IOWA BREAKS EVEN IN I. M. I. DEBATE; MINNESOTA LOSES BUT ILLINI ARE VICTORIOUS

Beems Leads Affirmative Attack; Minnesota Shows Weakness In Rebuttal

Iowa broke even in the triangular debate with Illinois and Minnesota last night, the Iowa affirmative team defeating the Minnesota negative at Iowa City, while the Hawkeye team lost to the Illinois affirmative trio at Urbana. The winning affirmative team was composed of Buel G. Beems A3 of Anamosa, Max Livingston A2 of Waterloo and Harold D. Read L1 of Des Moines. The defeated negative team included George Hurley L1 of Rolfe, Paul Bucy A2 of Hubard and Kenneth M. Dunlop L1 of Jefferson. The vote was in both instances 1 to 0 as only one judge was used to decide the question.

Through effective rebuttal, especially on the part of Buel G. Beems, the Iowa affirmative team defeated the Minnesota negative team in the debate held last night at 7 p. m. in the natural science auditorium. The Minnesota team failed to effectively smash the affirmative case or prove that judicial review is essential for desirable legislative reform. The decision in favor of the Iowa debating team was given by Prof. J. P. Ryan, head of the department of dramatics and speech of Grinnell college, sole judge of the debate.

The proposition was, "Resolved: that Congress should have the power to override decisions of the Supreme Court by re-enacting laws after they have been declared unconstitutional."

The case of the affirmative was that judicial supremacy hinders the four fundamental features of our government, that there is nothing in the constitution regarding ultimate power of judicial review, and that the granting to Congress power to override opinions of the Supreme Court by passing a constitutional amendment would strengthen our government.

The negative team admitted the four fundamental features. They hung their case on the issue that the affirmative should distinguish between desirable reform and constitutional legislation, and that judicial review is essential to our form of government. The only attack the negative team made against the affirmative case was that the blanket amendment would give congress the power to pass undesirable legislation.

They failed to point out that the passing of an amendment would beg the question of the power of congress to override decisions of the Supreme Court. They also failed to prove that ultimate authority in judicial review is essential to American government while it is found in no other. This failure to smash the affirmative case or establish their own case cost them the debate.

Local Stores Will Be Open Evenings During Next Week

The leading business houses of Iowa City will be open for trade in the evenings on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, it was decided at a recent meeting of merchants. It is customary for the stores to open in the evenings for the holiday trade, but only in those of the last two or three days before Christmas.

This year, however, the business men have decided to receive trade during the three evenings preceding vacation, in order to accommodate the many students who have been unable to do their Christmas shopping before hand.

Jones Pays Tribute To Football Team At Rotary Luncheon

"One hundred per cent football eleven" was the tribute which Coach Howard H. Jones paid to the football team at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club which was held in honor of the victorious team and coaches. Of Captain Gordon Locke, he said that as long as he was coach at the University he would always ask for captains like Gordon Locke.

In a short address Captain Locke spoke of the many friendships in Iowa City which he appreciated. Ira B. Huston, president of the Rotary club, praised the record of the Iowa team during its season.

The guests of the Rotary club were: Coaches Howard H. Jones, George Bresnahan, Sam Barry and Major Ray C. Hill, Dr. W. R. Fieseler, Dr. Howard E. Bye, Captain Gordon Locke L1 of Denison, John C. Heldt A4 of Lyons, Scott McIntyre A2 of Superior, Wis., Carl Engledinger L2 of Iowa City, Paul Minick L1 of Des Moines, Lowell Otie A2 of Sidney, Clem Nugent A2 of Algona, Chester Meade S4 of Calumet, Leland Parkin A2 of Waterloo, V. C. Shuttleworth L1 of Sibley, Leo Kriz A3 of Garner, George Thompson L2 of Webster City, and Max Kadesky D4 of Dubuque.

HUNDREDS DANCE AT CHARITY BALL

Two Orchestras Play; Award Prizes In Spot and Balloon Dances

Over 300 couples attended the second annual charity ball at the men's gymnasium last night, which was given under the auspices of the Lions club. Guy Ogle's ten piece orchestra furnished the music for the main floor, while the Cotillion orchestra played in the small gymnasium on the second floor. The Cotillion orchestra was secured at a late date in order to accommodate the large crowd and to make the ball the only dance in the city.

The affair was an informal program dance, which lasted from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. All University organizations cancelled their parties in order to co-operate with the Lions club in making the ball a success.

Features of the ball included the spot dance and the balloon dance. The sixth and ninth dances were the spot dances; six one-pound boxes and one two and a half pound box of candy were given away as prizes to those who stopped on the lucky numbers which were drawn on the floor. In the balloon dance balloons were thrown from the balcony with lucky numbers in them, and seven one-pound boxes of candy were given to the winners.

NOTIFY DELINQUENTS BY MAIL HEREAFTER

Women students not living at sorority houses, Currier hall, or the annexes will hereafter be notified of delinquency in their studies through mailed notices instead of by delinquent lists, posted on the bulletin board, it was explained at the dean of women's office yesterday.

Sorority women will receive their notices through their respective house presidents, the same as formerly. Women at Currier and the annexes will be notified by their matrons.

These changes have been made to avoid the publicity which is inevitable when the names are posted on the bulletin board, Louis Gray, assistant to the dean of women said.

ENGINEERS SHOW COMES IN MIDDLE OF MARCH

March 14 and 15 are the dates set for the annual engineers' show, the feature event of Mecca week. As formerly the production will be put on at the Englert theatre, and admission will be by tickets distributed by students in the college of applied science.

The committee in charge of the show is composed of C. A. Pangborn S3 of Maines, chairman, T. L. Herrick S4 of Fredericksburg, A. W. Altflisch S4 of Davenport, Robert Kirk S2 of Pasadena, Calif., Myron C. Little S1 of Corning, and Frank Breen S1 of Iowa City.

IOWA CLASHES WITH KNOX IN OPENER TONIGHT

Men Put Through Last Practice Before Knox Game Tonight At 7:30 P. M.

Iowa will meet Knox in the first basketball game of the season tonight at the new armory, at 7:30. After the team had shot some baskets and run through some out-of-bound plays last night, Coach Barry gave the squad final instructions in guarding fake passes and pivoting.

Knox will arrive here this afternoon. Their lineup will probably be: Campbell center, Rhind and Albro forwards, and Ludwig and Negley guards. The first Iowa team to start will probably have Burgitt at center, Laude and Janse forwards, and Captain Hicks and Funk guards.

Although Coach Barry has had only two of last year's "I" men to work with, he has had an abundance of material with which to develop a good team. Burgitt won an "I" last season and is aggressive and a good shot. Laude and Janse will play their first game with an Iowa team. Both of these men are good on under-the-basket shots. Captain Hicks was one of the best guards in the conference last year and Funk, the other guard, while not as aggressive as Shimek was, is the best long shot on the team. Barton, McGovney, Voltmer, and Emmert, "I-2" men of last year, and Swenson, and Duhm of last year's freshman team will all probably get into the game.

The game tonight is the first game of the year. It is Coach Barry's first Iowa team and is the first game the team has worked together under the new technical and personal foul rules. Laude, Janse, Funk, Swenson, and Duhm will play their first game. The team will wear their new old gold uniforms in a game for the first time. Frank Birch will referee the game, which will begin at 7:30 sharp.

Chapter of Theta Tau To Be Granted Theta Sigma Delta

Because of a delay in the national offices of Minneapolis, the installation of Theta Sigma Delta, engineering fraternity, as the Omicron chapter of Theta Tau has been postponed until soon after the holidays. The installation exercises were at first planned for Homecoming, John S. Holbrook S4 of Anowa and president of Theta Sigma Delta, explained yesterday.

The exact installation date has not yet been set, but Holbrook is expecting definite word from headquarters concerning it within the next few days.

Theta Tau is a national engineering fraternity which originated at the University of Minnesota. At present it has sixteen chapters; the Iowa chapter will be the seventeenth.

COMPLETE WORK ON ICE SKATING RINK TODAY

Work on the skating rink on the river in front of Fitzgerald's boat house is progressing rapidly and will be completed today, the rink opening to the public tomorrow. The river is being cleared of snow, and lights formerly used on the football field are being installed to permit skating after dark. No admission will be charged to the rink.

Skates will be sharpened and light lunches sold in the boat house. The place will also serve as a warming room. The project is being promoted by the Iowa Supply company and Fitzgerald.

TANK RECORDS DOPED TO FALL IN MEET TODAY

Swimmers Set Fast Pace In Three Tryouts; Griffin Breaks Own Record

University records in practically every event are expected to be broken this afternoon when the finals of the annual all-University swimming meet are held. Out of three events in which preliminaries were held yesterday one record was broken twice. The meet this afternoon will start at 2:30 o'clock and will be open to the general public.

The semi-finals of the 40-yard dash, the 200-yard breast stroke, and the 100-yard dash were run off yesterday afternoon. The University record in the 200-yard breast stroke was broken by Griffin yesterday in the semi-finals. Griffin who also held the old record lowered his record from 3 minutes 10 2-5 seconds to 3 minutes 5 2-5 seconds. Chambers, the freshman captain, was a close second, swimming the 200 yards in 3 minutes 6 2-5 seconds. Savory also a freshman swimmer, came in third. Five men placed for the finals today. They are Griffin, Chambers, Savory, Fisher and Hayden.

In the 40-yard dash the men who placed for the finals are Klingaman, Goltman, Clark, Kramer and Selling. Klingaman should have little trouble in winning this event although he will be pushed hard by Goltman and Clark.

In the 100-yard dash the men who placed were Klingaman, Goltman, Sheakley, Killebrew and Kramer. Klingaman is expected to lower the University record in this event.

The men who will compete in the finals today are as follows:
40-yard dash—Klingaman, Goltman, Clark, Kramer, Selling.
200-yard breast—Griffin, Chambers, Savory, Fisher, Hayden.
Fancy diving—McCullough, Griffin, Killebrew, Hayden.
220-yard easy style—Killebrew, Klingaman, Goltman, Nielsen, Sheakley.

ELECT ORCHESTRA OFFICERS

Officers were elected at a business meeting of the University orchestra Thursday night, December 7. The following members were selected to hold office in the organization: Chester E. Leese, instructor in physiology, manager; J. W. Scott A2 of Ottawa, Kan., librarian; Charles L. Leedham A1 of Lyons, assistant manager; Franklin S. Clark A1 of Rowley, assistant manager.

GERMANY HAPPY AS AMERICAN BANKERS ARE READY TO HELP RELIEVE CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

Music By Gabel's Says Committee On Military Ball

Gabel's orchestra, of Duluth, which attracted so much attention during its four day stay in Iowa City recently, has been engaged to play for the military ball to be held in the men's gymnasium January 12. In addition to playing for the regular dance program, the orchestra will offer several specialties prepared exclusively for the ball. This will be the first appearance of Gabel's interpreters at a formal affair in Iowa City, but their reputation on the Orpheum vaudeville circuit and the hit they made during their engagement here, warranted booking them for the military ball.

The tickets will be put on sale January 2 and will be limited to 200. They will first be offered to cadets in the military department and then be placed in the hands of committee members for general sale. January 7 tickets will be on sale at the usual stores. The programs have been ordered from Brochom's, of Chicago, and will be here some time during the vacation period.

TO DISCUSS EIGHT GAME SCHEDULE

Coach Jones Wants Practice Period To Begin By September 15

On Saturday, December 16, the faculty representatives of the Big Ten universities will meet in Chicago to discuss further the proposed eight game schedule and the amendment to the rule for beginning fall practice. Illinois University was the first conference school to raise an objection to the new propositions. Other Big Ten universities, however, have minor objections and this meeting was called to iron out all difficulties. Iowa is in favor of the eight game schedule but is not in accordance with the proposal to start fall practice so late.

If the new rule to begin practice two weeks before the first Saturday in October is passed it will mean that the football men will not be able to don their moleskins before Sept. 22, which is a week later than the customary date for the opening of practice. With an eight game program to be played in 1923 this would mean that the football squad of the Big Ten would have to crowd three weeks work into two, which is a big job. The University of Illinois is directly opposed to starting practice so late and wishes to keep the old date. The Hawkeyes favor the earlier date also with the eight game schedule.

There has been much discussion over the proposed changes. In a statement made by Coach Howard H. Jones yesterday, he says: "I am in favor of the eight game schedule but I am opposed to starting actual work later than September 15. In beginning the fall work at the earlier date it gives the squad a chance to get in shape before university work begins and also provides a better chance to learn the plays and signals. The idea of an eight game schedule is not to strengthen the schedule but to give more candidates a chance to play which adds to their chances of making a letter. The added game will be in the nature of a preliminary for the harder games to follow."

BRITISH TROOPS LEAVE FREE STATE IRELAND

(By United News)
Dublin, Dec. 15—The last of the British troops in Free State Ireland, 2,000 strong, headed by a band, marched to the station Thursday and boarded trains bound to England.

Thousands cheered when the barracks were turned over to Free State troops. One pessimistic Irishman marred the picturesque scene when he yelled: "Good-bye, you'll be back soon; the evacuation will last only four days."

Finance Heads Outline Plan for Benefit of Germany and Allies

By George J. Bender
(Copyright 1922, By United News)
New York, Dec. 15—The great financial leaders of the country, internationally known bankers of Wall street are ready to plunge into relief work in Europe, once the government paves the way. Private conversations with these money kings Friday developed that there is a unanimity of thought among them as to what should be done, first by Europe and later by America.

This is the program:

1. Germany should be given a moratorium of a few years in which to put her own house in order with the aid and under the supervision of the allied powers.
2. During this moratorium she should balance her budget, stabilize her currency, impose a severe taxation schedule which would prevent the escape of vast German capital, stop the issuance of the present volume of German paper marks and abandon her truculent spirit.
3. At the moratorium, Germany should be held bound to pay reparations on a schedule laid down by allied powers in the meantime, first with an eye to her capacity to pay, and second, with the assurance that there will be no gestures of coercion.
4. France must be satisfied with the arrangements agreed upon so that security for any international loan for Germany would not be jeopardized by French moves towards the seizure of Germany territory.
5. This effected, a German loan could be floated which would enable first, the stabilizing of German exchange, and second, the assuring France of a material payment on her reparations account.
6. This loan, which would be subscribed to by the leading allied powers, would command a first lien on Germany's assets, supplanting the present arrangements whereby the allied powers have a virtual first mortgage on Germany.
7. Interviews secured by the United News which for obvious reasons cannot be said to include every financial authority at present emotion with moves of the Government toward accomplishing European stabilization, were unanimous on the demand that the reparations question must first be settled on a flexible basis and the status of the mark must be defined before, and not after, a loan is granted.

AND NOW COMES BASKETBALL

Tonight Iowa opens its 1922-23 basketball season with Knox college. For two years Knox has been the opponent of the Hawkeyes in the opening game of the football season and each of these years the Old Gold team has come out with the conference and Western championship. Will Knox be the precursor of a successful season in basketball? It is too early for predictions, yet we are tempted to say that the Siwash team or the Gods of victory presage a great year on the court for Iowa.

The varsity quintet has rounded into form in exceptionally fast time considering the number of new men which Coach Sam Barry has had to work with. In early season practices, they have shown speed and accuracy. If the team wins its first few conference games, and if it keeps its gait as past Hawkeye basketball teams have done, Iowa may hope to rank at the top of the conference. In the past the loss of the first few games has usually cost the championship.

Basketball is an uncertain game. So many factors are inconstant that chance alone decides the outcome many times. When the best team in the conference receives a drubbing at the hands of the poorest team or when one team defeats another on a foreign court and is defeated in turn by the same team on its own, playing with dope seems nothing less than an idle sport. In the long run the best team usually wins, but in any particular game, fate may give the victory to the poorer team.

ARE YOU A POSER?

It must be apparent to even the most superficial observer that by no means all the posing is done in front of the movie camera or in the ateliers of artists. Attitudinizing has become almost a fine art with some people, and whether these people are becoming fewer or more numerous is a debatable question. Some present day writers go farther than saying that posing is common, and assert that sincerity is very much on the decline.

The posing to which we refer, however, is not really insincerity as that word is commonly used. It is "putting the best foot forward" carried to its logical conclusion, and can hardly be considered especially reprehensible. At the same time it is motivated by a desire, perhaps almost unconscious, to appear something other than what we are.

A certain professor, whose ideas are invariably stimulating, suggests that posing is not confined to any particular class of persons, but is universal. By this he means, not that everyone has certain affected mannerisms or idiosyncrasies. He points out that the "hard-boiled" or gruff attitude which some people assume is often merely a sort of blind to cover up the fact that they are inordinately sensitive. They do not like to admit that they are easily hurt—who does!—and so they act a "hard-boiled" part.

Whether the professor is right or wrong, he raises an interesting question. You yourself are the only person who can tell whether the hypothesis is true in your particular case. Watch your actions some day and find out. Are you a poser?

LIVING ITS OWN DEATH

The opening session of the annual conference of governors was devoted to a discussion of the evils of the Ku Klux Klan. Governor Alcott of Oregon who lead the attack against the midnight riders challenged the Klan to come out in the open and to appear in the garb of American citizens. His challenge will go unheeded.

The Ku Klux depends for its attractiveness on its secrecy of personnel and purpose. Should its members disrobe and appear before the populace as unimaginative Robots and Babbitts, its opponents would have nothing left to do. The Ku Klux will live its own death if it persists in public exhibitions. The New York Tribune sizes up the situation in New York where the Klan has recently become active, in the following paragraphs:

"By moonlight, on a lonely road, the spectacle of sheeted men marching majestically along may well bring terror to any man who has incurred the enmity of the order. Booth Tarkington wrote a breath-taking chapter in 'The Gentleman from Indiana' when he pictured the White Caps revealed by a flash of lightning climbing over a distant pasture fence.

"But when a sheeted individual, who is palpably not a ghost or even a destroying angel, solemnly bows to a clergyman in the presence of a thousand people and then with equal solemnity draws a manuscript from somewhere under the folds of his raiment and reads it in a matter of fact voice the auditors only giggle.

"Could the Ku Klux Klan gather all its members for a parade down Fifth avenue it would do more to eliminate itself as a factor in metropolitan life than all the edicts Mayor Hylan could issue against it."

The Sounding Board

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

On the off chance that some day we might have the duties of night editor thrust upon us, we amassed a number of assignments for reporters. Now that this contingency seems remote, or, to put it another way, now that the probability is almost negligible, we have decided to publish this assignment sheet without reservations for the benefit of night editors in general.

ASSIGNMENT SHEET

Notice to Reporters: Get your stories in early today, as I want a little sleep. Check the story you take, and don't take more than one.

See J. M. Fisk, superintendent of buildings and grounds, find out how many people fell down yesterday, and whether this number is greater or smaller than same day last year.

Rumors are afloat around the campus that there is to be a holiday vacation this year. See President Jessup and find out if this is so. If true, find out whether many students expect to go home.

Take up a position at entrance to liberal arts building, and count number of boots and galoshes that enter in an hour. Draw conclusions from this as to trend of fashion.

Get story from registrar on number of students registering for "pipe" courses, such as calculus, chemistry, foreign language, philosophy, etc.

See Dean Kay and find out how rapidly Iowa is rising or sinking relative to the rest of the United States. Is there anything in the story that Iowa will again be beneath the epi-continental sea in a few years?

See Prof. Homer R. Dill, curator of the museum, and find out if any of the specimens have escaped lately. Do loving couples still as promiscuously in the museum as they do in the zoo at the park?

Get exclusive interviews with University politicians and find out why none of them has adopted the slogan, "100 per cent for the people." I want at least a column on this.

Write a snappy fact story on how many students were taking paleontology and entomology in the University in 1776. About 15 or 20 inches will be enough.

Run down rumor that laws and engineers will combine their annual celebrations this year. If possible, get interviews with several L3's and S4's.

Good news for theatre-goers: Ben Greet is soon to appear in New York in eight Shakespearean plays, following which he will make a short tour of the country.

There's only one thing we don't like about our Neversharp pencil—it's too heavy to stay behind our ear.

Several contris have ventured the pleasantry that the fellow who walked the streets advertising "The Sin Flood" certainly looked like the devil.

Imagine our amazement when, in the process of eating an order of baked beans, we found not only the piece of pork, but four (4) others as well.
