help them out of their plight.

German physicians have decided upon a new scale of prices for the foreigner. Americans who need the services of a German doctor find they must pay nine times as much as the German patient in the apartment downstairs. Swedes must pay 14 times as much. Swiss citizens must pay 11 times as much, while English and Hollanders are treated a shade better at 10 times, with French and Italians the most favored at seven times.

The overabundance of physicians in Germany results from the throwing on the public of thousands of military doctors demobilized after the war and because of the great popularity of the medical profession among young German professional men.

The German medical profession has openly warned young men to avoid the study of medicine until some of the older doctors die off.

In 1886 there were about 16,000 doctors in Germany, twenty years later there were twice as many and in 1920 had increased to 26,000. It is estimated that by 1925 there will be at least 50,000, a big surplus.

MAKE JUAREZ SAFE FOR THE AMERICAN DRINKERS

(By United News)

Juarez, Mex., Nov. 6.—Prohibition in Mexico.

That is what the recent order of Mayor P. M. Fierro of Juarez amounts to. However, the rulings are not so stringent as in the United States.

In carrying out the plan of "cleaning up Juarez, the Mayor has ruled that women cannot hang an ankle over the brass rail, and that saloon booths will be abolished. Women can drink only in cabarets, and then only light wines and beer will be served to them. They will also be required to have an escort before being admitted to the cabarets.

Then, to the long list of duties attached to being a saloon keeper other than confident, "bes'fren", etc., has been added the duty of "drunk checker." When the bartender sees that a man is "full" is his solemn obligation to see that he does not get "fuller."

All this is being done, according to Fierro, to make Juarez a safe place for Americans—to drink in.

ONE CLASS CUT COSTS THE OFFENDER $1.53

It costs $1.53 to cut a class. This is how one truth-seeking reporter figured it out, with the aid of a few questions and much nerve. He found that approximately eight hundred and twenty dollars is the average amount expended for a year's schooling at this University. After further brainstorm, he figured that that amounted to twenty-two dollars and eighty-two cents a week, which if divided by fifteen, the average number of hours carried a week, means one dollar and fifty-three cents for every hour spent in the class room.

Did you ever stop to think that every time you enter a classroom you are plunking down one hundred and fifty-three shining coppers as admission fee? Did you ever realize that every minute spent looking out of a classroom window means three and three-tenths of a penny gone wrong? That for every twenty seconds spent carrying on a coy little flirtation with your neighbor one good, whole copper penny takes wing and flies out of your sumptuous pocket-book?

Rho chapter of Gamma Phi Beta will entertain at its annual Founders Day banquet on Saturday, Nov. 11, at the Pagoda. Of the alumnae who are returning for Homecoming, about sixty are expected to attend the banquet, including Emily J. Withrow A3 of Mount Pleasant who will act as toastmaster. Toasts will be given by Ruth Van Law A4 of Marshalltown, Ruth Dagget A3 of Ottumwa, Lucille Everett A 22 of Iowa Falls, and Verness Fraser, an instructor in the department of music. The fraternity colors, seal brown and fawn, will be used in decorations.

Return From Phi Gam Convention

G. Bennett Cullison L1 of Harlan and Charles S. Ramsay A3 of Oskaloosa returned Monday morning from Columbia, Missouri, where they attended the convention of section twelve of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Hesperia Pledges Meet

Pledges of Hesperia will hold a business meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the liberal arts drawing room.

Honoring Chaperon

Kappa Omega is entertaining the chaperons and presidents of the other sororities at a tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of their chaperon, Miss Fern Olive.

Lecture on Washington

An illustrated lecture on the city of Washington will be given at the Natural Science Auditorium, Thursday, November 9, at 7 o'clock. This lecture which is open to all University students will afford an unusual opportunity to see excellent pictures of the government buildings at the national capitol. The White House, Lincoln Memorial, Halls of Congress, Library of Congress and many other notable features of the city are included in this collection. The pictures will be explained by Mr. C. M. Ritchie of Washington, D. C.

PURPLE MASK HELD MEETING YESTERDAY

The Purple Mask, dramatic organization, will hold its first meeting of the year at a dinner at the Burklely hotel today. The Purple Mask is the senior honorary organization of the University Theater. Membership is on the basis of superior dramatic work. The members of the organization may, at the end of first semester, elect four seniors to membership. At the end of the school year they may elect two seniors and eight juniors. The purposes of the Mask are to foster an active interest in the drama and particularly at the University of Iowa, and also to give recognition to those who have made outstanding contributions to the achievements of the University theater.

The members of the Purple Mask are: Lucile E. Everett of Iowa Falls; Walter J. Dehner A4 of Iowa City; Mildred C. Freiburg of Pomeroy; Gregory Foley A4 of Rock Rapids; George O. Hurley A4 of Rolfe; Helen Langworthy of Massena; Prof. Edward C. Mabie, director of the University Theater; Henry E. Ruwe; L. Kenneth Shumaker of Iowa City; Fred A. Steiner L3 of Corydon; Albert F. Ward A4 of Clinton.

SISTERS OF "300" TO DEDICATE "I"

Sisters of Howling 300 To Be Permanent Organization; To Be Pep Meeting

The sisters of the Howling 300 will attend in a body, the all-University pep meeting, which is to be held in the men's gymnasium Friday at 7 o'clock. Directly after the meeting a procession led by the band and followed by the Sisters, the Howling 300, and University students, will be formed. The line of march will be from the men's gymnasium to the intersection of Clinton and Washington streets. There the "I" corn shaft, erected under the auspices of the Homecoming committee, will be dedicated by the Sisters. Just what form the dedicatory exercises will take is to be a mystery until after the pep meeting on Friday. It is thought that the dedication of the corn shaft will become an Iowa tradition just as its erection by the Homecoming committee.

The number of the Sisters of the Howling 300 has reached almost the 200 mark. Before the Northwestern game the 300 mark will unquestionably be reached, according to Pearl V. Darvies A4 of Plymouth, president of the women's organization. At that game the Howling 300 and their Sister organizations will sit in a body. Men and women cheer leaders will lead the cheers.

The sisters of the Howling 300 is to be a permanent organization at Iowa, officers being elected at the next meeting and a constitution and by-laws drawn up.

WARNER TO ADDRESS GROUP

Frank Warner will address a group of commerce students at an informal dinner in the Pagoda Tea Shop Friday evening. Mr. Warner is Secretary of the Iowa Banker's association and will give a lecture to the members of the College of Commerce Friday at 4 o'clock, on the aims and achievements of the Iowa Banker's association. A group of about a dozen will be accommodated at the dinner immediately following the lecture.

STIFF FIGHT OF SCRUB LINEMEN HALTS VARSITY

Second Team Takes Ball Away From Regulars and Makes Gain Around End

The varsity ran into a snag last night in a thirty minute scrimmage against the second team. Although they scored two touchdowns in that time, they lacked the customary punch displayed last week. The second team line was fighting hard and more than holding its own with their opponents during the early part of the scrimmage.

The first team was given the ball on its own 40-yard line and was given instructions to open up. The varsity was unable to gain the necessary distance, and Minick punted to Rich, who returned ten yards. The second string retaliated by kicking on first down and Parkin was tackled on his 30-yard mark. The varsity second seemed unable to get started and was forced to kick after making attempts to gain through the second team line. The second team offense took the varsity by surprise and, on a wide end run, Jaqua ran fifteen yards before being chased out of bounds.

Varsity Makes Touchdown

When the varsity again got possession of the ball, it started down the field with the intention of making a score. The second team line fought doggedly every inch of the way, but were finally forced to its goal line, where Parkin carried the ball over on a smash. Parkin was yanked, and Captain Locke went in at quarter while Miller took Locke's place at full. Nugent replaced Miller at half and Hancock relieved Otto at right end. With Locke and Miller carrying the pigskin, the varsity marched down the field for another score. Both these backs were going strong and many of the runs were from ten to twenty yards.

The showing of the varsity was not what it should have been. The line lacked punch and failed to charge with its usual strength. The condition of the field slowed the regulars up a little, but not enough to account for their poor showing. The backfield performed in better style. The interference was slow in getting started, but once it was under way, it worked effectively. The offense drove hard and made good yardage. Only a few pass plays were tried and those failed to gain. The second team's defense followed the ball closely and had every man covered on forward passes. Last night's practice was held behind closed gates, as usual.

STOVER AND KLINGAMAN WILL GO TO A. A. U. MEET

The tryouts for the A. A. U. meet to be held in Omaha, Nebr., Friday, November 10, were held yesterday at 3 o'clock in the old armory. The first heat was won by Klingaman in 19 4-5 seconds—1-5 of a second slower than that of the conference record. In these two heats, Clark, the dash man, in ahead of Stover, and was therefore selected to represent Iowa at the Omaha meet, along with the speedy Klingaman. The team will leave Iowa City at 11:55 Thursday night, arriving in the cornhusker city at 6:15 Friday morning. The A. A. U. meet is one of the biggest swimming events in the United States this year, and the Iowa entries will be forced to swim against the best swimmers in the country.

"I" SYMBOL FINISHED TODAY OR TOMORROW

The traditional "I" symbol, located at the intersection of Clinton and Washington streets, will be completed today or tomorrow. It will be made entirely of red and yellow corn and will represent the University of Iowa and the state in which the "tall corn grows."

About forty bushels of Iowa's pride will be required to complete the letter. This is the equivalent of three thousand ears of corn. The "I" will stand twenty feet in height, and the pedestal will measure ten by twelve feet. There will be eight lights placed at the base of the letter.

Some difficulty is being had with the procuring of a suitable grade of corn. The present supply is somewhat dry for the purpose of securely putting it in place.

A. T. O. LEADS BRIDGE TOURNEY; BETA AND S. A. E. POSTPONE GAME

Alpha Tau Omega leads the other pan-Hellenic fraternities in the bridge tournament, as the result of the second series of games which were played last night. The Phi Delta Theta teams are second and the Beta Theta Pi teams are next.

The Alpha Tau Omega have won four games out of a possible four, having beaten the Kappa Sigs two games in the second leg of the tournament. The Phi Deltas have won three out of a possible four games, having won both games from the Sigma Nus last night. The Sigma Chis beat the Delts both of their games and have now won two games and lost two.

The Sig Alphas and Betas did not play last night. In last week's games, Sig Alpha won one and lost one and Betas won both. The Phi Psis drew the first leg. The Tau Deltas played a bye and did not play this week, for the first time this week and lost; although they won one and lost one in both of their games.

NEARLY CHEATED DYKE IN MEASURING OF NEW IOWA JAVELIN RECORD

Because of a mistake in measuring the record-breaking javelin throw in the track meet on Iowa field Saturday afternoon, the distance was reported to be 173 feet, ten inches instead of 174 feet, six inches. Lester M. Dyke M2 of Iowa City holds the new record. The athletic board, in explaining the error made in measuring, stated that the athletic department did not have a single tape 174 feet long and so were obliged to use one tape twice. The error was made in moving the tape.

The former University javelin record which Dyke broke was made last spring by Charles E. Smith A4 of Clinton in the track meet with Minnesota. The distance of that throw was 165 feet.

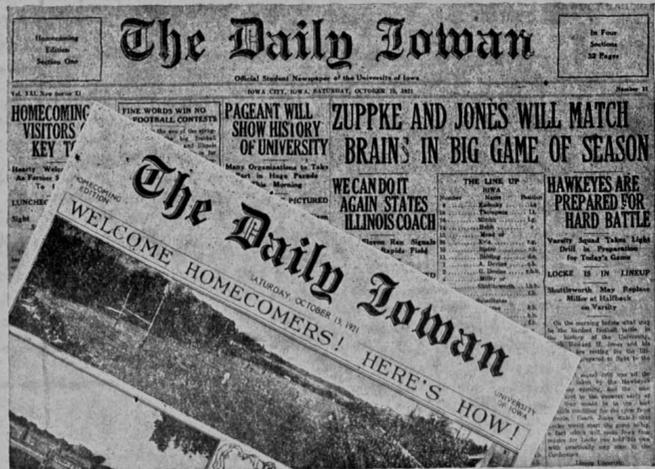

Victoria Boyles Dances

The Whitby women's Literary society held its regular meeting last night at 7:30 at the Whitby hall in Close hall.

The program for the evening was as follows: Pinao solo, Beulah M. Beams A3 of Malcom; reading, Pearl V. Davies A4 of Plymouth; Bits o' Wit, Freda M. Snyder A2 of Fort Dodge. Interpretative dance, Victoria M. Boyles A2 of Iowa City; Music, Audrey B. Camp A4 of Arispe.

SCHOELL TO TALK ON PARISIAN ART

Professor Today Lectures On "Paris in Literature and Art" in French

Prof. Frank L. Schoell, formerly of the department of romance languages at the University of Chicago, will speak tonight, November 8, at 7:30 o'clock in the natural science building auditorium. His subject is "Paris in Literature and Art," and the lecture will be given in French. Professor Schoell is remembered by many in the university, for he spoke here two years ago on "French Cathedrals," at which time he told at length about the noted cathedral at Rheims.

Professor Schoell is especially well prepared to speak upon his subject for he is a native of Strassburg, France, and has traveled and taught extensively in his own land. After several years' experience in secondary schools of France, he came to this country, and became a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago, as exchange professor of that institution.

This year he has severed his connections with the university and is making a wide lecture tour throughout the country, sponsored by the Alliance Francaise, the national federation of French clubs of America. He speaks here under the auspices of the Alliance Francaise and the French club of the University of Iowa. The French department requires that all students of any French course beyond the second year attend, the lecture by Professor Schoell taking the place of a prepared recitation. The speaker's treatment of his subject is primarily of interest to French students, but has also an appeal to all lovers of art and literature in general. No admission is charged.

JESSUP LIKES FISHING; FINDS LITTLE TIME FOR DIVERSION DURING YEAR

Pres. Walter A. Jessup of the University of Iowa, enjoys nothing better for recreation than fishing, particularly on his yearly fishing trips to his lodge at Battle Creek, in Northern Minnesota. It is during the summer vacation that he is free from the care and worry of official matters in Iowa City.

As head of a virtual community of 8,000 persons, each with different troubles to be solved, President Jessup finds little time for recreation during the university year. An average day at the president's office is a busy one. Callers at his office are many.

A member of the faculty, complaining of a recitation room, may start President Jessup's work for the day. A committee from the Commercial club, coming to discuss some city-University matter, may be the next. A traveler carrying letters from university presidents from one state to another, may be the next. Then he has telephone calls, dictation, and official errands. Thus the entire day-passes at the president's office. President Jessup gets little recreation.

Several years ago, he managed to take short workouts at the gymnasium at hand ball or a similar exercise, but this year, invitations from faculty members, who drop in to ask him to accompany them to the gymnasium have been declined because of pressing work. Even golf has been neglected by the president.

"I" BOOK RESERVATIONS

Criticism comes easy. It is always the first resort of the unthinking person who has been placed at a disadvantage; it requires effort to consider circumstances and to weigh facts.

At this time each year a number of "I" book holders are loud in their censure of the seating arrangement for the Homecoming game. It is probable that they know little or nothing of the difficulties which must be met in satisfying many thousand spectators. As the old saying goes, "you can't please everybody," it seems fairly certain that we shall always have this group with us.

The athletic board has handled the seating arrangement for the Homecoming game both fairly and efficiently. There are two problems involved in the situation: shall alumni or year book holders be favored? The board has solved this quite propitiously by treating both equally. Obviously Homecoming is a time when the student body is host to the alumni and to crowd them into the poorer seats would reflect on the hospitality of the University and the spirit of the occasion.

An explanation of the plan followed this year should do much to satisfy anyone who has doubts as to its fairness. The whole lower section on the west side of the field has been reserved for year book holders. The upper section will seat alumni. On the east the alumni will occupy the lower section and year book holders the upper. Minnesota has a block of 800 seats reserved in the east bleachers. Notice of this arrangement was sent to alumni about September 1 and tickets have been returned as money was paid in. Seats for "I" book holders were drawn by chance as has been the custom in the past.

In reserving seats for student year book holders, the athletic board assumes a burden which doubtlessly it would be more than willing to forego. At other universities where the "first come, first served" rule is observed, to get a good seat it is necessary to stand in line for hours, risk one's life in a jam at the gates, or go at 8 o'clock in the morning and wait until the game begins. Surely our own system is a great advance over this. Curse Fate and not the athletic board if in the shuffle your name fails to turn up first.

THROUGH THE BACK DOOR

Newspapers throughout the country are voicing their disapproval of the administration's attempt to "enter the league by the back door."

The Philadelphia Public Ledger commenting upon Secretary Hughes' effort to get into the league international court says: "The administration has been leaning far backward in its fear of touching anything bearing the league stamp. . . . It is time this country stopped sticking its head in the sand every time the league is mentioned. . . . Our snubbing of the league has not killed it. Our aloofness is becoming ridiculous. Are we to go along forever dodging the league and walking around it as though it had no existence?"

In reference to the Near Eastern Peace Conference "observer" invented by the State Department the New York World says: "The observer is to be called such only for the purpose of keeping the Senate quiet, but actually he is to be a delegate for the purpose of taking care of the demands made on the State Department. . . . It becomes increasingly hard to see how a self-respecting foreign policy is ever to emerge from an Administration which will stoop to such childish camouflage. Who is tricked by it? Who can have any confidence in the State Department's sincerity of purpose when it is obviously compelled by purely political fears to juggle words so deviously?"

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

(Daily Illini)

REPORTS THAT INJURE

In all the history of Conference athletics nothing has aroused so great a controversy among the several institutions of the middle west, indeed throughout the country, as the professionalism ruling.

Opinions as to the fairness of the ruling differ widely, but the majority of schools appear to have pledged their support to its enforcement. Illinois took the lead last winter in barring nine athletes from further participation in University athletics, and since that time there has been scarcely a week without the report of some athlete's being barred in some school or other. Whether the rule is a fair one makes little difference. The fact remains that it exists, and that it must be observed.

It was with this in mind that Wisconsin was informed of the questionable status of one of her athletes last September, and it is to be assumed that the same desire for observance of the rule prompted the Wisconsin coach to report five of the Illinois men. At any rate, the affair concerned, primarily, the two schools.

It is unfortunate that one of the great metropolitan papers took it upon itself to tell of the alleged war between the Badgers and the Illini. It appears much like improvised material to warm the top columns. The outsider would naturally think after reading the highly descriptive article in Friday's issue of that paper of the alleged furore on the two campuses that the two student bodies were advancing upon each other with weapons drawn. There has been no evidence of such hostility on the Illinois campus. The affair of the story is a regrettable one.

It is unfortunate that a newspaper must resort to stories such as this—untrue, unverified—to fill its columns. It gives the public a perverted impression of the code of ethics of universities in general.

The Sounding Board

Sometimes we think that the attitude of superiority which is assumed by collegians toward high school students and by business men toward collegians may be due to a realization of the sad fact that Time never turns back, that "those days are gone forever."

"The worst thing I hated to do," said a man interviewed by the Idiotic Reporter, "was to take patent medicine, especially castor oil." We didn't know there was any patent on castor oil.

"Here is the Tribune's Recommendations for State Legislature." We wonder if they were elected.

The New Republic is still harping on the subject of a third political party. Oh, well, let 'em talk; it probably keeps their mind off their work.

CF. "THIS SIDE OF PARADISE"
Says Jawn McCutcheon in "An Heir at Large":

"Missing the hour exam was a grave offense. He would be called before the dean to explain. Perhaps he could get away with a plea of illness—if not, he would be placed on probation for the rest of the semester, possibly fired if his marks were not excellent enough to redeem him."

Pardon us if we seem to laugh. We wonder where Jawn went to college.

We suppose you are following with bated breath "Siki's Life Story," which is being related by a valued contemporary. No? Then you are missing a wonderfully artistic piece of fiction. We have seen nothing so delicately artistic since Jack Dempsey published the vicissitudes of his life.

Pupils in the Gilman (Ia.) public schools will suffer a week's suspension if caught smoking in the future. If you knew Gilman as well as we do you would at once suspect that there will now be more smoking than ever.

An Iowa man who bought a lemon grove in California struck oil. Not such a lemon at that.

Now that the country has again been saved, newspaper advertising may be expected to fall off considerably.

Nebraska, you may recall, overwhelmed Oklahoma in football. Or, as the Oklahoma euphemistically puts it, "Varsity Holds Valley Leaders to 39-7 Count."

A new crisis seems to have arisen in the Near East.

Ho, hum! SEVENTEEN.

SNEAKING IN THE BACK DOOR.

"Glimpses of the Moon"

Reviewed by Maurice Van Metre

From Lafayette, Ind., a college town, came a newspaper yarn the other day telling of the blighted romance of a silly high school boy and girl, who had entered into a contract whereby they were to be married for six months at the end of which time either was to be given a divorce providing the arrangement did not reach expectations.

From a newspaper standpoint, it was a great story, throbbing, as the saying goes, with human interest. It is related here merely to show that Edith Wharton's plot in "The Glimpses of the Moon" is quite plausible. True, her principals are past the high school age but they are quite as silly, in the beginning. They, too, entered into an agreement, pledging to give the other his or her freedom if they found compatibility wasn't to be gained through marital ties.

So much for the plausibility of the story. In her "Age of Innocence," which this neophyte-reviewer liked much better than her latest novel, Mrs. Wharton wrote of New York's "four hundred," so-called. Of that group she was intimately acquainted. In "The Glimpses of the Moon," she writes of a similar class in England. We do not say she is not on familiar terms with this latter group; she has not, however, made her characters so convincing. But of that we shall not quibble. Our reaction to the book was that it grew tiresome.

Mrs. Wharton's "glimpses of the moon" weren't fleeting enough. The glimpses became as illustrated picture sections and in that they brought restlessness. Had the author been more concise, had she composed a short story of her materials rather than a novel, of the nomads of the desert, and, with a will of steel, vanquished all obstacles and reached his objectives.

It was to the "angel of the church of Sardis" that the message was sent; "Thou has a name that thou livest and art dead." The intrepid, patient research of this American teacher made this ancient city to live again before the eyes of men. He put the Recoverer by the side of the discoverer in the field of scientific adventure, and carried the imaginations of men back over the paths by which civilization has come out of its nomadic tents, past royal palaces and stately temples, to its present democratic abodes.

It is gratifying to know that, as Dr. Edward Robinson, Director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, announced at the services in Professor Butler's memory, held at Princeton, in the new wing hers, we believe, would have ranked first on Mr. O'Brien's list of the best ten for 1922.

The action of the book is contained in a few months, during which time Nick and Susy Lansing enjoy a brief honeymoon, go their separate ways, nearly live up to the contract by starting divorce proceedings and then find they love each other after all. A typical ending for a short story.

Susy Lansing has always been one who "manages." She has, in parenthesis, some sisters on the campus. Susy, unlike the modern "gold digger," lives on her friends, rather than on her wits. She is buffeted about, after a manner, from one country estate to another and while she intends to marry sometime for money as well as love, she doesn't consider Nick Lansing even as a rank outsider. For Nick is also poor, and hangs on because he is one who has "written," as Mrs. Wharton puts it.

Fate, however steps in, plays with Cupid and they find they love each other. The contract idea was Susy's.

"It was at this point she unfolded her plan. Why shouldn't they marry; belong to each other openly and honorably, if for ever so short a time, and with the definite understanding that whenever either of them got the chance to do better he or she should be immediately released? The law of their country facilitated such exchanges, and society was beginning to view them as indulgently as the law."

And Susy, the clever woman who has always "managed," wins Nick, who rebels at the outset even though he is enchanted, with this:

"Had he ever thought it all out? She asked. No. Well, she had; and would he kindly not interrupt? In the first place, there would be all the wedding presents. Jewels, and a motor, and a silver dining service, did she mean? Not a bit of it! She could see he'd never given the question proper thought. Cheques, my dear, nothing but cheques—she undertook to manage that on her side: she really thought about fifty, and she supposed he could rake in a few more? Well, all that would simply represent pocket-money! For they would have plenty of houses to live in; he'd see. People were always glad to lend their house to a newly married couple."

Nick fell for Susy's plan, but it seems he had a conscience. The trouble started when Susy wanted to appropriate some expensive cigars belonging to a friend. A trifling matter, but it didn't seem right to Nick and he bolted. For several months they are apart, Susy almost becoming engaged to an old flame who has become enormously rich due to the fortunate death of a couple of his kinsmen. About that time the book started to become tiresome. Perhaps, we are at fault, but drivel seems the only word to cover most of the story between the time Nick leaves and the time they are reunited.

As a timely novel, it should be successful. Trial marriages aren't new; the Lafayette boy and girl weren't setting a precedent exactly. We like Mrs. Wharton, even though once she prejudiced us against her by a criticism of another author. Persons with plenty of time should enjoy her lingering "glimpses of the moon."

BALL AND FIVE ASSISTANTS TO DIRECT PARADE

War Veterans To March In Homecoming Parade; Will Start at City Hall

Brig. Gen. George W. Ball, marshal, and five assistants are to direct the big combined Homecoming and Armistice day parade Saturday, November 11. At a meeting of the parade committee held at the Commercial club last night final arrangements were made for the participation of the American Legion, the G. A. R., the University and the business firms of the city. In order to make adequate plans for such an extensive parade the committee found it necessary to divide it into five major sections with a marshal in charge of each section. Brig. Gen. Ball, who is to be grand marshal of the day, will have a staff of four officers who will ride with him. They are to be Col. R. P. Howell, commander of the 113th cavalry; Lieut. Col. G. W. Harris, of the organized reserves; Major Ray Yenter, of the 113th cavalry; and Major Henry Morrow, of the sanitary department of the 113th cavalry.

The parade is to be ready to start promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning according to directions by the marshal of the day. The formation is to be as follows:
 Marshal—Gen. Geo. W. Ball and his staff.

War Veterans March

Section A. Assistant Marshal—Captain Gilbert. Includes Dignitaries, G. A. R., Spanish war veterans, Disabled Veterans of the World war, University band, American Legion.

Section A will form in column formation on Washington street with the head of the column on Lynn street.

Section B. Assistant Marshal—Captain Hayak. Including Troop A of the 113 Cavalry, 18th Ambulance Unit, under the command of Captain Marresh.

Section B will form on Lynn street with the head of the column on Washington street.

Section C. Assistant Marshal—Major Hill. University Military department.

Section C will form on Iowa avenue and Lynn street with the head of the column on Washington street.

Section D. Assistant Marshal—Captain O'Keefe. Floats and displays by the auxiliaries.

Section D forms on Gilbert street facing south, with the head of the column on Washington street.

Section E. Assistant Marshal—Captain Martin. Homecoming and Armistice day floats and displays by the University clubs, colleges and departments, and Iowa City business firms.

Section E will form on Gilbert facing north, with the head of the column on Washington street.

Parade Will Start at City Hall

The parade will move from the city hall west on Washington to Dubuque, south on Dubuque to Burlington, west on Burlington to Clinton, north on Clinton to Iowa avenue, east on Iowa avenue to Muscatine avenue, and return west on Iowa avenue to Dubuque, north on Dubuque to Market, west on Market to Clinton, and south on Clinton to the Iowa avenue entrance to the University campus.

Automobiles will be dismissed at the corner of Jefferson and Clinton, and passengers will enter the north entrance of Natural Science hall for the armistice day program which will be held in the auditorium. Other sections of the parade will continue to the entrance to the campus and will use the south entrance to the Natural Science hall. Floats and displays will continue south on Clinton street to Washington street, where they will be dismissed.

FIFTY DOLLARS IS POPULAR PLEDGE

But Average Amount Given is $78 And Directors Want $100 to Lead

Fifty dollars has been the most popular sized student pledge in the Memorial Union campaigns heretofore conducted. The records of the Union show that more student pledges have been made in this denomination than in any other. This, however, is below the average and directors of the drive which opens today are hoping that the students will select $100 as the most popular sized pledge. Hubert H. Matt L3 of Iowa City, assistant director of the Union, in speaking of the matter said: "The $100 pledge is rapidly becoming the most popular and we sincerely hope that it will eclipse all others in popularity during the coming campaign. It seems that this ought to be possible since the average pledge is $78."

Up to date the total number of student pledges is 3,500 and the total amount subscribed by students alone is $212,000. This, it is hoped, will be boosted to at least $300,000 in the two-day drive opening this morning. If this is done it will put the total subscription over the half million mark.

Among the alumni the drive has progressed exceptionally well. One thousand graduates have already pledged to the Union, three of whom have given $10,000 each. They are Frank O. Lowden, B.A., '85, of Oregon, Ill.; William O. Finkbine, B.Ph., '78, L.L.B., '80, of Des Moines; and Frederick C. Denkmann, B.A., L.L.B., '80, of Rock Island.

CULVERT TESTS ARE SATISFACTORY; NEEDED INFORMATION FOUND

The culvert tests, which have been in progress since last August under the direction of the University hydraulic laboratory and the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture, will be completed this week on November 10. These tests have been very successful, because all the desired information was obtained and also many new facts which will be of value to the government and state highway engineers. Information from these tests will be published soon, either in the form of a United States department of agriculture bulletin or University of Iowa bulletin.

Immediately at the conclusion of these tests, the laboratory will begin a series of experiments for the rolling mills, commonly called the Armeo company. This company has asked the laboratory to make a thorough test of their calco drainage and irrigation gates in eighteen, twenty-four and thirty-inch sizes and to make a careful study of the capacities and laws governing the flow of water in their corrugated iron pipes of various sizes, ranging up to three feet in diameter and 200 feet in length. This investigation will continue until ice freezes on the river and if it is not completed by that time, the work will be taken up again next spring.

NINE WOMEN FELLOWSHIPS OBTAINABLE NEXT YEAR

The American Association of University Women Fellowships has sent word to this institution regarding the fellowships that may be obtained for advanced scholastic work. These offer a broad field of study including work physics, chemistry, biology, art, literature, social service, professional work and research in Europe. Nine are available for the year 1923-1924. Anyone who is interested may receive further information in the office of the Dean of Women.

EDWARDS, WET, CLAIMS VICTORY OVER OPPONENT

Democrats Show Early Advantage; LaFollette Leads Mrs. Hooper In Wisconsin

(By United News)
Trenton, N. Y., Nov. 7.—On the basis of returns available at 8:30 p. m., democratic state headquarters claimed the election of Governor Edward E. Edwards to the United States senate to succeed his opponent, Senator Frelinghuysen. Edwards campaigned for modification of prohibition laws while Frelinghuysen, who upheld them was accused of being personally "wet" but was officially dry.

(By United News)
Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—Congressman Vare sent the following message to Republican headquarters tonight:
"Pinchot carried the Pennsylvania by 180,000."

(By United News)
New York, Nov. 7.—The New York World, democratic, declared that Al Smith, the democratic candidate for governor, had been elected by 195,000.

(By United News)
Marion, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Carmi Thompson, republican candidate for Governor, a personal friend of President Harding, received an overwhelming plurality in the president's home ward. He received 220 votes to 88 for Vic Donahey, democrat.

(By United News)
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Senator W. L. La Follette running reelection of Wisconsin republican ticket has swamped Mrs. Jessie Hooper, independent democrat by a tremendous plurality, according to reports to the United News. The rest of the republican ticket appears to be riding on the landslide with La Follette.

Reed Leads Brewster
Senator James E. Reed led R. B. Brewster, republican, in the vote for the first, and ninth Missouri precincts as candidate for senator. Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock is rapidly overcoming the early lead of R. B. Howell, republican, in the Nebraska senatorial fight while Charles Bryan, the brother of William Jennings Bryan, democratic candidate for governor, appeared sure of victory. The democrats will substantially increase their congressional representation in both Kansas and Illinois, it was indicated.

Ralston Ahead of Beveridge
Samuel M. Ralston, democratic candidate for senator from Indiana, had run up a substantial plurality over Albert J. Beveridge, republican, although the number of votes accounted was no where near large enough to be conclusive. Chicago is claimed to have gone "wet" in the Illinois light wine and beer by 500,000 but downstate voters will materially reduce this lead. Victor Berger, socialist, is leading William Stafford, republican, in the fifth Wisconsin congressional district according to reports.

(By United News)
Pennsylvania Goes Republican
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—The first districts in Pennsylvania to report a count went republican by two to one. Four districts in Alleghany county returned 242 for Pinchot, republican candidate for governor to 114 for McSperrn, democrat. In 1920, Alleghany county went republican by more than 3 to 1.

(By United News)
Democrats Win New York
Washington, Nov. 7.—Democratic candidates for governor won in New York, Kansas, Nebraska, and Connecticut, according to an official statement issued by the democratic national committee at 8:30 p. m.

HARDING REFUSES TO COMMENT ON ELECTION

(By United News)
Washington, November 7.—President Harding is leaving all election comments to the people. This was the official word from the White House in answer to the question of discussion of returns which reached the president through a special wire Tuesday night. Surrounded by a group of friends the president received the returns in the White House study and from time to time took them to Mrs. Harding in her sick room. Former President Wilson likewise, it was learned, is leaving the comments to the people. However, should results disclose a pronounced democratic victory it has been suggested he may express some sort of political opinion to a small group of admirers.

PRESSMEN QUIT; NEW YORK MINUS ELECTION EXTRAS

New York, Nov. 7.—With interest in an election greater than it has been in years, New York was compelled to go without newspaper extras Tuesday evening because of a walk-out of pressmen on the New York Evening World. Other evening paper publishers agreed not to issue extras when the World pressmen gave notice they would not work after 7 p. m. Under the Union agreement, the pressmen have the right to say whether they will work overtime. The Evening World force, which ordinarily quits at 7 o'clock announced it would not work overtime election night. Morning issues did not issue extras until 10 p. m. This left New York City without extras for three hours, just at the time when the Smith-Miller gubernatorial race was due to be known.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The schedule for women's field athletics is officially announced as follows:
Soccer game between freshmen and sophomores.
Field ball game between juniors and seniors on Saturday morning, November 11.

George F. Patrick, professor of philosophy, will lead a discussion at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. this afternoon, as a follow-up meeting to those of Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin who spoke several times while he was in Iowa City on October 27 and 28.

TURKS GROW ARROGANT; NEW WAR PROBABLE

considered by the allies. London, Paris and Rome are in communication with each other over the situation. There is alarm over the high-handed measure taken by the Kemalists in setting aside Allied supervisory bodies in Constantinople. Fears are entertained that the attitude of the Turks will assume an anti-Christian character similar to the boxer movement in China twenty years ago. This is the situation as it stood after the emergency cabinet meeting Tuesday night, called on receipt of alarming advices from Gen. Charles Harington, British commander in the Near East. Allies Must Acquiesce or Fight. The Allies have the alternative of capitulating ignominiously to the Turks or taking a firm stand which will mean a rupture and war.

The Kemalists grow bolder and more high-handed as the Allies refuse and protest the action of the Turks. A state of seige will be necessary if the Turks persist in their truculency, it is said here. Allied commissioners at Constantinople categorically refused to comply with the Turkish order suppressing the Allied sanitary commission, ordering Allied debt collecting officials out of the custom offices and otherwise interfering with administrative measures. Hamid Bey was warned that the allied governments would back up their commissioners in any way necessary.

May Postpone Near East Parley
Paris, Nov. 7.—Great Britain has asked for a postponement of the Lausanne Near East peace conference until November 27.

Lord Hardinge, the British Ambassador, presented a note embodying this request late Tuesday. Premier Poincare, however, is understood to favor proceeding with the conference on November 7, as originally planned, fearing the delay would be dangerous to peace in view of the state of affairs at Constantinople and the arrogant tendencies of the Angora government. General Pelle the French commissioner, at Constantinople, has been instructed by the cabinet to collaborate with the other allied representatives there in maintenance of peace there. Refet Pasha, the Turkish governor general of Thrace, left Constantinople Tuesday, according to dispatches. His trip was ostensibly a visit of inspection in Eastern Thrace, but it is understood it was due to hints from the Allies that his presence was not desired at Constantinople because of his truculency. Allied generals at Constantinople are understood to have threatened to resign, unless their governments give them power to declare martial law.

11, at 11 o'clock on the women's field. Field ball between freshmen and sophomores.

Soccer between juniors and seniors on Monday, November 13, at 4:30 on the women's field.

The finals in field ball and the finals in soccer will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, the definite time and teams to be announced Monday evening.
